PREFACE.

Real, not Fictitious; so the Method pursued in it, was rather imposed by what spontaneously arose in the Author's Mind, on that Occasion, than meditated or designed. Which will appear very probable from the Nature of it. For it differs from the common Mode of Poetry, which is from long Narrations to draw short Morals. Here, on the contrary, the Narrative is short, and the Morality arising from it makes the Bulk of the Poem. The Reason of it is, That the Fasts mentioned did naturally pour these moral Resestions on the Thought of the Writer.

It is evident from the first Night, where three Deaths are mentioned, that the Plan is not yet compleated; for two only of those three have yet been sung. But since the Fourth Night sinishes one principal and important Theme, naturally arising from all Three, viz. the Subduing our Fear of Death, it will be a proper Pausing-place for the Reader, and the Writer too. And it is uncertain, whether Providence, or Inclination, will permit him to go any farther.

I say, Inclination; for This Thing was entered on purely as a Refuge under Uneasiness, when more proper Studies wanted sufficient Relish to detain the Writer's Attention to them. And that Reason (thanks be to Heaven) ceasing, the Writer has no further Occasion, I shou'd rather say Excuse, for giving in so much to the Amusements, amid the Duties, of Life.

Where Fortune finites; the wretched he forfakes:

Swift on his downy pinion flies from Woe,
And lights on lids unfully'd with a Tear.

From short (as usual) and disturb'd Repose,

I wake: How happy they who wake no more!

Yet that were vain, if Dreams infest the Grave.

Tumultuous ?

6 The COMPLAINT:

Tumultuous; where my wreck'd, desponding thought From wave to wave of fancy'd Misery, At random drove, her helm of Reason lost; Tho' now restor'd, 'tis only Change of pain, A bitter change; severer for severe: The Day too short for my distress! and Night, Even in the Zenith of her dark Domain, Is Sunshine, to the colour of my Fate.

Night, fable Goddess! from her Ebon throne,
In rayless Majesty, now stretches forth
Her leaden Sceptre o'er a slumb'ring world:
Silence, how dead! and Darkness how profound!
Nor Eye, nor list'ning Ear an Object finds;
Creation sleeps. 'Tis, as the gen'ral Pulse
Of Life stood still, and Nature made a Pause;
An aweful pause! prophetic of her End.
And let her prophecy be soon fulfill'd;
Fate! drop the Curtain; I can lose no more.

From antient Night, who nurse the tender Thought To Reason, and on Reason build Resolve, (That column of true Majesty in Man)

Assist me: I will thank you in the Grave;
The grave, your Kingdom: There this frame shall fall A victim sacred to your dreary shrine.

But what are Ye? Thou, who didst put to slight Primæval Silence, when the Morning-Stars,

Exulting, shouted o'er the rising Ball;
O Thou! whose Word from solid Darkness struck
That spark, the Sun; strike Wisdom from my soul;
My soul which slies to Thee, her Trust, her Treasure:
As misers to their Gold, while others rest.

Thro' this Opaque of Nature, and of Soul,
This double Night, transmit one pitying ray,
To lighten, and to chear: O lead my Mind,
Mind that fain would waster from its Woe,)

Lead.

Or, NICHT-THOUGHTS, &c.

Lead it thro' various scenes of Life and Death, And from each scene the noblest Truths inspire: Nor less inspire my Conduct, than my Song; Teach my best Reason, Reason; my best Will Teach Rectitude; and fix my firm Refolve Wisdom to wed, and pay her long Arrear. Nor let the Vial of thy Vengeance pour'd On this devoted head, be pour'd in vain.

The Bell strikes One: We take no note of Time, But from its Loss. To give it then a Tongue, Is wife in man. As if an Angel spoke, I feel the folemn Sound. If heard aright, It is the Knell of my departed Hours; Where are they? with the Years beyond the Flood: It is the Signal that demands Dispatch; How Much is to be done? my Hopes and Fears Start up alarm'd, and o'er life's narrow Verge Look down-on what? a fathomless Abyss; A dread Eternity! how furely mine! And can Eternity belong to me, Poor Pensioner on the bounties of an Hour?

How poor? how rich? how abject? how august? How complicate? how wonderful is man? How passing wonder He, who made him such? Who center'd in our make fuch ftrange Extremes.

From different Natures, marvelously mixt, Connection exquisite of distant Worlds! Diftinguish'd Link in Being's endless Chain ! Midway from Nothing to the Deity!

A Beam ethereal fully'd, and absorpt! Tho' fully'd, and dishonour'd, still Divine! Dim Miniature of Greatness absolute!

An Heir of Glory! a frail Child of Duft! Helpless Immortal! Infect infinite!

A Worm! a God! I tremble at myfelf.

And in myself am lost! At home a Stranger,

Thought

Thought wanders up and down, furpriz'd, aghaft, And wond'ring at her own: How Reason reels? O what a Miracle to man is Man, Triumphantly diffres'd? what Joy, what Dread? Alternately transported and alarm'd'! What can preserve my Life? or what destroy? An Angel's arm can't fnatch me from the Grave;

Legions of Angels can't confine me There.

Tis past Conjecture; all things rise in proof: While o'er my limbs Sleep's fost dominion spread, What, tho' my Soul phantastic Measures trod, O'er Fairy Fields; or mourn'd along the gloom Of pathless Woods: or down the craggy Steep Hurl'd headlong, fwam with pain the mantled Pool : Or scal'd the Cliff; or danc'd on hollow Winds, With antic Shapes, wild Natives of the Brain? Her ceafeles Flight, tho' devious, speaks her Nature Of subtler Essence than the trodden Clod; Active, aërial, tow'ring, unconfin'd, Unfetter'd with her gross Companion's fall: Ev'n filent Night proclaims my Soul immortal: Evn filent Night proclaims eternal Day: For human weal, Heav'n husbands all events, Dull sleep instructs, nor sport vain Dreams in vain.

Why then their Loss deplore, that are not lost? Why wanders wretched Thought their tombs around, In infidel Diffres? Are Angels there? Slumbers, rak'd up in duft, Ethereal fire? They live! they greatly live a life on earth Unkindled, unconceiv'd; and from an eye Of Tenderness, let heav'nly pity fall On me, more justly number'd with the Dead : This is the Defert, this the Solitude: How populous? how vital, is the Grave? This is Creation's melancholy Vault, The Vale funereal, the fad Cypress gloom;

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, Ga

The land of Apparitions, empty Shades;
All, all on earth is Shadow, all beyond
Is Substance; the reverse is Folly's creed:
How solid all, where Change shall be no more?
This is the bud of Being, the dim Dawn,
The twilight of our Day, the Vestibule:
Life's Theatre as yet is shut, and Death,
Strong Death, alone can heave the massy Bar,
This gross impediment of Clay remove,
And make us Embryos of Existence free.
From real life, but little more remote
Is He, not yet a candidate for Light,
The future Embryo, slumb'ring in his Sire.
Embryos we must be, till we burst the Shell,
Yon ambient, azure shell, and spring to Life,

The life of Gods: O Transport! and of Man. Yet man, fool man! here burys all his Thoughts; Inters celeftial Hopes without one Sigh : Pris'ner of Earth, and pent beneath the Moon. Here pinions all his Wishes; wing'd by Heav'n To fly at Infinite; and reach it there, Where Seraphs gather Immortality, On life's fair Tree, fast by the throne of God; What golden Joys ambrefial cluft'ring glow, In His full beam, and ripen for the Juft, Where momentary Ages are no more? Where Time, and Pain, and Chance, and Death expire And is it in the Flight of threescore years, To push Eternity from human Thought, And smother souls immortal in the Dust ! A foul immortal, spending all her Fires, Wasting her strength in strenuous Idleness, Thrown into Tumult, raptur'd, or alarm'd, At ought this scene can threaten, or indulge, Resembles Ocean into Tempest wrought, To waft a Feather, or to drown a Fly.

Where falls this Censure? It o'erwhelms myself. How was my Heart encrusted by the World? O how felf-fetter'd was my groveling Soul? How, like a Worm, was I wrapt round and round In filken thought, which reptile Fancy spun,

Till darken'd Reason lay quite clouded o'er With fost conceit of endless Comfort bere,

Nor yet put forth her Wings to reach the skies?

Night-visions may befriend, (as sung above) Our waking Dreams are fatal: How I dreamt Of things Impossible? (could Sleep do more?)

Of Joys perpetual in perpetual Change?

Of stable Pleasures on the tossing Wave?

Eternal Sunshine in the Storms of life?

How richly were my noon-tide Trances hung With gorgeous Tapeffries of pictur'd joys?

Joy behind joy, in endless perspective!

Till at Death's Toll, whose restless Iron tongue

Calls daily for his Millions at a meal,

Starting I woke, and found myfelf undone.

Where's now my Frenzy's pompous Furniture?

The cobweb'd Cottage with its ragged wall

Of mould'ring Mud, is Royalty to me!

The Spider's most attenuated Thread

Is Cord, is Cable, to man's tender Tie

On earthly Blis; it breaks at every Breeze.

O ye blest scenes of permanent Delight! Full, above measure! lasting, beyond bound! A Perpetuity of Blis, is Blis.

Could you, so rich in rapture, fear an End, That ghaftly Thought would drink up all your Joy,

And quite unparadife the realms of Light.

Safe are you lodg'd above these rolling Spheres:

The baleful influence of whose giddy Dance

Sheds fad Vichflitude on all beneath.

Here teems with Revolutions every Hour;

And rarely for the better; or the best,
More mortal than the common births of Fate.
Each Moment has its Sickle, emulous
Of Time's enormous Scythe, whose ample Sweep
Strikes Empires from the root; each Moment plays
His little weapon in the narrower sphere
Of sweet domestick Comfort, and cuts down
The fairest bloom of sublunary Bliss.

Blifs! fublunary Blifs! proud words! and vain: Implicit Treason to divine Decree! A bold invasion of the rights of Heaven! I clasp'd the Phantoms, and I found them. Air. O had I weigh'd it e'er my fond Embrace! What darts of Agony had mis'd my heart? Death! Great Proprietor of all! 'tis thine To tread out Empire, and to quench the Stars; The Sun himself by thy permission shines; And, one day, thou shalt pluck him from his sphere-Amid fuch mighty plunder, why exhaust Thy partial Quiver on a mark fo mean? Why, thy peculiar Rancor wreck'd on me? Infatiate Archer! could not One suffice? Thy fhaft flew thrice; and thrice my peace was flain; And thrice, e'er thrice you Moon had fill'd her Horn: O Cynthia! why fo pale? Dost thou lament Thy wretched Neighbour? Grieve, to fee thy wheel Of ceaseless change outwhirl'd in human Life? How wanes my borrow'd bliss? from Fortune's smile. Precarious Courtefy! not Virtue's fure, Self-given, folar, ray of found Delight.

In every vary'd Posture, Place, and Hour,
How widow'd every Thought of every Joy!
Thought, busy Thought! too busy for my Peace F
Thro' the dark Postern of Time long elaps'd,
Led softly, by the stillness of the Night,
Led, like a Murderer, (and such it proves!)

sa carille

In quest of wretchedness perversely strays;
And finds all Defert now; and meets the Ghosts
Of my departed Joys, a numerous Train!
I rue the Riches of my former Rate;
Sweet Comfort's blasted Clusters I lament;
I tremble at the Blessings once so dear;
And every Pleasure pains me to the Heart.
Yet why complain? or why complain for One?
Hangs out the Sun his Lustre but for Me?
The single Man? are Angels all beside?
I mourn for Millions: 'tis the common Lot;
In this shape, or in that, has Fate entil'd
The Mother's throes on all of woman born,
Not more the Children, than sure Heirs of Pain.

War, Famine, Peft, Volcano, Storm, and Fire, Intestine Broils, Oppression, with her heart Wrapt up in triple Brass, besiege mankind: God's Image, difinherited of Day, Here, plung'd in Mines, forgets a Sun was made; There, Beings deathless as their haughty Lord, Are hammer'd to the galling Oar for life; And plough the Winter's wave, and reap Despair: Some, for hard Masters, broken under Arms, In battle lopt away, with half their limbs, Beg bitter bread thro' realms their Valour sav'd, If fo the Tyrant, or his Minion, doom: Want, and incurable Difease, (fell Pair !) On hopeless Multitudes remorfeless seize At once; and make a Refuge of the Grave: How groaning Hospitals eject their Dead? What numbers groan for fad Admission there? What numbers once in Fortune's lap high-fed, Solicit the cold hand of Charity? To shock us more, solicit it in vain? Ye filken Sons of Pleasure! fince in Pains

You rue more modifications, visit bere, and reduce And breathe from your Debauch: Give, and reduce Surfeit's Dominion o'er you: but so great Your Impudence, you blush at what is Right.

Happy ! did Sorrow feize on fuch alone: Not Prudence can defend, or Virtue fave; Difease invades the chastest Temperance; And Punishment the Guiltless; and Alarm Thro' thickest shades pursues the fond of Peace Man's Caution often into Danger turns. And his Guard falling, crushes him to death. Not Happiness itself makes good her name; Our very Wishes give us not our wish; How distant oft the Thing we doat on most From that for which we doat, Felicity? The smoothest course of Nature has its Pains And truest Friends, thro' error, wound our Rest; Without Misfortune, what Calamities? And what Hostilities, without a Foe? Nor are Foes wanting to the best on earth: But endless is the lift of human Ills, And Sighs might sooner fail, than Cause to figh.

A Part how small of the terraqueous Globe
Is tenanted by man? the rest a Waste,
Rocks, Deserts, frozen Seas, and burning Sands;
Wild haunts of Monsters, Poisons, Stings, and Deaths
Such is Earth's melancholy Map! But far
More sad! this Earth is a true Map of Man:
So bounded are its haughty Lord's Delights
To Woe's wide empire; where deep Troubles toss;
Loud Sorrows howl; envenom'd Passions bite;
Rav'nous Calamities our vitals seize;
And threat'ning Fate wide-opens to devour.

What then am I, who forrow for myself? In Age, in Infancy, from other's aid Is all our Hope; to teach us to be kind.

14 The COMPLAINT:

That, Nature's first, last Lesson to Mankind; The felfish heart deserves the pain it feels: More gen'rous Sorrow, while it finks, exalts. And conscious Virtue mitigates the Pang. Nor Virtue, more than Prudence, bids me give Swoln thought a fecond channel, who divide, They weaken too the Torrent of their grief. Take then, O World! thy much-indebted Tear: How fad a Sight is human Happiness, To those whose Thoughts can pierce beyond an Hour? O thou! whate'er thou art, whose Heart exults! Would'ft thou I should congratulate thy Fate? I know thou would'ft; thy Pride demands it from me. Let thy Pride pardon, what thy Nature needs, The falutary Cenfure of a Friend: Thou happy Wretch! by Blindness art thou blest; By Dotage dandled to perpetual Smiles: Know, Smiler! at thy peril art thou pleas'd; Thy Pleasure is the promise of thy Pain. Misfortune, like a Creditor fevere, But rises in demand for her Delay; She makes a fcourge of past Prosperity, To fling thee more, and double thy Diffress.

Lorenzo, Fortune makes her Court to thee,
Thy fond Heart dances, while the Syren fings.
Dear is thy Welfare; think me not unkind;
I would not damp, but to fecure thy joys:
Think not that Fear is facred to the Storm:
Stand on thy guard against the Smiles of Fate.
Is Heav'n tremendous in its Frown? most sure;
And in its Favours formidable too;
Its favours here are Tryals, not Rewards:
A call to Duty, not discharge from Care;
And should alarm us, sull as much as Woes;
Awake us to their Cause, and Consequence;
O'er our scan'd Conduct give a jealous Eye;

And make us tremble, weigh'd with our Defert; Awe Nature's Tumult, and chastise her Joys, Lest while we clasp, we kill them; nay invert, To worse than simple misery, their Charms: Revolted Joys, like foes in civil war, Like bosom friendships to resentment sour'd, With rage envenom'd rife against our Peace. Beware what Earth calls Happiness; beware All joys, but joys that never can expire: Who builds on less than an immortal Base,

Fond as he feems, condemns his joys to Death.

Mine dy'd with thee, Philander! thy last Sigh Dissolv'd the charm; the disenchanted Earth Loft all her Luftre: where, her glitt'ring Towers? Her golden Mountains, where? all darken'd down To naked Waste; a dreary Vale of Tears: The great Magician's dead! Thou poor, pale Piece Of out-cast earth, in Darkness! what a Change From yesterday! Thy darling Hope so near, (Long-labour'd Prize!) O how Ambition flush'd Thy glowing cheek? Ambition truly great, Of virtuous Praise: Death's subtle seed within, (Sly, treach'rous Miner!) working in the Dark, Smil'd at thy well-concerted scheme, and beckon'd The Worm to riot on that Rose so red, Unfaded e'er it fell; one moment's Prey!

Man's Forefight is conditionally wife; Lorenzo! Wisdom into Folly turns Oft, the first instant, its Idea fair To labouring Thought is born. How dim our eye! The present Moment terminates our fight: Clouds, thick as those on Doomsday, drown the next; We penetrate, we prophely in vain. Time is dealt out by Particles; and each, E'er mingled with the streaming sands of Life, By Fate's inviolable oath is fworn

16 The COMPLAINT:

Deep filence, "Where Eternity begins."

By Nature's Law, what may be, may be now;
There's no Prerogative in human Hours:
In human hearts what bolder Thought can rife,
Than man's Presumption on To-morrow's dawn:
Where is To-morrow? In another World.
For numbers this is certain; the Reverse.
Is sure to none; and yet on this perhaps,
This peradventure, infamous for lies,
As on a rock of Adamant we build
Our mountain Hopes: spin out eternal schemes,
As we the Fatal Sisters cou'd out-spin,
And, big with life's Futurities, expire.

Not ev'n Philander had bespoke his shroud; Nor had He cause, a Warning was deny'd: How Many fall as sudden, not as safe? As fudden, the for Years admonished home Of human Ills the last Extreme beware. Beware, Lorenzo! a flow sudden Death. How dreadful that deliberate Surprize! Be wife to-day; 'tis madness to defer; Next day the fatal Precedent will plead; Thus on, till Wisdom is push'd out of life; Procrastination is the Thief of Time, Year after year it steals, till all are fled, And to the mercies of a Moment leaves The vast Concerns of an Eternal scene. If not fo frequent, would not This be ftrange? That 'tis fo frequent, This is stranger still.

Of Man's miraculous Mislakes, this bears
The Palm, "That all Men are about to live."
For ever on the Brink of being born:
All pay themselves the compliment to think
They, one day, shall not drivel; and their Pride
On this Reversion takes up ready Praise;
At least their own; their suture selves applauds;

Or, Night-Thoughts, &c.

How excellent that Life they me er will lead? Time lodg'd in their own hands is Folly's Vails That lodg'd in Fate's to Wifdom they confign; The thing they can't but purpose, they postpone; Tis not in Folly, not to fcorn a Fool; And scarce in human Wisdom to do more, solo well All Promife is poor dilatory man, And that thro' every Stage : When young indeed In full content, we fometimes nobly reft, Unanxious for ourselves; and only wish, As duteous fons, our Fathers were more Wife At thirty man suspects himself a Fool; and on one walk Knows it at forty, and reforms his Plan ; At fifty chides his infamous Delay; Pushes his prodent Purpose to Resolve; In all the mat nanimity of Thought 200 to and doing Refolves ; and re-refolves : then dies the fame.

And why? Because he thinks himself Immortal?

All men think all men mortal, but themselves;
Themselves, when some alarming shock of Fate
Strikes thro' their wounded hearts the sudden Dread;
But their hearts wounded, like the wounded Air,
Soon close, where past the shaft, no Trace is found:
As, from the Wing no scar the Sky retains;
The parted Wave no surrow from the Keel;
So dies in human hearts the Thought of Death:
Ev'n with the tender Tear which Nature sheds
O'er those we love, we drop it in their Grave.
Can I forget Philander? That were strange;
O my sull Heart!— But should I give it vent,
The longest Night, tho' longer far, would fail,
And the Lark listen to my midnight Song.

The spritely Lark's shrill Matin wakes the Morn : Grief's sharpest Thorn hard-pressing on my Breast, I strive, with wakeful Melody to chear The sullen Gloom, sweet Philomel! like Thee,

And

And call the Stars to liften: every flar Is deaf to mine, enamour'd of thy Lay. Yet be not vain; there are, who thine excell, And charm thro' diftant Ages: Wrapt in Shade, Pris'ner of Darkness! to the filent Hours. How often I repeat their Rage divine, To lull my Griefs, and steal my heart from Woe? I roll their Raptures, but not catch their Flame: Dark, tho' not blind, like thee Maonides! Or Milton! thee; ah cou'd I reach your Strain! Or His, who made Maonides our Own. Man too he fung: Immortal man I fing; Oft burits my Song beyond the bounds of Life; What, now, but Immortality can please? O had He press'd his Theme, pursu'd the track, Which opens out of Darkness into Day! O had he mounted on his wing of Fire, Soar'd, where I fink, and fung Immortal man! #### The COMPLAINT:

I know the terms on which he fees the Light ;: He that is born, is lifted: Life is War: Eternal War with Woe: who bears it best, Deserves it least. - On other Themes Bil dwell. Lorenzo! let me turn my thoughts on Thee, And Thine, on Themes may profit; profit there; Where most thy need. Themes, too, the genuine growth Of dear Philander's Dust. He, thus, tho' dead, May still befriend -- What Themes ? Time's wond rous Price,

Death, Friendship, and Philander's final Scene. Themes meet for man! and meet at ev'ry hour. But most at This, at Midnight ever clad In Death's own Sables; filent as his Realms; And prone to weep : profuse of dewy tears.

O'er Nature, in her temporary Tomb.

So could I touch these Themes, as might obtain Thine Ear; nor leave thy Heart quite disengag'd, The good Deed would delight me; half impress-On my dark Cloud an Iris; and from Grief, Call Glory. - Doft thou mourn Philander's fate? I know thou fay'st it, fays thy Life the same? He mourns the Dead, who lives as they defire. Where is that Thrift, that Avarice of TIME, (O glorious Avarice!) thought of Death inspires. As rumour'd robberies endear our Gold? O Time! than Gold more facred; more a Load: Than Lead, to Fools; and Fools reputed Wife. What Moment granted Man without account? What Years are squander'd, Wisdom's debt unpaid? Our Wealth in Days all due to that discharge. Haste, haste, He lies in wait, He's at the door; Infidious Death! should his strong hand arrest. No composition sets the Pris'ner free. Eternity's inexorable chain Fast binds; and Vengeance claims the full Arrear.

How

How late I shudder'd on the brink? how late
Life call'd for her last Refuge in Despair?
That Time is mine, O Mead! to Thee I owe;
Fain would I pay thee with Eternity:
But ill my Genius answers my Desire.
My sickly Song is mortal, past thy Cure.
Accept the Will; It dies not with my strain.

For what calls thy Difease Lorenzo? not

For Esculapian, but for Moral Aid.

Thou think'st it Folly to be wise too soon.

Youth is not rich in Time; it may be, poor:

Part with it as with Money, sparing: pay

No Moment, but in Purchase of its worth:

And what its worth, ask Death-beds, they can tell.

Part with it as with Life, reluctant; big

With holy Hope of nobler Time to come:

Time higher-aim'd, still nearer the great Mark

Of Men and Angels; Virtue more divine.

Is this our Duty, Wisdom, Glory, Gain? (These Heav'n benign in vital Union binds) And fport we like the Natives of the Bough When vernal Suns inspire? Amusement reigns Man's great demand : To trifle is to live : And is it then a Trifle, too, to die? Thou fay'ft I preach, Lorenzo! 'Tis confest. What if for once, I preach thee quite awake? Who wants Amusement in the Flame of Battle? Is it not Treason to the Soul Immortal, Her Foe's in Arms, Eternity the Prize? Will Toys amuse, when Med'cines cannot cure? When Spirits ebb, when Life's inchanting Scenes Their Lustre lose, and lessen in our fight, (As Lands, and Cities with their glitt'ring Spires, To the poor shatter'd Bark, by sudden Storm Thrown off to Sea, and foon to perish there)

Will Toys amuse?—No: Thrones will then be Toys, And Earth and Skies seem Dust upon the Scale.

Redeem we Time? --- its Loss we dearly buy: What pleads Lorenze for his high-priz'd Sports? He pleads Time's num'rous Blanks; he loudly pleads The straw-like Trifles on Life's common Stream. From whom those Blanks and Trifles, but from Thee? No Blank, no Trifle Nature made, or meant. Virtue, or purpos'd Virtue still be thine; This cancels thy Complaint at once; This leaves In all no Trifle, and no Blank in Time. This greatens, fills, immortalizes all; This, the bleft Art of turning all to Gold; This, the good Heart's prerogative to raise A royal tribute, from the poorest Hours. Immense Revenue! every Moment pays. If nothing more than Purpose in thy power, Thy purpose firm, is equal to the Deed: Who does the best his circumstance allows. Does well, acts nobly; Angels could no more. Our outward Act, indeed, admits restraint; 'Tis not in Things o'er Thought to domineer; Guard well thy Thought; our Thoughts are heard in Heav'n.

On all-important Time, through every Age,
Tho' much, and warm, the Wise have urg'd; the Man
Is yet unborn, who duly weighs an Hour.

"I've lost a Day"—The Prince who nobly cry'd,
Had been an Emperor without his Crown;
Of Rome? say, rather, Lord of human race;
He spoke, as if deputed by Mankind.
So should all speak: so Reason speaks in All:
From the soft Whispers of that God in man,
Why sly to Folly, why to Frenzy sly,
For Rescue from the Blessings we posses?
Time, the Supreme!—Time is Eternity;

Pregnant

Pregnant with all Eternity can give;
Pregnant with all, that makes Arch-angels smile:
Who murders Time, He crushes in the Birth
A Pow'r Ethereal, only not ador'd.

Ah! how unjust to Nature, and Himself,
Is thoughtless, thankless, inconsistent Man?
Like Children babling nonsense in their sports,
We censure Nature for a Span too short;
That Span too short, we tax as tedious too;
Torture Invention, all Expedients tire,
To lash the ling'ring moments into speed;
And whirl us (happy riddance!) from ourselves.

Art, brainless Art! our surious Charioteer
(For Nature's voice unstifled would recall)
Drives headlong tow'rds the precipice of Death;
Death, most our Dread; Death thus more dreadful made:

O what a Riddle of Absurdity! Leifure is Pain; takes off our Chariot-wheels; How heavily we drag the Load of Life? Bleft Leisure is our Curse, like that of Cain It makes us wander; wander earth around To fly that Tyrant, Thought. As Atlas groan'd The world beneath, we groan beneath an Hour. We cry for Mercy to the next Amusement; The next Amusement mortgages our fields; Slight inconvenience! Prisons hardly frown, From hateful Time if Prisons set us free. Yet when Death kindly tenders us Relief, We call him cruel; Years to Moments shrink. Ages to Years. The Telescope is turn'd: To man's false opticks (from his Folly false) Time, in advance, behind him hides his Wings, And seems to creep, decrepit with his Age; Behold him, when past by; what then is seen But his broad Pinions swifter than the Winds?

24 The COMPLAINT:

And all Mankind, in Contradiction strong, Rueful, aghast! cry out on his Career.

Leave to thy Foes these Errors, and these Ills To Nature just, their Cause and Cure explore. Not fhort Heav'n's Bounty, boundless our Expence; No Niggard, Nature; Men are Prodigals. As bold Alphonfus threat'ned in his Pride, We throw away our Suns, as made for Sport, And not to light us, on our way to Scenes Whose Lustre turns their Lustre into Shade. We waste, not use our Time: we breathe, not live. Time wasted is Existence, us'd is Life: And bare Existence, Man, to live ordain'd, Wrings, and oppresses with enormous weight. And why? fince Time was giv'n for Use, not Waste, Enjoyn'd to fly, with Tempest, Tide, and Stars, To keep his Speed, nor ever wait for Man; Time's Use was doom'd a Pleasure; Waste, a Pain; That Man might feel his Error, if unseen; And, feeling, fly to Labour for his Cure: Not, blund'ring, split on Idleness, for ease. Life's Cares are Comforts; fuch by Heav'n defign'd; He that has none, must make them, or be wretched. Cares are Employments; and without Employ The Soul is on a Rack; the Rack of Reft, To Souls most adverse; Action all their Joy.

Here, then, the Riddle, mark'd above, unfolds; Then Time turns torment, when Man turns a Fool. We rave, we wrestle with Great Nature's Plan; We thwart the Deity; and 'tis decreed, Who thwart His Will, shall contradict their own. Hence our unnatural Quarrel with ourselves; Our Thoughts at Enmity; our bosom-broil; We push time from us, and we wish Him back, Lavish of Lustrums, and yet fond of Life;

Life

The

Life we think long, and short; Death seek, and shun; Body and Soul, like peevish Man and Wise, United jar, and yet are loath to part. Oh the dark days of Vanity! while Here, How Tastless? and how Terrible, when gone? Gone? they ne'er go; when past, they haunt us still; The Spirit walks of ev'ry Day deceas'd, And smiles an Angel; or a Fury frowns. Nor Death, nor Life delight us. If Time past, And Time posses, both pain us, what can please? That which the Deity to please ordain'd, Time us'd. The Man who consecrates his Hours By vig'rous Effort, and an honest Aim, At once he draws the sting of Life and Death: He walks with Nature; and her Paths are Peace.

Our Error's Cause, and Cure are seen: See next Time's Nature, Origin, Importance, Speed; And thy great Gain from urging his Career-All-sensual man, because untouch'd, unseen, He looks on Time, as nothing. Nothing else Is truly Man's; 'tis Fortune's .--- Time's a God. Thou hast ne'er heard of Time's Omnipotence; For, or against, what Wonders can He do? And will: To stand blank Neuter he disdains. Not on those Terms was Time, (Heav'n's Stranger!) fent On his important Embassy to Man. Lorenzo! no: On the long-deftin'd Hour, From everlafting Ages growing ripe, That memorable Hour of wond'rous Birth. When the dread Sire, on emanation bent, And big with Nature, rifing in his Might, Call'd forth Creation, (for then Time was born) By Godhead streaming thro' a thousand Worlds; Not on those Terms, from the great days of Heaven, From old Eternity's mysterious Orb, Was Time cut off, and cast beneath the Skies;

The Skies, which watch him in his new abode, Measuring his Motions by revolving Spheres; That Horologe Machinery Divine. Hours, Days, and Months, and Years, his Children, play, Like num'rous wings, around him, as he flies: Or, rather, as unequal Plumes, they shape His ample Pinions, swift as darted Flame, To gain his goal, to reach his ancient Reft, And join anew Eternity his Sire; In his Immutability to nest, When Worlds, that count his Circles now, unhing'd, (Fate the loud fignal founding) headlong rush To timeless Night, and Chaos, whence they rose. Why fpur ye Speedy? why with Levities New-wing thy short, short day's too rapid flight? Know'st thou, or what thou dost, or what is done? Man flies from Time, and Time from Man: too foon In fad Divorce this double Flight must end; And then, where are we? where Lorenzo! then Thy Sports? thy Pomps?—I grant thee, in a State Not Unambitious; in the ruffled Shroud, Thy Parian Tomb's triumphant Arch beneath. Has Death his Fopperies? then well may Life Put on her Plume, and in her Rainbow shine.

Ye Well-array'd! Ye Lilies of our land!
Ye Lilies Male! who neither toil, nor spin,
(As Sister Lilies might) if not so wise
As Solomon, more sumptuous to the Sight!
Ye Delicate! who nothing can support,
Yourselves most insupportable! for whom
The winter Rose must blow, the Sun put on
A brighter Beam in Leo; silky-soft
Favonius breathe still softer, or be chid;
And Other worlds send Odours, Sauce, and Song,
And Robes and Notions, fram'd in foreign Looms!
O ye Lorenzos of our Age! who deem
One Moment unamus'd, a Misery

Not

Not made for feeble Man! who call aloud For ev'ry Bawble, drivel'd o'er by Senfe; For Rattles, and Conceits of ev'ry cast, For Change of Follies, and Relays of Joy, To drag you Patient through the tedious length Of a short Winter's Day: say, Sages! say, Wit's Oracles! say, Dreamers of gay Dreams! How will you weather an eternal Night, Where such Expedients fail?

O Treach'rous Conscience! while she seems to sleep. On Rose and Myrtle, Iull'd with Syren Song; While she feems, nodding o'er her charge, to drop On headlong Appetite the flackned rein, And give us up to Licence, unrecall'd, Unmark'd ;- As from behind her fecret stand, The fly Informer minutes every Fault, And her dread Diary with horror fills: Not the gross At alone employs her Pen; She reconnoitres Fancy's airy band, A watchful Foe! The formidable Spy. List'ning o'erhears the Whispers of our Camp; Our dawning Purposes of Heart explores. And steals our Embryos of Iniquity. As all-rapacious Usurers conceal Their Doomsday-book from all-consuming Heirs; Thus, with Indulgence most severe, She treats Us, Spendthrifts of inestimable Time: Unnoted, notes each Moment misapply'd; In leaves more durable than leaves of Brafs. Writes our whole history; which Death shall read. In ev'ry pale Delinquent's private Ear; And Judgment publish; publish to more worlds Than this; and endless age in groans resound. Lorenzo, fuch that Sleeper in thy Breaft ! Such is her Slumber; and her Vengeance Juck

For flighted Counsel; such thy future Peace!

And think'st thou still thou canst be wise too soon?

But why on Time fo lavish is my Song? On this great Theme kind Nature keeps a School, To teach her Sons Herself. Each Night we Dye. Each Morn are born anew; Each Day, a Life; And shall we kill each Day? If Trifling kills; Sure Vice must butcher. O what heaps of slain Cry out for Vengeance on us? Time destroy'd Is Suicide, where more than Blood is spilt. Time flies, Death urges, Knells call, Heav'n invites, Hell threatens; All exerts; in Effort, All: More than Creation labours :- Labours more? And is there in Creation what, amidst This Tumult Universal, wing'd Dispatch, And ardent Energy, supinely yawns?-Man sleeps; and Man alone; and Man, whose Fate. Fate irreversible, entire, extreme, Endless, hair hung, breeze-shaken, o'er the Gulph A moment trembles; drops: and Man, for whom All else is in alarm: Man, the sole Cause Of this furrounding Storm! and yet he sleeps, As the Storm rock'd to reft .- Throw Years away ? Throw Empires, and be blameless. Moments seize, Heav'n's on their Wing: a Moment we may wish. When Worlds want Wealth to buy. Bid Day fland still. Bid him drive back his Carr, recall, retake Fate's hafty prey; Implore him, reimport The Period past; regive the given Hour. Lorenzo, more than Miracles we want :

Lorenzo—O for Yesterdays to come!

Such is the Language of the Man awake;

His Ardor such, for what oppresses Thee:

And is his Ardor vain? Lorenzo! No:

That more than Miracle the Gods indulge:

To-day is Yesterday return'd; return'd

Fell-

Full-pow'r'd to cancel, expiate, raife, adorn,
And reinstate us on the Rock of Peace.
Let it not share its Predecessor's Fate;
Nor, like its elder Sisters, die a Fool.
Shall it evaporate in Fume? Fly off
Fuliginous, and stain us deeper still?
Shall we be poorer for the Plenty pour'd?
More wretched for the Clemencies of Heaven?

Where shall I find Him? Angels! tell me where; You know Him; He is near you; Point him out; Shall I fee Glories beaming from his Brow? Or trace his Footsteps by the rising Flow'rs? Your golden Wings, now hov'ring o'er him, shed Protection; now, are waving in Applause To that bleft Son of Forefight! Lord of Fate! That awful Independent on to-morrow! Whose Work is done; who triumphs in the Past; Whose Yesterdays look backwards with a Smile; Nor like the Parthian wound him as they fly; That common, but opprobrious Lot! Past Hours, If not by Guilt, yet wound us by their Flight, If Folly bounds our Prospect by the Grave; All feeling of Futurity benumb'd; All God-like Passion for Eternals quench'd All relish of Realities expir'd; Renounc'd all Correspondence with the Skies; Our Freedom chain'd; quite wingless our Desire; In Sense dark-prison'd All that ought to foar, Prone to the Center, crawling in the Duft; Dismounted ev'ry Great and Glorious Aim; Embruted ev'ry Faculty divine; Heart-buried in the rubbish of the World: The World, that Gulph of Souls, immortal Souls, Souls elevate, Angelick, wing'd with Fire To reach the distant Skies and triumph there

On Thrones, which shall not mourn their Masters chang'd,

Tho' We from Earth; Ethereal, They that fell. Such Veneration due, O Man, to Man.

Who venerate themselves, the World despise. For what, gay Friend! is this escutcheon'd World. Which hangs out DEATH in one eternal Night? A Night, that glooms us in the Noon-tide Ray. And wraps our Thought, at Banquets, in the Shroud. Life's little Stage is a small Eminence, Inch-high the Grave above; that Home of Man. Where dwells the Multitude; we gaze around, We read their Monuments; we figh; and while We figh, we fink; and are what we deplor'd; Lamenting, or Lamented, all our Lot! Is Death at Diffance? No: he has been on thee; And giv'n fure Earnest of his final Blow. Those Hours, which lately smil'd, where are they now? Pallid to Thought, and ghaftly! drown'd, all drown'd In that great Deep, which nothing disembogues; And, dying, they bequeath'd thee small Renown. The rest are on the Wing: how fleet their Flight! Already has the fatal train took fire; A Moment, and the world's blown up to thee; The Sun is Darkness, and the Stars are Dust.

Time passes like a Post: we nothing send
But poor Bellerophon's express; our Doom.
'Tis greatly wise to talk with our past Hours;
And ask them, what report they bore to Heaven;
And how they might have born more welcome News.
Their Answers form what Men Experience call;
If Wisdom's Friend, her best; if not, worst Foe.
O reconcile them; kind Experience crys,

- "There's nothing here, but what as nothing weighs ;
- " The more our joy, the more we know it Vain;
- And by Success are tutor'd to Despair."

Nor is it only thus, but must be so:

Who knows not this, the Grey, is still a Child. Loose then from Earth the Grasp of fond Desire, Weigh Anchor, and some happier Clime explore.

Art thou so moor'd thou canst not disengage,
Nor give thy Thoughts a ply to suture Scenes?
Since, by Life's passing breath, blown up from Earth,
Light, as the Summer's dust, we take in Air
A Moment's giddy slight, and fall again;
Join the dull Mass, increase the trodden Soil,
And sleep till Earth herself shall be no more;

Since Then (as Emmets, their small World o'erthrown)
We, fore-amaz'd, from out Earth's Ruins crawl,

And rife to Fate extreme, of Foul or Fair,

As Man's own Choice, Controuler of the Skies !

As Man's despotick Will, perhaps one Hour, (O how Omnipotent is Time!) decrees;

Should not each Warning give a strong Alarm?

Warning, far less than that of bosom torn

From bosom, bleeding o'er the sacred dead?

Should not each Dial strike us as we pass,

Portentous, as the written wall, which struck, O'er midnight Bowls, the proud Affyrian pale,

E'er while high-flusht with Insolence, and Wine?

Like That, the Dial speaks; and points to thee

Lorenzo! loath to break the Banquet up.

" O Man, thy kingdom is departing from thee;

"And while it lasts, is emptier than my Shade."
Its silent Language such; nor need'st thou call

Thy Magi, to decypher what it means.

Know; like the Median, Fate is in thy Walls:

Dost ask, bow? whence? Belshazzar-like amaz'd?

Man's Make incloses the sure seeds of death;

Life feeds the Murderer: Ingrate! he thrives

On her own Meal; and then his Nurse Devours.

But

But, here, Lorenzo, the Delufion lies; That Solar shadow, as it measures Life, It Life refembles too: Life speeds away From point to point, tho' feeming to stand still: The cunning Fugitive is swift by stealth; Too fubtle is the Movement to be feen. Yet foon Man's Hour is up, and we are gone. Warnings point out our Danger, Gnomons, Time; As these are useless when the Sun is set; So those, but when more glorious Reason shines. Reason should judge in all: In Reason's eye, That Sedentary shadow travels hard: But fuch our Gravitation to the Wrong, So prone our hearts to whisper what we wish, 'Tis later with the Wife, than he's aware; A Wilmington goes flower than the Sun; And all mankind miffake their Time of Day; Ev'n Age itself: Fresh Hopes are hourly sown In furrow'd Brows. So gentle Life's Descent, We shut our eyes and think it is a Plain: We take fair days in Winter, for the Spring: We turn our Bleffings into Bane: fince oft Man must compute that Age He cannot feel; He scarce believes He's older for his Years. Thus, at Life's latest Eve, we keep in Store One Disappointment sure, to crown the Rest; The Disappointment of a promis'd Hour. On this, or Similar, Philander! Thou Whose mind was moral, as the Preacher's tongue;

Whose mind was moral, as the Preacher's tongue; And strong to wield all Science, worth the name; How often we talk'd down the Summer's Sun, And cool'd our Passions by the breezy stream? How often thaw'd, and shortned Winter's Eve, By Conslict kind, that struck our latent Truth; Best found, so sought; to the Recluse more Coy? Thoughts disentangle passing o'er the Lip;

Clean

Clean runs the thread; if not, 'tis thrown away, Or kept to tie up Nonsense for a Song; Song, fashionably fruitless! such as stains The Fancy, and unhallow'd Passion fires; Chiming her Saints to Cytherea's Fane.

Know'ft thou, Lorenzo! what a Friend contains?

As Bees mixt Nectar draw from fragrant Flow'rs,

So Men From FRIENDSHIP Wisdom and Delight?

Twins ty'd by Nature, if they part they die.

Hast thou no Friend to set thy mind abroach?

Good Sense will Stagnate: Thoughts shut up want Air,

And spoil, like Bales unopen'd to the Sun.

Had Thought been All, sweet Speech had been deny'd;

Speech, Thought's Canal! Speech, Thought's Criterion too.

Thought, in the Mine, may come forth Gold or Dross; When coin'd in Word, we know its real worth. If Sterling, store it for thy future Use; 'Twill buy thee Benefit; perhaps, Renown. Thought, too, deliver'd, is the more possest; Teaching we learn; and giving we retain The Births of Intellect; when dumb, forgot, Speech ventilates our Intellectual fire; Speech burnishes our Mental Magazine, Brightens for Ornament, and whets for Use: What Numbers, sheath'd in Erudition, lie Plung'd to the Hilts in venerable Tomes. And rusted in; who might have born an Edge, And play'd a sprightly beam, if born to Speech; If born blest heirs of half their Mother's tongue? 'Tis Thought's exchange, which, like th' alternate Pulle Of waves conflicting, breaks the learned Scum, And defecates the Student's standing Pool.

In Contemplation is his proud Resource?
"Tis poor, as proud, by Converse unsustain'd;

B 5

34 The COMPLAINT:

Rude Thought runs wild in Contemplation's, Field ; Converse, the Menage, breaks it to the Bit. Of due restraint; and Emulation's Spur Gives graceful energy, by Rivals aw'd. 'Tis Converse qualifies for Solitude; As Exercise for Salutary Rest. By That untutor'd, Contemplation raves A Lunar Prince, or famish'd Beggar dies; And Nature's Fool by Wisdom's is outdone: Wisdom, tho' richer than Peruvian Mines, And sweeter than the sweet Ambrosial Hive, What is she, but the means of Happiness? That unobtain'd, than Folly more a Fool; A melancholy Fool, without her Bells: Friendship the Means, and Friendship richly gives. The precious End, which makes our Wisdom wife. Nature, in Zeal for human Amity,

Nature, in Zeal for human Amity,
Denies, or damps an undivided Joy;
Joy is an Import; Joy is an Exchange;
Joy flies Monopolists, It calls for Two:
Rich fruit! heav'n-planted! never pluck'd by One.
Needful Auxiliars are our Friends, to give

To focial man true relish of himself:
Full on ourselves descending in a Line
Pleasure's bright Beam, is seeble in delight;
Delight intense, is taken by rebound;
Reverberated Pleasures fire the Breast.
Celestial Happiness, whene'er she stoops

To visit Earth, One shrine the Goddess finds.

And One alone, to make her sweet amends

For absent Heav'n,—the Bosom of a Friend;

Where heart meets heart, reciprocally soft,

Each other's Pillow to repose divine.

Beware the counterseit; In Passion's Flame

Hearts melt; but melt like Ice, soon harder froze.

True Love strikes root in Reason, Passion's Foe:

Virtue

Virtue alone entenders us for Life:

I wrong her much—entenders us for ever.

Of Friendship's fairest fruits the fruit most fair
Is Virtue kindling at a Rival Fire,
And, emulously, rapid in her Race.

O the soft Enmity! Endearing Strife!
This carrys Friendship to her noon-tide Point,
And gives the Rivet of Eternity.

From Friendship which outlives my Former themes, Glorious Survivor of old Time, and Death!
From Friendship, thus, that Flow'r of Heav'nly Seed, The Wise extract Earth's most Hyblean Bliss, Superior Wisdom, crown'd with smiling Joy, (For Joy, from Friendship born, abounds in Smiles) O Store it in the Soul's most Golden Cell!

But for whom bloffoms this Elyfian Flower? Abroad They find, who cherish it at Home. Lorenzo! pardon what my Love extorts, An honest Love, and not afraid to frown. Tho' choice of Follies fasten on the Great. None clings more obstinate than Fancy, fond That facred Friendship is their easy prey; Caught by the Wafture of a Golden Lure; Or Fascination of a high-born Smile. Their Smiles the Great and the Coquet throw out For others Hearts; Tenacious of their Own: And we no less of ours, when such the Bait. Ye fortune's Cofferers! Ye pow'rs of Wealth You do your Rent-rolls most felonious wrong, By taking our Attachment to yourselves. Can Gold gain Friendship? Impudence of Hope As well meer Man an Angel might beget. Love, and Love only, is the Loan for Love. Lorenzo! Pride repress; nor hope to find A Friend, but what has found a Friend in Thee.

All like the Purchase, sew the price will pay; And this makes Friends such Miracles below.

What if (fince Daring on so nice a Theme)
I shew thee Friendship Delicate, as Dear;
Of tender Violations apt to die?
Reserve will wound it; and Distrust destroy.
Deliberate on all things with thy Friend;
But since Friends grow not thick on ev'ry Bough,
Nor ev'ry Friend unrotten at the Core;
First, on thy Friend delib'rate with Thyself:
Pause, ponder, sist; not Eager in the Choice,
Nor Jealous of the Chosen: Fixing Fix:
Judge before Friendship, then conside till Death.
Well for thy Friend; but Nobler far for Thee;
How Gallant danger for Earth's Highest prize?
A Friend is worth all hazard we can run.

" Poor is the Friendless Master of a World:

" A World in purchase for a Friend is Gain." So fung He (Angels hear that Angel fing! Angels from Friendship gather Half their Joy.) So fung Philander, as his Friend went round In the rich Ichor, in the gen'rous blood Of Bacchus, purple God of joyous Wit, A Brow folute, and ever-laughing Eye: He drank long Health, and Virtue to his Friend; His Friend, who warm'd him more, who more inspir'd. Friendship's the Wine of Life; but Friendship new (Not fuch was His) is neither Strong, nor Pure. O! for the bright Complexion, cordial Warmth, And elevating Spirit of a Friend, For twenty Summers rip'ning by my fide; All Feculence of Falshood long thrown down; All Social Virtues rifing in his Soul; As Crystal clear; and smiling as they rise! Here Nectar flows; it sparkles in our fight;

Rich to the Tafte, and genuine from the Heart.

High-

High-flavour'd Bliss for Gods! on Earth how rare? On Earth how lost? Philander is no more.

Think'ft thou the Theme intoxicates my Song? Am I too warm? Too warm I cannot be. I lov'd him much; but now I love him more. Like Birds, whose Beauties languish, half conceal'd. Till mounted on the Wing, their gloffy Plumes Expanded shine with Azure, Green, and Gold; How Bleffings brighten as they take their Flight? His flight Philander took; his Upward Flight, If ever Soul ascended: Had he dropt, That Eagle Genius! O had he let fall One Feather as he flew; I then had wrote What Friends might flatter; prudent Foes forbear; Rivals scarce damn; and Zoilus reprieve. Yet what I can I must; It were profane To quench a Glory lighted at the Skies, And cast in Shadows his illustrious Close. Strange! the Theme most affecting, most sublime. Momentous most to Man, shou'd sleep unsung; And yet it sleeps, by Genius unawak'd, Painim or Christian; to the Blush of Wit. Man's highest Triumph! Man's profoundest Fall! The Death-bed of the Just! is yet undrawn By mortal Hand; It merits a Divine: Angels should paint it, Angels ever There; There, on a Post of Honour, and of Joy.

Dare I presume, then? But Philander bids;
And Glory tempts, and Inclination calls—
Yet am I struck; as struck the Soul beneath
Aerial Groves impenetrable Gloom;
Or in some mighty Ruin's solemn shade;
Or, gazing by pale lamps on bighborn Dust,
In Vaults; thin courts of poor Unstatter'd Kings!
Or at the midnight Altar's hallow'd Flame.
It is Religion to proceed: I pause——

And

And enter aw'd the Temple of my Theme. Is it his Death-bed? No; It is his Shrine; Behold him, there, just rifing to a God.

The Chamber where the Good man meets his Fate, Is privileg'd beyond the common Walk Of virtuous life, quite in the Verge of Heaven. Fly, ye Profane! If not, draw near with awe, Receive the Bleffing, and adore the Chance, That threw in this Bethefda your Difease; If unrestor'd by This, despair your Cure. For, Here, refiftless Demonstration dwells; A Death Bed's a Detector of the Heart. Here tir'd Dissimulation drops her Masque, Thro' Life's Grimace, that Mistress of the Scene! Here Real and Apparent are the Same. You see the Man; you see his Hold on Heaven: If found his Virtue; as Philander's found; Heav'n waits not the last moment, owns her Friends. On this Side Death; and points them out to men, A Lecture, filent, but of fov'reign Pow'r! To Vice Confusion; and to Virtue Peace.

Whatever Farce the boastful Hero plays, Virtue alone has Majesty in Death; And greater still, the more the Tyrant frowns. Philander! He severely frown'd on Thee.

" No Warning giv'n! Unceremonious Fate!
" A suddain Rush from Life's meridian Joys!

" A Wrench from all we Love! from all we are!

" A restless bed of Pain! a Plunge opaque

" Beyond Conjecture ! Feeble Nature's dread !

" Strong Reason's shudder at the dark Unknown!

" A Sun extinguish'd! a just op'ning Grave!

And oh! the last, last, what? (can words express? Thought reach?) the last, last—Silence of a Friend!"
Where are Those Horrors? That Amazement, where?

This

This hideous Group of Ills, which fingly shock?

Demand from man?—I thought him Man till now.

Thro' Nature's wreck, thro' vanquish'd Agonies, Like the Stars struggling thro' this Midnight Gloom, What gleams of Joy? what more than Human Peace? Where the frail Mortal? the poor abject Worm? No, not in Death, the Mortal to be found. His Conduct is a Legacy for All, Richer than Mammon's for his fingle Heir: His Comforters He comforts; Great in Ruin, With unreluctant Grandeur, gives, not yields: His Soul Sublime; and closes with his Fare: How our Hearts burn'd within us at the Scene? Whence this brave Bound o'er limits fixt to Man? His God sustains him in his final Hour: His final Hour brings Glory to his God: Man's Glory Heav'n vouchsafes to call her own. We gaze; we weep; mixt Tears of Grief and Joy! Amazement Strikes! Devotion bursts to slame! Christians Adore! and Infidels Believe.

As some tall Tow'r, or losty Mountain's Brow, Detains the Sun, Illustrious from its Height; While rising Vapours, and descending Shades, With Damps, and Darkness drown the Spacious Vale: Undampt by Doubt, Undarken'd by Despair, Philander, thus, augustly rears his Head, At that Black Hour, which gen'ral Horror sheds On the low Level of th' Inglorious Throng: Sweet Peace, and Heav'nly Hope, and humble Joy, Divinely beam on his exalted Soul; Destruction gild, and crown him for the Skies, With incommunicable Lustre, Bright.

How dim the Ray, the Lustre, now, how pale Of tarnisht Pageantries, of wither'd Joy, Of beggar'd Opulence, disgrac'd Renown,

Deep-darken'd Empire, Conquest overcome? Envy's bright Buts! the Pant of evr'y Breaft! Envy! the greatest Ideot of all Crimes! Who pains herself for That, wou'd pain her more; Is there on Earth what can absolve her? Yes: One radiant Mark; the Death-bed of the Just: That Gaze of Angels! That glad Fame of Heaven! That Joy to Joy Celeftial !- O my Soul! Bleft, ravish'd with this Providential Scene! Heav'n plans her gracious Stratagems for All. A Scene so strong to strike, so sweet to charm. So Great to raife, fo Heav'nly to inspire, So Solid to support fair Virtue's Throne, What Transport Thine to see? what Zeal to sing? Sing First, and send it thro' the Souls of men? And fent thro' Their's with ease, if from our own-Nor haft Thou Sung in vain: Philander hears, Lorenzo feels, thy Song. Lorenzo feels, Or He, and not Philander, is the Dead. Life, take thy Chance; But Oh for fuch an End! There point, My wishes! center There; and burn-

Smile you, ye poor Dependents on a Pulse!

A Pulse, your salient God! as that decrees,
Pleasur'd, or Pain'd; Exalted, or Forlorn?—

Smile on; and prove your Misery by your Smiles.

As Smiles mistaken what Tear half so sad?

Is it your Pride? Wou'd you be prais'd for This?

Scorn'd be the man, who thinks himself a Brute;

Affronts his Species; and his God blasphemes;

Vile Laughter! at whom Pity cannot laugh;

Scorner of All, but what deserves his Scorn!

Who thinks it is Ingenious to be Mad,

And is quite Fool enough to be a Wit.

The Dutchess of P-----

Ignoscenda quidem, scirent si ignoscere Manes.
VIRG.

ROM Dreams, where Thought in Fancy's maze runs mad,
To Reason, that Heav'n-lighted Lamp in Man,

Once more I wake; and at the Destin'd hour; Punctual as Lovers to the moment sworn, I keep my Assignation with my Woe.

O! Lost to Virtue, Lost to manly Thought, Lost to the noble Sallies of the Soul! Who think it Solitude to be Alone.

Com-

Alone indeed, the Banish'd from Himself, By Day's Intrusions loud, and rude Assaults, A tide of Tumult, and a Storm of Tongues. Take Phæbus to yourselves, ye basking Bards! Inebriate at fair Fortune's fountain-head: And reeling thro' the wilderness of Joy; Where Sense runs savage, broke from Reason's chain, And sings salse Peace, till smother'd by the Pall. My Fortune is unlike; unlike my Song; Unlike the Deity my Song invokes. I to Day's soft-ey'd Sister pay my Court, (Endymion's Rival!) and her aid implore; Now sirst implor'd in succour to the Muse.

Thou, who didft lately borrow * Cynthia's form, And modestly forego thine Own! O Thou Who didst, thyself, at midnight Hours inspire!

Say, why not Cynthia Patroness of Song?

As Thou her Crescent, she thy Character

Assumes; still more a Goddess by the Change.

Are there demurring Wits, who dare dispute This Revolution in the World inspir'd?

Ye Train Pierian! to the Lunar Sphere,
In filent Hour, address your ardent Call
For aid Immortal; Less her Brother's Right.

At the Duke of Norfolk's Masquerade,

She, with the Spheres Harmonious, nightly leads
The mazy Dance, and hears their matchless Strain,
A Strain for Gods! Deny'd to mortal Ear!
Transmit it heard, Thou Silver Queen of Heaven!
What Title, or what Name endears thee more?
Cynthia! Selene! Phabe!——or dost hear
With higher gust, fair P——d of the Skies?
Is that the soft Enchantment calls thee down,
More pow'rful than of old Circean charm?
Come; but from Heav'nly Banquets with thee bring
The Soul of Song; and whisper in mine ear
The Thest divine; or in propitious Dreams,
(For Dreams are Thine) transsuse it thro' the breast
Of thy sirst Votary;—But not thy last;
If, like thy Name-sake, Thou art ever Kind.

And Kind Thou wilt be; Kind on fuch a Theme: A Theme so like thee, a quite Lunar Theme, Soft, modest, melancholy, female, fair! A Theme that rose all-pale, and told my soul, 'Twas Night; on her fond Hopes perpetual Night ! A Night which struck a damp, a deadlier damp, Than that which smote me from Philander's tomb. Narcissa follows, e'er His tomb is clos'd. Woes cluster; rare are solitary Woes; They love a Train: they tread each other's Heel: Her Death invades His mournful right, and claims The Grief that started from my Lids for Him: Seizes the faithless, alienated Tear, Or shares it, e'er It falls. So frequent Death, Sorrow, He more than causes, He confounds; For human Sighs his rival Strokes contend, And make Distress Distraction. Oh Philander ! What was thy Fate? A double Fate to me; Portent, and Pain! a Menace, and a Blow! Like the black Raven hov'ring o'er my Peace, Not less a Bird of Omen, than of Prey.

It call'd Narcissa long before her Hour; It call'd her tender Soul, by Break of bliss, From the first Blossom, from the Buds of Joy; Those Few our noxious Fate unblasted leaves, In this inclement Clime of human life.

Sweet Harmonist! and Beautiful as sweet!

And young as beautiful! and Soft as young!

And Gay as soft! and Innocent as gay!

And Happy (if aught Happy bere) as Good!

For Fortune fond had built her nest on High:

Like Birds quite exquisite of note and Plume,

Transsixt by Fate (who loves a losty Mark)

How from the Summit of the Grove she fell,

And lest it Unharmonious? All its Charm

Extinguish'd in the Wonders of her Song!

Her Song still vibrates in my ravish'd Ear,

Still melting There, and with voluptuous Pain

(O to forget her!) trilling thro' my Heart!

Song, beauty, youth, love, virtue, joy! this Group Of bright Ideas, Flow'rs of Paradife As yet unforfeit! in one blaze we bind, Kneel, and present it to the Skies; as All We guess of Heaven: And these were all her Own: And she was mine; and I was -was most blest. -Gay Title of the deepest Misery! As bodies grow more pond'rous, rob'd of Life; Good loft weighs more in Grief, than Gain'd, in Joy. Like bloffom'd Trees o'erturn'd by vernal Storm Lovely in Death the beauteous Ruin lay; And if in Death still lovely, Lovelier There; Far lovelier! Pity swells the Tide of Love. And will not the Severe excuse a Sigh? Scorn the proud Man that is asham'd to weep; Our Tears indulg'd indeed deserve our Shame. Ye that e're loft an Angel! pity me.

Soon

Dawning a dimmer Day on Human Sight;
And on her Cheek, the Residence of Spring,
Pale Omen sate; and scatter'd Fears around
On all that saw, (and who could cease to gaze
That once had seen?) with haste, parental haste,
I slew, I snatch'd her from the rigid North,
Her native Bed, on which bleak Boreas blew,
And bore her nearer to the Sun; the Sun
(As if the Sun cou'd envy) check'd his Beam,
Deny'd his wonted Succour, nor with more
Regret, beheld her drooping, than the Bells
Of Lilies; Fairest Lilies! not so fair.

Queen Lilies! and ye painted Populace! Who dwell in Fields, and lead ambrofial lives; In morn, and ev'ning Dew, your beauties bathe, And drink the Sun; which gives your Cheeks to glow, And out-blush (mine excepted) every Fair; You gladlier grew, ambitious of her Hand, Which often cropt your Odors, Incense meet To Thought fo pure; her flow'ry State of Mind In Joy unfal'n: Ye lovely Fugitives! Coæval race with man! for man you smile; Why not Smile at him too? You share indeed His sudden Pass; but not his constant Pain. So man is made, nought ministers delight, But what his glowing Passions can engage; And glowing Passions bent on aught Below, Must, soon or late, with Anguish turn the Scale; And Anguish after Rapture, how severe? Rapture? bold man? who tempts the wrath divine, By plucking Fruit deny'd to mortal Tafte, While Here presuming on the Rights of Heaven. For Transport dost Thou call on ev'ry Hour, Lorenzo? At thy Friend's expence be wife; Lean not on Earth; 'twill pierce thee to the Heart; A broken enostamule:

A broken Reed, at best; but, oft, a spear; On its sharp point Peace bleeds, and Hope expires.

Turn, hopeless Thought! turn from Her: --Thought repell'd,

Refenting rallies, and wakes ev'ry Woe.

Snatch'd e'er thy Prime! and in thy bridal Hour!

And when kind Fortune, with thy Lover, smil'd!

And when high-slavour'd thy fresh-op'ning Joys!

And when blind man pronounc'd thy bliss compleat!

And on a Foreign Shore! Where Strangers wept!

Strangers to Thee, and more surprizing still,

Strangers to Kindness, wept: Their eyes let fall

Inhuman Tears; strange tears! that trickled down

From marble Hearts! obdurate Tenderness!

A Tenderness that call'd them more severe,

In Spight of Nature's fost Persuasion Steel'd:

While Nature melted, Superstition rav'd;

That mourn'd the Dead; and This deny'd a Grave.

Their Sighs incenst; Sighs foreign to the Will! Their Will the Tyger suck'd, outrag'd the Storm: For oh! the curft Ungodliness of Zeal! While finful Flesh relented, Spirit nurst In blind Infallibility's embrace, The Sainted Spirit petrify'd the breaft: Deny'd the Charity of Dust, to spread O'er Dust! a charity their Dogs enjoy. What cou'd I do? what Succour? what Refource? With pious Sacrilege, a Grave I stole; With impious Piety, that Grave I wrong'd: Short in my Duty; Coward in my Grief! More like her Murderer, than Friend, I crept, With foft-suspended Step, and muffled deep In midnight Darkness, whisper'd my Last Sigh. I whisper'd what shou'd echo thro' their realms; Nor writ her Name, whose tomb shou'd pierce the Skies.

Prefumptuous Fear! How durst I dread her Foes,
While Nature's loudest Dictates I obey'd?
Pardon Necessity, Blest Shade! Of Grief,
And Indignation rival bursts I pour'd;
Half-execration mingled with my Pray'r;
Kindled at man, while I his God ador'd;
Sore-grudg'd the Savage land her Sacred Dust;
Stamp'd the curst Soil; and with Humanity,
(Deny'd Narcissa,) wish'd them All a Grave.

Glows my Refentment into Guilt? What guilt Can equal Violations of the Dead? The Dead how Sacred? Sacred is the Duft Of this Heav'n-labour'd form, erect, divine! This Heav'n-assum'd majestic robe of Earth, He deign'd to wear, who hung the vast Expanse With Azure bright, and cloath'd the Sun in Gold. When ev'ry Passion sleeps that can offend; When Strikes us ev'ry Motive that can melt; When man can reek his rancour uncontroul'd. That strongest Curb on Insult and Ill-will; Then, spleen to Dust? the Dust of Innocence? An Angel's Dust !- This Lucifer transcends; When He contended for the Patriarch's bones, 'Twas not the Strife of Malice, but of Pride; The Strife of Pontiff Pride, not Pontiff Gall.

Far less than This is shocking in a Race
Most wretched, but from Streams of mutual Love;
And Uncreated, but for love Divine;
And but for love Divine, this Moment, lost,
By Fate resorb'd, and sunk in endless Night.
Man hard of Heart to man! Of horrid things
Most horrid! Mid stupendous, highly strange!
Yet oft his Courtesses are smoother Wrongs;
Pride brandishes the favours He confers,
And contumelious his Humanity:
What then his Vengeance? Hear it not, ye Stars!

And

48 The COMPLAINT:

And thou, pale Moon! turn paler at the Sound;
Man is to Man the forest, surest Ill.
A previous Blast foretells the rising Storm;
O'erwhelming Turrets threaten ere they fall;
Volcano's bellow ere they disembogue;
Earth trembles ere her yawning Jaws devour:
And Smoak betrays the wide-consuming Fire:
Ruin from Man is most conceal'd when near,
And sends the dreadful Tidings in the Blow.
Is this the Flight of Fancy? Would it were!
Heav'n's Sov'reign saves all Beings but Himself,
That hideous Sight, a naked human Heart.

Fir'd is the Muse? and let the Muse be fir'd: Who not inflam'd, when what He speaks he feels, And in the Nerve most tender, in his Friends? Shame to Mankind! Philander had his Foes: He felt the Truths I fing, and I in Him: But he, nor I, feel more. Past Ills, Narcissa! Are funk in Thee: Thou recent wound of Heart! Which bleeds with other Cares, with other Pangs; Pangs num'rous, as the num'rous Ills that swarm'd O'er thy diftinguish'd Fate, and clust'ring There Thick as the Locust on the land of Nile, Made Death more deadly, and more dark the Grave. Reflect (if not forgot my touching Tale) How was each Circumstance with Aspics arm'd? An Aspic, Each; and All, an Hydra-Woe. What strong Herculean Virtue could suffice? Or is it Virtue to be conquer'd Here? This hoary Cheek a Train of Tears bedews, And each tear mourns its own distinct distress; And each Distress distinctly mourn'd, demands Of Grief still more, as heighten'd by the Whole. A Grief like this Proprietors excludes; Not Friends alone fuch Obsequies deplore, They make Mankind the Mourner; carry Sighs

Far as the fatal Fame can wing her Way, And turn the gayest Thought of gayest Age, Down their right Channel, thro' the Vale of Death.

The Vale of Death! That husht Cimmerian Vale, Where Darkness, brooding o'er unsinish'd Fates, With Raven wing incumbent, waits the Day (Dread Day!) that interdicts all future Change. That Subterranean World, that Land of Ruin! Fit Walk, Lorenzo, for proud human Thought! There let my Thought expatiate; and explore Balsamic Truths, and healing Sentiments, Of all most wanted, and most welcome, Here. For gay Lorenzo's sake, and for thine own, My Soul! "The Fruits of Dying Friends survey; "Expose the Vain of Life; weigh Life and Death!

Give Death his Eulogy; Thy Fear subdue;

" And labour that First Palm of noble Minds,

" A manly Scorn of Terror from the Tomb."

This Harvest reap from thy Narcissa's Grave.

As Poets seign'd from Ajax' streaming blood

Arose, with Grief inscrib'd, a mournful Flow'r;

Let Wisdom blossom from my mortal Wound.

And first, of Dying Friends: what Fruit from These?

Rich Fruit this Tempest in our Bosom throws,

Few Minds will gather in our Life's Serene:

It brings us more than triple Aid; an Aid

To chace our Thoughtlessness, Fear, Pride, and Guilt.

Our dying Friends come o'er us like a Cloud,
To damp our brainless Ardors; and abate
That Glare of Life, which often blinds the Wise.
Our dying Friends are Pioneers, to smooth
Our rugged Pass to Death; to break those Bars
Of Terror, and Abhorrence, Nature throws
Cross our obstructed way; and, thus, to make
Welcome, as safe, our Port from ev'ry Storm.

50 The COMPLAINT:

Each Friend by Fate fnatch'd from us, is a Plume Pluck'd from the wing of human Vanity, Which makes us stoop from our aerial Heights, And damp'd with Omen of our own Decease, On drooping pinions of Ambition lower'd. Just skim Earth's Surface, ere we break it up, O'er putrid Pride to scratch a little Duft. And fave the World a Nusance. Smitten Friends Are Angels fent on Errands full of Love: For us they languish, and for us they die: And shall they languish, shall they die in vain? Ungrateful shall we grieve their hov'ring Shades, Which wait the Revolution in our Hearts? Shall we disdain their filent, foft Address; Their posthumous Advice, and pious Pray'r? Senseless, as Herds that graze their hallow'd Graves, Tread under foot their Agonies and Groans; Frustrate their Anguish, and destroy their Deaths? Lorenzo? no; the Thought of Death indulge;

Give it its wholfome Empire, let It reign, That Kind Chastifer of the Soul to Joy! Its reign will spread thy glorious Conquests far. And still the Tumults of thy russed breast: Auspicious Æra! Golden Days begin! The Thought of Death shall, like a God, inspire. And why not think on Death? Is Life the Theme Of ev'ry Thought? and Wish of ev'ry Hour? And Song of ev'ry Joy? Surprising Truth! The beaten Spaniel's fondness not so strange. To wave the num'rous Ills that feize on Life As their own Property, their lawful prey; Ere man has measur'd half his weary Stage. His Luxuries have left him no referve, No maiden Relishes, unbroach'd Delights; On cold-ferv'd Repetitions He subfifts,

And in the tastless Present chews the Past;
Disgusted chews, and scarce can swallow down.
Like lavish Ancestors, his earlier Years
Have disinherited his future Hours,
Which starve on Oughts, and glean their former Field.

Live ever Here, Lorenzo! shocking Thought! So shocking, they who wish, disown it too; Disown from shame, what they from Folly crave. Live ever in the Womb, nor fee the Light? For what live ever Here?-With labouring Step To tread out former Footsteps? Pace the Round Eternal? To climb daily Life's worn wheel. Which draws up nothing new? To beat, and beat, The beaten Track? To bid each wretched day The Former mock; To furfeit on the Same, And yawn our Joys? or thank a Misery For Change, tho' fad? To fee what we have feen? Hear, till unheard, the same old slobber'd Tale? To taste the tasted, and at each return Less tastful? O'er our Palates to decant Another Vintage? strain a flatter year. Thro' loaded Veffels, and a laxer Tone ? Crazy Machines to grind Earth's wasted Fruits! Ill-ground, and worse concocted; Load, not Life! The Rational foul Kennels of Excess! Still-streaming Thorough-fairs of dull Debauch! Trembling each Gulph, left Death should snatch the Bowl.

Such of our Fine Ones is the Wish refin'd!

So would they have it: Elegant Desire!

Why not invite the bell'wing Stalls, and Wilds?

But such Examples might their riot awe.

Thro' want of Virtue, that is, want of Thought,

(Tho' on bright Thought they father all their Flights)

To what are they reduc'd? to love, and hate

The fame vain World; to censure and espouse
This painted Shrew of Life, who calls them Fool
Each Moment of each Day; To flatter Bad
Thro' dread of Worse; To cling to this rude Rock,
Barren, to them, of Good, and Sharp with Ills,
And hourly blacken'd with impending Storms,
And Infamous for wrecks of human Hope,
Scar'd at the gloomy Gulph that yawns Beneath.
Such are their Triumphs! Such their Pangs of Joy!

'Tis Time, high Time to shift this dismal Scene.
This hugg'd, this hideous State, what Art can cure?
One only; but that One, what All may reach;
Virtue.—She, wonder-working Goddess! charms
That Rock to bloom; and tames the painted Shrew;
And what will more surprize, Lorenzo! gives
To Life's sick, nauseous Iteration, Change;
And straitens Nature's Circle to a Line.
Believ'st Thou This, Lorenzo? Lend an Ear,
A patient ear, Thou'lt blush to Disbelieve.

A languid, leaden Iteration reigns, And ever must o'er Those, whose joys are joys Of Sight, Smell, Tafte: The Cuckow-feafons fing The fame dull Note to fuch as nothing prize. But what those Seasons, from the teeming Earth, To doating Sense indulge: But nobler Minds. Which relish Fruits unripen'd by the Sun. Make their Days various; various as the Dies On the Dove's Neck, which wanton in bis rays. On Minds of Dove-like innocence possest, On lighten'd Minds that balk in Virtue's beams, Nothing hangs Tedious, nothing Old revolves. In That, for which they long; for which they live. Their glorious Efforts wing'd with Heav'nly Hope, Each rifing Morning fees still higher rife; Each bounteous Dawn its Novelty presents

To worth maturing, new Strength, Lustre, Fame; While Nature's Circle, like a Chariot-wheel, Rolling beneath their elevated Aims, Makes their fair Prospect fairer ev'ry Hour; Advancing Virtue, in a Line to Bliss:

Virtue, which Christian Motives best inspire!

And Bliss, which Christian Schemes alone ensure.

And shall we then, for Virtue's fake, commence-Apostates? and turn Insidels for Joy? A Truth it is, Few doubt, but Fewer trust, " He fins against this Life, who slights the next." What is this Life ? How Few their Fav'rite know ? Fond in the dark, and blind in our Embrace, By paffionately loving Life, we make Lov'd Life unlovely; hugging her to Death. We give to Time Eternity's Regard; And dreaming take our Passage for our Port. Life has no Value as an End, but Means; An End deplorable! a Means divine! When 'tis our All; 'tis Nothing; worse than Noughts A Nest of Pains: when held as Nothing, Much: Like some fair Humourists, Life is most enjoy'd. When courted least; most worth, when disesteem'd: Then 'tis the Seat of Comfort, rich in Peace : In Prospect, richer far; Important! Awful! Not to be mention'd but with Shouts of Praise! Not to be thought on, but with Tides of Joy! The mighty Basis of eternal Bliss!

Where now the barren Rock? the painted Shreng?
Where now, Lorenzo! Life's eternal Round?
Have I not made my triple Promife good?
Vain is the World, but only to the Vain.
To what compare we then this varying Scene.
Whose Worth ambiguous rises, and declines?
Waxes and wanes? (In all propitious, Night

Affists me Here) Compare it to the Moon;
Dark in herself, and Indigent: but Rich
In borrow'd Lustre from a higher Sphere:
When gross Guilt interposes, labouring Earth
O'ershadow'd mourns a deep Eclipse of Joy;
Her Joys at brightest pallid, to that Font
Of full effulgent Glory, whence they flow.

Nor is that Glory diffant : Oh Lorenzo! A good Man and an Angel! These between How thin the Barrier? What divides their Fate? Perhaps a Moment, or perhaps a Year; Or if an Age, it is a moment fill; A moment, or Eternity's forgot: Then be, what once they were, who now are Gods; Be what Philander was, and claim the Skies. Starts timid Nature at the gloomy Pass? The foft Transition call it; and be chear'd; Such it is often, and why not to Thee? To hope the Best is Pious, Brave, and Wise, And may Itself procure, what It presumes. Lite is much flatter'd, Death is much traduc'd Compare the Rivals, and the Kinder crown. " Strange Competition"-True Lorenzo! Strange! So little Life can cast into the Scale.

Life makes the Soul Dependent on the Dust;

Death gives her wings to mount above the Spheres:

Thro' Chinks, styl'd Organs, dim Life peeps at Light;

Death bursts th' Involving Cloud, and all is Day:

All Eye, all Ear, the disembody'd Power.

Death has seign'd Evils, Nature shall not seel;

Life, Ills substantial, Wisdom cannot shun:

Is not the mighty Mind, that Son of Heav'n!

By Tyrant Life dethron'd, imprison'd, pain'd?

By Death enlarg'd, ennobled, deify'd?

Death but entombs the Body? Life the Soul.

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c.

" Is Death then Guiltless? How He marks his Way

"With dreadful Waste of what deserves to shine?

" Art, Genius, Fortune, elevated Pow'r !

"With various Lustres These light up the World,

" Which Death puts out and darkens human Race."

I grant, Lorenzo! this Indictment just:

The Sage, Peer, Potentate, King, Conqueror!

Death humbles Thefe; more barbarous Life, the mau:

Life is the Triumph of our mould'ring Clay;

Death, of the Spirit Infinite! Divine!

Death has no dread but what frail Life imparts;

Nor Life true Joy, but what kind Death improves.

No Blifs has Life to boaft, till Death can give

Far greater; Life's a Debtor to the Grave,

Dark Lattice! letting in Eternal Day.

Lorenzo! blush at Fondness for a Life, Which fends celeftial Souls on errands vile. To cater for the Sense; and serve at Boards, Where ev'ry Ranger of the Wilds, perhaps, Each Reptile justly claims our upper Hand; Luxurious Feaft! a Soul, a Soul immortal, In all the Dainties of a Brute bemir'd! Lorenzo! blush at Terror for a Death. Which gives thee to repose in festive Bow're, Where Nectars sparkle, Angels minister, And more than Angels share, and raife, and crown, And eternize, the Birth, Bloom, Bursts of Blife! O Feast indeed Luxurious! Earth, vile Earth! In all the Glories of a God array'd; And beaming inextinguishable Blifs, What need I more? O Death, the Palm is thine.

Then welcome, Death! thy dreaded Harbingers

Age, and Difease; Disease, tho' long my Guest;

That plucks my Nerves, those tender Strings of Life,

Which pluck'd a little more, will toll the Bell

That

That calls my few Friends to my Funeral; Where feeble Nature drops, perhaps, a Tear. While Reason and Religion, better taught, Congratulate the Dead, and crown his tomb With wreath triumphant. Death is Victory; It binds in chains the raging Ills of Life: Luft and Ambition, Wrath and Avarice, Dragg'd at his chariot wheel, applaud his Power. That Ills corrofive, Cares importunate, Are not Immortal too, O Death! is Thine. Our Day of Diffolution ?- Name it right; 'Tis our great Pay-day; 'Tis our Harvest, rich And ripe; what tho' the Sickle, fometimes keen. Just scars us, as we reap the golden Grain, More than thy Balm, O Gilead! heals the Wound. Birth's feeble Cry, and Death's deep difinal Groan, Are slender Tributes low-tax'd Nature pays, For mighty Gain: The Gain of each, a Life! But O, the Last the Former so transcends, Life dies, Compar'd: Life lives beyond the Grave.

And feel I, Death ! no joy from thought of Thee? Death, the great Counsellor, who Man inspires, With ev'ry nobler Thought, and fairer Deed! Death, the Deliverer, who rescues man ! Death, the Rewarder, who the rescued crowns ! Death, that absolves my Birth, a curse without it! Rich Death, that realizes all my Cares, Toils, Virtues, Hopes; without it, a Chimera !-Death, of all Pain the Period, not of Joy; Joy's Source, and Subject, still subfist unhurt, One in my Soul; and One, in her great Sire, Tho' the four Winds were warring for my Duft. Yes, and from Winds, and Waves, and central Night, Tho' prison'd there, my Dust too I reclaim, (To Dust when drop proud Nature's prouder Spheres) And

And live Entire. Death is the Crown of Life; Was Death deny'd, poor Man would live in vain; Was Death deny'd, to live would not be Life; Was Death deny'd, ev'n Fools would wish to die. Death wounds, to cure: We fall; we rife; we reign! Spring from our Fetters; fasten in the Skies; Where blooming Eden withers in our Sight; Death gives us more than was in Eden lost. This King of Terrors is the Prince of Peace. When shall I die to Vanity, Pain, Death?

When shall I die?—When shall I live for ever?

NIGHT

NIGHT the FOURTH.

Christian TRIUMPH.

Containing our only CURE for the FEAR of DEATH, and proper Sentiments of Heart on that Inestimable Blessing.

HUMBLY INSCRIBED

To the Honourable Mr. YORK.

Much indebted Muse, O York! intrudes.

Amid the Smiles of Fortune, and of Youth,
Thine Ear is patient of a serious Song.

How deep implanted in the Breast of Man
The Dread of Death? I sing its sov'reign Cure.

Why start at Death? Where is he? Death arriv'd, past; not come, or gone, He's never bere.

Ere

Ere Hope, Sensation fails; Black-boding ManReceives, not suffers Death's tremendous Blow.
The Knell, the Shroud, the Mattock, and the Grave,
The deep damp Vault, the Darkness, and the Worm.
These are the Bugbears of a Winter's Eve;
The Terrors of the Living, not the Dead.
Imagination's Fool, and Error's Wretch,
Man makes a Death, which Nature never made:
Then on the Point of his own Fancy falls;
And feels a thousand Deaths, in fearing one.

But was Death frightful, what has Age to fear? If prudent, Age should meet the friendly Foe, And shelter in his hospitable Gloom. I scarce can meet a Monument, but holds My Younger; ev'ry Date, cries-" Come away." And what recalls me? look the World around, And tell me what: the Wifest cannot tell. Should any born of Woman give this Thought Full range, on just Dislike's unbounded Field; Of Things, the Vanity; of Men, the Flaws; Flaws in the Best; the Many, Flaw all o'er, As Leopards spotted, or as Æthiops dark; Vivacious Ill; Good dying immature; (How immature, Narcissa's Marble tells) And at his Death bequeathing endless Pain; His Heart, tho' bold, would ficken at the Sight, And spend itself in Sighs, for future Scenes.

But grant to Life (and just it is to grant To lucky Life) some Perquisites of Joy; A Time there is, when, like a thrice-told Tale, And that of no great Moment, or Delight, Long-risled Life of sweet can yield no more, But from our Comment on the Comedy, Pleasing Restations on Parts well-sustain'd, Or purpos'd Emendations where we fail'd,

Or Hopes of Plaudits from our candid Judge, When, on their Exit, Souls are bid unrobe, Toss Fortune back her Tinsel, and her Plume, And drop this Mask of Flesh behind the Scene.

With me, that Time is come; my World is dead;
A new World rifes, and new Manners reign:
Foreign Comedians, a fpruce Band! arrive,
To push me from the Scene, or his me there.
What a pert Race starts up? the Strangers gaze,
And I at them; my Neighbour is unknown;
Nor that the worst; ah me! the dire Effect
Of loit'ring here, of Death defrauded long;
Of old so gracious, (and let that suffice)
My very Master knows me not.——

Shall I dare fay, Peculiar is the Fate?

I've been so long remember'd, I'm forgot.

An Object ever pressing dims the Sight,

And hides behind its Ardor to be seen:

When in his Courtiers Ears I pour my Plaint,

They drink it, as the Nectar of the Great;

And squeeze my Hand, and beg me come to-morrow;

Refusal! canst thou wear a smoother Form?

Indulge me, nor conceive, I drop my Theme, Who cheapens Life, abates the Fear of Death; Twice-told the Period spent on stubborn Troy, Court-Favour, yet untaken, I besiege; Ambition's ill-judg'd Effort to be rich. Alas! Ambition makes my Little less; Imbitt'ring the Posses'd: Why wish for more? Wishing, of all Employments, is the worst; Philosophy's Reverse! and Health's Decay! Was I as plump, as stall'd Theology, Wishing would waste me to this Shade again. Was I as wealthy as a South-Sea Dream, Wishing is an Expedient to be poor.

Wishing

Wishing, that constant Healick of a Fool; Caught at a Court, purg'd off by purer Air, And simpler Diet; Gifts of rural Life!

Bleft be that hand Divine, which gently laid My Heart at rest, beneath this humble Shed. The World's a stately Bark, on dang'rous Seas, With Pleasure seen, but boarded at our Peril: Here, on a fingle Plank, thrown fafe ashore, I hear the Tumult of the distant Throng, As that of Seas remote, or dying Storms; And meditate on Scenes, more filent fill; Pursue my Theme, and fight the Fear of Death? Here, like a Shepherd gazing from his Hut, Touching his Reed, or leaning on his Staff. Eager Ambition's fiery Chace I fee; I fee the circling Hunt, of noisy Men, Burft Laws Enclosure, leap the Mounds of Right, Pursuing and pursu'd, each other's Prey As Wolves, for Rapine; as the Fox, for Wiles: Till Death, that mighty Hunter, earths them all.

What, the wade in Wealth, or foar in Fame, Earth's highest Station ends in "Here he lies," And "Dust to Dust" concludes Her noblest Song. If this Song lives, Posterity shall know One, the in Britain born, with Courtiers bred, Who thought ev'n Gold might come a Day too late. Nor on his subtle Death-bed plan'd his Scheme For suture Vacancies in Church, or State; Some Avocation deeming it—to die; Unbit by Rage canine of dying Rich; Guilt's Blunder! and the loudest Laugh of Hell.

O my Coëvals! Remnants of yourselves; Poor human Ruins, tott'ring o'er the Grave! Shall we, shall aged Men, like aged Trees,

Strike

Strike deeper their vile Root, and closer cling,
Still more enamour'd of this wretched Soil?
Shall our pale, wither'd Hands be still stretch'd out,
Trembling, at once, with Eagerness and Age?
With Av'rice, and Convulsions grasping hard;
Grasping at Air! for what has Earth beside?
Man wants but Little; nor that Little, long;
How soon must be resign his very Dust;
Which srugal Nature lent him for an Hour?
Years unexperienc'd rush on num'rous Ills;
And soon as Man, expert from Time, has sound
The Key of Life, it opes the Gates of Death.

When in this Vale of Years I backward look
And miss such Numbers, Numbers too of such,
Firmer in Health, and greener in their Age,
And stricter on their Guard, and sitter far
To play Life's subtle Game, I scarce believe
I still survive; and am I fond of Life,
Who scarce can think it possible, I live?
Alive by Miracle! or, what is next,
Alive by Mead! If I am still alive,
Who long have bury'd what gives Life to live,
Firmness of Nerve, and Energy of Thought.
Life's Lee is not more shallow, than impure,
And vapid; Sense, and Reason shew the Door,
Call for my Bier, and point me to the Dust.

Nature's immortal, immaterial Sun!
Whose all-prolific Beam late call'd me forth
From Darkness, teeming Darkness, where I lay
The Worms inferior, and, in Rank, beneath
The Dust I tread on, high to bear my Brow,
To drink the Spirit of the golden Day,
And triumph in Existence; and could'st know
No Motive, but my Bliss; and hast ordain'd

A Rife

A Rife in Bleffing! with the Patriarch's Joy, Thy call I follow to the Land unknown; I trust in Thee, and know in whom I trust; Or Life, or Death, is equal; neither weighs, All Weight in this—O let me live to Thee!

Tho' Nature's Terrors, thus, may be represt; Still frowns grim Death; Guilt points the Tyrant's

Spear.

And whence all human Guilt? from Death forgot,
Ah me! too long I fet at nought the Swarm
Of friendly Warnings, which around me flew,
And smil'd unsmitten: Small my Cause to smile!
Death's Admonitions, like Shafts upwards shot,
More dreadful by Delay, the longer ere
They strike our Hearts, the deeper is their Wound.
O think how deep Lorenzo! bere it stings;
Who can appease its Anguish? how it burns?
What Hand the barb'd, envenom'd Thought can draw?
What healing Hand can pour the Balm of Peace,
And turn my Sight undaunted on the Tomb?

With Joy,—with Grief, that Healing Hand I fee,
Ah! too conspicuous! It is fix'd on high.
On high?—What means my Frenzy? I blaspheme;
Alas! how low? how far beneath the Skies?
The Skies it form'd; and now it bleeds for me—
But bleeds the Balm I want—yet still it bleeds;
Draw the dire Steel—Ah no!—the dreadful Blessing
What Heart, or can sustain, or dares forego?
There hangs all human Hope: That Nail supports
Our falling Universe: That gone, we drop;
Horror receives us, and the dismal Wish
Creation had been smother'd in her Birth—
Darkness His Curtain, and his Bed the Dust;
When Stars and Sun are Dust beneath his Throne!
In Heav'n itself can such Indulgence dwell?

O what

O what a Groan was there? A Groan not His; He seiz'd our dreadful Right, the Load sustain'd; And heav'd the Mountain from a guilty World. A thousand Worlds so bought, were bought too dear. Sensations new, in Angels Bosoms rise; Sufpend their Song; and make a Pause in Bliss.

O for their Song to reach my lofty Theme! Inspire me, Night! with all thy tuneful Spheres! Much rather Thou! who dost those Spheres inspire; Whilft I with Seraphs share seraphic Themes, And shew to Men the Dignity of Man; Left I blaspheme my Subject with my Song. Shall Pagan Pages glow celeftial Flame, And Christian languish? On our Hearts, not Heads, Falls the foul Infamy : My Heart ! awake, What can awake thee, unawak'd by this, " Expended Deity on human Weal." Feel the great Truths, which burst the tenfold Night Of Heathen Error, with a golden Flood Of endless Day: To feel, is to be fir'd; And to believe, Lorenzo! is to feel.

Thou most indulgent, most tremendous Pow'r! Still more tremendous, for thy wond'rous Love! That arms, with Awe more awful, thy Commands; And foul Transgression dips in sev'nfold Night. How our Hearts tremble at thy Love immense? In Love immense, inviolably Just! Thou, rather than thy Justice shou'd be stain'd, Didst stain the Cross; and Work of Wonders far The greatest, that thy Dearest far might bleed.

Bold Thought! shall I dare speak it? or repress? Shou'd Man more execrate, or boaff, the Guilt, Which rouz'd fuch Vengeance? which fuch Love inflam'd?

O'er Guilt (how mountainous!) with outfiretch'd Arms, Stern Stern Justice, and fost-smiling Love, embrace,
Supporting, in full Majesty, thy Throne,
When seem'd its Majesty to need Support,
Or that, or Man inevitably lost?
What, but the Fathomless of Thought Divine,
Cou'd labour such Expedient from Despair,
And rescue both? Both rescue! Both exalt!
O how are both exalted by the Deed?
The wond'rous Deed; or shall I call it more?
A Wonder in Omnipotence itself!

A Mystery, no less to Gods than Men!

Not, thus, our Insidels th' Eternal draw,

A God all o'er, consummate, absolute,

Full-orb'd, in his whole Round of Rays compleat:

They fet at odds Heav'n's jarring Attributes;
And with one Excellence another wound;
Maim Heav'n's Perfection, break its equal Beams,
Bid Mercy triumph over---God himfelf,
Unedify'd by their opprobrious Praise:

A God All Mercy is a God unjust.

Ye worse for mending! wash'd to fouler Stains!

The Ransom was paid down; the Fund of Heav'n,
Heav'n's inexhaustible, exhausted Fund,
Amazing, and amaz'd, pour'd forth the Price,
All Price beyond: Tho' curious to compute,
Archangels fail'd to cast the mighty Sum:
Its Value vast ungrasp'd by Minds Create,
For ever hides, and glows, in the Supreme.

And was the Ransom paid? It was: and paid.

(What can exalt the Bounty more?) for You.

The Sun beheld it—No, the shocking Scene

Drove back his Chariot; Midnight veil'd his Face;

Not such as This; not such as Nature makes;

A Midnight Nature shudder'd to behold;

A Midnight new! a dread Eclipse (without Opposing Spheres) from her Creator's Frown!
Sun! didst thou sly thy Maker's Pain? or start
At that enormous Load of human Guilt,
Which bow'd his blessed Head; o'erwhelm'd his Cross;
Made groan the Center; burst Earth's marble Womb.
With Pangs, strange Pangs! deliver'd of her Dead;
Hell howl'd; and Heav'n that Hour let fall a Tear;
Heav'n wept, that Men might smile! Heav'n bled, that Man

Might never die!

And is Devotion Virtue? 'Tis compell'a;
What Heart of Stone, but glows at Thoughts like These?

Such Contemplations mount us; and shou'd mount The Mind still higher; nor ever glance on Man, Unraptur'd, uninflam'd .- Where roll my Thoughts To rest from Wonders? other Wonders rise, And strike where'er they roll: My Soul is caught; Heav'n's fov'reign Bleffings cluft'ring from the Crofs, Rush on her in a Throng, and close her round, The Pris'ner of Amaze !--- In his bleft Life. I fee the Path, and in his Death, the Price, And in his great Ascent, the Proof Supreme Of Immortality .--- And did he rife? Hear, O ye Nations! hear it, O ye Dead! He rose! he rose! he burst the Bars of Death! Lift up your Heads, ye everlasting Gates! And give the King of Glory to come in. Who is the King of Glory? He who left His Throne of Glory, for the Pang of Death: Lift up your Heads, ye everlasting Gates! And give the King of Glory to come in. Who is the King of Glory? He who flew The rav'nous Foe, that gorg'd all human Race! The The King of Glory, He, whose Glory fill'd Heav'n with Amazement at his Love to Man; And with Divine Complacency beheld Pow'rs most illumin'd wilder'd in the Theme.

The Theme, the Joy, how then shall Man sustain?
Oh the burst Gates! crush'd Sting! demolish'd Throne!
Last Gasp of Vanquish'd Death. Shout Earth and Heav'n!

This Sum of Good, to Man: Whose Nature, then, Took Wing, and mounted with Him from the Tomb. Then, then I rose; then first Humanity Triumphant past the Chrystal Ports of Light, (Stupendous Guests!) and seiz'd eternal Youth, Seiz'd in our Name. E'er since, 'tis blasphemous To call Man mortal. Man's Mortality. Was, then, transfer'd to Death; and Heav'n's Duration

Unalienably seal'd to this frail Frame,
This Child of Dust.—Man, all-immortal! Hail;
Hail, Heav'n! all-lavish of strange Gifts to Man!
Thine all the Glory; Man's the boundless Bliss.

Where am I rapt by this triumphant Theme,
On Christian Joy's exulting wing, above
Th' Aonian Mount?—Alas, small Cause for Joy!
What if to Pain immortal? If Extent
Of Being, to preclude a Close of Woe?
Where, then, my boast of Immortality?——
I boast it still, tho' cover'd o'er with Guilt;
For Guilt, not Innocence, His Life He pour'd;
'Tis Guilt alone can justify His Death;
Nor that, unless His Death can justify
Relenting Guilt in Heav'n's indulgent Sight.
If sick of Folly, I relent; He writes
My Name in Heav'n, with that inverted Spear
(A Spear deep-dipt in Blood!) which pierc'd his Side,

And

And open'd there a Font for all Mankind, Who strive, who combat Crimes, to drink, and live: This, only this subdues the Fear of Death.

And what is This?—Survey the wond'rous Cure:

And at each Step, let higher Wonder rise!

" Pardon for infinite Offence! and Pardon

" Thro' Means that speak its Value infinite!

" A Pardon bought with Blood! with Blood Divine!

" With Blood Divine of Him I made my Foe !

" Perfifted to provoke! tho' woo'd, and aw'd,

" Bleft, and chaftiz'd, a flagrant Rebel still!

" A Rebel 'midst the Thunders of his Throne!

" Nor Lalone! a Rebel Universe!

" My Species up in Arms! not One exempt!

"Yet for the foulest of the Foul He dies.

" Most joy'd for the Redeem'd from deepest Guilt !

As if our Race was held of highest Rank;

"And Godhead dearer, as more kind to Man!".
Bound ev'ry Heart! and ev'ry Bosom burn!

Oh what a Scale of Miracles is here!

Its lowest Round, high-planted on the Skies :... Its tow'ring Summit lost beyond the Thought

Of Man or Aprol : Oh that I could alimb

Of Man, or Angel: Oh that I could climb. The wonderful Ascent, with equal Praise!

Praise! flow for ever (if Astonishment

Will give thee Leave) my Praise! for ever flow;

Praise Ardent, Cordial, Constant, to High Heav'n

More fragrant than Arabia facrific'd;

And all her spicy Mountains in a flame.

So dear, so due to Heav'n, shall Praise descend. With her soft Plume, (from plausive Angels wing. First pluck'd by Man) to tickle mortal Ears, Thus diving in the Pockets of the Great? Is Praise the Perquisite of ev'ry Paw, Tho' black as Hell, that grapples well for Gold? Oh love of Gold! thou meanest of Amours!

Shall

Shall Praise her Odours waste on Virtue's Dead, Embalm the Base, persume the Stench of Guilt, Earn dirty Bread by washing Æthiops fair, Removing filth, or sinking it from sight, A Scavenger in Scenes, where wacant Posts, Like Gibbets, yet untenanted, expect Their suture Ornaments? From Courts, and Thrones Return, apostate Praise! Thou Vagabond! Thou Prostitute! to thy first Love return, Thy first, thy greatest, once unrivall'd Theme.

There flow redundant; like Meander flow Back to thy Fountain; to that parent Pow'r, Who gives the Tongue to found, the Thought to foar The Soul to Be. Men homage pay to Men, Thoughtless beneath whose dreadful Eye they bow In mutual Awe profound, of Clay to Clay, Of Guilt to Guilt, and turn their Backs on Thee, Great Sire! whom Thrones celestial ceaseless sing; To proftrate Angels an amazing Scene! Oh the Presumption, of Man's Awe for Man'! Man's Author! End! Restorer! Law! and Judge! Thine All; Day thine, and thine this gloom of Night. With all her Wealth, with all her radiant Worlds: What, Night eternal, but a Frown from Thee? What, Heav'n's meridian Glory, but Thy Smile? And shall not Praise be Thine? not Human Praise? While Heav'n's high Host on Hallelujahs live?

Oh may I breath 'no longer than I breath
My Soul in praise to Him, who gave my Soul,
And all her Infinite of Prospect fair,
Cut thro' the Shades of Hell, great Love! by Thee
Oh most adorable! most unador'd!
Where shall that Praise begin which ne'er should end?
Where'er I turn, what Claim on all Applause?
How is Night's sable mantle labour'd o'er,

How

70 The COMPLAINT:

How richly wrought with Attributes divine?

What Wisdom shines? what Love? This midnight
Pomp,

This gorgeous Arch, with golden Worlds inlay'd;
Built with divine Ambition! nought to Thee;
For Others this Profusion: Thou, apart,
Above, beyond! oh tell me, mighty Mind!
Where art Thou? shall I dive into the Deep?
Call to the Sun, or ask the roaring Winds,
For their Creator? shall I question loud
The Thunder, if in that th' Almighty dwells?
Or holds He surious Storms in streighten'd Reins,
And bids sierce Whirlwinds wheel his rapid Car?

What mean these Questions?—trembling I retract;
My prostrate Soul adores the present God;
Praise I a distant Deity? He tunes
My Voice (if tun'd;) the Nerve, that writes, sustains;
Wrap'd in his Being I resound his Praise:
But tho' past All dissus'd, without a Shore,
His Essence; local is His Throne, (as meet)
To gather the Dispers'd (as Standards call
The Listed from asar) to fix a Point,
A central Point, collective of his Sons,
Since finite ev'ry Nature, but his own.

The nameless He, whose Nod is Nature's Birth;
And Nature's Shield the Shadow of his Hand;
Her Dissolution, his suspended Smile;
The great First-last! pavilion'd high he sits
In Darkness, from excessive Splendor, born,
By Gods unseen, unless through Lustre lost.
His Glory to created Glory bright,
As that to central Horrors; He looks down
On all that soars; and spans Immensity.

Tho' Night unnumber'd Worlds unfolds to view, Boundless Creation! what art thou? a Beam,

A meet

A meer Effluvium of his Majefty: And shall an Atom of this Atom-World, Mutter in Dust, and Sin, the Theme of Heav'n? Down to the Center shou'd I send my Thought, Thro' Beds of glitt'ring Ore, and glowing Gems, Their beggar'd Blaze wants Luftre for my Lay; Goes out in Darkness: If, on tow'ring Wing, I fend it thro' the boundless Vault of Stars; The Stars, tho' rich, what Drofs their Gold to Thee, Great! Good! Wife! Wonderful! Eternal King? If to those conscious Stars thy Throne around, Praise ever-pouring, and imbibing Bliss, And ask their Strain; They want it, more they want; Poor their Abundance, humble their Sublime, Languid their Energy, their Ardor cold, Indebted still, their highest Rapture burns; Short of its Mark, Defective, tho' Divine.

Still more—This Theme is Man's, and Man's alone; Their vast Appointments reach it not; They see On Earth a Bounty, not indulg'd on high; And downward look for Heav'n's superior Praise ! First-born of Æther! high in Fields of Light! View Man, to see the Glory of your God! Cou'd Angels envy, they had envy'd here; And some did envy; and the rest, tho' Gods, Yet still Gods unredeem'd, (there triumphs Man, Tempted to weigh the Dust against the Skies) They less wou'd feel, tho' more adorn, my Theme. They fung Creation, (for in that they shar'd) How rose in Melody, the Child of Love? Creation's great Superior, Man! is thine; Thine is Redemption; They just gave the Key, 'Tis thine to raife, and eternize, the Song; Tho' human, yet divine; for shou'd not this Raise Man o'er Man, and kindle Seraphs bere? Redemption !

72 The COMPLAINT:

Redemption! 'twas Creation more Subtime;
Redemption! 'twas the Labour of the Skies:
Far more than Labour—It was Death in Heav'n.
A Truth fo strange! 'twere bold to think it true;
If not far bolder still, to disbelieve.

Here pause, and ponder: Was there Death in Hea.

What then on Earth? On Earth which struck the Blow! Who struck it? Who?-O how is Man enlarg'd Seen thro' this Medium? How the Pigmy tow'rs? How counterpois'd his Origin from Duft? How counterpois'd, to Dust his sad Return? How voided his vast Distance from the Skies? How near he presses on the Seraph's Wing? Which is the Seraph? Which the Born of Clay? How This demonstrates, thro' the thickest Cloud Of Guilt, and Clay condens'd, the Son of Heav'n? The double Son; the Made, and the Re-made; And shall Heav'n's double Property be lost? Man's double Madness only can destroy. To Man the bleeding Cross has promis'd all; The bleeding Cross has fworn eternal Grace; Who gave his Life, what Grace shall he deny? O ye! who from this Rock of Ages leap Disdainful, plunging headlong in the Deep! What cordial Joy, what Confolation strong Whatever Winds arife, or Billows roll, Our Inter'ft in the Master of the Storm? Cling there, and in wreck'd Nature's Ruins smile; While vile Apostates tremble in a Calm.

Man! Know thyself; all Wisdom centers there: To none Man seems ignoble, but to Man; Angels that Grandeur, Men o'erlook, admire; How long shall Human Nature be Their Book, Degen'rate Mortal! and unread by Thee?

The Beam dim Reason sheds shews Wonders There; What High Contents? Illustrious Faculties? But the grand Comment, which displays at full Our Human Height, scarce sever'd from Divine, By Heav'n compos'd, was publish'd on the Cross!

Who looks on that, and fees not in himself An awful Stranger, a Terrestrial God? A glorious Partner with the Deity In that high Attribute, immortal Life? If a God bleeds, he bleeds not for a Worm: I gaze, and as I gaze, my mounting Soul Catches strange Fire, Eternity! at thee, And drops the World-or rather, more enjoys. How chang'd the Face of Nature? how improv'd? What feem'd a Chaos, shines a glorious World. Or, what a World, an Eden; heighten'd all! It is another Scene! another Self! And still another, as Time rolls along, And that a Self far more illustrious still. Beyond long Ages, yet roll'd up in Shades, Unpierc'd by bold Conjecture's keenest Ray, What Evolutions of furprizing Fate! How Nature opens, and receives my Soul In boundless Walks of raptur'd Thought! Where Gods Encounter, and embrace me! What new Births Of Arange Adventure, foreign to the Sun; Where what now charms, perhaps, whate'er exists, Old Time, and fair Creation, are forgot!

Is this extravagant? Of Man we form
Extravagant Conception; to be just:
Conception unconfin'd wants Wing to reach him:
Beyond its reach, the Godhead only, more.
He, the great Father! kindled at one Flame
The World of Rationals; one Spirit pour'd
From Spirits awful Fountain; pour'd Himself

74 The COMPLAINT:

Thro' all their Souls; but not in equal Stream,
Profuse, or frugal of th' inspiring God,
As his wise Plan demanded; and when past
Their various Trials, in their various Spheres,
If they continue Rational, as made,
Resorbs them all into Himself again;
His Throne their Center, and his Smile their Crown.

Why doubt we, then, the glorious Truth to fing, Tho' yet unfung, as deem'd perhaps too bold? Angels are men of a superior Kind; Angels are Men in lighter Habit clad, High o'er celestial Mountains wing'd in Flight: And Men are Angels, loaded for an Hour, Who wade this miry Vale, and climb with Pain. And flipp'ry Step, the Bottom of the Steep: Angels their Failings, Mortals have their Praise; While Here of Corps Ethereal, fuch enroll'd, And fummon'd to the Glorious Standard foon. Which flames eternal Crimfon thro' the Skies. Nor are our Brathers thoughtless of their Kin. Yet absent; but not absent from their Love. Michael has fought our Battles; Raphael fung Our Triumphs; Gabriel on our Errands flown; Sent by the Sow reign: And are these, O Man! Thy Friends, thy warm Allies? and Thou (Shame burn

The Cheek to Cinder) Rival to the Brute?

Religion's All. Descending from the Skies

To wretched Man, the Goddess in her Lest

Holds out this World, and in her Right, the next;

Religion the sole Voucher Man is Man;

Supporter sole of Man above himsels;

Ev'n in this Night of Frailty, Change, and Death,

She gives the Soul a Soul that acts a God.

Religion! Providence! an After-state!

Mert

Here is firm Footing; here is folid Rock;
This can support us; all is Sea besides,
Sinks under us; bestorms, and then devours.
His Hand the good Man fastens on the Skies,
And bids Earth roll, nor feels her idle Whirl.

As when a Wretch, from thick, polluted Air, Darkness, and Stench, and suffocating Damps, And Dungeon Horrors, by kind Fate discharg'd, Climbs some fair Eminence, where Ether pure Surrounds him, and Elysian Prospects rise, His Heart exults, his Spirits cast their Load, As if new-born, he triumphs in the Change; So joys the Soul, when from inglorious Aims, And sordid Sweets, from Feculence and Froth Of Ties terrestrial, set at large, she mounts, To Reason's Region, her own Element, Breaths Hopes immortal, and affects the Skies.

Religion! thou the Soul of Happiness: And groaning Calvary, of thee! there shine The noblest Truths; there strongest Motives sting ! There facred Violence affaults the Soul; There nothing but Compulsion is forborn. Can Love allure us? or can Terror awe? He weeps!—the falling Drop puts out the Sun; He fighs -the Sigh Earth's deep Foundation shakes. If, in his Love, so terrible, what then His Wrath inflam'd! his Tenderness on Fire! Like foft, fmooth Oyl, outblazing other Fires? Can Pray'r, can Praise avert it? Thou, my All! My Theme! my Inspiration! and my Crown! My Strength in Age! my Rife in low Estate! My Soul's Ambition, Pleasure, Wealth!-my World My Light in Darkness! and my Life in Death! My Boast thro' Time! Bliss thro' Eternity; Eternity, too short to speak thy Praise!

Or fathom thy Profound of Love to Man!
To Man of Men the meanest, ev'n to me;
My Sacrifice! my God—what things are These?
What then art Thou? by what Name shall I call
Thee?

Knew I the Name devout Arch-angels use, Devout Arch-angels shou'd the Name enjoy. By me unrival'd; Thousands more sublime, None half fo dear, as that, which tho' unspoke, Still glows at Heart; O how Omnipotence Is lost in Love! Thou great Philanthropist! Father of Angels! but the Friend of Man! Like Jacob, fondest of the younger born! Thou, who didft fave him, fnatch the smoaking Brand From out the Flames, and quench it in thy Blood! How art Thou pleas'd, by Bounty to diffress? To make us groan beneath our Gratitude, Too big for Birth, to favour and confound? To challenge, and to distance, all Return? Of lavish Love stupendous Heights to soar, And leave Praise panting in the distant Vale? Thy Right too great defrauds Thee of Thy Due; And facrilegious our fublimest Song. But fince the naked Will obtains thy Smile. Beneath this Monument of Praise unpaid, And future Life fymphonious to my Strain, (That noblest Hymn to Heav'n!) for ever lie Intomb'd my Fear of Death; and ev'ry Fear, The Dread of ev'ry Evil, but thy Frown.

Whom see I yonder, so demurely smile?
Laughter a Labour, and might break their rest.
Ye Quietists, in Homage to the Skies!
Serene! of soft Address! who mildly make
An unobtrusive Tender of your Hearts,
Abhorring Violence! who balt indeed

But for the Bleffing, wreftle not with Heav'n!
Think you my Song too turbulent? too warm?
Are Passions then, the Pagans of the Soul?
Reason alone baptiz'd? alone ordain'd
To touch Things sacred?—Oh for warmer still!
Guilt chills my Zeal, and Age benumbs my Pow'rs;
Oh for an humble Heart, and prouder Song!
Thou, my much injur'd Theme! with that soft Eye
Which melted o'er doom'd Salem, deign to look
Compassion to the Coldness of my Breast;
And Pardon to the Winter in my Strain.

Oh ye cold-hearted, frozen, Formalists!
On such a Theme, 'tis impious to be calm;
Passion is Reason, Transport Temper here;
Shall Heav'n which gave us Ardor, and has shewn.
Her own for Man so strongly, not distain
What smooth Emollients in Theology,
Recumbent Virtue's downy Doctors preach,
That Prose of Piety, a lukewarm Praise?
Rise Odors sweet from Incense uninstam'd?
Devotion, when lukewarm, is undevout;
But when it glows, its Heat is struck to Heav'n;
To human Hearts her golden Harps are strung;
High Heav'n's Orchestra chaunts Amen to Man.

Hear I, or dream I hear, their distant Strain,
Sweet to the Soul, and tasting strong of Heav'n,
Soft-wasted on celestial Pity's Plume,
Thro' the vast Spaces of the Universe
To chear me, in this melancholy Gloom?
Oh when will Death, (now stingless) like a Friend,
Admit me of their Choir? Oh when will Death,
This mould'ring, old, Partition-wall thrown down,
Give Beings, one in Nature, one Abode?
Oh Death divine! that gives us to the Skies,
Great Future! glorious Patron of the Past,

78 The COMPLAINT:

And Prefent! when shall I thy Shrine adore? From Nature's Continent immensely wide, Immensely bleft, this little Isle of Life, This dark incarcerating Colony, Divides us. Happy Day! that breaks our Chain; That manumits: that calls from Exile home; That leads to Nature's great Metropolis, And re-admits us, thro' the guardian Hand Of elder Brothers, to our Father's Throne; Who hears our Advocate, and thro' his Wounds Beholding Man, allows that tender Name. 'Tis this makes Christian Triumph a Command: Tis this makes Joy a Duty to the Wife; 'Tis impious, in a good Man, to be fad. Seeft thou, Lorenzo! where hangs all our Hope? Touch'd by the Cross we live; or, more than die; That Touch which touch'd not Angels; more divine Than that, which touch'd Confusion into Form. And Darkness into Glory: Partial Touch! Ineffably pre-eminent Regard! Sacred to Man, and Sov'reign thro' the whole Long golden Chain of Miracles, which hangs From Heav'n thro' all Duration, and supports In one illustrious, and amazing Plan. Thy Welfare, Nature! and thy God's Renown; That Touch, with charm celestial, heals the Soul Diseas'd, drives Pain from Guilt, lights Life in Death, Turns Earth to Heav'n; to heav'nly Thrones transforms The ghaftly Ruins of the mould'ring Tomb.

Do'ft ask me when? when He who dy'd returns;
Returns, how chang'd! where then the man of Woe?
In Glory's terrors all the Godhead burns;
And all his Courts exhausted by the Tide
Of Deities triumphant in his Train,

Leave

Leave a stupendous Solitude in Heav'n;
Replenish'd soon; replenish'd with encrease
Of Pomp, and Multitude; a radiant Band
Of Angels new; of Angels from the Tomb.

Is this by Fancy thrown remote? and rife Dark Doubts between the Promife, and Event? I fend thee not to Volumes for thy Cure; Read Nature; Nature is a Friend to Truth; Nature is Christian, preaches to Mankind; And bids dead Matter aid us in our Creed. Haft thou ne'er feen the Comet's flaming Flight; Th' illustrious Stranger passing, Terror sheds On gazing Nations, from his fiery Train Of length enormous; takes his ample Round Thro' Depths of Ether; coafts unnumber'd Worlds. Of more than folar Glory; doubles wide Heav'n's mighty Cape, and then revisits Earth. From the long Travel of a thousand Years. Thus, at the deftin'd Period, shall return He, once on Earth, who bids the Comet blaze; And with Him all our Triumph o'er the Tomb.

Nature is dumb on this important Point;
Or Hope precarious in low Whifper breaths:
Faith speaks aloud, distinct; ev'n Adders hear,
But turn, and dart into the Dark again.
Faith builds a Bridge across the Gulph of Death,
To break the Shock blind Nature cannot shun,
And lands Thought smoothly on the farther Shore.
Death's Terror is the Mountain Faith removes;
That Mountain Barrier between Man and Peace.
'Tis Faith disarms Destruction; and absolves
From ev'ry clam'rous Charge, the guiltless Tomb.

Why disbelieve! Lorenzo?—" Reason bids, "All-sacred Reason."—Hold her sacred still; Nor shalt Thou want a Rival in thy Flame:

All-facred Reason! Source, and Soul, of all Demanding Praise, on Earth, or Earth above! My Heart is Thine: Deep in its inmost Folds, Live Thou with Life; live dearer of the Two. Wear I the bleffed Cross, by Fortune Stamp'd On passive Nature, before Thought was born? My Birth's blind Bigot! fir'd with local Zeal? No; Reason rebaptiz'd me when adult; Weigh'd True and False in her impartial Scale; My Heart became the Convert of my Head; And made that Choice, which once was but my Fateon Argument alone my Faith is built :" Reason pursu'd is Faith; and unpursu'd Where Proof invites, 'tis Reason, then, no more: And fuch our Proof, that, or our Faith is right, Or Reason lies, and Heav'n design'd it awrong: Absolve we This, what, then, is Blasphemy?

Fond as we are, and justly fond of Faith, Reason, we grant, demands our First Regard, The Mother honour'd, as the Daughter dear; Reason the Root, fair Faith is but the Flow'r; The fading Flow'r shall die; But Reason lives Immortal, as her Father in the Skies. When Faith is Virtue, Reason makes it so. Wrong not the Christian, think not Reason yours 'Tis Reason our great Master holds so dear; "Tis Reason's injur'd Rights His Wrath resents; 'Tis Reason's Voice obey'd His Glories crown; To give lost Reason Life, He pour'd his own: Believe, and shew the Reason of a Man; Believe, and taste the Pleasure of a God; Believe, and look with Triumph on the Tomb: Thro' Reason's Wounds, alone, thy Faith can die; Which, dying, tenfold Terror gives to Death, And dips in Venom his twice-mortal Sting.

Learn

Learn hence what Honours, what loud Peans due. To those, who push our Antidote aside; Those boasted Friends to Reason, and to Man, Whose satal Love stabs ev'ry Joy, and leaves Death's Terror heighten'd gnawing on his Heart. These pompous Sons of Reason Idoliz'd, And Vilify'd at once; of Reason dead, Then Deify'd, as Monarchs were of old, What Conduct plants proud Laurels on their Brow? While Love of Truth thro' all their Camp resounds, They draw ride's Curtain o'er the Noontide Ray, Spike up their Inch of Reason, on the Point Of Philosophic Wit, call'd Argument, And then, exulting in their Taper, cry, Behold the Sun: And, Indian-like, adore.

Talk they of Morals? O thou bleeding Love!
Thou Maker of new Morals to Mankind!
The grand Morality is Love of Thee.
As wife as Socrates, if such they were,
(Nor will they bate of that sublime Renown)
As wife as Socrates, might justly stand
The Definition of a modern Fool:
A Christian!——'Tis the highest Stile of Man.
And is there, who the blessed Cross wipes off,
As a foul Blot, from his dishonour'd Brow?
If Angels tremble, 'tis at such a Sight:
The Wretch they quit, desponding of their Charge:

More struck with Grief or Wonder, who can tell?
Ye sold to Sense! ye Citizens of Earth!
(For such alone the Christian Banner sty)
Know ye how wise your Choice, how great your Gain?
Behold the Picture of Earth's happiest Man:

- " He calls his Wish, it comes; he fends it back,
- " And fays, he call'd another; that arrives,
- " Meets the same Welcome; yet he still calls on;

" Till One calls him, who varies not his Call,

" But holds him fast, in Chains of Darkness bound,

" Till Nature dies, and Judgment fets him free;

" A Freedom, far less welcome than his Chain."

But grant Man Happy; grant him Happy long; Add to Life's highest Prize her latest Hour; That Hour fo late is nimble in Approach, That, like a Post, comes on in full Career; How swift the Shuttle flies, that weaves thy Shroud? Where is the Fable of thy former Years? Thrown down the Gulph of Time; as far from Thee As they had ne'er been Thine; the Day in Hand, Like a Bird struggling to get loose, is going; Scarce now posses'd, so suddenly 'tis gone; And each swift Moment fled is death advanc'd By Strides as fwift: Eternity is All; And whose Eternity? Who triumphs there? Bathing for ever in the Font of Bliss! For ever basking in the Deity! Lorenzo! who ?- Thy Conscience shall reply.

O give it Leave to speak; 'twill speak ere long, Thy Leave unask'd: Lorenzo! hear it now, While useful its Advice, its Accent mild. By the great Edict, by divine Decree, Truth is deposited with Man's last Hour; An honest Hour, and faithful to her Trust. Truth, eldest Daughter of the Deity; Truth, of his Council, when he made the Worlds, Nor less, when he shall judge the Worlds he made; Tho' filent long, and fleeping ne'er fo found, Smother'd with Errors, and opprest with Toys, That Heav'n-commission'd Hour no sooner calls, But from her Cavern in the Soul's Abyss, Like him they fable under Ætna whelm'd, The Goddess bursts in Thunder, and in Flame; Loudly Loudly convinces, and feverely pains.

Dark Dæmons I discharge, and Hydra-stings:

The keen Vibrations of bright Truth—is Hell.

Just Definition! tho' by Schools untaught.

Ye Deaf to Truth! peruse this parson'd Page,

And trust, for once, a Prophet, and a Priest,

"Men may live Fools, but Fools they cannot die."

THE

RELAPSE.

To the RIGHT HONOURABLE

The Earl of Litchfield.

ORENZO! to recriminate is Just.

Fondess for Fame is Avarice of Air.

I grant the Man is vain, who writes for Praise.

Praise no Man ere deserv'd, who sought no more.

As just thy Second Charge. I grant the Muse Has often blush'd at her degen'rate Sons, Retain'd by Sense to plead her filthy Cause;

To raise the Low, to magnify the Mean, And subtilize the Gross into Resin'd:

As if to magick Numbers pow'rful Charm

'Twas

'Twas giv'n, to make a Civet of their Song Obscene, and sweeten Ordure to Persume. Wit, a true Pagan, deisses the Brute, And lists our Swine-enjoyments from the Mire.

The Fact notorious, nor obscure the Cause.

We wear the Chains of Pleasure, and of Pride;

These share the Man; and these distract him too;

Draw distrent Ways, and clash in their Commands.

Pride, like an Eagle, builds among the Stars;

But Pleasure, Lark-like, nests upon the Ground.

Joys, shar'd by Brute-Creation, Pride resents;

Pleasure embraces: Man would both enjoy,

And both at once: A Point how hard to gain!

But what can't Wit, when stung by strong Desire?

Wit dares attempt this arduous Enterprize.
Since Joys of Sense can't rise to Reason's Taste;
In subtle Sophistry's laborious Forge,
Wit hammers out a Reason new, that stoops
To fordid Scenes, and greets them with Applause.
Wit calls the Graces the chast Zone to loose;
Nor less than a plump God to fill the Bowl.
A thousand Phantoms, and a thousand Spells,
A thousand Opiates scatters to delude,
To fascinate, inebriate, lay asleep,
And the sool'd Mind delightfully consound.
Thus that, which shock'd the Judgment, shocks no more:

That, which gave Pride Offence, no more offends. Pleasure and Pride, by Nature mortal Foes, At War eternal which in Man shall reign, By Wit's Address, patch up a fatal Peace, And hand in hand lead on the rank Debauch, From rank refin'd to delicate and gay.

Art, cursed Art! wipes off th' indebted Blush From Nature's Cheek, and bronzes ev'ry Shame.

Man smiles in Ruin, glories in his Guilt,

And

And Infamy stands Candidate for Praise.

All writ by Man in favour of the Soul,
These fenfual Ethicks far, in Bulk, transcend.
The Flow'rs of Eloquence profusely pour'd
O'er spotted Vice, fill half the letter'd World.
Can Pow'rs of Genius exorcise their Page,
And consecrate Enormities with Song?

But let not these inexpiable Strains
Condemn the Man that knows her Dignity,
Nor meanly stops at Time, but holds the World
As 'tis, in Nature's ample Field, a Point,
A Point in her Esteem; from whence to start,
And run the Round of universal Space,
To visit Being universal there,
And Being's Source, that utmost Flight of Mind!
Yet spite of this so vast Circumference,
Well knows, but what is Moral, nought is Great.
Sing Sirens only? Do not Angels sing?
There is in Poesy a decent Pride,
Which well becomes her when she speaks to Prose,
Her younger Sister, haply, not more wise.

Think'st thou, Lorenzo! to find Pastimes here?

No guilty Passion blown into a Flame,

No Foible slatter'd, Dignity disgrac'd,

No fairy Field of Fiction all on Flow'r,

No Rainbow Golours, bere, or silken Tale;

But solemn Counsels, Images of awe,

Truths, which Eternity lets fall on Man

With double Weight, through these revolving Spheres,

This Death-deep Silence, and incumbent Shade,

Thoughts, such as shall revisit your last Hour;

Visit uncall'd, and live when Life expires;

And thy dark Pencil, Midnight! darker still

In Melancholy dipt, embrowns the whole.

Yet this, ev'n this, my Laughter-loving Friends!

Lorenzo! and thy Brothers of the Smile!

If what imports you most, can most engage, Shall steal your Ear, and chain you to my Song. Or if you fail me, know, the Wise shall taste The Truths I sing; the Truths I sing shall feel, And feeling give Assent, and their Assent Is ample Recompence, is more than Praise. But chiefly Thine, O Litchfield! nor mistake; Think not un-introduc'd I force my Way; Narcissa, not unknown, not unally'd, By Virtue, or by Blood, illustrious Youth! To thee, from blooming Amaranthine Bowers, Where all the Language Harmony, descends Uncall'd, and asks Admittance for the Muse. A Muse that will not pain thee with thy Praise; Thy Praise she drops, by nobler still inspir'd.

O Thou! Bleft Spirit! whether, the Supreme, Great antemundane Father! in whose Breast Embrio-creation, unborn Being dwelt, And all its various Revolutions roll'd Present, tho' future; Prior to themselves; Whose Breath can blow it into Nought again; Or, from his Throne some delegated Pow'r, Who, studious of our Peace, dost turn the Thought From vain and vile, to folid and fublime! Unfeen thou lead'ft me to delicious Draughts Of Inspiration, from a purer Stream, And fuller of the God, than that which burk From fam'd Caftalia; nor is yet allay'd My facred Thirst; though long my Soul has rang'd Through pleasing Paths of Moral, and Divine, By thee fustain'd, and lighted by the Stars.

By them best lighted are the Paths of Thought; Nights are their Days, their most illumin'd Hours. By Day, the Soul o'erborn by Life's Career, Stunn'd by the Din, and giddy with the Glare, Reels far from Reason, jostled by the Throng.

By Day the Soul is passive, all her Thoughts
Impos'd, precarious, broken, ere mature.
By Night from Objects free, from Passion cool,
Thoughts uncontroul'd, and unimpress'd, the BirthsOf pure Election, arbitrary range,
Not to the Limits of one World confin'd;
But from Ethereal Travels light on Earth,
As Voyagers drop Anchor, for Repose.

Let Indians, and the Gay, like Indians, fond Of feather'd Fopperies, the Sun adore:

Darkness has more Divinity for me;

It strikes Thought inward, it drives back the Soul To settle on Herself, our Point supreme!

There lies our Theatre; there sits our Judge.

Darkness the Curtain drops o'er Life's dull Scene; 'Tis the kind Hand of Providence stretch'd out 'Twixt Man and Vanity; 'tis Reason's Reign, And Virtue's too; these Tutelary Shades

Are Man's Asylum from the tainted Throng.

Night is the good Man's Friend, and Guardian too; It no less rescues Virtue, than inspires.

Virtue for ever Frail, as Fair, below,
Her tender Nature suffers in the Croud,
Nor touches on the World, without a Stain;
The World's infectious; few bring back at Eve
Immaculate, the Manners of the Morn.
Something we thought, is blotted; we resolv'd,
Is shaken: we renounc'd, returns again.
Each Salutation may slide in a Sim
Unthought before, or fix a former Flaw.
Nor is it strange, Light, Motion, Concourse, Noist,
All, scatter us abroad; Thought outward-bound
Neglectful of our Home affairs, slies off
In Fume and Dissipation, quits her Charge,
And leaves the Breast unguarded to the Foe.

90 The COMPLAINT:

Present Example gets within our Guard. And acts with double Force, by few repell'd. Ambition fires Ambition; Love of Gain Strikes, like a Pestilence, from Breast to Breast; Riot, Pride, Perfidy, blue Vapours breath; And Inhumanity is caught from Man; From smiling Man. A slight, a single Glance, And shot at Random, often has brought Home, A fudden Fever, to the throbbing Heart, Of Envy, Rancour, or impure Defire. We fee, we hear with Peril; Safety dwells Remote from Multitude; the World's a School Of Wrong, and what Proficients swarm around? We must or imitate, or disapprove; Must list as their Accomplices, or Foes: That stains our Innocence; This wounds our Peace. From Nature's Birth, hence, Wisdom has been smit With sweet Recess, and languish'd for the Shade.

This facred Shade, and Solitude, what is't?
'Tis the felt Presence of the Deity.

Few are the Faults we flatter when alone,

Vice finks in her Allurements, is ungilt,

And looks, like other Objects, black by Night.

By Night an Atheist half believes a God.

Night is fair Virtue's immemorial Friend;
The conscious Moon, through every distant Age,
Has held a Lamp to Wisdom, and let fall
On Contemplation's Eye, her purging Ray.
The fam'd Athenian, he who woo'd from Heav'n
Philosophy the fair, to dwell with Men,
And form their Manners, not instame their Pride,
While o'er his Head, as fearful to molest,
His lab'ring Mind, the Stars in Silence slide,
And seem all gazing on their future Guest,
See him soliciting his ardent Suit,
In private Audience: All the live-long night,
Rigid

Rigid in Thought, and motionless he stands,
Nor quits his Theme, or Posture, till the Sun
(Rude Drunkard rising Rosy from the Main!)
Disturbs his nobler intellectual Beam,
And gives him to the Tumult of the World.
Hail, precious Moments! stol'n from the black Waste
Of murder'd Time: Auspicious Midnight! Hail!
The World excluded, ev'ry Passion hush'd,
And open'd a calm Intercourse with Heav'n,
Here, the Soul sits in Council, ponders pass,
Predestines future Action; sees, not feels,
Tumultuous Life; and reasons with the Storm;
All her Lies answers, and thinks down her Charms,

What awful Joy? What mental Liberty?

I am not pent in Darkness; rather say
(If not too bold) in Darkness I'm embower'd.

Delightful Gloom! the clust'ring Thoughts around
Spontaneous rise, and blossom in the Shade;
But droop by Day, and sicken in the Sun.

Thought borrows Light elsewhere; from that First Fire,
Fountain of Animation! whence descends

Urania, my celestial Guest! who deigns

Nightly to visit me, so mean; and now

Conscious, how needful Discipline to Man,
From pleasing Dalliance with the Charms of Night,
My wand'ring Thought recalls, to what excites

Far other beat of Heart; Narcissa's Tomb!

Or is it feeble Nature calls me back?
And breaks my Spirit into Grief again?
Is it a Stygian Vapour in my Blood?
A cold, flow Puddle, creeping thro' my Veins?
Or is it thus with all Men?—Thus, with all.
What are we? how unequal? now we foar,
And now we fink; to be the fame, transcends
Our present Prowess. Dearly pays the Soul
For Lodging ill; too dearly rents her Clay.

E 4

Reason,

Reason, a baffled Counsellor! but adds
The Blush of Weakness, to the Bane of Woe.
The noblest Spirit fighting her hard Fate,
In this damp, dusky Region charg'd with Storms,
But feebly flutters, yet untaught to fly;
Or Flying, short her Flight, and sure her Fall.
Our utmost Strength, when down, to rise again;
And not to yield, tho' beaten, all our Praise.

'Tis vain to feek, in Men, for more than Man. Tho' proud in Promise, big in previous Thought, Experience damps our Triumph. I, who late, Emerging from the Shadows of the Grave. Where Grief detain'd me Pris'ner, mounting high Threw wide the Gates of everlatting Day, And call'd Mankind to Glory, shook off Pain, Mortality shook off, in Æther pure, And struck the Stars; now feel my Spirits fail, They drop me from the Zenith, down I rush Like him, whom Fable fledg'd with waxen Wings, In Sorrow drown'd.—But not, in Sorrow, loft. How wretched is the Man, who never mourn'd? I dive for precious Pearl, in Sorrow's Stream : Not so the thoughtless Man that only grieves; Takes all the Torment, and rejects the Gain, (Inestimable Gain!) and gives Heav'n Leave To make him but more Wretched, not more Wife:

If Wisdom is our Lesson, (and what else Ennobles Man? what else have Angels learn'd?)

Grief! more Proficients in thy School are made,
Than Genius, or proud Learning, e'er could boast.

Voracions Learning, often over-fed,
Digests not into Sense her motley Meal.
This Book-Case, with dark Booty almost burst,
This Forager on others Wisdom, leaves
Her Native-Farm, her Reason, quite untill'd.
With mixt Manure she surfeits the rank Soil,

Dung'd

Dung'd, but not drest; and rich to Beggary.

A Pomp untameable of Weed prevails.

Her Servant's Wealth encumber'd Wisdom mourns.

And what fays Genius? "Let the Dull be Wife." Genius too hard for Right, can prove it Wrong; And loves to boaft, where blush Men less inspir'd. It pleads Exemption from the Laws of Sense; Considers Reason as a Leveller, And scorns to share a Blessing with the Croud. That Wife it could be, thinks an ample Claim To Glory, and to Pleasure gives the rest.

Crassus but sleeps, Ardelio is undone.

Wisdom less shudders at a Fool, than With

But Wisdom smiles, when humbled Mortals weep. When Sorrow wounds the Breast, as Plows the Glebe, And Hearts obdurate feel her fost ning Show'r : Her Seed Celestial, then, glad Wisdom fows, Her golden Harvest triumphs in the Soil. If fo, Narcissa! welcome my Relapse; I'll raise a Tax on my Calamity, And reap rich Compensation from my Pain. I'll range the plenteous Intellectual Field; And gather ev'ry Thought of fovereign Power, To chase the Moral maladies of Man; Thoughts, which may bear transplanting to the Skies. Tho' Natives of this coarse penurious Soil, Nor wholly wither there, where Seraphs fing; Refin'd, exalted, not annull'd in Heav'n. Reason, the Sun that gives them Birth, the same In either Clime, tho' more illustrious There. These choicely cull'd, and elegantly rang'd, Shall form a Garland for Narciffa's Tomb; And, peradventure, of no fading Flow'rs.

Say on what Themes shall puzzl'd Choice descend?
"Th' Importance of Contemplating the Tomb;

"Why Men decline it; Suicide's foul Birth;

" And Death's dread Character-invite my Song.

And first th' Importance of our End survey'd, Friends counsel quick Dismission of our Grief; Mistaken Kindness! our Hearts heal too soon.

Are They more kind than He, who struck the Blow?

Who bid it do his Errand in our Hearts,

And banish Peace, till nobler Guests arrive,

And bring it back, a true, and endless Peace?

Calamities are Friends: As glaring Day

Of these unnumber'd Lustres robs our Sight;

Prosperity puts out unnumber'd Thoughts
Of Import high, and Light divine to Man.

The Man how bleft, who fick of gaudy Scenes, (Scenes apt to thrust between us and ourselves!) Is led by Choice to take his fav'rite Walks, Beneath Death's gloomy, filent, Cypress Shades, Unpierc'd by Vanity's fantastic Ray; To read his Monuments, to weigh his Duft, Visit his Vaults, and dwell among the Tombs? Lorenzo! read with me Narcissa's Stone; [Narcissa was thy Fav'rite) let us read Her moral Stone; few Doctors preach so well, Few Orators fo tenderly can touch The feeling Heart. What Pathos in the Date? Apt Words can strike, and yet in them we see Faint Images of what we, here, enjoy. What Cause have we to build on Length of Life? Temptations seize, when Fear is laid asleep; And Ill foreboded is our strongest Guard.

See from her Tomb, as from an humble Shrine, Truth, radiant Goddess! fallies on my Soul, And puts Delusion's dusky train to Flight; Dispels the Mists our fultry Passions raise, From Objects low, terrestrial, and obscene, And shews the Real Estimate of Things;

Which no Man, unafflicted, ever saw;
Pulls off the Veil from Virtue's rising Charms;
Detects Temptation in a thousand Lies.
Truth bids me look on Men, as Autumn Leaves,
And all they bleed for, as the Summer's Dust,
Driv'n by the Whirlwind; lighted by her Beams,
I widen my Horizon, gain new Pow'rs,
See things invisible, feel Things remote,
Am present with Futurities; think nought
To Man so foreign, as the Joys posses;
Nought so much his as those beyond the Grave.

No Folly keeps its Colour in ber Sight. Pale Worldly Wifdom loses all her Charms: In pompous Promise from her Schemes profound, If future Fate she plans, 'tis all in Leaves Like Sibyl, unsubstantial, fleeting Blifs! At the first Blast it vanishes in Air. Not fo, Celefial: wouldft Thou know, Lorenze! How differ worldly Wisdom, and Divine? Just as the waning, and the waxing Moon. More empty worldly Wisdom ev'ry Day; And ev'ry Day more fair her Rival shines. When Later there's less Time to play the Fool. Soon our whole Term for Wisdom is expir'd. (Thou know'ft she calls no Council in the Grave) And everlafting Fool is writ in Fire, Or real Wisdom wasts us to the Skies. As worldly Schemes refemble Sibyl's Leaves, The good Man's Days to Sibyl's Books compare, (In antient Story read, Thou know'st the Tale) In Price still rising, as in Number less, Inestimable quite his Final Hour. For That who Thrones can offer, offer Thrones; Infolvent Worlds the Purchase cannot pay.

" Oh let me die His Death !" all Nature cries.

"Then live his Life"_All Nature falters there.

96 The COMPLAINT:

Our great Physician daily to consult, To commune with the Grave, our only Cure.

What Grave prescribes the best?—a Friend's; and yet.

From a Friend's Grave, how foon we difengage?

Ev'n to the dearest, as his Marble, cold.

Why are Friends ravish'd from us? 'tis to bind,

By soft Affection's Tyes, on human Hearts,

The thought of Death, which Reason too supine,

Or misemploy'd, so rarely fastens There.

Nor Reason, nor Affection, no, nor both

Combin'd, can break the Witchcrasts of the World.

Behold th' inexorable Hour at hand!

Behold th' inexorable Hour forgot!

And to forget it, the chief Aim of Life,

Tho' well to ponder it, is Life's chief End.

Is Death, that ever threat'ning, ne'er remote, That all-important, and that only fure, Come when he will) an unexpected Guest? Nay, tho' invited by the loudest Calls Of blind Imprudence, unexpected still? Tho' num'rous Messengers are sent before To warn his Great Arrival. What the Caufe. The wond'rous Cause, of this Mysterious Ill? All Heav'n looks down aftonish'd at the Sight. Is it, that Life has fown her Joys so thick, We can't thrust in a fingle Care between? Is it, that Life has such a swarm of Cares. The Thought of Death can't enter for the Throng? Is it, that Time steals on with downy Feet, Nor wakes Indulgence from her Golden Dream? To-day is so like yesterday, it cheats; We take the lying Sifter for the fame. Life glides away, Lorenzo! like a Brook; For ever changing, unperceiv'd the Change. In the same Brook none ever bath'd him twice:

To the same Life none ever twice awoke.

We call the Brook the same; the same we think
Our Life, tho' still more rapid in its Flow;
Nor mark the Much irrevocably laps'd,
And mingled with the Sea. Or shall we say
(Retaining still the Brook to bear us on)
That Life is like a Vessel on the Stream?
In Life embark'd, we smoothly down the Tide
Of Time descend, but not on Time intent;
Amus'd, unconscious of the gliding Wave;
Till on a sudden we perceive a Shock;
We start, awake, look out; what see we there?
Our brittle Bark is burst on Charon's Shore.

Is this the Cause Death flies all human Thought Or is it, Judgment by the Will struck blind, That domineering Miftress of the Soul! Like him so strong by Dalilah the fair? Or is it Fear turns startled Reason back, From looking down a Precipice fo fleep? 'Tis dreadful; and the Dread is wifely plac'd, By Nature conscious of the Make of Man. A dreadful Friend it is, a Terror kind. A flaming Sword to guard the Tree of Life. By that unaw'd, in Life's most smiling Hour, The Good Man would repine; would fuffer Joys, And burn impatient for his promis'd Skies. The Bad on each punctilious Pique of Pride. Or Gloom of Humour, would give Rage the Rein, Bound o'er the Barrier, rush into the Dark, And marr the Schemes of Providence below.

What Groan was that, Lorenzo!—Furies! rife
And drown in your less execrable Yell,
Britannia's Shame. There took her gloomy Flight,
On Wing impetuous, a Black sullen Soul,
Blasted from Hell, with horrid Lust of Death.
Thy Friend, the Brave, the Gallant Altamont,

So call'd, so thought—And then he fled the Field.

Less Base the Fear of Death, than Fear of Life.

O Britain, infamous for Suicide!

An Island in thy Manners! far disjoin'd

From the whole World of Rationals beside.

In ambient Waves plunge thy polluted Head,

Wash the dire Stain, nor shock the Continent.

But Thou be shock'd, while I detect the Cause Of Self-assault, expose the Monster's Birth, And bid Abborrence his it round the World. Blame not thy Clime, nor chide the distant Sun; The Sun is innocent, thy Clime absolv'd, Immoral Climes kind Nature never made. The Cause, I sing, in Eden might prevail, And proves, It is thy Folly, not thy Fate.

The Soul of Man, (let Man in Homage bow Who names his Soul) a Native of the Skies! High-born, and free, her Freedom should maintain, Unsold, unmortgag'd for Earth's little Bribes. Th' illustrious Stranger, in this foreign Land, Like Strangers, jealous of her Dignity, Studious of Home, and ardent to return, Of Earth suspicious, Earth's inchanted Cup With cool Reserve light-touching, should indulge On Immortality, her Godlike Taste; There take large Draughts; make her chief Banquet there

But some reject this Sustenance Divine;
To beggarly vile Appetites descend;
Ask Alms of Earth, for Guests that came from Heav'n;
Sink into Slaves; and sell, for present Hire,
Their rich reversion, and (what shares its Fate,)
Their native Freedom, to the Prince who sways
This nether World. And when his Payments fail,
When his foul Basket gorges them no more;
Or their pall'd Palates loath the Basket full,
Are, instantly, with wild Dæmoniac Rage,

For breaking all the Chains of Providence, And burfting their Confinement; tho' fast barr'd By Laws divine and human; guarded strong With Horrors doubled to defend the Pass. The blackest Nature, or dire Guilt can raise; And moated round, with fathomless Destruction. Sure to receive and whelm them in their Fall. Such, Britons! is the Caufe, to you unknown. Or worfe, o'erlook'd; o'erlook'd by Magistrates. Thus, Criminals themselves. I grant the Deed Is Madness; but the Madness of the Heart. And what is that? our utmost bound of Guilt. A sensual, unreflecting Life is big With monftrous Births, and Suicide, to crown The black infernal Brood. The Bold to break Heav'n's Law supreme, and desperately rush Thro' facred Nature's Murder, on their own. Because they never think of Death, they die. 'Tis equally Man's Duty, Glory, Gain, At once to shun, and meditate, his End. When by the Bed of Languishment we fit, (The Seat of Wisdom! if our Choice, not Fate) Or, o'er our dying Friends, in Anguish hang, Wipe the cold dew, or flay the finking Head, Number their Moments, and in ev'ry Clock, Start at the Voice of an Eternity; See the dim Lamp of Life just feebly lift An agonizing Beam, at us to gaze, Then fink again, and quiver into Death, That most Pathetick Herald of our own: How read we fuch fad Scenes? as fent to Man In perfect Vengeance ? no; in Pity fent, To melt him down, like Wax, and then imprefe Indelible, Death's Image on his Heart; Bleeding for others, Trembling for himself. We bleed, we tremble; we forget, we fmile.

The Mind turns Fool, before the Cheek is dry.

Our quick-returning Folly cancels all;

As the Tide's rushing rases what is writ

In yielding Sands, and smooths the Letter'd Shore.

Lorenzo! hast thou ever weigh'd a Sigh?

Or study'd the Philosophy of Tears?

(A Science, yet unlectur'd in our Schools.)

Hast thou descended deep into the Breast,

And seen their Source? If not, descend with me,.

And trace these briny Riv'lets to their Springs.

Our Fun'ral Tears, from diff'rent Causes, rise. As if, from sep'rate Cisterns in the Soul, Of various Kinds, they flow. From tender Hearts, By foft Contagion call'd, some burst at once, And stream obsequious to the leading Eye. Some, ask more Time, by curious Art distill'd. Some Hearts in fecret hard, unapt to melt, Struck by the Magic of the Public eye, Like Moses' smitten Rock, gush out amain. Some weep to share the Fame of the Deceas'd, So high in Merit, and to them fo Dear. They dwell on Praises, which they think they share, And thus, without a Blush, commend Themselves. Some mourn in Proof that fomething they could love. They weep not to relieve their Grief, but shew. Some weep in perfect Justice to the Dead, As Conscious all their Love is in Arrear. Some mischievously weep, not unappriz'd, Tears, fometimes, aid the Conquest of an Eye. With what Address the soft Ephesians draw Their Sable Net-work o'er entangled Hearts? As feen through Crystal, how their Roses glow, While liquid Pearl runs trickling down their Cheek ? Of hers, not prouder Egypt's wanton Queen, Caroufing Gems, herfelf diffolv'd in Love. Some weep at Death, abstracted from the Dead,

And

And celebrate, like Charles, their own Decease. By kind Construction some are deem'd to weep, Because a decent Veil conceals their Joy.

Some weep in Earnest; and yet weep in Vain; As deep in Indifcretion, as in Woe. Passion, blind Passion! impotently pours Tears, that deserve more Tears; while Reason sleeps, Or gazes, like an Idiot, unconcern'd; Nor comprehends the meaning of the Storm; Knows not It speaks to Her, and her alone. Irrationals all Sorrow are beneath. That noble Gift! that Privilege of Man! From Sorrow's Pang, the Birth of endless Joy. But These are barren of that Birth Divine. They weep impetuous, as the Summer-Storm, And full as short! The cruel Grief soon tam'd, They make a Pastime of the stingless Tale; Far as the deep-resounding Knell; they spread The dreadful News, and hardly feel it more. No Grain of Wisdom pays them for their Woe.

Half round the Globe, the Tears pump'd up by Deaths Are spent in watr'ing Vanities of Life; In making Folly slourish still more fair.

When the sick Soul, her wonted stay withdrawn, Reclines on Earth, and sorrows in the Dust, Instead of learning there, her true Support; Tho' there thrown down, her true Support to learn, Without Heav'n's Aid, impatient to be Blest, She crawls to the next Shrub, or Bramble vile, Tho' from the stately Cedar's Arms she fell, With stale, foresworn Embraces, clings anew, The Stranger weds, and blossoms as before, In all the fruitless Fopperies of Life, Presents her Weed well-sancied, at the Ball, And rasses for the Death's Head on the Ring.

So wept Aurelia, till the destin'd Youth
Stept in, with his Receipt for making Smiles;
And blanching Sables into bridal Bloom.
So wept Lorenzo fair Clarissa's Fate;
Who gave that Angel Boy, on whom he doats;
And dy'd to give him, orphan'd in his Birth!
Not such Narcissa, my Distress for Thee.
I'll make an Altar of thy sacred Tomb
To sacrifice to Wisdom.—What wast Thou?
"Young, Gay, and Fortunate!" Each yields a Theme.
I'll dwell on each, to shun Thought more severe;
(Heav'n knows I labour with severer still!)
I'll dwell on each, and quite exhaust thy Death.
A Soul without Ressection, like a Pile
Without Inhabitants, to ruin runs.

What fays itto Grey Hairs? And, First, thy Youth. Narcissa I'm become thy Pupil now-Early, Bright, Transient, Chast, as Morning Dew She sparkled, was exhal'd, and went to Heav'n. Time on this Head has snow'd, yet still 'tis born Aloft; nor thinks but on another's Grave. Cover'd with Shame I speak it, Age severe, Old worn-out Vice fets down for Virtue fair. With graceless Gravity, chastising Youth, That Youth chaftis'd furpaffing in a Fault, Father of all, Forgetfulness of Death. As if, like Objects pressing on the Sight, Death had advanc'd too near us to be feen: Or, that Life's Loan Time ripen'd into Right; And Men might plead Prescription from the Grave; Deathless, from Repetition of Reprieve. Deathless ? far from it! fuch are Dead already; Their Hearts are buried, and the World their Grave.

Tell me fome God! my guardian Angel! tell, What thus infatuates? what Inchantment plants The Phantom of an Age, 'twixt us and Death,

Already at the Door? He knocks, we hear him. And yet we will not hear. What Mail defends Our untouch'd Hearts? what Miracle turns off The pointed thought, which from a thousand Quivers Is daily darted, and is daily shunn'd? We stand, as in a Battle, Throngs on Throngs Around us falling; wounded oft ourselves; Tho' bleeding with our Wounds, Immortal fill ! We see Time's furrows on another's Brow, And Death intrench'd, preparing his Assault; How few themselves, in that just Mirror, see? Or feeing, draw their Inference as ftrong? There Death is certain; doubtful Here; He muft, And foon; we may, within an Age, expire. Though grey our Heads, our Thoughts and Aims are green ;

Like damag'd Clocks, whose Hand and Bell diffent, Folly sings Six, while Nature points at Twelve.

Abfurd Longavity! more, more, It cries: More Life, more Wealth, more Trash of ev'ry Kind. And wherefore Mad for more, when Relish fails? Object, and Appetite, must club for Joy; Shall Folly labour hard to mend the Bow, Baubles, I mean, that strike us from without, While Nature is relaxing ev'ry String? Ask Thought for Joy; grow rich and hoard within. Think you the Soul, when this Life's Rattles cease, Has nothing of more Manly to succeed? Contract the Taste immortal; learn ev'n Now To relish what alone subsists hereafter. Divine, or none, henceforth your Joys for ever. Of Age, the Glory is to wift to die, That Wish is Praise and Promise; It applauds Past Life, and promises our future Bliss. What Weakness see not Children in their Sires? Grand-climacterical Abfurdities!

Grey-hair'd

The COMPLAINT:

Grey-hair'd Authority to Faults of Youth
How shocking? It makes Folly thrice a Fool;
And our first Childhood might our last despise.

Peace and Esteem is all that Age can Hope.

Nothing but Wisdom gives the first; the last,

Nothing but the Repute of being Wise.

Folly bars both; our Age is quite undone:

What Folly can be ranker? like our Shadows,
Our Wishes lengthen, as our Sun declines.
No Wish should loiter, then, this side the Grave.
Our Hearts should leave the World, before the Knell Calls for our Carcases to mend the Soil.
Enough to live in Tempest, Die in Port;
Age should sly Concourse, cover in Retreat
Defects of Judgment; and the Will's subdue;
Walk thoughtful on the silent, solemn Shore,
Of that vast Ocean it must sail so soon;
And put Good-works on Board; and wait the Winds
That shortly blows us into Worlds unknown;
If unconsider'd too, a Dreadful Scene!

All should be Prophets to themselves, foresee Their future Fate; their future Fate foretaste; This Art would waste the Bitterness of Death. The Thought of Death alone, the Fear destroys. A Disaffection to that precious Thought Is more than Midnight Darkness on the Soul, Which sleeps beneath it, on a Precipice, Puff'd off by the first Blast, and lost for ever.

Dost ask Lorenzo, why so warmly prest,.

By Repetition hammer'd on thine Ear,

The Thought of Death? That Thought is the Machine,
The grand Machine! that heaves us from the Dust,
And rears us into Men. The Thought ply'd Home
Will soon reduce the ghastly Precipice
O'er hanging Hell, will soften the Descent,
And gently slope our Passage to the Grave;

How warmly to be wish'd? what Heart of Flesh Would trisse with Tremendous? dare Extremes? Yawn o'er the Fate of Infinite? what Hand, Beyond the blackest Brand of Censure bold, (To speak a Language too well known to Thee) Would at a Moment give its all to Chance, And stamp the Die for an Eternity?

Aid me Narcissa! aid me to keep Pace
With Destiny; and ere her Scissars cut
My thread of Life, to break this tougher Thread
Of Moral Death, that ties me to the World.
Sting thou my slumb'ring Reason to send forth
A Thought of Observation on the Foe;
To fally, and survey the rapid March
Of his ten thousand Messengers to Man;
Who, Jebu-like, behind him turns them all.
All Accident apart, by Nature sign'd,
My Warrant is gone out, tho' dormant yet;
Perhaps behind one Moment lurks my Fate.

Must I then forward only look for Death?

Backward I turn mine Eye, and find him there.

Man is a Self-survivor ev'ry Year.

Man, like a Stream, is in perpetual Flow.

Death's a destroyer of Quotidian prey.

My Youth, my Noon-tide, His; my Yesterday;

The bold Invader shares the present Hour.

Each Moment on the former shuts the Grave.

While Man is growing, Life is in Decrease;

And Cradles rock us nearer to the Tomb.

Our Birth is nothing but our Death begun;

As Tapers waste, that Instant they take Fire.

Shall we then fear, lest that should come to pass,
Which comes to pass each Moment of our Lives?
If fear we must, let that Death turn us pale
Which murders Strength, and Ardor; what remains
Should rather call on Death than dread his Call.

The COMPLAINT:

Ye partners of my Fault, and my Decline ! Thoughtless of Death, but when your Neighbour's Knell

(Rude Vifitant!) knocks hard at your dull Senfe. And with its Thunder, scarce obtains your Ear! Be Death your Theme, in ev'ry place and hour, Nor longer want, ye Monumental Sires! A Brother Tomb to tell you you shall Die. That Death you dread (fo great is Nature's Skill!) Know, you shall court, before you shall Enjoy.

But you are learn'd; in Volumes deep, you fit; In Wisdom shallow: pompous Ignorance! Would you be still more learned, than the Learn'd? Learn well to know how much need not be known. And what that Knowledge, which impares your Sense. Our needful Knowledge, like our needful Food, Unhedg'd, lies open in Life's common Field; And bids all welcome to the Vital Feaft. You fcorn what lies before you in the Page Of Nature, and Experience, Moral Truth; Of indispensable, Eternal Fruit; Fruit, on which Mortals feeding turn to Gods; And dive in Science for diftinguish'd Names. Dishonest Fomentation of your Pride; Sinking in Virtue, as you rife in Fame. Your Learning, like the Lunar Beam, affords Light, but not Heat; it leaves You undevout, Frozen at Heart, while Speculation shines. Awake, ye curious Indagators! fond Of knowing All, but what avails you known. If you would learn Death's Character, attend. All casts of Conduct, all degrees of Health, All dies of Fortune, and all dates of Age, Together shook in his impartial Urn, Come forth at random. Or if Choice is made. The Choice is quite farcastic, and insults

All

All bold Conjecture, and fond Hopes of Man. What countless Multitudes, not only leave, But deeply disappoint us, by their Deaths? Tho' great our Sorrow, greater our Surprize.

Like other Tyrants, Death delights to smite, What, smitten, most proclaims the Pride of Pow'r, And arbitrary Nod. His Joy supreme, To bid the Wretch survive the Fortunate; The Feeble wrap th' Athletic in his Shroud; And weeping Fathers build their Children's Tomb; Me Thine, Narcissa!—What tho' short thy Date? Virtue, not rolling Suns, the Mind matures. That Life is long, which answers Life's great End. The Time that bears no Fruit, deserves no Name; The Man of Wisdom is the Man of Years. In hoary Youth Methusalems may die, O how misdated on their flatt'ring Tombs?

Narcissa's Youth has lectur'd me thus far.

And can her Gaiety give Counsel too?

That, like the Jews fam'd Oracle of Gems,

Sparkles Instruction; such as throws new Light,

And opens more the Character of Death;

Ill known to thee, Lorenzo! This thy Vaunt,

"Give Death his Due, the Wretched, and the Old,

" E'en let him sweep his Rubbish to the Grave;

" Let him not violate kind Nature's Laws,

"But own Man born to Live, as well as Die."
Wretched and Old Thou giv'st Him; Young and Gay
He takes; and Plunder is a Tyrant's Joy.
What if I prove; "The farthest from the Fear

"Are often nearest to the Stroke of Fate?

All, more than common, Menaces an End,

A Blaze betokens Brevity of Life.

As if bright Embers should emit a Flame,

Glad Spirits sparkled from Narcissa's Eye,

And made Youth younger, and taught Life to Live.

ros The COMPLAINT:

As Nature's Opposites wage endless War. For this Offence, as Treason to the deep Inviolable Stupor of his Reign, Where buft, and turbulent Ambition fleep, Death took swift Vengeance. As He Life detests, More Life is still more Odious, and reduc'd By Conquest, aggrandizes more his Pow'r. But wherefore aggrandiz'd? By Heav'n's Decree, To plant the Soul on her eternal Guard. In awful Expectation of our End. Thus runs Death's dread Commission: "Strike, but fo, " As most alarms the Living by the Dead." Hence Stratagem delights him, and Surprize, And cruel fport with Man's Securities. Not fimple Conquest, Triumph is his Aim, And where least fear'd, there Conquest triumphs most, This proves my bold Affertion not too Bold.

What are His Arts to lay our Fears asleep? Tiberian Arts his Purposes wrap up In Deep Dissimulation's darkest Night.

Like Princes unconfess'd in foreign Courts, Who travel under Cover, Death assumes

The Name, and Look of Life, and dwells among us, He takes all Shapes that serve his black Designs; Tho' Master of a wider Empire sar

Than that, o'er which the Roman Eagle slew.

Like Nero, He's a Fidler, Charioteer, Or drives his Phaeton, in Female Guise;

Quite unsuspected, till the Wheel beneath, His disarray'd Oblation he devours.

He most affects the Forms least like himself, His Slender Self. Hence burly Corpulence Is his familiar Wear, and sleek Disguise. Behind the rosy Bloom he loves to lurk, Or ambush in a Smile; or wanton dive In Dimples deep; Love's eddies, which draw in

Unwary

Unwary Hearts, and fink them in Despair.
Such, on Narcissa's Couch, he loiter'd long,
Unknown; and, when detected, still was seen
To Smile; such Peace has Innocence in Death!

Most happy they! whom least his Arts deceives. One Eye on Death, and one full fix'd on Heav'n, Becomes a Mortal, and Immortal Man.

Long on his Wiles a piqu'd and jealous Spy,
I've seen, or dream'd I saw, the Tyrant dress;
Lay by his Horrors, and put on his Smiles.

Say Muse, for thou remember'st, call it back,
And shew Lorenzo the surprizing Scene;
If 'twas a Dream, his Genius can explain.

'Twas in a Circle of the Gay, I stood.

Death would have enter'd; Nature push'd him back's

Supported by a Doctor of Renown,

His Point He gain'd. Then artfully dismis'd

The Sage, for Death design'd to be conceal'd.

He gave an old Vivacious Usurer

His Meager Aspect, and his naked Bones;

In Gratitude for plumping up His Prey,

A pamper'd Spendthrist; whose fantastic Air,

Well fashion'd Figure, and cockaded Brow,

He took in change, and underneath the Pride

Of costly Linen, tuck'd his filthy Shroud.

His crooked Bow he straiten'd to a Cane;

And hid his deadly Shafts in Myra's Eye.

The dreadful Masquerader, thus equipt,
Out-sallies on Adventures. Ask you where?
Where is He not? For his peculiar haunts,
Let this suffice; sure as Night follows Day,
Death treads in Pleasure's footsteps round the World.
When Pleasure treads the Paths, which Reason shuns.
When, against Reason, Riot shuts the door,
And Gayety supplies the Place of Sense,
Then foremost at the Banquet, and the Ball,

Death

Death leads the Dance, or stamps the deadly Die;
Nor ever fails the Midnight Bowl to crown.
Gayly carousing to his gay Compeers,
Inly he laughs, to see them laugh at him,
As absent far: and when the Revel burns,
When Fear is banish'd, and triumphant Thought
Calling for all the Joys beneath the Moon,
Against him turns the Key; and bids him sup
With their progenitors,—He drops his Masque,
Frowns out at full; they start, despair, expire.

Scarce with more sudden Terror and Surprize, From His black Masque of Nitre, touch'd by Fire He bursts, expands, roars, blazes, and devours. And is not this triumphant Treachery, And more than simple Conquest in the Field?

And now Lorenzo! dost thou wrap thy Soul
In soft security, because unknown
Which Moment is commission'd to destroy?
In Death's uncertainty thy Danger lies.
Is Death uncertain? therefore Thou be fix'd;
Fix'd as a Centinel, all Eye, all Ear,
All Expectation of the coming Foe.
Rouse, stand in Arms, nor lean against thy Spear,
Lest Slumber steal one Moment o'er thy Soul,
And Fate surprize thee nodding. Watch, be strong;
Thus give each Day the Merit, and Renown,

Of dying well; the doom'd but once to Die.

Nor let Life's period (hidden as from most,)

Hide too from Thee, the precious use of Life.

Early, not sudden, was Narcissa's Fate.

Soon, not furprifing, Death his Visit paid.

Her Thought went forth to meet him on his way,

Nor Gayety forgot it was to Die.

Tho' Fortune too (our third and final Theme)

As an Accomplice play'd her gaudy Plumes.

And ev'ry glitt'ring Gewgaw on her Sight,

To dazzle, and debauch it from its Mark.

Death's dreadful Advent is the Mark of Man;

And ev'ry Thought that misses it, is blind.

Fortune, with Youth, and Gayety, conspir'd

To weave a tripple wreath of Happiness,

(If Happiness on Earth) to crown her Brow.

And could Death charge thro' such a shining Shield?

That shining Shield invites the Tyrant's Spear, As if to damp our elevated Aims, And strongly preach Humility to Man. O how portentous is Prosperity? How. Comet-like, it threatens, while it shines? Few Years but yield us proof of Death's Ambition To cull his Victims from the fairest fold! And sheath his Shafts in all the Pride of Life. When flooded with Abundance, purpled o'er With recent Honours, bloom'd with ev'ry Blifs; Set up in Ostentation, made the Gaze, The gaudy Center of the publick Eye, When Fortune thus, has toss'd her Child in Air, Snatch'd from the Covert of an humble State. How often have I feen him dropt at once, Our Morning's Envy! and our Evening's Sigh! As if her Bounties were the Signal giv'n, The Flow'ry Wreath, to mark the Sacrifice. And call Death's Arrows on the destin'd Prey.

High-Fortune seems in cruel League with Fate.

Ask you for what? to give his War on Man
The deeper Dread, and more illustrious Spoil;
Thus to keep daring Mortals more in Awe.

And burns Lorenzo still for the Sublime
Of Life? to hang his airy Nest on high,
On the slight Timber of the topmost Bough,
Rock'd at each Breeze, and menacing a Fall?

Granting grim Death at equal Distance there;
Yet Peace begins just where Ambition ends.

F 2

What

What makes Man wretched? Happiness deny'd!

Lorenzo! no: 'Tis Happiness disdain'd.

She comes too meanly dress'd to win our Smile,

And calls herself Content, a homely Name!

Our Flame is Transport, and Content our Scorn.

Ambition turns, and shuts the Door against her,

And weds a Toil, a Tempest in her Stead;

A Tempest, to warm Transport near of kin.

Unknowing what our mortal State admits,

Life's modest Joys we ruin, while we raise;

And all our Ecstasies are Wounds to Peace.

Peace, the full Portion of Mankind below.

And fince thy Peace is dear, ambitious Youth!

Of Fortune fond! as thoughtless of thy Fate!

As late I drew Death's Picture, to stir up

Thy wholsome Fears; now drawn, in Contrast, see

Gay Fortune's, thy vain Hopes to reprimand.

See, high in Air, the sportive Goddess hangs,

Unlocks her Casket, spreads her glitt'ring Ware,

And calls the giddy Winds to puff abroad

Her Random Bounties, o'er the gaping Throng.

All rush rapacious; Friends o'er trodden Friends;

Sons o'er their Fathers, Subjects o'er their Kings,

Priests o'er their Gods; and Lovers o'er the Fair,

Still more ador'd, to snatch the golden Show'r.

Gold glitters most, where Virtue shines no more;
As Stars from absent Suns have leave to shine.

O what a precious Pack of Votaries
Unkennell'd from the Prisons, and the Stews,
Pour in, all op'ning in their Idol's Praise!
All, ardent, eye each Wasture of her Hand,
And wide-expanding their voracious Jaws,
Morsel on Morsel swallow down unchew'd,
Untasted, through mad Appetite for more;
Gorg'd to the Throat, yet lean and rav'nous still.
Sagacious All, to trace the smallest Game,

And

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c.

112

And bold to seize the greatest. If (blest Chance!)
Court-Zephyrs sweetly breath, they launch, they sly,
O'er Just, o'er Sacred, all forbidden Ground,
Drunk with the burning Scent of Place, or Pow'r,
Staunch to the foot of Lucre, till they die.

Or if for Men you take them, as I mark Their Manners, Thou their various Fates survey. With aim mif-measur'd, and impetuous speed, Some darting, firike their ardent wish far off, Through Fury to possess it: Some succeed, But stumble, and let fall the taken Prize. From some, by fudden Blafts, 'tis whirl'd away, And lodg'd in Bosoms, that ne'er dream'd of Gain, To some it sticks so close, that when torn off, Torn is the Man, and mortal is the Wound. Some, o'er-enamour'd of their Bags, run mad, Groan under Gold, yet weep for want of Bread, Together some (unhappy Rivals !) seize, And rend Abundance into Poverty; Loud croaks the Raven of the Law, and smiles, Smiles too the Goddess; but smiles most at those, (Just Victims of exorbitant Desire!) Who perish at their own Request, and whelm'd Beneath her Load of lavish Grants, expire. Fortune is famous for her Numbers slain. The Number small, which Happiness can bear, Tho' various for a while their Fates; at last One Curse involves them all: at Death's Approach, All read their Riches backward into Loss. And mourn, in just Proportion to their Store.

And Death's Approach (if orthodox my Song)
Is hasten'd by the Lure of Fortune's smiles.
And art thou still a Glutton of bright Gold?
And art thou still rapacious of thy Ruin?
Death loves a shining Mark, a signal Blow;
A Blow, which, while it executes, alarms;

F

And startles Thousands, with a single Fall.

As, when some stately growth of Oak, or Pine,
Which node alost, and proudly spreads her Shade,
The Sun's Desiance; and the Flocks Desence!
By the strong strokes of lab'ring Hinds subdu'd,
Loud groans her last, and rushing from her Height
In cumb'rous Ruin, thunders to the Ground,
The conscious Forest trembles at the Shock,
And Hill, and Stream, and distant Dale, resound.

These high-aim'd Darts of Death, and these alone, Should I collect, my Quiver would be full. A Quiver, which suspended in mid Air, Or near Heav'n's Archer, in the Zodiac, hung, (So could it be) should draw the publick Eye, The Gaze and Contemplation of Mankind! A Constellation awful, yet benign,
To guide the Gay thro' Life's tempestuous Wave;
Nor suspended to strike the common Rock,

"From greater Danger to grow more secure,

4 And, wrapp'd in Happiness, forget their Fate.

Lysander, happy past the common Lot, Was warn'd of Danger, but too Gay to fear. He woo'd the fair Aspasia; she was kind, In Youth, Form, Fortune, Fame, they both were bleft. All who knew envy'd; yet in Envy lov'd: Can Fancy form more finish'd Happiness? Fix'd was the Nuptial Hour. Her stately Dome Rofe on the founding Beach. The glitt'ring Spires Float in the Wave, and break against the Shore: So break those glitt'ring Shadows, Human Joys. The faithless Morning smil'd; He takes his Leave, To re-embrace in Ecstasies, at Eve. The rifing Storm forbids. The News arrives, Untold, she faw it in her Servant's Eye. She felt it feen; (her Heart was apt to feel) And drown'd, without the furious Ocean's Aid,

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c. 115 In fuffocating Sorrows, shares his Tomb. Now, round the sumptuous, Bridal Monument. The Guilty Billows innocently roar; And the rough Sailor passing drops a Tear. A Tear ?- can Tears suffice ? - But not for me. How vain our Efforts? and our Arts how vain? The diffant Train of Thought I took, to shun, Has thrown me on my Fate-Thefe dy'd together ; Happy in Ruin! undivorc'd by Death! Or ne'er to meet, or ne'er to part, is Peace-Narcissa! Pity bleeds at Thought of Thee. Yet Thou wast only near me; not myself. Survive myself? That cures all other Woe. Narcissa lives; Philander is forgot. O the foft Commerce! O the tender Tyes. Close-twisted with the Fibres of the Heart ! Which broken, break them; and drain off the Soul Of Human Joy; and make it Pain to Live-And is it then to Live? when fuch Friends part, 'Tis the Survivor dies-My Heart ! no more.

PREFACE.

EW Ages have been deeper in dispute about Religion, than this. The Dispute about Religion, and the Practice of it, seldom go together. The Chorter, therefore, the Dispute, the better. I think it may be reduced to this single Question, Is Man Immortal, or is he not? If he is not, all our Disputes are mere Amusements or Trials of Skill. Truth, Reason, Religion, which give our Discourses such Pomp, and Solemnity, are (as will be shown) mere empty Sounds, without any Meaning in them. But if Man is Immortal, it will behove him to be very serious about eternal Consequences; or in other Words, to be truly Religious. And this great fundamental Truth, unestablish'd, or unawaken'd in the Minds of Men, is, I conceive the real Source, and Support of all our Infidelity; how remote soever the particular Objections advanc'd may seem to be from it.

Sensible Appearances affect most Men much more than abstract Reasonings; and we daily see Bodies drop around us, but the Soul is invisible. The Power which Inclination has over the Judgment, is greater than can be well conceived by those, that have not had an Experience of it; and of what Numbers is it the sad Interest, that Souls should not survive? The Heathen World confessed, that they rather hoped, than firmly believed Immortality; and how many Heathens have we still amongst us? The sacred Page assures us, that Life and Immortality is brought to light by the Gospel: But by how many is the Gospel rejected, or overlook d? From these Considerations,

The PREFACE.

and from my being, accidentally, privy to the Sentiments of some particular Rersons, I have been long persuaded that most, if not all, our Insidels (whatever Name they take, and whatever Scheme for Argument's Sake, and to keep themselves in countenance, they patronize) are supported in their deplorable Error, by some doubt of their Immortality, at the bottom. And I am satisfied that Men once thoroughly convinced of their Immortality, are not far from being Christians. For it is hard to conceive that a Man fully conscious, eternal Pain or Happiness will certainly be his Lot, should not earnestly, and impartially, enquire after the surest means of escaping One, and securing the Other. And of such an earnest, and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that and impartial Enquiry, I well know the Connective that the connec lequence.

Here, therefore, in proof of this most Fundamental Trub, Some plain Arguments are offer'd; Arguments derived from Principles which Infidels admit in common with Believers; Arguments, which appear to me altogether Irresistible: And such as I am fatisfied, will have great weight with all, who give themselves the small trouble of laoking seriously into their own bosoms, and of observing, with any tolerable degree of Attention, what daily passes, round about them, in the World. If some Arguments shall, Here, occur, which Others have declined, they are submitted with all deference to better Judgments in this, of all Points, the most important. For, as to the being of a God, that is no longer disputed; but it is undisputed, for this reason only, viz. Because where the least Pretence to reason is admitted. it must for ever be Indisputable. And of consequence no man can be betrayed into a Dispute of that nature by Vanity; which has a principal share in animating our modern Combatants against other Articles of our Belief.

NIGHT the SIXTH.

THE

INFIDEL Reclaim'd.

Heav'n)
Not early, like Narcissa, left the Scene;
Nor sudden, like Philander. What avail?
This seeming Mitigation but inslames;
This fancy'd Med'cine heightens the Disease.
The longer known, the closer still she grew;
And gradual Parting is a gradual Death.
Tis the grim Tyrant's Engine, which extorts
By tardy Pressure's still-increasing Weight,
From hardest Hearts, confession of Distress.

Othe long dark Approach thre' Years of Pairs

O the long dark Approach thro' Years of Pain,
Death's Gall'ry! (might I dare to call it so)
With dismal Doubt, and sable Terror, hung;
Sick Hope's pale Lamp, its only glimm'ring Ray:
There, Fate my melancholy Walk ordain'd,

Forbid Self-love itself to flatter, There. How oft I gaz'd prophetically fad? How oft I saw her dead while yet in Smiles ? In Smiles she sunk ber Grief, to lessen mine. She spoke me Comfort, and increas'd my Pain. Like pow'rful Armies trenching at a Town, By flow, and filent, but refiftless Sap, In his pale Progress gently gaining ground, Death urg'd his deadly siege: In spite of Art, Of all the balmy Bleffings Nature lends To fuccour frail Humanity. Ye Stars! (Not now first made familiar to my fight) And thou, O Moon! bear witness; many a Night He tore the Pillow from beneath my Head, Ty'd down my fore Attention to the Shock. By ceaseless Depredations on a Life, Dearer than that he left me. Dreadful Post Of Observation! darker ev'ry Hour! Less dread the Day that drove me to the brink, And pointed at Eternity below. When my Soul shudder'd at Futurity, When, on a Moment's point, th' important Die Of Life and Death spun doubtful, e'er it fell, And turn'd up Life; my Title to more Woe.

But why more Woe? more Comfort let it be.

Nothing is dead, but that which wish'd to dye;

Nothing is dead, but Wretchedness and Pain;

Nothing is dead, but what encumber'd, gall'd,

Block'd up the Pass, and barr'd from real Life.

Where dwells that Wish most ardent of the Wise?

Too dark the Sun to see it; highest Stars

Too low to reach it; Death, great Death alone,

O'er Stars and Sun triumphant, lands us There.

Nor dreadful our Transition; the' the Mind, An Artist at creating self-alarms, Rich in Expedients for Inquietude, Is prone to paint it dreadful. Who can take Death's Portrait true! the Tyrant never fate:
Our Sketch, all random Strokes, Conjecture all;
Close shuts the Grave, nor tells one single Tale.
Death, and his Image rising in the Brain
Bear faint Resemblance; never are alike;
Fear shakes the Pencil, Fancy loves Excess.
Dark Ignorance is lavish of her Shades;

But grant the Worst; 'tis past; new prospects rise; And drop a Veil eternal o'er her Tomb.

Far other Views our Contemplation claim,
Views that o'erpay the Rigours of our Lise;
Views that suspend our Agonies in Death.

Wrapp'd in the Thought of Immortality,
Wrapp'd in the single, the triumphant Thought!

Long Life might lapse, Age unperceiv'd come on;
And find the Soul unsated with her Theme.

Its Nature, Proof, Importance, sire my Song.
O that my Song cou'd emulate my Soul!

Like her Immortal. No,—the Soul distains
A Mark so mean; far nobler Hope instance;
If endless Ages can outweigh an Hour,
Let not the Laurel, but the Palm inspire.

Thy Nature, Immortality! who knows?

And yet who knows it not? It is but Life. In stronger Thread of brighter Colour spun,.

And spun for ever; dipt by cruel Fate. In Stygian Die, how Black, how Brittle here?

How short our Correspondence with the Sun?

And while it lasts, Inglorious! Our best deeds,.

How wanting in their Weight? Our highest Joys,.

Small Cordials to support us in our Pain,.

And give us Strength to suffer. But how Great,.

To mingle Interests, Converse, Amities,.

With all the Sons of Reason, scatter'd wide.

Through

Through habitable Space, wherever born. Howe'er endow'd? To live free Citizens Of universal Nature? To lay hold By more than feeble Faith on the Supreme? To call Heav'n's rich unfathomable Mines. (Mines, which support Arch-Angels in their State) Our own? To rise in Science, as in Bliss. Initiate in the Secrets of the Skies? To read Creation; read its mighty Plan In the bare Bosom of the Deity? The Plan and Execution to collate? To fee, before each Glance of piercing Thought, All Cloud, all Shadow blown remote; and leave No Mystery-but that of Love Divine. Which lifts us on the Seraph's flaming Wing, From Earth's Aceldama, this Field of Blood. Of inward Anguish, and of outward Ill, From Darkness and from Dust, to such a Scene ! Love's Element! true Joy's illustrious Home! From Earth's fad Contrast (now deplor'd) more fair. What exquisite Vicissitude of Fate? Bleft Absolution of our blackest Hour!

Lorenzo! these are Thoughts that make man Man, The Wise illumine, aggrandize the Great.

How Great (while yet we tread the kindred Clod, And ev'ry Moment sear to sink beneath The Clod swe tread; soon trodden by our Sons).

How Great, in the wild Whirl of Time's pursuits. To stop, and pause, involv'd in high Presage, Through the long Visto of a thousand Years. To stand contemplating our distant Selves, As in a magnifying Mirror seen, Enlarg'd, Ennobled, Elevate, Divine? To prophesy our own Futurities? To gaze in Thought on what all Thought transcends? To talk, with Fellow-Candidates, of Joys

As far beyond Conception, as Defert, Ourselves th' astonish'd Talkers, and the Tale!

Lorenzo, swells thy Bosom at the Thought?
The Swell becomes thee: 'tis an honest Pride.
Revere thyself;—and yet thyself despise.
His Nature no man can o'er-rate; and none
Can under-rate his Merit. Take good heed,
Nor there be Modest, where thou should'st be Proud:
That, almost universal, Error shun.
How just our Pride, when we behold those Heights!
Not those Ambition paints in Air, but those
Reason points out, and ardent Virtue gains;
And Angels emulate; our Pride how just!
When mount we? when these Shackles cast? when quit

This Cell of the Creation? this small Nest, Stuck in a Corner of the Universe, Wrap'd up in sleecy Cloud, and sine-spun Air? Fine-spun to Sense; but gross and seculent To Souls celestial; Souls ordain'd to breath Ambrosial Gales; and drink a purer Sky; Greatly triumphant on Time's farther Shore, Where Virtue reigns, enrich'd with full Arrears; While Pomp Imperial begs an Alms of Peace.

In Empire high, or in proud Science deep,
Ye born of Earth! on what can you confer,
With half the Dignity, with half the Gain,
The Gust, the Glow of Rational Delight,
As on this Theme, which Angels praise, and share?
Man's Fates, and Favours are a Theme in Heav'n.

What wretched Repetition cloys us bere?
What periodic Potions for the Sick?
Distemper'd Bodies! and distemper'd Minds!
In an Eternity, what Scenes shall strike?
Adventures thicken? Novelties surprize?
What Webs of Wonder shall unravel, there?

What

What full Day pour on all the Paths of Heav'n, And light th' Almighty's Footsteps in the Deep ? How shall the blessed Day of our Discharge Unwind, at once, the Labyrinths of Fate, And straiten its inextricable Maze?

If inextinguishable Thirst in Man To know; how rich, how full our Banquet Here? Here, not the Moral World alone unfolds; The World Material, lately feen in Shades, And in those Shades, by Fragments, only feen, And feen those Fragments by the labouring Eye, Unbroken, now, illustrious, and entire, Its ample Sphere, its univerfal Frame, In full Dimensions, swells to the Survey; And enters, at one Glance, the ravish'd Sight. From some superior Point (where, who can tell ? Suffice it, 'tis a Point where Gods refide) How shall the stranger, Man's illumin'd Eye, In the vast Ocean of unbounded space, Behold an Infinite of floating Worlds Divide the Crystal Waves of Ether pure, In endless Voyage, without Port? The least Of these diffeminated Orbs, how Great? Great as they are, what Numbers These surpass. Huge, as Leviathan, to that small Race, Those twinkling Multitudes of little Life, He swallows unperceiv'd? Stupendous These! Yet what are these Stupendous to the Whole? As Particles, as Atoms ill-perceiv'd; As circulating Globules in our Veins: So vast the Plan: Fecundity Divine! Exub rant Source! perhaps, I wrong thee still.

If Admiration is a Source of Joy,
What Transport, hence? Yet this the Least in Heav's
What This to that illustrious Robe He wears,
Who tost this Mass of Wonders from his Hand,

A Specimen, an Earnest of his Pow'r?
Tis, to that Glory, whence all Glory slows,
As the Mead's meanest Flowret to the Sun,
Which gave it Birth. But what, this Sun of Heav'n?
This Bliss supreme of the supremely Blest?
Death, only Death, the Question can resolve.
By Death, cheap-bought th' Ideas of our Joy;
The bare Ideas! Solid Happiness
So distant from its shadow chac'd below.

And chace we still the Phantom thro' the Fire, O'er Bog, and Brake, and Precipice, till Death & And toil we still for sublunary Pay? Defy the Dangers of the Field, and Flood, Or, spider-like, spin out our precious All, Our more than Vitals spin (if no regard To great Futurity) in curious Webs Of subtile Thought, and exquisite Design; (Fine Net-work of the Brain!) to catch a Fly? The momentary Buz of vain Renown!

A Name, a mortal Immortality.

Or (meaner still!) instead of grasping Air,
For sordid Lucre plunge we in the Mire?
Drudge, sweat, thro' ev'ry shame, for ev'ry Gain,
For vile contaminating Trash, throw up
Our Hope in Heav'n, our Dignity with Man?
And deify the Dirt, matur'd to Gold?
Ambition, Av'rice! the two Damons, these
Which goad thro' ev'ry Slough our Human Herd,
Hard-travel'd from the Cradle to the Grave.
How low the Wretches stoop? how steep they climb?
These Damons burn Mankind; but most possess
Lorenzo's Bosom, and turn out the Skies.

Is it in Time to hide Eternity?

And why not in an Atom on the Shore,

To cover Ocean? or, a Mote, the Sun?

Glory, and Wealth! have They this blinding Pow'r?

What

What, if to Them, I prove Lorenzo blind? Would it surprize Thee? Be thou then surpriz'd; Thou neither know'st: Their Nature learn from me.

Mark well, as foreign as These Subjects seem,
What close Connection ties them to my Theme.
First, what is True Ambition? The Pursuit
Of Glory, nothing less than Man can share.
Were they as Vain, as gaudy-minded Man,
As statulent with Fumes of self-applause,
Their Arts, and Conquests, Animals might boast,
And claim their Laurel Crowns, as well as We;
But not Celestial. Here we stand alone;
As in our Form, distinct, pre-eminent;
If prone in Thought, our Stature is our Shame,
And Man should blush, his Forehead meets the Skies.
The Visible and Present are for Brutes,

A slender Portion! and a narrow Bound!
These Reason, with an Energy divine,
O'erleaps; and claims the Future, and Unseen;
The Vast Unseen! the Future Fathomless!
When the great Soul buoys up to this high Point,
Leaving gross Nature's Sediment below,
Then, and then only, Adam's Offspring quits
The Sage and Hero, of the Fields and Woods,
Afterts his Rank, and rifes into Man.

This is Ambition: This is Human Fire.

Can Parts, or Place (two bold Pretenders!) ma

Can Parts, or Place (two bold Pretenders!) make Lorenzo Great, and pluck him from the Throng!
Genius and Art, Ambition's boasted Wings,
Our Boast but ill deserve. A feeble Aid!
Dedalian Enginery! If these alone
Assist our Flight, Fame's Flight is Glory's Fast.
Heart-merit wanting, mount we ne'er so high,
Our Height is but the Gibbet of our Name.
A celebrated Wretch when I behold,
When I behold a Genius, bright, and base,

Of tow'ring Talents, and terrestrial Aims;
Methinks I see, as thrown from her high Sphere,
The glorious Fragments of a Soul Immortal,
With Rubbish mixt, and glitt'ring in the Dust.
Struck at the splendid, melancholy Sight,
At once Compassion soft, and Envy rise—
But wherefore Envy? Talents Angel-bright,
If wanting Worth, are shining Instruments
In salse Ambition's Hand, to finish Faults
Illustrious, and give Insamy renown.

Great Ill is an Atchievement of Great Pow'rs,
Plain Sense but rarely leads us far astray.

Reason the Means, Affections chuse our End;
Means have no Merit, if our End amiss.

If wrong our Hearts, our Heads are right in vain;
What is a Pelham's Head, to Pelham's Heart?

Hearts are Proprietors of all Applause.

Right Ends, and Means, make Wisdom: Worldly-wise
Is but half-witted, at its highest Praise.

Let Genius then despair to make thee Great; Nor flatter Station: What is Station high? 'Tis a proud Mendicant; It boafts, and begs; It begs an Alms of Homage from the Throng. And oft the Throng denies its Charity. Monarchs and Ministers, are awful Names; Whoever wear them, challenge our Devoir. Religion, publick Order, both exact External Homage, and a supple Knee, To Beings pompoully fet up, to ferve The meanest Slave; all more is Merit's due; Her facred, and inviolable Right, Nor ever paid the Monarch, but the Man. Our Hearts ne'er bow but to superior Worth; Nor ever fail of their Allegiance there. Fools, indeed, drop the Man in their Account, And vote the Mantle into Majesty. Let the small Savage boast his Silver Fur;

His royal Robe unborrow'd, and unbought, His own, descending fairly from his Sires. Shall Man be proud to wear his Livery, And Souls in Ermin scorn a Soul without? Can Place or lessen us, or aggrandize?

Pygmies are Pygmies still, tho' perch'd on Alps,
And Pyramids are Pyramids in Vales.

Each Man makes his own Stature, builds himself:
Virtue alone out-builds the Pyramids;

Her Monuments shall last, when Egypt's fall.

Of these sure Truths dost Thou demand the Cause! The Cause is lodg'd in Immortality. Hear, and affent. Thy bosom burns for Pow'r: What Station charms thee ? I'll install thee there : 'Tis thine. And art thou Greater than before? Then thou before wast something less than Man. Has thy new Post betray'd thee into Pride? That treach'rous Pride betrays thy Dignity; That Pride defames Humanity, and calls The Being mean, which staffs, or strings can raise. That Pride, like hooded Hawks, in darkness foars, From Blindness bold, and tow'ring to the skies. "Tis born of Ignorance, which knows not Man An Angel's Second; nor his Second long. A Nero quitting his Imperial Throne, And courting Glory from the tinkling String But faintly shadows an Immortal foul, With Empire's felf, to Pride, or Rapture, fir'd. If nobler Motives minister no cure, Ev'n Vanity forbids thee to be Vain.

High Worth is elevated Place: 'tis more;
It makes the Post stand Candidate for thee;
Makes more than Monarchs, makes an Honest man;
Tho' no Exchequer it commands, 'tis Wealth;
And tho' it wears no Ribbon, 'tis Renown;
Renown, that would not quit thee tho' disgrac'd,

Not

Nor leave thee pendent on a Master's Smile.

Other Ambition Nature interdicts;

Nature proclaims it most absurd in Man,

By pointing at his Origin, and End;

Milk, and a Swathe, at First, his whole demand,

His whole Domain, at last a Turs, or Stone,

To whom, between, a World may seem too small.

Souls truly great dart forward on the wing
Of just Ambition, to the grand Result,
The Curtain's Fall; there, see the buskin'd Chief
Unshod behind this momentary Scene;
Reduc'd to his own Stature, Low or High,
As Vice, or Virtue sinks him, or sublimes;
And laugh at this fantastic Mummery,
This antic Prelude of grotesque Events,
Where Dwarfs are often stilted, and betray
A Littleness of soul by Worlds o'er-run,
And Nations laid in blood. Dread sacrifice
To Christian Pride! which had with horror shock'd
The darkest Pagans offer'd to their Gods.

fe!

O Thou most Christian Enemy to Peace!

Again in Arms? again provoking Fate?

That Prince, and that alone, is truly Great,

Who draws the Sword reluctant, gladly sheaths;

On Empire builds what Empire far outweighs,

And makes his Throne a Scaffold to the Skies.

Why this fo rare? Because forgot of all
The Day of Death; that venerable Day,
Which sits as Judge; that Day which shall pronounce
On all our Days, absolve them, or condemn.
Lorenzo! never shut thy Thought against it;
Be Levees ne'er so full, afford it room,
And give it Audience in the Cabinet.
That Friend consulted, Flatteries apart,
Will tell thee fair, if Thou art Great, or Mean.

To doat on aught may leave us, or be left. Is that Ambition? Then let Flames descend, Point to the Center their inverted spires, And learn Humiliation from a foul. Which boafts her Lineage from Celeftial fire. Yet These are they, the world pronounces Wise. The world, which cancels Nature's Right and Wrong, And casts new Wisdom: ev'n the Grave man lends His folemn face, to countenance the Coin. Wisdom for Parts is Madness for the Whole. This stamps the Paradox, and gives us leave To call the Wifest weak, the Richest poor, The most Ambitious, Unambitious, Mean; In Triumph, mean; and abject on a Throne. Nothing can make it less than Mad in man, To put forth all his Ardor, all his Art, And give his foul her full unbounded Flight, But reaching Him, who gave her wings to fly. When blind Ambition quite mistakes her Road, And downwards pores, for that which shines above, Substantial Happiness, and true Renown; Then, like an Idiot gazing on the Brook, We leap at Stars, and fasten in the Mud; At Glory grasp, and fink in Infamy.

Ambition! pow'rful fource of Good and Ill!
Thy strength in Man, like length of wing in Birds,
When disengag'd from Earth, with greater Ease
And swifter Flight, transports us to the skies:
By Toys entangled, or in Guilt bemir'd,
It turns a Curse; it is our Chain, and Scourge,
In this dark dungeon, where confin'd we lie,
Close-grated by the sordid Bars of Sense;
All prospect of Eternity shut out;
And, but for Execution, ne'er set Free.

With error in Ambition justly charg'd, Find we Lorenzo wifer in his Wealth?

What if thy Rental I reform? and draw An Inventory new to fet thee right? Where, thy true Treasure? Gold says, " not in me," And, " not in me, " the Diamond. Gold is poor; India's infolvent: Seek it in Thyfelf; Seek in thy naked Self, and find it There. In Being fo Descended, Form'd, Endow'd; Sky-born, sky-guided, sky-returning Race! Erect, Immortal, Rational, Divine! In Senses, which inherit Earth, and Heav'ns; Enjoy the various riches Nature yields; Far nobler! give the riches they enjoy; Give tast to Fruits; and harmony to Groves; Their radiant beams to Gold, and Gold's bright Sire; Take in, at once, the Landscape of the world. At a small Inlet, which a Grain might close, And half create the wond'rous World, they fee. Our Senses, and our Reason, are Divine. But for the magic Organ's pow'rful charm. Earth were a rude, uncolour'd Chaos still. Objects are but th' Occasion; Ours th' Exploit; Ours is the Cloth, the Pencil, and the Paint, Which Nature's admirable Pictures draws: And beautifies Creation's ample Dome. Like Milton's Eve, when gazing on the Lake. Man makes the matchless Image, man admires. Say then, shall man, his Thoughts all fent abroad, Superior wonders in Himself forgot, His Admiration wast on objects round, When Heav'n makes Him the foul of all he fees? Absurd! not Rare! so Great, so Mean, is man.

What Wealth in Senses such as These? what Wealth In Fancy, sir'd to form a fairer scene
Than Sense surveys? In Mem'ry's sirm Record,
Which, should it perish, could this world recall,
From the dark shadows of o'erwhelming Years?

G

In colours fresh, originally bright
Preserve its Portrait, and report its Fate?
What Wealth in Intellect, that sov'reign Pow'r!
Which Sense, and Fancy, summons to the bar;
Interrogates, approves, or reprehends;
And from the Mass those Underlings import,
From their Materials sisted, and resin'd,
And in Truth's ballance accurately weigh'd,
Forms Art, and Science, Government, and Law;
The solid Basis, and the beauteous Frame,
The Vitals, and the Grace of Civil life?
And Manners (sad Exception!) set aside,
Strikes out, with master-hand, a Copy sair
Of His Idea, whose indulgent Thought
Long, long, e'er Chaos teem'd, plan'd buman Bliss.

What Wealth in fouls that foar, dive, range around, Disdaining limit, or from Place, or Time, And hear at once, in thought extensive, hear Th' Almighty Fiat, and the Trumpet's found? Bold, on Creation's Outside walk, and view What was, and is, and more than e'er shall be; Commanding, with omnipotence of Thought, Creations new, in Fancy's field to rise? Souls, that can grasp whate'er th' Almighty made, And wander wild, through Things impossible! What Wealth, in Faculties of endless growth, In quenchless Passions violent to crave, In Liberty to chuse, in Pow'r to reach, And in Duration (how thy Riches rise!) Duration to perpetuate—boundless Bliss?

Ask you, what Pow'r resides in seeble Man That Bliss to gain? Is Virtue's, then, unknown? Virtue, our present Peace, our future Prize. Man's unprecarious, natural Estate, Improveable at will, in Virtue, lies; Its Tenure sure; its Income is Divine.

High-

High-built Abundance, heap on heap! for what? To breed new wants, and beggar us the more; Then, make a richer Scramble for the Throng; Soon as this feeble Pulse, which leaps so long Almost by Miracle, is tir'd with play, Like Rubbish, from disploding Engines thrown, Our Magazines of hoarded Trisles sly; Fly diverse; sly to Foreigners, to Foes; New masters court, and call the former Fool; (How justly?) for dependence on their Stay. Wide scatter, first, our Play-things, then, our Dust.

Dost court Abundance for the sake of Peace?

Learn, and lament, thy self-defeated Scheme:

Riches enable to be richer still;

And, Richer still, what Mortal can resist?

Thus Wealth, (a cruel Task-master!) enjoins

New toils, succeeding toils, an endless Train!

And murders Peace, which taught it first to shine.

The Poor are half as wretched, as the Rich;

Whose proud, and painful Privilege it is,

At once, to bear a double load of Woe;

To feel the stings of envy, and of want,

Outrageous want! both Indies cannot cure.

A Competence is vital to Content.

Much wealth is Corpulence, if not Disease;
Sick, or encumber'd, is our Happiness.

A Competence is all we can enjoy.

O be content, where Heav'n can give no more!

More, like a Flash of water from a Lock,
Quickens our spirit's movement for an Hour,
But soon its force is spent, nor rise our Joys,
Above our native Temper's common stream.

Hence Disappointment lurks in ev'ry prize,
As Bees in flow'rs; and stings us with Success.

The Rich man, who denies it, proudly feigns; Nor knows the Wife are privy to the Lie.

Much

Much Learning shews how Little mortals know; Much Wealth, how little worldlings can enjoy: At best, it babys us with endless Toys, And keeps us Children till we drop to Dust. As Monkies at a mirror stand amaz'd, They fail to find, what they so plainly see; Thus Men, in shining Riches, see the Face Of Happiness, nor know it is a Shade; But gaze, and touch, and peep, and peep again, And wish, and wonder it is absent still.

How Few can rescue Opulence from want?
Who lives to Nature, rarely can be Poor!
Who lives to Fancy, never can be Rich.
Poor is the man in Debt; the man of Gold
In debt to Fortune, trembles at her Pow'r.
The man of Reason smiles at Her, and Death.
O what a Patrimony, This! A Being
Of such inherent Strength and Majesty,
Not Worlds possess can raise it; Worlds destroy'd
Can't injure; which holds on its glorious course,
When thine, O Nature! ends; Too blest to mourn
Creation's Obsequies. What Treasure, This!
The Monarch is a Beggar to the Man.

Immortal! Ages past, yet nothing gone!

Morn without Eve! A Race without a Goal!

Unshorten'd by progression Infinite!

Futurity for ever future! Life

Beginning still, where Computation ends!

Tis the Description of a Deity!

'Tis the Description of the meanest Slave:

The meanest Slave, dares then, Lorenzo, scorn?

The meanest Slave thy sov'reign Glory shares.

Proud Youth! fastidious of the lower world!

Man's lawful Pride includes Humility.

Stoops to the lowest; is too great to find

Inferiors; all Immortal! Brothers all!

Proprietors

Proprietors Eternal of thy Love.

Immortal! What can strike the sense so strong,
As this the soul? It Thunders to the Thought;
Reason amazes; Gratitude o'erwhelms;
No more we slumber on the Brink of Fate;
Rous'd, at the sound, th' exulting Soul ascends,
And breaths her native Air; an Air that seeds
Ambitions high, and fans Ethereal sires;
Quick-kindles All that is Divine within us;
Nor leaves one loit'ring thought beneath the Stars.

Has not Lorenzo's bosom caught the Flame? Immortal! Was but One Immortal, how Would Others envy? How would Thrones adore? Because 'tis common, is the Bleffing lost?' How this ties up the bounteous hand of Heav'n! O vain, vain, vain! all else: Eternity! A glorious, and a needful Refuge, that From vile Imprisonment in abject views. 'Tis Immortality, 'tis that alone, Amid life's pains, abasements, emptiness, The foul can comfort, elevate, and fill. That only, and that amply, This performs; Lifts us above life's Pains, her Joys above; Their Terror those; and these their Lustre lose: Eternity depending covers all; Eternity depending all atchieves; Sets Earth at distance, casts her into shades; Blends her Distinctions; abrogates her Pow'rs; The Low, the Lofty, Joyous, and Severe, Fortune's dread Frowns, and fascinating Smiles, Make one promiscuous, and neglected Heap, The man beneath; if I may call him Man, Whom Immortality's full Force inspires. Nothing Terrestrial touches his high Thought; Suns shine unseen, and Thunders roll unheard, By minds quite conscious of their high Descent,

G 3

Their

Their present Province, and their future Prize; Divinely darting upward ev'ry Wish, Warm on the wing, in glorious Absence lost.

Doubt you this Truth? Why labours your Belief? If Earth's whole Orb, by some due distanc'd eye Was seen at once, her tow'ring Alps would fink, And level'd Atlas leave an even Sphere. Thus Earth, and all that earthly minds admire, Is swallow'd in Eternity's vast Round. To that stupendous view, when souls awake, So large of late, so mountainous to man, Time's Toys subside; and equal All below.

Enthusiastic, This; then all are Weak,
But rank Enthusiasts: To this Godlike height
Some souls have foar'd; or Martyrs ne'er had bled.
And all may do, what has by man been done.
Who, beaten by these sublunary storms,
Boundless, interminable, joys can weigh,
Unraptur'd, unexalted, uninflam'd?
What Slave, unblest, who from to morrow's dawn
Expects an Empire? He forgets his Chain,
And thron'd in Thought, his absent sceptre waves.

And what a Sceptre waits us? what a Throne? Her own immense Appointments to compute, Or comprehend her high Prerogatives, In this her dark Minority, how toils, How vainly pants, the human soul Divine? Too great the bounty seems for Earthly joy; What heart but trembles at so strange a Bliss?

In spite of all the Truths the Muse has sung,
Ne'er to be priz'd enough! enough revolv'd!
Are there, who wrap the World so close about them.
They see no farther than the Clouds; and dance
On heedless Vanity's phantastick Toe,
'Till stumbling at a Straw, in their career,
Headlong they plunge, where end both dance & song?
Are

Are there, Lorenzo! Is it possible?

Are there on Earth (let me not call them Men)

Who lodge a soul Immortal in their breasts;

Unconscious as the Mountain of its Ore,

Or Rock, of its inestimable Gem?

When Rocks shall melt, and Mountains vanish, These

Shall know their Treasure; Treasure, then, no more.

Are there (still more amazing!) who resist.

The rising Thought? Who smother, in its birth,
The glorious Truth? Who struggle to be Brutes?

Who thro' this Bosom-barrier burst their way?

And, with reverst Ambition, strive to sink?

Who labour downwards thro' th' opposing Pow'rs.

Of Instinct, Reason, and the World against them,
To dismal Hopes, and shelter in the snock

Of endless Night? Night darker than the Grave's?

Who sight the proofs of Immortality?

With horrid Zeal, and execrable Arts,

Work all their Engines, level their black Fires,
To blot from man this Attribute Divine,

(Than vital blood far dearer to the Wise,)

Blasphemers, and rank Atheists to Themselves?

To contradict them see all Nature rise!

What Object, what Event, the moon beneath,
But argues, or endears, an After scene?

To Reason proves, or weds it to Desire?

All things proclaim it needful; some advance.

One precious step beyond, and prove it sure.

A thousand Arguments swarm round my pen,
From Heav'n, and Earth, and Man. Indulge a few,

By Nature, as her common Habit, worn;

So pressing Providence a Truth to teach,

Which Truth untaught, all other Truths were vain.

Thou! whose all providential Eye surveys; Whose Hand directs, whose Spirit fills, and warms; Creation, and holds Empire far beyond!

Eternity's

Eternity's Inhabitant august!

Of two Eternities amazing Lord!

One past, e'er Man's, or Angel's, had begun;

Aid! while I rescue from the Foe's assault,

Thy glorious Immortality in Man.

A Theme for ever, and for all, of weight,

Of moment Infinite! but relish'd most

By those, who love Thee most, who most adore.

Nature, thy Daughter, ever-changing Birth Of Thee the Great Immutable, to man Speaks Wisdom; is his Oracle supreme; And he who most consults Her, is most Wife. Lorenzo, to this heav'nly Delphos hafte; And come back All-immortal; All-divine: Look Nature through, 'tis Revolution All. All Change, no Death. Day follows Night; and Night The dying Day; Stars rise and set, and rise; Earth takes th' Example. See, the Summer gay, With her green chaplet, and ambrofial flow'rs, Droops into pallid Autumn; Winter grey, Horrid with frost, and turbulent with storm, Blows Autumn, and his golden fruits, away, Then melts into the Spring; Soft Spring, with breath Favonian, from warm chambers of the South. Recalls the First. All, to reflourish, fades. As in a wheel, All finks, to re-ascend. Emblems of man, who passes, not expires.

With this minute distinction, Emblems just, Nature revolves, but Man advances; Both Eternal, that a Circle, this a Line.

That gravitates, this soars. Th' aspiring soul, Ardent, and tremulous, like Flame, ascends; Zeal, and Humility, her wings to Heav'n.

The world of Matter, with its various Forms, All dies into new Life. Life born from Death Rolls the vast Mass, and shall for ever roll.

No

No fingle Atom, once in being, loft, With change of counsel charges the most High.

What hence infers, Lorenzo? can it be? Matter, Immortal? and shall Spirit die? Above the nobler, shall less noble rife? Shall Man alone, for whom all elfe revives, No Resurrection know? shall Man alone. Imperial Man! be fown in barren ground, Less privileg'd than Grain, on which he feeds ? Is Man, in whom alone is pow'r to prize The blifs of Being, or with previous pain Deplore its Period, by the spleen of Fate Severely doom'd Death's fingle unredeem'd?

If Nature's Revolution speaks aloud, In her Gradation, hear her louder still. Look Nature thro', 'tis neat Gradation all. By what minute degrees her Scale ascends? Each middle Nature join'd at each Extreme, To that above it join'd, to that beneath. Parts into parts reciprocally shot, Abhor divorce: What love of Union reigns? Here dormant Matter wait sa call to Life; Half-life, half-death join There; Here, Sense:

There Sense from Reason steals a glimm'ring ray; Reason shines out in man. But how preserv'd The Chain unbroken upward, to the realms Of incorporeal Life! those realms of Bliss, Where Death hath no dominion! Grant a Make Half-mortal half-immortal; Earthy part, And part Ethereal; grant the Soul of man Eternal; or in man the Series ends. Wide yawns the Gap, Connection is no more; Check'd Reason halts, her next step wants support; Striving to climb, the tumbles from her Scheme; A scheme.

A scheme, Analogy pronounc'd so true; Analogy, man's furest Guide below.

Thus far, all Nature calls on thy Belief. And will Lorenzo, careless of the Call, False attestation on all Nature charge, Rather than violate his League with Death? Renounce his Reason, rather than renounce The Dust belov'd, and run the risque of Heav'n? O what Indignity to deathless souls? What Treason to the Majesty of man ? od Of man Immortal! hear the lofty style.

" If so decreed, th' Almighty Will be done.

" Let Earth diffolve, you pond'rous Orbs descend,

" And grind us into Duft: The Soul is fafe;

The Man emerges; mounts above the wreck,

" As tow'ring Flame from Nature's fun'ral Pyre;

" O'er devastation, as a Gainer, smiles;

" His Charter, his inviolable Rights,

"Well-pleas'd to learn from Thunder's Impotence,

Death's pointless darts, and Hell's defeated storms But these Chimæras touch not thee, Lorenzo!

The Glories of the World, thy fev'n fold shield, Other Ambition than of crowns in Air,

And fuperlunary Felicities,

Thy bosom warm. I'll cool it if I can,

And turn those Glories that inchant, against Thee.

What ties thee to this life, proclaims the next.

If wife, the Caufe that wounds thee is thy cure.

Come, my Ambitious! let us mount together, (To mount Lorenzo never can refuse)

And from the Clouds, where Pride delights to dwell Look down on Earth. What feeft thou? wond'rous

Things day and senson of the shirt average in

Terrestrial wonders, that eclipse the skies. What Lengths of labour'd Lands? What loaded Seas, Loaded by man, for Pleasure, Wealth, or War:

Seas, Winds, and Planets, into service brought, His Art acknowledge, and promote his Ends. Nor can th' eternal Rocks his Will withstand. What levell'd Mountains? And what lifted Vales? O'er vales, and mountains, sumptuous Cities swell, And gild our Landscape with their glitt'ring Spires. Some, mid the wond'ring Waves majestic rise; And Neptune holds a mirror to their charms. Far greater still ! (what can not Mortal might ?) See, wide Dominions ravish'd from the Deep! The narrow'd Deep with indignation foams. Or Southward turn; to delicate, and grand, The finer Arts there ripen in the Sun. How the tall Temples, as to meet their Gods, Ascend the skies! the proud triumphal Arch Shews us half Heav'n beneath its ample Bend. High thro' mid Air, bere, Streams are taught to flow; Whole Rivers there, lay'd by in Basons, sleep. Here, Plains turn Oceans; there, vast Oceans join Thro' Kingdoms channel'd deep from shore to shore; And chang'd Creation takes its Face from Man. Beats thy brave breast for formidable scenes, Where Fame, and Empire wait upon the Sword? See, Fields in blood; hear, naval Thunders rife; Britannia's Voice! that awes the World to peace. How you enormous Mole projecting breaks The midsea, furious, waves? their roar amidst Outspeaks the Deity, and fays " O Main! "Thus far, nor farther; new Restraints obey." Earth's disembowel'd! measur'd are the Skies! Stars are detected in their deep Recess! Creation widens! vanquish'd Nature yields! Her Secrets are extorted! Art prevails! What monument of Genius, Spirit, Pow'r? And now, Lorenzo! raptur'd at this scene, Whose Glories render Heav'n superfluous! say,

Whofe

Whose Footsteps these?—Immortals have been here. Could less than souls Immortal this have done? Earth's cover'd o'er with Proofs of souls Immortal; And proofs of Immortality forgot.

To flatter thy grand Foible, I confess,
These are Ambition's works; and These are great:
But This, the Least Immortal souls can do;
Transcend them all.—But what can These transcend?
Do'st ask me, what?—One Sigh for the Distrest;
What then for Insidels? a Deeper sigh.
'Tis moral Grandeur makes the Mighty man:
How Little they, who think aught Great below!
All our ambitions Death deseats, but One,
And that it crowns.—Here cease we, but ere long
More pow'rful Proof shall take the field against Thee,
Stronger than Death, and smiling at the Tomb.

PREFACE.

As we are at War with the Power, it were well if we were at War with the Manners, of France. A Land of Levity is a Land of Guilt. A Serious Mind is the native Soil of every Virtue; and the fingle Character that does true Honour to Mankind. The Soul's Immortality has been the favourite Theme with the Serious of all Ages. Nor is it strange; it is a Subject by far the most Interesting, and Important, that can enter the Mind of Man. Of highest Moment this Subject always was, and always will be. Yet this its highest Moment seems to admit of Encrease, at this Day; a Sort of occasional Importance is superadded to the natural Weight of it; if that Opinion, which is dvanced in the Preface to the preceding Night, be Just. It is there supposed, that all our Infidels, whatever whatever Scheme for Argument's Sake, and to keep themselves in Countenance, they patronize, are betray'd into their deplorable Error, by some Doubt of their Immortality, at the Bottom. And the more I consider this Point, the more am I persuaded of the Truth of that Opinion. Tho' the Distrust of a Futurity is a strange Error; yet is it an Error into which Bad Men may naturally be distressed. For it is impossible to bid Defiance to final Ruin, without some Refuge in Imagination, some Pre-sumption of Escape. And what Presumption is there? There are but Two in Nature; but Two, within the Compass of Human Thought. And these are, -That either GOD will not, or can not, punish. Considering the Divine Attributes, the First is too gross to be digested by our strongest Wishes. And fince Omnipotence is as much a Divine Attribute as Holiness, that GOD cannot punish, is as absurd a Supposition, as the Former. GOD certainly can punish, as long as the wicked Man exists. In Non-existence, therefore, is their only Refuge; and, consequently, Non-existence is their strongest Wish. And strong Wishes have a strange Influence on our Opinions; they bias the Judgment in a manner, almost, incredible. And fince on this Member of their Alternative, there are some very small Appearances in their Favour, and none at all on the other, they catch at this Reed, they lay hold on this Chimera, to Save themfelves from the Shock, and Horror, of an immediate, and absolute, Despair.

On reviewing my Subject, by the Light which this Argument, and others of like Tendency, threw upon it, I was more inclin'd, than ever, to purfue it; as it appear'd to me to strike directly at the main Root of all our Infidelity. In the following Pages, it is, accordingly, pursu'd at large; and some Arguments for for Immortality new (at least to me) are ventur'd on in them. There also the Writer has made an Attempt to set the gross Absurdities, and Horrors, of Annihilation in a fuller, and more affecting, View, than is (I think) to be met with elsewhere.

The Gentlemen, for whose Sake this Attempt was chiefly made, profess great Admiration for the Wisdom of Heathen Antiquity : What Pity 'tis, they are not sincere? If they were sincere, how would it mortify them to consider, with what Contempt, and Abhorrence, their Notions would have been received, by Those they so much admire? What Degree of Contempt, and Abhorrence, would fall to their Share, may be conjectured by the following Matter of Fact, (in my Opinion) extremely memorable. Of all their Heathen Worthies, Socrates ('tis well known) was the most Guarded, Dispassionate, and Composed: Yet this great Master of Temper was Angry; and angry at his Last Hour; and angry with his Friend; and angry for what deferv'd Acknowledgment; angry, for a right, and tender, Instance of true Friendship towards Him. Is not this surprizing? What could be the Cause? The Cause was for his Honour; It was a truly noble, tho', perhaps, a too punctilious, Regard for Immortality. For his Friend asking Him, with such an affectionate Concern as became a Friend, "Where He should deposit his Remains?" it was resented by Socrates, as implying a dishonourable Supposition, that He could be so mean, as to have Regard for any thing, even in Himself, that was not IMMORTAL.

This Fact, well consider'd, would make our Infidels withdraw their Admiration from Socrates; or make them endeavour, by their Imitation of this il-H 3 lustrious lustrious Example, to share his Glory: And, confequently, It would incline them to peruse the following Pages with Candor, and Impartiality: Which is all I desire; and that, for their Sakes: For I am persuaded, that an Unprejudiced Insidel must, necessarily, receive some advantageous Impressions from them.

THE

INFIDEL Reclaim'd.

Hearts, but neglected, Call. What Day, what Hour, but knocks at human

To wake the Soul to Sense of suture Scenes?

Deaths stand, like Mercuries, in ev'ry Way;

And kindly point to us our Journey's End.

Pope, who couldst make Immortals! art thou dead?

I give thee Joy: Nor will I take my Leave;

So soon to follow. Man but dives at Death;

Dives from the Sun, in fairer Day to rise;

The Grave, his subterranean Road to Bliss.

Yes, infinite Indulgence plann'd it so;

Thro' various Parts our glorious Story runs;

Time gives the Preface, endless Age unrolls

The Volume, (ne'er unroll'd!) of human Fate.

THIS, Earth, and Skies * already have proclaim'd. The World's a Prophecy of Worlds to come; And who, what God foretels, (who speaks in Things, Still louder than in Words) shall dare deny?

If Nature's Arguments appear too weak,
Turn a new Leaf, and stronger read in Man.
If Man sleeps on, untaught by what he fees,
Can he prove Insidel to what he feels?
He, whose blind Thought Futurity denies,
Unconscious bears, Bellerophon! like thee,
His own Indistment; he condemns himself;
Who reads his Bosom, reads Immortal Life;
Or, Nature, there, imposing on her Sons,
Has written Fables; Man was made a Lye.

Why Discontent for ever harbour'd there?
Incurable Consumption of our Peace!
Resolve me, why, the Cottager, and King,
He whom Sea-sever'd Realms obey, and he
Who steals his whole Dominion from the Waste,
Repelling Winter's blast, with Mud and Straw,
Disquieted alike, draw Sigh for Sigh,
In Fate so distant, in Complaint so near.

Is it, that Things Terrestrial can't content? Deep in rich Pasture, will thy Flocks complain? Not so; but to their Master is deny'd To share their sweet Serene. Man, ill at Ease, In this, not his own, Place, this foreign Field, Where Nature fodders him with other Food, Than was ordain'd his Cravings to suffice, Poor in Abundance, famish'd at a Feast, Sighs on for fomething more, when most enjoy'd. Is Heav'n then kinder to thy Flocks, than Thee? Not so; thy Pasture richer, but remote; In part, remote; for that remoter Part Man bleats from Inflinet, tho', perhaps, debauch'd By Sense, his Reason sleeps, nor dreams the Cause. The Cause how obvious, when his Reason wakes? His Grief is but his Grandeur in Disguise; And Discontent is Immortality.

SHALL

SHALL Sons of Æther, shall the Blood of Heav'n, Set up their Hopes on Earth, and stable bere, With brutal Acquiescence in the Mire?

LORENZO! no, they shall be nobly pain'd;

The glorious Foreigners distrest, shall sigh On Thrones; and Thou congratulate the Sigh:

Man's Misery declares him born for Bliss;

His anxious Heart afferts the Truth I sing,

And gives the Sceptic in his Head the Lye.

Our Heads, our Hearts, our Passions, and our Pow'rs, . Speak the fame Language; call us to the Skies; Unripen'd These in this inclement Clime, Scarce rise above Conjecture, and Mistake; And for this Land of Trifles, Those too strong, Tumultuous rise, and tempest human Life; What Prize on Earth can pay us for the Storm? Meet Objects for our Passions Heav'n ordain'd, Objects that challenge all their Fire, and leave No Fault, but in Defect: Bleft Heav'n! Avert A bounded Ardor for unbounded Blifs; O for a Bliss unbounded! Far beneath A Soul immortal, is a mortal Joy. Nor are our Pow'rs to perish immature; But, after feeble Effort, bere, beneath -A brighter Sun, and in a nobler Soil, Transplanted from this sublunary Bed, .. Shall flourish fair, and put forth all their Bloom.

REASON progressive, Instinct is complete;
Swift Instinct leaps; slow Reason feebly climbs.
Brutes soon their Zenith reach; their little All if Flows in at once; in Ages they no more
Could know, or do, or covet, or enjoy.
Was Man to live co-eval with the Sun,
The Patriarch pupil would be learning still;
Yet, dying, leave his Lesson half unlearnt.
Men perish in Advance, as if the Sun

Should 1

Should set ere Noon, in Eastern Oceans drown'd: If fit, with Dim, Illustrious to compare, The Sun's Meridian, with the Soul of Man. To Man, why, Stepdame Nature! fo fevere? Why thrown aside thy Master-piece half-wrought, While meaner Efforts thy last Hand enjoy? Or, if abortively poor Man must die, Nor reach, what reach he might, why die in Dread? Why curst with Foresight? Wise to Misery? Why of his proud Prerogative the Prey? Why less pre-eminent in Rank than Pain? His Immortality alone can tell, Full ample Fund to ballance all amis, And turn the Scale in favour of the Just.

His Immortality alone can folve That darkest of Enigmas, human Hope; Of all the darkest, if at Death we die. Hope, eager Hope, th' Affassin of our Joy, All present Bleffings treading under foot, Is scarce a milder Tyrant than Despair. With no past Toils content, still planning new, Hope turns us o'er to Death alone for Ease. Possession, why, more tasteless than Pursuit? Why is a Wish far dearer than a Crown? That Wish accomplish'd, why, the Grave of Bliss? Because in the great Future bury'd deep, Beyond our Plans of Empire, and Renown, Lies all that Man with Ardor should pursue; And He who made him, bent him to the Right.

MAN's Heart th' ALMIGHTY to the Future fets, By fecret, and inviolable, Springs; And makes his Hope his fublunary Joy. Man's Heart eats all Things, and is hungry still; " More, more," the Glutton cries : For fomething New So rages Appetite, if Man can't Mount, He will Descend. He starves on the Possest.

Hence,

Hence, the World's Master, from Ambition's Spire, In Caprea plung'd; and div'd beneath the Brute. In that rank Sty why wallow'd Empire's Son Supreme? Because he could no higher sty; His Riot was Ambition in Despair.

OLD Rome consulted Birds; LORENZO! thou, With more Success, the Flight of Hope survey; Of restless Hope, for ever on the Wing. High-perch'd o'er ev'ry Thought that Falcon sits, To sly at all that rises in her Sight; And never stooping, but to mount again Next Moment, she betrays her Aim's Mistake, And owns her Quarry lodg'd beyond the Grave.

THERE should it fail us, (it must fail us there, If Being fails) more mournful Riddles rife, And Virtue vies with Hope in Mystery. Why Virtue? Where its Praise, its Being, fled? Virtue is true Self-interest pursu'd; What, true Self-int'rest of quite-mortal Man? To close with all that makes him Happy bere. If Vice, (as fometimes) is our Friend on Earth, Then Vice is Virtue, 'tis our fov'reign Good. In Self-applause is Virtue's golden Prize; No Self-applause attends it on thy Scheme; Whence, Self-applause? From Conscience of the Right? And what is Right, but Means of Happiness? No Means of Happiness when Virtue yields; That Basis failing, falls the Building too, And lays in Ruins every virtuous Joy.

The rigid Guardian of a blameless Heart,
So long rever'd, so long reputed wise,
Is weak; with rank Knight-errantries o'er-run.
Why beats thy Bosom with illustrious Dreams
Of Self-exposure, laudable, and great?
Of gallant Enterprize, and glorious Death?
Die for thy Country?—Thou romantic Fool?

Seize,

Seize, seize the Plank thyself, and let her sink;
Thy Country! what to Thee? (I speak with Awe)
The God-head, what? tho' he should bid thee bleed?
If, with thy Blood, thy final Hope is spilt,
Nor can Omnipotence reward the Blow,
Be deaf; preserve thy Being; disobey.

NOR is it Disobedience: Know, LORENZO!
Whate'er th' ALMIGHTY's subsequent Command,
His first Command is this,—" Man, love thyself."
In this alone, Free-agents are not free.
Existence is the Basis, Blis the Prize;
If Virtue costs Existence, 'tis a Crime;
Bold Violation of our Law supreme,
Black Suicide! tho' Nations, which consult
Their Gain, at thy Expence, resound Applause.

SINCE Virtue's Recompence is doubtful, Here, If Man dies wholly, well may we demand, Why is Man fuffer'd to be Good in vain? Why to be Good in vain, is Man injoin'd? Why to be Good in vain, is Man betray'd? Betray'd by Traitors lodg'd in his own Breaft, By fweet Complacencies from Virtue felt? Why whispers Nature Lyes on Virtue's Part? Or if blind Instinct which assumes the Name Of facred Conscience) plays the Fool in Man, Why Reason made Accomplice in the Cheat? Why are the Wifest, loudest in her Praise? Can Man by Reason's Beam be led astray? Or, at his Peril, imitate his Gon? Since Virtue sometimes ruins us on Earth, Or Both are true; or, Man survives the Grave.

OR Man survives the Grave, or own, LORENZO! Thy Boast supreme, a wild Absurdity.

Dauntless thy Spirit; Cowards are thy Scorn.

Grant Man immortal, and thy Scorn is just.

The Man immortal, rationally brave,

Dares

Dares rush on Death,—because he cannot die.

But if Man loses all, when Life is lost,

He lives a Coward, or a Fool expires.

A daring Insidel, (and such there are,

From Pride, Example, Lucre, Rage, Revenge,

Or pure heroical Desect of Thought)

Of all Earth's Madmen, most deserves a Chain.

When, to the Grave, we follow the Renown'd For Valour, Virtue, Science, all we love, And all we praise; for Worth, whose Noon-tide Beam, Enabling us to think in higher Stile, Mends our Ideas of Ethereal Pow'rs; Dream we, that Lustre of the moral World Goes out in Stench, and Rottenness the Close? Why was he wise to know, and warm to praise, And strenuous to transcribe, in human Life, The Mind Almighty? Could it be, that Fate, Just when the Lineaments began to shine, And dawn the Deity, should snatch the Draught, With Night eternal blot it out, and give The Skies Alarm, lest Angels too might die?

Extinguish'd? and a Solitary God,
O'er ghastly Ruin, frowning from his Throne?
Shall we, this Moment, gaze on God in Man;
The next, lose Man for ever in the Dust?
From Dust we disengage, or Man mistakes;
And there, where least his Judgment sears a Flaw.
Wisdom, and Worth, how boldly he commends?
Wisdom, and Worth, are sacred Names; Rever'd,
Where not embrac'd; Applauded! Deify'd!
Why not Compassion'd too? If Spirits die,
Both are Calamities, inflicted both,
To make us but more wretched: Wisdom's Eye
Acute, for what? To spy more Miseries;
And Worth, so recompens'd, new-points their Stings:

Or Man the Grave furmounts, or Gain is Loss, And Worth exalted humbles us the more. Thou wilt not patronize a Scheme that makes Weakness, and Vice, the Resuge of Mankind.

" Has Virtue, then, no Joys?" — Yes, Joys dearbought.

Talk ne'er so long, in this impersect State, Virtue, and Vice, are at eternal War; Virtue's a Combat; and who sights for Nought? Or for precarious, or for small, Reward? Who Virtue's self-reward so loud resound, Would take Degrees Angelic here below, And Virtue, while they compliment, betray, By seeble Motives, and unfaithful Guards; The Crown, th' unfading Crown, her Soul inspires; 'Tis That, and That alone, can countervail The Body's Treach'ries, and the World's Assaults: On Earth's poor Pay, our famish'd Virtue dies. Truth incontestable! In spite of all

A BAYLE has preach'd, or a V-Believ'd.

In Man the more we dive, the more we fee Heav'n's Signet stamping an immortal Make. Dive to the Bottom of his Soul, the Base Sustaining all; what find we? Knowledge, Love. As Light, and Heat, effential to the Sun. These, to the Soul. And why, if Souls expire? How little Lovely here? How little Known? Small Knowledge we dig up with endless Toil; And Love, unfeign'd, may purchase perfect Hate. Why starv'd, on Earth, our Angel-Appetites; While Brutal are indulg'd their fulsome Fill ? Were then Capacities divine conferr'd. As a Mock-diadem, in falvage Sport, Rank Infult of our pompous Poverty, Which reaps but Pain, from feeming Claims fo fair? In future Age lies no Redress ? And shuts Eternity Eternity the Door on our Complaint?

If so, for what strange Ends were Mortals made!

The Worst to wallow, and the Best to weep;

The Man, who Merits most, must most Complain:

Can we conceive a Disregard in Heaven,

What the Worst perpetrate, or Best endure?

This cannot be. To Love, and Know, in Man Is boundless Appetite, and boundless Pow'r; And these demonstrate boundless Objects too. Objects, Pow'rs, Appetites, Heav'n suits in all; Nor, Nature thro', e'er violates this sweet, Eternal Concord, on her tuneful String. Is Man the sole Exception from her Laws? Eternity struck off from human Hope, (I speak with Truth, but Veneration too) Man is a Monster, the Reproach of Heav'n, A Stain, a dark impenetrable Cloud On Nature's beauteous Aspect; and deforms, (Amazing Blot!) deforms her with her Lord. If such is Man's Allotment, what is Heav'n? Or, own the Soul Immortal, or Blaspheme.

OR own the Soul Immortal, or invert

All Order. Go, mock-Majesty! go, Man!

And bow to thy Superiors of the Stall;

Thro' ev'ry Scene of Sense superior far:

They graze the Turf untill'd; they drink the Stream

Unbrew'd, and ever full, and un-embitter'd

With Doubts, Fears, fruitless Hopes, Regrets, Despairs,

Mankind's Peculiar! Reason's precious Dow'r!

No foreign Clime They ransack for their Robes;

Nor Brothers cite to the litigious Bar;

Their Good is Good entire, unmix'd, unmarr'd;

They find a Paradise in ev'ry Field,

On Boughs forbidden, where no Curses hang;

Their Ill, no more than strikes the Sense; unstretcht

By previous Dread, or Murmur in the Rear;

When the Worst comes, it comes unfear'd; one Stroke. Begins, and ends, their Woe: They die but once; Bleft, incommunicable Privilege! for which, Proud Man, who rules the Globe, and reads the Stars, Philosopher, or Hero, fighs in vain.

ACCOUNT for this Prerogative in Brutes. No Day, no Glimpse of Day to solve the Knot. But what beams on it from Eternity. O fole, and fweet Solution! that unties The Difficult, and foftens the Severe; The Cloud on Nature's beauteous Face dispels; Restores bright Order; casts the Brute beneath; And re-inthrones us in Supremacy-Of Joy, ev'n Here: Admit immortal Life, And Virtue is Knight-errantry no more; Each Virtue brings in Hand a golden Dow'r, Far richer in Reversions: Hope exults; And tho' much Bitter in our Cup is thrown. Predominates, and gives the Taste of Heav'n. O wherefore is the DEITY fo kind? Aftonishing beyond Aftonishment! Heav'n our Reward-for Heav'n enjoy'd below.

STILL unsubdu'd thy stubborn Heart? For there The Traitor lurks, who doubts the Truth I fing. Reason is guiltless; Will alone rebels. What, in that flubborn Heart, if I should find New, unexpected Witnesses against thee? Ambition, Pleasure, and the Love of Gain! Can'ft thou suspect that These, which make the Soul The Slave of Earth, should own her Heir of Heav'n? Can'ft thou suspect, what makes us disbelieve Our Immortality, should prove it fure?

FIRST, then, Ambition fummon to the Bar. Ambition's Shame, Extravagance, Difguft, And inextinguishable Nature, speak. Each much deposes; hear them in their Turn.

THY

Thy Soul, how passionately fond of Fame?

How anxious, that fond Passion to conceal?

We blush detected in Designs and Praise,

Tho' for best Deeds, and from the best of Men;

And why? Because Immortal. Art divine

Has made the Body Tutor to the Soul;

Heav'n kindly gives our Blood a moral Flow;

Bids it ascend the glowing Cheek, and there

Upbraid that little Heart's inglorious Aim,

Which stoops to court a Character from Man;

While o'er us, in tremendous Judgment, sit

Far more than Man, with endless Praise, and Blame.

AMBITION's boundless Appetite out-speaks
The Verdict of its Shame. When Souls take Fire
At high Presumptions of their own Desert,
One Age is poor Applause; the mighty Shout,
The Thunder by the living Few begun,
Late Time must echo; Worlds unborn, resound:
We wish our Names eternally to live.
Wild Dream! which ne'er had haunted human Thought,
Had not our Natures been eternal too.
Instinct points out an Int'rest in Hereaster;
But our blind Reason sees not where it lies;
Or, seeing, gives the Substance for the Shade.

Fame is the Shade of Immortality,
And in itself a Shadow. Soon as caught,
Contemn'd; it shrinks to nothing in the Grasp.
Consult th' Ambitious; 'tis Ambition's Cure.
"And is this all?" cry'd Cæsar at his Height,
Disgusted. This Third Proof Ambition brings
Of Immortality. The first in Fame,
Observe him near, your Envy will abate:
Sham'd at the Disproportion vast, between
The Passion, and the Purchase, he will sigh
At such Success, and blush at his Renown.
And why? Because far richer Prize invites

His Heart; far more illustrious Glory calls; It calls in Whispers, yet the Deafest hear.

AND can Ambition a Fourth Proof supply ? It can, and stronger than the former Three: Yet quite o'erlook'd by some reputed Wise. Tho' Disappointments in Ambition pain, And tho' Success disgusts, yet still, LORENZO ! In vain we frive to pluck it from our Hearts; By Nature planted for the noblest Ends. Abfurd the fam'd Advice to Pyrrbus giv'n, More prais'd than ponder'd, specious, but unsound: Sooner that Hero's Sword the World had quell'd, Than Reason his Ambition. Man must foar; An obstinate Activity within, An insuppressive Spring, will toss him up In spite of Fortune's Load. Not Kings alone, Each Villager has his Ambition too. No Sultan prouder than his fetter'd Slave. Slaves build their little Babylons of Straw, Echo the proud Affyrian, in their Hearts, And cry,-" Behold the Wonders of my Might." And why? Because immortal as their Lord; And Souls immortal must for ever heave At fomething Great; the Glitter, or the Gold; The Praise of Mortals, or the Praise of Heav'n.

Nor absolutely vain is Human Praise,
When Human is supported by Divine.
I'll introduce Lorenzo to Himself;
Pleasure, and Pride, (bad Masters!) Share our Hearts.
As Love of Pleasure is ordain'd to guard,
And feed our Bodies, and extend our Race;
The Love of Praise is planted to protect,
And propagate, the Glories of the Mind.
What is it but the Love of Praise inspires,
Matures, refines, embellishes, exalts,
Earth's Happines? From that, the Delicate,

The Grand, the Marvellous, of Civil Life. Want, and Convenience, Under-workers, lay The Basis, on which Love of Glory builds. Nor is thy Life, O Virtue! less in Debt To Praise, thy secret stimulating Friend. Was Man not proud, what Merit should we miss? Pride made the Virtues of the Pagan World. Praise is the Salt that seasons Right to Man, And whets his Appetite for moral Good. Thirst of Applause is Virtue's second Guard; Reason, her First; but Reason wants an Aid; Our private Reason is a Flatterer; Thirst of Applause calls publick Judgment in, To poise our own, to keep an even Scale, And give endanger'd Virtue fairer Play. Here a Fifth Proof arises, stronger still: Why this fo nice Construction of our Hearts? These delicate Moralities of Sense? This constitutional Reserve of Aid To succour Virtue, when our Reason fails; If Virtue, kept alive by Care, and Toil, And, oft, the Mark of Injuries on Earth, When labour'd to Maturity, (its Bill Of Disciplines, and Pains, unpaid) must die? Why freighted-rich, to dash against a Rock? Was Man to perish when most fit to live, O how mispent were all these Stratagems, By Skill Divine inwoven in our Frame? Where is Heav'n's Holiness, and Mercy fled? Laughs Heav'n, at once, at Virtue, and at Man? If not, why That discourag'd, This destroy'd? Thus far Ambition. What fays Avarice?

Thus far Ambition. What says Avarice?
This her chief Maxim, which has long been Thine,
"The Wise and Wealthy are the same." I grant it.
To store up Treasure, with incessant Toil,
This is Man's Province, This his highest Praise.

To this great End keen Instinct stings him on.
To guide that Instinct, Reason! is thy Charge;
'Tis Thine to tell us where true Treasure lies:
But Reason failing to discharge her Trust,
Or to the Deaf discharging it in vain,
A Blunder follows, and blind Industry,
Gall'd by the Spur, but Stranger to the Course,
(The Course where Stakes of more than Gold are won).
O'er-loading, with the Cares of distant Age,
The jaded Spirits of the present Hour,
Provides for an Eternity below.

"Thou shalt not covet," is a wife Command, But bounded to the Wealth the Sun surveys: Look farther, the Command stands quite revers'd, And Av'rice is a Virtue most divine. Is Faith a Refuge for our Happiness? Most fure; And is it not for Reason too? Nothing this World unriddles, but the next. Whence inextinguishable Thirst of Gain? Man, if not meant, by Worth, to reach the Skies, Had wanted Wing to fly fo far in Guilt. Sour Grapes I grant Ambition, Avarice ;-Yet still their Root is Immortality. These its wild Growths so bitter, and so base, (Pain, and Reproach!) Religion can reclaim, Refine, exalt, throw down their pois'nous Lee, And make them sparkle in the Bowl of Blis.

SEE the Third Witness laughs at Bliss remote,
And falsly promises an Eden here;
Truth she shall speak for once, tho prone to lye,
A common Cheat, and Pleasure is her Name.
To Pleasure never was Lorenzo deaf;
Then hear her now, now first thy real Friend.

SINCE Nature made us not more fond, than proud Of Happiness, (whence Hypocrites in Joy,

Makers

Makers of Mirth! Artificers of Smiles!) Why should the Joy most poignant Sense affords. Burn us with Blushes, and rebuke our Pride? Those Heav'n-born Blushes tell us Man descends. Ev'n in the Zenith of his earthly Blifs: Should Reason take her infidel Repose. This honest Instinct speaks our Lineage high; This Instinct calls on Darkness to conceal Our rapturous Relation to the Stalls. Our Glory covers us with noble Shame. And he that's unconfounded, is unmann'd. The Man that blushes is not quite a Brute. Thus far with Thee LORENZO! will I close. Pleasure is good, and Man for Pleasure made, But Pleasure full of Glory, as of Joy; Pleasure, which neither blushes, nor expires.

THE Witnesses are heard, the Cause is o'er; Let Conscience file the Sentence in her Court, Dearer than Deeds that half a Realm convey; Thus, seal'd by Truth, th' authentic Record runs.

- " Know all; Know Infidels, unapt to Know!
- " 'Tis Immortality your Nature folves;
- " 'Tis Immortality decyphers Man,
- " And opens all the Myst'ries of his Make.
- " Without it, half his Inflincts are a Riddle;
- " Without it, all his Virtues are a Dream:
- " His very Crimes attest his Dignity;
- " His fateless Thirst of Pleasure, Gold, and Fame,
- " Declares him born for Bleffings infinite;
- " What, less than Infinite, makes unabsurd
- " Passions, which all on Earth but more inflames?
- " Fierce Passions so mismeasur'd to this Scene,
- " Stretch'd out, like Eagles Wings, beyond our Neft,
- " Far, far beyond the Worth of all below,
- " For Earth too large, presage a nobler Flight,
- " And Evidence our Title to the Skies."

YE gentle Theologues, of calmer Kind! Whose Constitution dictates to your Pen, Who, Cold yourselves, think Ardor comes from Hell ! Think not our Passions from Corruption sprung, Tho' to Corruption, now, they lend their Wings : That is their Miftress, not their Mother. All (And juftly) Reason deem Divine: I see, I feel, a Grandeur in the Passions too, Which speaks their high Descent, and glorious End; Which speaks them Rays of an Eternal Fire. In Paradife itself they burnt as ftrong, Ere Adam fell; tho' wifer in their Aim. Like the proud Eastern, struck by Providence, What tho' our Passions are run mad, and stoop With low, terrestrial Appetite, to graze, On Trash, on Toys, dethron'd from high Desire; Yet still, thro' their Disgrace, no feeble Ray Of Greatness shines, and tells us whence they fell: But Thefe, (like that fall'n Monarch when reclaim'd) When Reason moderates the Rein aright, Shall reascend, remount their former Sphere, Where, once, they foar'd Illustrious; ere seduc'd, By wanton Eve's Debauch, to strole on Earth, And fet the fublunary World on Fire.

But grant their Frenzy lasts; their Frenzy sails
To disappoint one providential End;
Was Reason silent, boundless Passon speaks
A future Scene of boundless Objects too,
And brings glad Tidings of eternal Day.
Eternal Day! 'Tis that enlightens All;
And All, by that enlighten'd, proves it sure.
Consider Man as an immortal Being,
Intelligible, All; and All is Great;
A crystalline Transparency prevails,
And strikes full Lustre thro' the Human Sphere;
Consider Man as mortal, All is dark,
And wretched; Reason weeps at the Survey.

The

THE learn'd LORENZO cries, " And let her weep, Weak, modern Reason; antient Times were wise.

" Authority, that venerable Guide,

" Stands on my Part; the fam'd Athenian Porch,

" (And who for Wildom fo renown'd as They?)

" Deny'd this Immortality to Man."

I grant it; but affirm they prov'd it too.

A Riddle, this? Have Patience, l'll explain.

What noble Vanities, what moral Flights, Glitt'ring thro' their remantic Wisdom's Page, Make us, at once, despise them, and admire? Fable is flat to These high-season'd Sires, They leave th' Extravagance of Song below.

" Flesh shall not feel; or feeling, shall enjoy

" The Dagger, or the Rack; to them alike

" A Bed of Roses, or the burning Bull."

In Men exploding all beyond the Grave,

Strange Doctrine, This: As Doctrine it was ftrange,

But not as Prophecy; for such it prov'd,

And, to their own Amazement, was fulfill'd:

They feign'd a Firmness Christians need not feign,

The Christian truly triumph'd in the Flame:

The Stoic faw, in double Wonder loft,

Wonder at Them, and Wonder at Himfelf,

To find the bold Adventures of his Thought

Not bold, and that he strove to lye in vain.

WHENCE, then, those Thoughts? Those tow ring
Thoughts that flew

Such monstrous Heights? — From Instinct, and from Pride.

The glorious Instinct of a deathless Soul,
Confus'dly conscious of her Dignity,
Suggested Truths, they could not understand.
In Lust's Dominion, and in Passion's Storm,
Truth's System broken, scatter'd Fragments lay,
As light in Chaos, glimm'ring thro' the Gloom:

Smit

Smit with the Pomp of lofty Sentiments Pleas'd Pride proclaim'd, what Reason disbeliev'd. Pride, like the Delphic Priestess, with a Swell, Rav'd Nonsense, destin'd to be Future Sense, When Life Immortal, in full Day, should shine. They spoke, what nothing but Immortal Souls Could fpeak, and thus the Truth they question'd, prov'd.

CAN then Absurdities, as well as Crimes, Speak Man Immortal? All things speak him fo. Much has been urg'd; and doft thou call for more? Call; and with endless Questions be distrest, All unresolveable, if Earth is All.

- " WHY Life, a Moment; Infinite, Defire?
- " Our Wish, Eternity ; our Home, the Grave?
- " Heav'n's Promise dormant lies in human Hope,
- Who wishes Life Immortal, proves it too.
- " Why Happiness pursu'd, tho' never found?
- "Man's Thirst of Happiness declares It is,
- " (For Nature never gravitates to nought;)
- " That Thirst unquencht declares It is not Here.
- " My Lucia, Thy Clarissa, call to Thought;
- " Why cordial Friendship rivetted so deep,
- " As, Hearts to pierce at first, at parting, rend,
- " If Friend, and Friendship vanish in an Hour?
- " Is not this Torment in the Mask of Joy?
- " Why by Reflection marr'd the Joys of Senfe?
- Why paft, and future, preying on our Hearts,
- " And putting all our present Joys to Death?
- Why labours Reason? Instinct were as well;
- " Inffinct, far better ; what can chuse, can err;
- 6 O how Infallible the thoughtless Brute?
- "Twere well his Holiness was half as fure.
- " Reason with Inclination, why at War?
- " Why Sense of Guilt? why Conscience up in Arms?" Conscience of Guilt, is Prophecy of Pain,

And Bosom-council to decline the Blow.

Reafon

Reason with Inclination ne'er had jarr'd,
If nothing Future paid Forbearance Here.
Thus on—These, and a thousand Pleas uncall'd,
All promise, some ensure, a second Scene;
Which, was it doubtful, would be dearer far
Than all Things else most certain; was it false,
What Truth on Earth so precious as the Lye?
This World it gives us, let what will ensue:
This World it gives, in that high Cordial, Hope;
The Future of the Present is the Soul;
How this Life groans, when sever'd from the next?
Poor, mutilated Wretch, that Disbelieves!
By dark Distrust his Being cut in two,
In both Parts perishes; Life void of Joy,
Sad Prelude of Eternity in Pain!

COULDST Thou persuade me, the next Life could sail Our ardent Wishes; how should I pour out My bleeding Heart in Anguish, new, as deep? Oh! with what Thoughts, thy Hope, and my Despair, Abhorr'd Annihilation! blasts the Soul, And wide-extends the Bounds of Human Woe? In this black Channel would my Ravings run:

" Grief, from the Future borrow'd Peace, ere-while

" The Future vanisht! and the Present pain'd!

" Strange Import of unprecedented Ill!

" Fall, how profound! Like Lucifer's, the Fall!

" Unequal Fate! His Fall, without his Guilt!

" The Gods among, hurl'd headlong, hurl'd at once

" To Night! To Nothing! Darker still than Night.

" If 'twas a Dream, why wake me, my worst Foe!

" O for Delufion! O for Error ftill!

" Could Vengeance strike much stronger, than to plant

" A Thinking Being in a World like This,

" Not over-rich before, now beggar'd quite;

" More curft than at the Fall? The Sun goes out!

- "The Thorns shoot up! What Thorns in ev'ry

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c.

Who liv'd in Terror, and in Pangs expir'd!
All gone to rot in Chaos; or, to make
Their happy Transit into Blocks, or Brutes,
Nor longer sully their CREATOR'S Name.

LORENZO! hear, pause, ponder, and pronounce Just is this History? If fuch is Man, Mankind's Historian, tho' Divine, might weep. And dares LORENZO smile?—I know thee Proud & For once let Pride befriend thee; Pride looks pale-At such a Scene, and sighs for something more. Amid thy Boasts, Presumptions, and Displays, And art Thou then a Shadow? Less than Shade? A Nothing? Less than Nothing? To bave been, And not to be, is lower than Unborn. Art thou ambitious? Why then make the Worm. Thine Equal? Runs thy Tafte of Pleasure high? Why patronize fure Death of ev'ry Joy? Charm Riches? Why chuse Begg'ry in the Graves Of ev'ry Hope a Bankrupt! and for ever? Life's loy so rich, Thou can'ft not wish for more? Ambition, Pleasure, Avarice, persuade Thee To make that World of Glory, Rapture, Wealth. They lately prov'd, thy Soul's supreme Defire.

What art thou made of? Rather, how Unmade? Great Nature's Master appetite destroy'd! Is endless Life, and Happiness, despis'd? Or Both wisht, Here, where Neither can be found? Such Man's perverse, eternal War with Heav'n! Dar'st Thou persist? And is there nought on Earth, But a long Train of transitory Forms, Rising, and breaking, Millions in an Hour? Bubbles of a fantastic Deity, blown up In Sport, and then in Cruelty destroy'd? Oh! for what Crime, unmerciful Lorenzo! Destroys thy Scheme the Whole of human Race? Kind is fell Lucifer compar'd to Thee:

Oh! spare this Waste of Being half divine; And vindicate th' Occonomy of Heav'n.

HEAV'N is all Love; all Joy in giving Joy; It never had created, but to bless:
And shall It, then, strike off the List of Life, A Being blest, or Worthy so to be?
Heav'n starts at an annihilating God.

Is That, all Nature starts at, thy Desire?

Art such a Clod to wish thyself all Clay?

What is that dreadful Wish?—The dying Groan Of Nature murder'd by the blackest Guilt;

What deadly Poison has thy Nature drank?

To Nature undebaucht no Shock so great;

Nature's First Wish is endless Happiness;

Annibilation is an After-thought,

A monstrous Wish unborn, till Virtue dies.

And oh! what Depth of Horror lies inclos'd?

For Non-existence no Man ever wisht,

But, first, he wisht the Derty destroy'd.

Ir so; what Words are dark enough to draw. Thy Picture true? The darkest are too sair. Beneath what baleful Planet, in what Hour. Of Desperation, by what Fury's Aid, In what Infernal Posture of the Soul, All Hell invited, and all Hell in Joy, At such a Birth, a Birth so near of Kin, Did thy soul Fancy whelp so black a Scheme, Of Hopes abortive, Faculties half-blown, And Deities begun, reduc'd to Dust?

THERE's nought, Thou fayst, but one eternal Flux. Of feeble Essences, tumultuous driv'n Thro' Time's rough Billows into Night's Abyss. Say, in this rapid Tide of human Ruin, Is there no Rock, on which Man's tossing Thought Can rest from Terror, dare his Fate survey, And boldly think it Something to be Born?

Amid

Amid fuch hourly Wrecks of Being fair, Is there no central, all-sustaining Base, All-realizing, all-connecting Pow'r, Which, as it call'd-forth all Things, can recall, And force Destruction to refund her Spoil? Command the Grave, restore her taken Prey? Bid Death's dark Vale its Human Harvest yield, And Earth, and Ocean, pay their Debt of Man, True to the grand Deposit trusted There? Is there no Potentate, whose out-stretcht Arm, (When rip'ning Time calls forth th' appointed Hour,) Pluckt from foul Devastation's famisht Maw, Binds Present, Past, and Future, to his Throne? His Throne, how glorious, thus divinely grac'd, By germinating Beings cluft'ring round, A Garland worthy the Divinity! A Throne, by Heav'n's Omnipotence in Smiles, Built, (like a Pharos tow'ring in the Waves,) Amidst immense Effusions of his Love. An Ocean of communicated Blifs.

An all-prolific, all-preferving Gon! This were a Gop indeed. And fuch is Man As here prefum'd: He rifes from his Fall. Think'ft Thou Omnipotence a naked Root, Each Bloffom fair of DEITY deftroy'd? Nothing is dead; nay, Nothing sleeps; each Soul That ever animated human Clay, Now wakes; is on the Wing: And where, O where, Will the Swarm fettle ?-When the Trumpet's Call, As founding Brafs, collects us, round Heav'n's Throne Conglob'd, we bask in everlasting Day, (Paternal Splendor!) and adhere for ever. Had not the Soul this Outlet to the Skies, In this vast Vessel of the Universe, How should we gasp, as in an empty Void? How in the Pangs of familht Hope expire?

How bright This Prospect shines? How gloomy, Thine?

A trembling World! and a devouring Gop! Earth, but the Shambles of Omnipotence! Heav'n's Face all flain'd with causeless Massacres Of countless Millions, born to feel the Pang Of Being loft. LORENZO! can it be? This bids us shudder at the Thoughts of Life. Who would be born to fuch a phantom World, Where nought Substantial, but our Mis'ry? Where Joy (if Joy) but heightens our Distress, So foon to perish, and revive no more, The greater such a Joy, the more It pains. A World, where dark, mysterious Vanity Of Good, and Ill, the distant Colours blends, Confounds all Reason, and all Hope destroys; Reason, and Hope, our sole Asylum Here! A World fo far from Great, (and yet how Great It shines to Thee?) there's nothing Real in it; Being, a Shadow! Consciousness, a Dream! A Dream, how dreadful? Univerfal Blank Before it, and Behind! Poor Man, a Spark From Non-existence struck by Wrath divine, Glitt'ring a Moment, nor that Moment fure, 'Midst Upper, Nether, and Surrounding Night, His Sad, Sure, Sudden, and Eternal Tomb.

LORENZO! dost Thou feel these Arguments?
Or is there nought but Vengeance can be felt?
How hast Thou dar'd the Deity dethrone?
How dar'd indict Him of a World like This?
If fuch the World, Creation was a Crime;
For what is Crime, but Cause of Misery?
Retract, Blasphemer! And unriddle This,
Of endless Arguments above, below,
Without us, and within, the short Result,
IF Man's Immortal, there's a God in Heav'n."

But wherefore such Redundancy? Such Waste-Of Argument? One sets my Soul at Rest; One obvious, and at Hand, and, Oh!—at Hearts' So just the Skies, Philander's Life so pain'd, His Heart so pure; that, or succeeding Scenes Have Palms to give, or ne'er had He been born.

"What an old Tale is This!" LORENZO cries.—
I grant this Argument is old: but Truth
No Years impair; and had not This been True,
Thou never hadft despis'd it for its Age.
Truth is Immortal as thy Soul; and Fable
As fleeting as thy Joys: Be wise, nor make Heav'n's highest Blessing, Vengeance: O be wise!

Nor make a Curse of Immortality.

Say, know'st Thou what It is? Or, what Thou art? Know'st Thou th' Importance of a Soul Immortal? Behold this Midnight Glory; Worlds, on Worlds! Amazing Pomp! Redouble this Amaze; Ten thousand add; add twice Ten thousand more; Then weigh the Whole; One Soul outweighs them All; And calls th' astonishing Magnificence. Of unintelligent Creation, poor.

FOR This, believe not me; no Man believe;
Trust not in Words, but Deeds; and Deeds no less of Than those of the Supreme; nor His, a Few;
Consult them All; consulted, All proclaim
Thy Soul's Importance: Tremble at Thyself;
For whom Omnipotence has wak'd so long:
Has wak'd, and work'd, for Ages; from the Birth:
Of Nature, to this Unbelieving Hour.

In this small Province of His vast Domain,
(All Nature bow, while I pronounce his Name!)
What has God done, and not for this sole End,
To rescue Souls from Death? The Soul's high Price.
Is writ in all the Conduct of the Skies.
The Soul's high Price is the Creation's Key,

Unlocks

Unlocks its Mysteries, and naked lays
The genuine Cause of ev'ry deed divine:
That, is the Chain of Ages, which maintains
Their obvious Correspondence, and unites
Most distant Periods in One blest Design:
That, is the Mighty Hinge, on which have turn'd
All Revolutions, whether we regard
The Nat'ral, Civil, or Religious, World;
The Former Two, but Servants to the Third:
To That their Duty done, they Both expire,
Their Mass new cast, forgot their Deeds renown'd;
And Angels ask, "Where once they shone so Fair?"

To lift us from this Abject to Sublime:

To lift us from this Abject, to Sublime;
This Flux, to Permanent; this Dark, to Day;
This Foul, to Pure; this Turbid, to Serene;
This Mean, to Mighty!—for this glorious End
Th' Almighty, rifing, his long Sabbath broke;
The World was Made; was Ruin'd; was Reftor'd;
Laws from the Skies were Publish'd; were Repeal'd;
On Earth Kings, Kingdoms rose; Kings, Kingdoms,
fell;

Fam'd Sages lighted up the Pagan World,
Prophets from Sion darted a keen Glance
Thro' distant Age; Saints travell'd; Martyrs bled;
By Wonders sacred Nature stood controul'd;
The Living were Translated; Dead were Rais'd;
Angels, and more than Angels, came from Heav'n;
And oh!—for This, descended lower still;
Gilt was Hell's Gloom; astonisht at his Guest,
For one short Moment Lucifer ador'd:
LORENZO! and wilt Thou do less?—For This,
That Hallow'd Page, Fools scoff at, was inspir'd,
Of all these Truths thrice-venerable Code!
Deists! perform your Quarentine; and then,
Fall prostrate, ere you touch it, lest you die.

Nor less intensely bent Infernal Pow'rs To mar, than those of Light, this End to gain. O what a Scene is Here !- LORENZO! wake; Rife to the Thought; exert, expand, thy Soul To take the vast Idea: It denies All elfe the Name of Great. Two warring Worlds! Not Europe against Afric; Warring Worlds, Of more than Mortal! mounted on the Wing! On ardent Wings of Energy, and Zeal, High hov'ring o'er this little Brand of Strife! This fublunary Ball .- But Strife, for what? In their own Cause conflicting? No; in Thine, In Man's. His fingle Int'rest blows the Flame; His the fole Stake; His Fate the Trumpet founds, Which kindles War Immortal. How It burns? Tumultuous Swarms of Deities in Arms! Force Force opposing, till the Waves run high, And tempest Nature's universal Sphere. Such Opposites Eternal, Stedfast, Stern, Such Foes Implacable, are Good, and Ill; Yet Man, vain Man! would mediate Peace between them.

THINK not this Fiction. "There was War in Heav'n."

From Heav'n's high crystal Mountain where It hung, Th' Almight y's out-stretcht Arm took down his Bow; And shot His Indignation at the Deep:
Rethunder'd Hell, and darted all her Fires.—
And seems the Stake of little Moment still?
And slumbers Man, who singly caus'd the Storm?
He sleeps.—And art Thou shockt at Mysteries?
The Greatest, Thou. How dreadful to reslect,
What Ardor, Care, and Counsel, Mortals cause
In Breasts Divine? How Little in their Own?

WHERE-E'ERI turn, how new Proofs pour upon me!
How happily This wond'rous View supports

182 The COMPLAINTS

My Former Argument! How strongly strikes. Immortal Life's full Demonstration, Here! Why this Exertion? Why this strange Regard From Heav'n's Omnipotent indulg'd to Man? ---Because, in Man, the glorious, dreadful Pow'r, Extremely to be Pain'd, or Bleft, for ever. Duration gives Importance; swells the Price. An Angel, if a Creature of a Day, What would He be? A Trifle of no Weight; Or Stand, or Fall; no Matter which; He's gone. Because Immortal, therefore is Indulg'd This strange Regard of Deities to Dust. Hence, Heav'n looks down on Earth with all her Eyes: Hence, the Soul's mighty Moment in her Sight: Hence, ev'ry Soul has Partizans Above, And ev'ry Thought a Critic in the Skies: Hence, Clay, vile Clay! has Angels for its Guard, And ev'ry Guard a Passion for his Charge: Hence, from all Age, the Cabinet divine Has held high Counsel o'er the Fate of Man.

Nor have the Clouds those gracious Counsels hid.

Angels undrew the Curtain of the Throne,
And Providence came forth to meet Mankind:
In various Modes of Emphasis, and Awe,
He spoke his Will, and trembling Nature heard;
He spoke it loud, in Thunder, and in Storm.
Witness, Thou Sinai! whose Cloud-cover'd Height,
And shaken Basis own'd the present God:
Witness, ye Billows! whose returning Tide,
Breaking the Chain that fasten'd it in Air,
Swept Egypt, and her Menaces, to Hell:
Witness, ye Flames! th' Assirian Tyrant blew
To sev'nfold Rage, as Impotent, as Strong:
And Thou, Earth! witness, whose expanding Jaws
Clos'd o'er * Presumption's sacrilegious Sons:

Has not each Element, in Turn, subscrib'd The Soul's bigb Price, and fworn it to the Wife? Has not Flame, Ocean, Æther, Earthquake, strove To strike this Truth, thro' adamantine Man? If not All-adamant, LORENZO! hear; All is Delufion ; Nature is wrapt up In tenfold Night, from Reason's keenest Eye; There's no Confistence, Meaning, Plan, or End. In all beneath the Sun, in all above, (As far as Man can penetrate) or Heav'n Is an Immense, Inestimable Prize; Or All is Nothing, or that Prize is All. And shall each Toy be still a Match for Heav'n? And full Equivalent for Groans Below? Who would not give a Trifle to prevent, What He would give a Thousand Worlds to cure?

LORENZO! Thou hast seen (if Thine, to see) All Nature, and her God, (by Nature's Courfe, And Nature's Course controul'd) declare for me :-The Skies Above proclaim " Immortal Man!" And, " Man Immortal!" all Below refounds. The World's a System of Theology, Read, by the greatest Strangers to the Schools; If Honest, Learn'd; and Sages o'er a Plough. Is not, LORENZO! then, impos'd on Thee, This hard Alternative; or, to renounce Thy Reason, and thy Sense; or, to Believe? What then is Unbelief? 'Tis an Exploit; A strenuous Enterprize; To gain it, Man Must burst thro' ev'ry Bar of common Sense, Of common Shame, magnanimously wrong; And what rewards the flurdy Combatant? His Prize, Repentance ; Infamy, his Crown.

But wherefore, Infamy?—For Want of Worth.

Down the steep Precipice of Wrong He slides,

There's nothing to support him in the Right.

Faith

184 The COMPLAINT:

Faith in the Future wanting, is, at least In Embryo, ev'ry Weakness, ev'ry Guilt; And strong Temptation ripens it to Birth. If this Life's Gain invites him to the Deed. Why not his Country fold, his Father slain? 'Tis Virtue to pursue our Good Supreme; And his Supreme, his only Good is Here. Ambition, Aw'rice, by the Wife disdain'd, Is perfect Wisdom, while Mankind are Fools. And think a Turf, or Tombstone, covers All; These find Employment, and provide for Sense A richer Pasture, and a larger Range; And Sense by Right Divine ascends the Throne, When Reason's Prize, and Prospect is no more; Virtue no more we think the Will of Heav'n: Would Heav'n quite beggar Virtue, if belov'd?

"Has Virtue Charms?"—I grant Her heav'nly

But if un-portion'd, all will Int'rest wed;
Tho' That our Admiration, This our Choice.
The Virtues grow on Immortality,
That Root destroy'd, they wither and expire.

A Deity believ'd, will nought avail;
Rewards and Punishments make God ador'd;
And Hopes and Fears give Conscience all her Pow'r:
As in the dying Parent dies the Child,
Virtue, with Immortality, expires.
Who tells me He denies his Soul Immortal,
Whate'er his Boast, has told me, He's a Knave.
His Duty 'tis, to love Himself alone,
Nor care tho' Mankind perish, if He smiles.
Who thinks ere-long the Man shall wholly die,
Is dead already; nought but Brute survives.

And are there such?—Such Candidates there are For more than Death: for utter Loss of Being; Being, the Basis of the DRITY!

Ask you the Cause?—The Cause they will not tell;
Nor need they: Oh the Sorceries of Sense!
They work this Transformation on the Soul,
Dismount her from her native Wing, (which soar'd Ere-while Æthereal Heights) and throw her down,
To lick the Dust, and crawl in such a Thought.

Is it in Words to paint you? Oye Fall'n! Fall'n from the Wings of Reason, and of Hope! Erect in Stature, Prone in Appetite! Patrons of Pleasure, posting into Pain! Lovers of Argument, averle to Sense! Boasters of Liberty, fast-bound in Chains! Lords of the wide Creation, and the Shame! More Senseless than th' Irrationals you scorn! More Base than those you rule! Than those you pity. Far more Undone! Oye most Infamous Of Beings, from Superior Dignity! Deepest in Woe from Means of boundless Bliss 1. Ye curst by Bleffings infinite; Because Most highly favour'd, most profoundly lost! Ye motly Mass of Contradiction strong! And are you, too, convinc'd, your Souls fly off In Exhalation foft, and die in Air, From the full Flood of Evidence against you? In the coarse Drudgeries, and Sinks of Sense, Your Souls have quite worn out the Make of Heav'n, By Vice new-cast, and Creatures of your own: But tho' you can deform, you can't destroy; To curse, not uncreate, is all your Pow'r.

LORBNZO! this black Brotherhood renounce & Renounce St. Evrement, and read St. Paul.

Ere rapt by Miracle, by Reason wing'd

His mounting Mind made long Abode in Heav'n.

This is Free-thinking, unconfin'd to Parts,

To send the Soul, on curious Travel bent,

186 The COMPLAINT:

From First to Last, (but Last there none shall be !) To dart her Flight, thro' the whole Sphere of Man ; Of this vast Universe to make the Tour; In each Recess of Space, and Time, at Home: Familiar with their Wonders; diving deep; And, like a Prince of boundless Int'refts There. Still most ambitious of the most Remote: To look on Truth unbroken, and entire; Truth in the System, the full Orb; where Truths. By Truths inlighten'd, and sustain'd, afford An Arch-like, flrong Foundation, to support Th' incumbent Weight of absolute, complete Conviction; Here, the more we press, we stand More Firm; Who most Examine, most Believe. Parts, like Half-sentences, confound; the Whole Conveys the Sense, and Gop is understood; Who not in Fragments writes to Human Race; Read his whole Volume, Sceptic! then, Reply.

Beyond a Grain, and looks beyond an Hour.
Turn up thine Eye, survey this Midnight Scene;
What are Earth's Kingdoms, to you boundless Orbs,
Of human Souls, one Day, the destin'd Range?
And what you boundless Orbs, to Godlike Man!
Those num'rous Worlds that throng the Firmament,
And ask more Space in Heav'n, can rowl at large
In Man's capacious Thought, and still leave Room.
For ampler Orbs; for new Creations, There,
Can such a Soul contract itself, to gripe
A Point of no Dimension, of no Weight?
It can; it does: The World is such a Point,
And, of that Point, how small a Part inslaves?
How small a Part— of Nothing, shall I say?

How small a Part— of Nothing, shall I say?
Why not?—Friends, our chief Treasure! How they drop?

Lucia

Lucia, Narcissa fair, Philander, gone!
The Grave, like fabled Cerberus, has op'd
A Triple Mouth; and, in an awful Voice,
Loud calls my Soul, and utters All I fing.
How the World falls to-pieces round about us,
And leaves us in a Ruin of our Joy?
What fays, This Transportation of my Friends?
It bids me love the Place where now they dwell,
And scorn this wretched Spot, they leave so Poor.
Eternity's vast Ocean lies before thee;
There, There, Lorenzo! thy Clarissa sails.
Give thy Mind Sea-room; keep it wide of Earth,
That Rock of Souls immortal; cut thy Cord,
Weigh Anchor; Spread thy Sails; call ev'ry Wind;
Eye thy Great Pole-star: Make the Land of Life.

Two Kinds of Life has double-natur'd Man,
And Two of Death; the Last far more severe.
Life animal is nurtur'd by the Sun;
Thrives on his Bounties, triumphs in his Beams.
Life rational subsists on higher Food,
Triumphant in His Beams, who made the Day.
When we leave that Sun, and are left by this,
(The Fate of all who die in stubborn Guilt)
'Tis utter Darkness; strictly, Double Death.
We sink by no Judicial Stroke of Heav'n,
But Nature's Course; as sure as Plummets fall.
Since God, or Man, must alter, ere they meet,
(For Light and Darkness blend not in one Sphere)
'Tis manifest, Lorenzo, who must change.

Ir, then, that Double death should prove thy Lot,.
Blame not the Bowels of the Deity;
Man shall be blest, as far as Man permits.
Not Man alone, all Rationals, Heav'n arms
With an Illustrious, but Tremendous, Pow'r,
To counter-act Its own most gracious Ends;
And this, of strict Necessity, not Choice;

That Pow'r deny'd, Men, Angels, were no more, But passive Engines, void of Praise, or Blame. A Nature Rational implies the Pow'r Of being blest, or wretched, as we please; Else idle Reason would have nought to do; And he that would be barr'd Capacity Of Pain, courts Incapacity of Bliss. Heav'n wills our Happiness, allows our Doom; Invites us ardently, but not compells: Heav'n but persuades, almighty Man decrees; Man is the Maker of Immortal Fates. Man falls by Man, if finally He falls; And fall He must, who learns from Death alone, The dreadful Secret,—That he lives for Ever.

WHY This to thee? Thee yet, perhaps, in Doubt Of Second Life: But wherefore doubtful fill? Eternal Life is Nature's ardent Wish : What ardently we wish, we foon believe: Thy tardy Faith declares that Wish destroy'd : What has destroy'd it?-Shall I tell thee, What? When fear'd the Future, 'tis no longer wisht, And when Unwisht, we strive to Disbelieve. " Thus Infidelity our Guilt betrays." Nor that the fole Detection; Blush, LORENZO! Blush for Hypocrify, if not for Guilt. The Future fear'd? An Infidel, and fear? Fear what? a Dream? a Fable?-How thy Dread Unwilling Evidence, and, therefore, Strong, Affords my Cause an undefign'd Support? How Disbelief affirms, what It denies? " It, unawares, afferts Immortal Life."-Surprizing ! Infidelity turns out A Creed, and a Confession of our Sins: Apostates, thus, are Orthodox Divines. LORENZO! with LORENZO clash no more; Nor longer a Transparent Vizor wear.

Think's

Think'st Thou, Religion only has her Mask?
Our Insidels are Satan's Hypocrites,
Pretend the Worst, and, at the Bottom, fail.
When visited by Thought, (Thought will intrude)
Like Him they serve, They tremble, and believe.
Is there Hypocrify so foul as This?
So Fatal to the Welfare of the World?
What Detestation, what Contempt, their Due?
And if Unpaid, be thank'd for their Escape
That Christian Candor they strive hard to scorn.
If not for that Asylum, they might find
A Hell on Earth; nor scape a worse Below.

WITH Infolence, and Impotence of Thought. Instead of racking Fancy, to refute, Reform thy Manners, and the Truth enjoy .-But shall I dare confess the dire Result? Can thy proud Reason brook so black a Brand? From purer Manners, to Sublimer Faith, Is Nature's unavoidable Afcent; An honest Deist, where the Gospel shines, Matur'd to nobler, in the Christian ends. When that bleft Change arrives, e'en cast aside This Song superfluous; Life immortal strikes Conviction, in a Flood of Light Divine. A Christian dwells, like * URIEL, in the Sun; Meridian Evidence puts Doubt to Flight; And ardent Hope anticipates the Skies. Of that bright Sun, LORENZO! scale the Sphere; 'Tis easy; It invites thee; It descends From Heav'n to woo, and waft thee whence it cames Read, and revere the Sacred Page; a Page Where triumphs Immortality; a Page Which not the whole Creation could produce; Which not the Conflagration shall destroy;

In Nature's Ruins not one Letter loft : Tis printed in the Mind of Gods for ever.

In proud Disdain of what e'en Gods adore, Doft smile ? -- Poor Wretch! thy Guardian Angel weeps. Angels, and Men, affent to what I fing; Wits fmile, and thank me for my Midnight Dream. How vicious Hearts fume Frenzy to the Brain? Parts push us on to Pride, and Pride to Shame; Pert Infidelity is Wit's Cockcade, To grace the brazen Brow that braves the Skies, By Loss of Being, dreadfully Secure. LORENZO! if thy Doctrine wins the Day. And drives my Dreams, defeated, from the Field; If This is All, if Earth a final Scene, Take heed; fland fast; be fure to be a Knave; A Knave in Grain; ne'er deviate to the Right: Shouldst Thou be Good-How infinite thy Lois? Guilt only makes Annihilation Gain. Bleft Scheme! which Life deprives of Comfort, Death Of Hope; and which VICE only recommends. If fo; where, Infidels! your Bait thrown out To catch weak Converts? Where your lofty Boast Of Zeal for Virtue, and of Love to Man? ANNIHILATION, I confess, in Thefe.

WHAT can Reclaim you? Dare I hope profound Philosophers the Converts of a Song? Yet know, Its Title flatters you, not me; Yours be the Praise to make my Title good; Mine, to Bless Heav'n, and Triumph in your Praise. But fince so Pestilential your Disease, Though fov'reign is the Med'cine I prescribe, As yet, I'll neither Triumph, nor Despair : But Hope, ere-long my Midnight Dream will wake Your Hearts, and teach your Wisdom-to be wise: For why should Souls Immortal, made for Bliss, Ere Wish, (and wish in vain!) that Souls could die? What What ne'er can die, Oh! grant to live; and crown
The Wish, and Aim, and Labour of the Skies;

Encrease, and enter on the Joys of Heav'n:
Thus shall my Title pass a sacred Seal,
Receive an Imprimatur from Above,
While Angels shout—An Insidel Reclaim'd!

To close, LORENZO! Spite of all my Pains, Still feems it strange, that Thou shouldst live for ever? Is it less strange, that Thou shouldst live at all? This is a Miracle; and That no more. Who gave Beginning, can exclude an End. Deny Thou art, Then, doubt if Thou falt be. A Miracle, with Miracles inclos'd, Is Man? And starts his Faith at what is Strange? What less than Wonders, from the Wonderful? What less than Miracles, from Gon, can flow? Admit a GOD, - that Mystery Supreme! That Cause uncaus'd! All other Wonders cease: Nothing is Marvellous for Him to do: Deny Him, - all is Mystery besides: Millions of Mysteries! Each Darker far, Than That thy Wisdom would, unwisely, shun. If weak thy Faith, why chuse the Harder Side? We nothing know, but what is Marvellous; Yet what is Marvellous, we can't believe. So Weak our Reason, and so Great our God, What most surprizes in the Sacred Page, Or full as Strange, or Stranger, must be True. Faith is not Reason's Labour, but Repose.

To Faith, and Virtue, why so backward Man?
From Hence; —The Present strongly strikes us All;
The Future, faintly: Can we, then, be Men?
If Men, Lorenzo! the Reverse is Right.
Reason is Man's Peculiar; Sense, the Brute's.
The Present is the scanty Realm of Sense;
The Future, Reason's Empire unconfin'd;

"For what? (Thou fayst): To damp the Joys of

If Hope precarious, and of Things, when gain'd, Of Little Moment, and as Little Stay, Can fweeten Toils, and Dangers into Joys; What then, That Hope, which nothing can defeat, Our Leave unask'd? Rich Hope of boundless Blis! Bliss, past Man's Pow'r to paint it; Time's, to close! This Hope is Earth's most estimable Prize; This is Man's Portion, while no more than Man: Hope, of all Passions, most befriends us Here; Passions of prouder Name befriend us less: Joy has her Tears; and Transport has her Death; Hope, like a Cordial, innocent, tho' ftrong, Man's Heart, at once, inspirits, and serenes; Nor makes him pay his Wisdom for his Joys; "Tis All, our Present State can safely bear, Health to the Frame! and Vigour to the Mind! A ND has all Nature, then, espous'd my Part?
Have I brib'd Heav'n, and Earth, to plead against thee?

And is thy Soul Immortal?—What remains?—
All, All, LORENZO:—Make Immortal, Bleft.
Unbleft Immortals!—What can shock us more?
And yet LORENZO still affects the World;
There, stowes his Treasure; Thence, his Title draws;
Man of the World! (for such wouldst thou be call'd).
And art thou proud of that inglorious Style?
Proud of Reproach? For a Reproach it was,
In ancient Days; and Christian,—in an Age,
When Men were Men, and not asham'd of Heav'n,
Fir'd their Ambition, as it crown'd their Joy;
Sprinkled with Dews from the Castalian Font,
Fain would I re-baptize thee, and confer
A purer Spirit, and a nobler Name.

THY fond Attachments fatal, and inflam'd, Point out my Path, and dictate to my Song: To Thee, the World how Fair? How strongly strikes Ambition? and gay Pleasure stronger still? Thy triple Bane! The triple Bolt, that lays Thy Virtue dead! Be These my triple Theme; Nor shall thy Wit, or Wisdom, be forgot.

COMMON the Theme; not so the Song; if She My Song invokes, Urania, deigns to smile; The Charm that chains us to the World, her Foe! If she dissolves, the Man of Earth, at once, Starts from his Trance, and sighs for other Scenes; Scenes, where these Sparks of Night, these Stars, shall thine

LORENZO! fince Eternal is at hand, To swallow Time's Ambitions; as the vast Leviathan, the Bubbles vain, that ride High on the foaming Billow; what avail High Titles, high Descent, Attainments high; If unattain'd our Highest? O LORENZO! What lofty Thoughts, these Elements above, What tow'ring Hopes, what Sallies from the Sun, What grand Surveys of Destiny divine, And pompous Presage of unfathom'd Fate, Should roll in Bosoms, where a Spirit burns, Bound for Eternity? In Bosoms read By Him, who Foibles in Archangels fees? On human Hearts He bends a jealous Eye, And marks, and in Heav'n's Register enrolls The Rife, and Progress, of each Option there; Sacred to Doomsday! That the Page unfolds, And spreads us to the Gaze of Gods, and Men.

And what an Option, O Lorenzo! thine?
This World! And This, unrivall'd by the Skies!

A World,

196 The COMPLAINT:

A World, where Luft of Pleasure, Grandeur, Gold, Three Damons that divide its Realms between them. With Strokes alternate buffet to and fro. Man's restless Heart, their Sport, their flying Ball: Till, with the giddy Circle, fick, and tir'd, It pants for Peace, and drops into Despair: Such is the World, LORENZO fets above That glorious Promise, Angels were esteem'd Too mean to bring; a Promise, their Ador'd Descended to communicate, and press, By Counsel, Miracle, Life, Death, on Man: Such is the World LORENZO'S Wisdom wooes. And on its thorny Pillow feeks Repose; A Pillow, which, like Opiates ill-prepar'd, Intoxicates, but not composes; fills The visionary Mind with gay Chimæras, All the wild Trash of Sleep, without the Rest: What unfeign'd Travel, and what Dreams of Joy!

How frail, Men, Things: How momentary, Both? Fantastic Chace, of Shadows hunting Shades! The Gay! the Busy! equal, tho' unlike; Equal in Wisdom, differently wise! Through show'ry Meadows, and through dreary Wastes, One Bustling, and One Dancing, into Death: There's not a Day, but, to the Man of Thought, Betrays some Secret, that throws new Reproach On Life, and makes him sick of seeing more: The Scenes of Business tell us—"What are Men;" The Scenes of Pleasure—"What is All beside:"There Others we despise; and Here, Ourselves; Amid Disgust eternal, dwells Delight?

'Tis Approbation strikes the String of Joy.

WHAT wondrous Prize has kindled this Career, Stuns, with the Din, and choaks us, with the Duft, On Life's gay Stage, one Inch above the Grave? The Proud run up and down in quest of Eyes;

The

The Senfual in Pursuit of something worse;
The Grave, of Gold; the Politic, of Power;
And All, of other Butterslies, as vain!
As Eddies draw things frivolous, and light,
How is Man's Heart by Vanity drawn in;
On the swift circle of returning Toys,
Whirl'd, Straw-like, round and round, and then ingulph'd;

Where gay Delufion darkens to Despair!

" This is a beaten Track."—Is This a Track Should not be beaten? Never beat enough, Till enough learnt the Truths it would inspire; Shall Truth be filent, because Folly frowns? Turn the World's History; what find we there, But Fortune's Sports, or Nature's cruel Claims, Or Woman's Artifice, or Man's Revenge, And endless Inhumanities on Man? Fame's Trumpet feldom founds, but, like the Knell, It brings bad Tidings: How it hourly blows Man's Misadventures round the list'ning World? Man is the Tale of narrative old Time: Sad Tale! which high as Paradise begins; As if, the Toil of Travel to delude, From Stage to Stage, in his eternal Round, The Days, his Daughters, as they spin our Hours On Fortune's Wheel, where Accident unthought Oft, in a Moment, fnaps Life's strongest Thread, Each, in her Turn, fome tragic Story tells, With, now-and-then, a wretched Farce between; And fills his Chronicle with human Woes.

TIME's Daughters, True as those of Men, deceive us;
Not One, but puts some Cheat on all Mankind;

Nor owns itself a Cheat, till It expires:
Its little Joys go out by One, and One;
And leave poor Man, at length, in perfect Night:
Night darker, than what, now, involves the Pole.

No second Hope, if here their Fortune frowns;

Frown soon it must: Of various Rates they sail,

Of Ensigns various; All alike in This,

All restless, anxious; tost with Hopes, and Fears,

In calmest Skies; obnoxious All to Storm;

And stormy the most general Blast of Life:

All bound for Happiness; yet Few provide
The Chart of Knowledge, pointing where It lies;
Or Virtue's Helm, to shape the Course design'd:
All, more or less, capricious Fate lament,
Now listed by the Tide, and now resorb'd,
And farther from their Wishes, than before;
All, more or less, against each other dash,
To mutual Hurt, by Gusts of Passion driv'n,
And suffering more from Folly, than from Fate.

Ocean! Thou dreadful, and tumultuous Home Of Dangers, at eternal War with Man! Death's Capital! where most he domineers, With all his chosen Terrors frowning round, (Tho lately feasted high at * Albion's Cost) Wide-op'ning, and loud-roaring still for more! Too faithful Mirror! how dost thou reslect, The melancholy Face of human Life! The strong Resemblance tempts me farther still: And, haply, Britain may be deeper struck By moral Truth, in such a Mirror seen, Which Nature holds for ever at her Eye.

When Young, with fanguine Cheer, and Streamers gay, We cut our Cable, launch into the World, And fondly dream each Wind, and Star, our Friend; All, in some darling Enterprize embarkt; But where is he can fathom its Event? Amid a Multitude of artless Hands, Ruin's sure Perquisite! her lawful Prize! Some steer aright; but the black Blast blows hard, And pusses them wide of Hope: With Hearts of Proof, Full against Wind, and Tide, some win their Way; And when strong Effort has deserv'd the Port, And tugg'd it into View, 'tis won! 'tis lost! Tho' strong their Oar, still stronger is their Fate,

How Few, beneath auspicious Planets born. Darlings of Providence! fond Fate's Elect! With swelling Sails make good the promis'd Port, With all their Wishes freighted? Yet even These, Freighted with all their Wishes, soon complain; Free from Misfortune, not from Nature free, They still are Men; and when is Man fecure? As fatal Time, as Storm! the Rush of Years Beats down their Strength; their numberless Escapes In Ruin end: And, now, their proud Success But plants new Terrors on the Victor's Brow: What Pain to quit the World, just made their own, Their Nest so deeply down'd, and built so high? Too low they build, who build beneath the Start. · Woe then apart (if Woe apart can be From mortal Man), and Fortune at our Nod. The Gay! Rich! Great! Triumphant! and August! What are they?—The most happy (strange to say!) Convince me most of human Misery: What are they? Smiling Wretches of To-morrow! More wretched, then, than e'er their Slave can be; Their treach'rous Bleffings, at the Day of Need, Like other faithless Friends, unmask, and sting: Then, what provoking Indigence in Wealth? What aggravated Impotence in Pow'r? High Titles, then, what Infult of their Pain?

If that fole Anchor, equal to the Waves, Immortal Hope! defies not the rude Storm,

Look on Life's Stages; they speak plainer still;

Florello lately cast on this rude Coast, A helpless Infant; now, a heedless Child; To poor Clariffa's Throes, thy Care succeeds; Care full of Love, and yet severe as Hate: O'er thy Soul's Joy how oft thy Fondness frowns ? Needful Austerities his Will restrain: As Thorns fence in the tender Plant from Harm. As yet, his Reason cannot go alone, But asks a sterner Nurse to lead it on: His little Heart is often terrify'd; The Blush of Morning, in his Cheek, turns pale; Its pearly Dew-drop trembles in his Eye; His harmless Eye! and drowns an Angel there: Ah! what avails his Innocence? The Task Injoin'd, must discipline his early Pow'rs; He learns to figh, ere he has known to fin; Guiltless, and sad! A Wretch before the Fall! How cruel this! More cruel to forbear. Our Nature fuch, with necessary Pains, We purchase Prospects of precarious Peace: Tho' not a Father, This might steal a Sigh.

SUPPOS

Suppose him disciplin'd aright (if not, 'Twill sink our poor Account to poorer still): Ripe from the Tutor, proud of Liberty, He leaps Inclosure, bounds into the World; The World is taken, after Ten Years Toil, Like ancient Troy; and all its Joys his own: Alas! the World's a Tutor more severe; Its Lessons hard, and ill deserve his Pains; Unteaching All his virtuous Nature taught, Or Books (fair Virtue's Advocates!) inspir'd.

For who receives him into public Life?

Men of the World! the Terræ-filial Breed!

Welcome the modest Stranger to their Sphere
(Which glitter'd long, at Distance, in his Sight),
And, in their hospitable Arms, inclose:

Men, who think nought so strong of the Romance,
So rank Knight-errant, as a Real Friend;
Men, that act up to Reason's Golden Rule,
All Weakness of Affection quite subdu'd:

Men, that would blush at being thought sincere,
And seign, for Glory, the sew Faults they want;
That love a Lye, where Truth would pay as well;
As if, to Them, Vice shone her own Reward.

Lorenzo! canst thon bear a shocking Sight?

Such, for Florello's sake, 'twill now appear;
See, the steel'd Files of season'd Veterans,
Train'd to the World, in burnisht Falshood bright;
Deep in the satal Stratagems of Peace;
All soft Sensation, in the Throng, rubb'd off;
All their keen Purpose, in Politeness, sheath'd!
His Friends eternal—during Interest;
His Foes implacable,—when worth their While;
At War with ev'ry Welfare, but their own;
As Wise as Lucifer; and half as Good;
And by whom, none, but Lucifer, can gain—
Naked, through These (so common Fate ordains),

Naked of Heart, his cruel Course he runs, Stung out of All, most amiable in Life, Prompt Truth, and open Thought, and Smiles unfeign'd;

Affection, as his Species, wide-diffus'd; Noble Presumptions to Mankind's Renown; Ingenuous Trust, and Confidence of Love.

THESE Claims to Joy (if Mortals Joy might claim) Will cost him many a Sigh; till Time, and Pains, From the flow Miftress of this School, Experience, And her Affistant, paufing, pale Diftruft, Purchase a dear-bought Clue to lead his Youth, Through serpentine Obliquities of Life, And the dark Labyrinth of human Hearts: And happy! if the Clue shall come so cheap; For, while we learn to fence with Public Guilt. Full oft we feel its foul Contagion too, If less than heav'nly Virtue is our Guard: Thus, a strange kind of curst Necessity Brings down the sterling Temper of his Soul. By base Alloy, to bear the current Stamp, Relow call'd Wisdom; finks him into Safety; And brands him into Credit with the World; Where specious Titles dignify Disgrace, And Nature's Injuries are Arts of Life; Where, brighter Reason prompts to bolder Crimes; And Heav'nly Talents make Infernal Hearts; That unfurmountable Extreme of Guilt!

Poor Machiavel I who labour'd hard his Plan,
Forgot, that Genius needs not go to School;
Forgot, that Man, without a Tutor, wife,
His Plan had practis'd, long before 'twas writ.
The World's all Title-Page, there's no Gontents;
The World's all Face; the Man who shews his Heart,
Is hooted for his Nudities, and scorn'd.
A Man I knew, who liv'd upon a Smile;

And well it fed him; he look'd plump and fair; While rankest Venom foam'd through ev'ry Vein: LONE NZO! what I tell thee, take not ill: Living, he fawn'd on ev'ry Fool alive; And Dying, curs'd the Friend on whom he liv'd. To fuch Proficients thou art half a Saint. In foreign Realms (for thou hast travell'd far), How curious to contemplate Two State-Rooks, Studious their Nefts to feather in a trice. With all the Necromantics of their Art, Playing the Game of Faces on each other, Making Court Sweet-meats of their latent Gall; In foolish Hope, to steal each other's Trust, Both cheating, both exulting, both deceiv'd; And, sometimes, both (let Earth rejoice) undone: Their Parts we doubt not; but be That their Shame; Shall Men of Talents, fit to rule Mankind, Stoop to mean Wiles, that would difgrace a Fool? And lose the Thanks of those few Friends they serve! For who can thank the Man, he cannot fee?

Why so much Cover? It defeats itself:
Ye, that know all things! know ye not, Mens Hearts
Are therefore known, because they are conceal'd?
For why conceal'd?—The Cause they need not tell:
I give Him Joy, that's aukward at a Lye;
Whose feeble Nature Truth keeps still in Awe;
His Incapacity is his Renown:

'Tis Great, 'tis Manly, to disdain Disguise;
It shews our Spirit, or it proves our Strength;
Thou say'st, 'Tis needful: Is it therefore right?
Howe'er, I grant it some small Sign of Grace,
To strain at an Excuse: And wouldst thou then
Escape that cruel Need? Thou mayst, with Ease;
Think no Post needful that demands a Knave:
When late our Civil Helm was shifting Hands,
So P—— thought; think better, if you can.

But This, how rare! the public Path of Life
Is dirty:—Yet allow that Dirt its Due;
It makes the Noble Mind more Noble still;
The World's no Neuter; it will wound, or fave;
Our Virtue quench, or Indignation fire;
You fay, The World well-known, will make a Man:—
The World well-known, will give our Hearts to Heav'n.

Or make us Dæmons, long before we Die.

To shew how fair the World, thy Mistress, shines, Take either Part, fure Ills attend the Choice; Sure, tho' not equal, Detriment ensues: Not Virtue-felf is Deified on Earth; Virtue has her Relapses, Conflicts, Foes; Foes, that ne'er fail to make her feel their Hate; Virtue has her peculiar Set of Pains: True; Friends to Virtue, laft, and leaft, complain; But if They Sigh, can Others hope to Smile? If Wisdom has her Miseries to mourn, How can poor Folly lead a happy Life? And if Both fuffer, what has Earth to boaft : Where he most Happy, who the least Laments; Where much, much Patience, the most envied State. And some Forgiveness, needs, the best of Friends? For Friend, or happy Life, who looks not higher, Of neither shall he find the Shadow bere.

THE World's fworn Advocate, without a Fee, LORENZO fmartly, with a Smile, replies;

- " Thus far thy Song is right; and All must own,
- " Virtue has her peculiar Set of Pains .-
- " And Joys peculiar who to Vice denies?
- " If Vice it is, with Nature to comply:
- " If Pride, and Sense, are fo predominant,
- " To check, not overcome, them, makes a Saint,
- " Can Nature in a plainer Voice proclaim
- Pleasure, and Glory, the Chief Good of Man?

CAN Pride, and Senfuality, rejoice?
From Purity of Thought, all Pleasure springs;
And, from an humble Spirit, all our Peace.

Ambition! Pleasure! let us talk of These:
Of These, the Porch, and Academy, talk'd;
Of These, each following Age had much to say;
Yet unexhausted, still, the needful Theme:
Who talks of These, to Mankind all at once
He talks; for where the Saint from either free?
Are These thy Resuge?—No; These rush upon thee?
Thy Vitals seize, and Vultur-like, devour:
I'll try, if I can pluck thee from thy Rock,
Prometheus! from this barren Ball of Earth;
If Reason can unchain thee, thou art free.

And, first, thy Caucasus, Ambition calls;
Mountain of Torments! Eminence of Woes!
Of courted Woes! and courted through Mistake!
'Tis not Ambition charms thee, 'tis a Cheat
Will make thee start, as H—at his Moor.
Dost grasp at Greatness? first, know what it is:
Thinkst thou thy Greatness in Distinction lies?
Not in the Feather, wave it e'er so high,
By Fortune stuck, to mark us from the Throng,
Is Glory lodg'd: 'Tis lodg'd in the Reverse;
In that which joins, in that which equals, All,
The Monarch, and his Slave;—"A Deathless Soul,
"Unbounded Prospect, and Immortal Kin,

"A Father God, and Brothers in the Skies;" *
Elder, indeed, in Time; but less remote
In Excellence, perhaps, than thought by Man;
Why greater, What can Fall, than What can Rise?

IF Still delirious, now, LORENZO! go; And, with thy full-blown Brothers of the World, Throw Scorn around thee; cast it on thy Slaves; Thy Slaves, and Equals: How Scorn cast on Them Rebounds on Thee? If Man is mean, as Man, Art Thou a God? If Fortune makes him fo, Beware the Consequence: A Maxim That, Which draws a monstrous Picture of Mankind, Where, in the Drapery, the Man is lost; Externals sluttering, and the Soul forgot: Thy greatest Glory, when dispos'd to Boast, Boast That aloud, in which thy Servants share.

We wisely strip the Steed we mean to buy;

Judge we, in their Caparisons, of Men?

It nought avails thee, Where, but What, thou art;

All the Distinctions of this little Life

Are quite Cutaneous, foreign to the Man;

When, through Death's Straits, Earth's subtil Serpents

creep,

Which wriggle into Wealth, or climb Renown, As crooked Satan the Forbidden Tree. They leave their party-colour'd Robe behind, All that now glitters, while they rear alost Their brazen Crefts, and hifs at us below: Of Fortune's Fucus strip them, yet alive; Strip them of Body, too; nay, closer still, Away with all, but Moral, in their Minds; And let, what then remains, impose their Name, Pronounce them Weak, or Worthy; Great, or Mean. How mean that Snuff of Glory Fortune lights, And Death puts out? Doft thou demand a Teft, A Test, at once, infallible, and short, Of real Greatness? That Man Greatly lives, Whate'er his Fate, or Fame, who Greatly dies; High-flush'd with Hope, where Heroes shall despair. If This a true Criterion, Many Courts Illustrious, might afford but few Grandees.

Th' Almighty, from his Throne, on Earth surveys Nought Greater, than an Honest, Humble Heart; An Humble Heart, His Residence! pronounc'd

208 The COMPLAINT:

His second Seat; and Rival to the Skies.

The private Path, the secret Acts of Men,

If noble, far the noblest of our Lives!

How far above Lorenzo's Glory sits

Th' illustrious Master of a Name unknown;

Whose Worth unrivall'd, and unwitness'd, loves

Life's sacred Shades, where Gods converse with Men;

And Peace, beyond the World's Conception, smiles?

As Thou, now dark, before we part, shalt see.

Bur thy Great Soul this skulking Glory scorns: LORENZO's fick, but when LORENZO's feen : And, when he shrugs at public Bus'ness, lyes: Deny'd the public Eye, the public Voice, As if he liv'd on others Breath, he dies: Fain would he make the World his Pedeffal : Mankind the Gazers, the fole Figure, He: Knows he, that Mankind praise against their Will. And mix as much Detraction as they can? Knows he, that faithless Fame her Whisper has. As well as Trumpet ? That his Vanity Is fo much tickled from not hearing All? Knows this All-Knower, that from Itch of Praife. Or, from an Itch more fordid, when he shines, Taking his Country by Five hundred Ears. Senates at once admire him, and despise. With modest Laughter lining loud Applause, Which makes the Smile more mortal to his Fame? His Fame, which, (like the mighty Cafar) crown'd With Laurels, in full Senate, greatly falls, By feeming Friends, that honour, and destroy. We rise in Glory, as we fink in Pride: Where Boasting ends, there Dignity begins: And yet, mistaken beyond all Mistake, The Blind LORENZO's proud-of being Proud; And dreams himself ascending in his Fall.

An Eminence, though fancy'd, turns the Brain; All Vice wants Hellebore; but, of all Vice, Pride loudest calls, and for the largest Bowl; Because, all other Vice unlike, it slies, In Fast, the Point, in Fancy, most pursu'd. Who court Applause, oblige the World in this; They gratify Man's Passion to refuse: Superior Honour, when assum'd, is lost; Ev'n Good Men turn Banditti, and rejoice, Like Kouli-Kan, in Plunder of the Proud.

Tho' somewhat disconcerted, steady still To the World's Cause, with half a Face of Joy, Lorenzo cries—" Ве, then, Ambition cast;

- " Ambition's Dearer far stands unimpeach'd,
- " Gay Pleasure! Proud Ambition is her Slave;
- " For Her, he foars at Great, and hazards Ill;
- " For Her, he fights, and bleeds, or overcomes;
- "And paves his Way, with Crowns, to reach Hes

Who can refift Her Charms?"—Or, should? Lorenzol, What Mortal shall resist, where Angels yield? Pleasure's the Mistress of Ethereal Pow'rs; For Her contend the Rival Gods above; Pleasure's the Mistress of the World below; And well it is for Man, that Pleasure charms: How would All stagnate, but for Pleasure's Ray? How would the frozen Stream of Action cease? What is the Pulse of this so busy World? The Love of Pleasure: That, thro' ev'ry Vein, Throws Motion, Warmth; and shuts out Death from Life.

Tho' various are the Tempers of Mankind,

Pleasure's gay Family holds All in Chains:

Some most affect the Black; and some, the Fairs

Some honest Pleasure court; and some, obscene:

Pleasures obscene are various, as the Throng

Of Passions, that can err in human Hearts:
Mistake their Objects, or transgress their Bounds:
Think you there's but One Whoredom? Whoredom,
All,

But when our Reason licenses Delight: Dost doubt, Lorenzo? Thou shalt doubt no more: Thy Father chides thy Gallantries, yet hugs An ugly, common Harlot, in the Dark, A rank Adulterer with others Gold: And that Hag, Vengeance, in a Corner, charms Hatred her Brothel has, as well as Love, Where horrid Epicures debauch in Blood; Whate'er the Motive, Pleasure is the Mark: For Her, the black Affaffin draws his Sword; For Her, dark Statesmen trim their Midnight Lamp. To which no fingle Sacrifice may fall; For Her, the Saint abstains; the Miser starves The Stoic proud, for Pleasure, Pleasure scorn'd; For Her, Affliction's Daughters Grief indulge, And find, or hope, a Luxury in Tears; For Her, Guilt, Shame, Toil, Danger, we defy ; And, with an Aim voluptuous, rush on Death. Thus universal her despotic Pow'r.

And as her Empire wide, her Praise is just:

Patron of Pleasure! Doater on Delight!

I am thy Rival; Pleasure I profess;

Pleasure, the Purpose of my gloomy Song;

Pleasure is nought but Virtue's gayer Name:

I wrong her still, I rate her Worth too low;

Virtue the Root, and Pleasure is the Flower;

And honest Epicurus' Foes were Fools.

But this founds harsh, and gives the Wise Offence; If o'erstrain'd Wisdom still retains the Name: How knits Austerity her cloudy Brow, And blames, as bold, and hazardous, the Praise Of Pleasure, to Mankind, unprais'd, too dear?

Ye modern Stoics! hear my foft Reply; Their Senses Men will trust: We can't impose ; Or, if we could, is Imposition right? Own Honey Sweet; but, owning, add this Sting; "When mixt with Poison, it is deadly too." Truth never was indebted to a Lye: Is nought but Virtue to be prais'd, as Good? Why then is Health preferr'd before Disease? What Nature loves is Good, without our Leave: And where no future Drawback cries, "Beware:" Pleasure, though not from Virtue, should prevail: 'Tis Balm to Life, and Gratitude to Heav'n; How cold our. Thanks for Bounties unenjoy'd? The Love of Pleasure, is, Man's Eldest born, Born in his Cradle, living to his Tomb; Wisdom, her younger Sifter, tho' more grave, Was meant to minister, and not to mar, Imperial Pleasure; Queen of human Hearts.

Lorenzo! Thou, her Majesty's renown'd, Tho' uncoift, Counsel, learned in the World! Who think'ft thyfelf a MURRAY, with Difdain Mayst look on me; Yet, my Demosthenes! Canst thou plead Pleasure's Cause as well as I? Know'ft thou her Nature, Purpose, Parentage? Attend my Song, and thou shalt know them all; And know Thyself; and know thyself to be (Strange Truth!) the most abstemious Man alive: Tell not Califia; she will laugh thee dead; Or fend thee to her Hermitage with L-Abfurd Prefumption! Thou, who never knew'ft. A serious Thought! shalt thou dare dream of Joy? No Man e'er found a bappy Life by Chance, Or yawn'd it into Being, with a Wish; Or, with the Snout of grov'ling Appetite, E'er smelt it out, and grubb'd it from the Dirt; An Art it is, and must be learnt; and learnt

212 The COMPLAINT:

With unremitting Effort, or be lost;
And leave us perfect blockheads, in our Bliss:
The Clouds may drop down Titles, and Estates;
Wealth may seek Us; but Wisdom must be Sought;
Sought before All; but (how unlike All else
We seek on Earth?) 'tis never sought in vain.

FIRST, Pleasure's Birth, Rise, Strength, and Grandeur, see:

Brought forth by Wisdom, nurst by Discipline,
By Patience taught, by Perseverance crown'd,
She rears her Head majestic; round her Throne
Erected in the Bosom of the Just,
Each Virtue, listed, forms her manly Guard;
For what are Virtues? (Formidable Name!)
What, but the Fountain, or Defence, of Joy?
Why, then, commanded? Need Mankind Commands,
At once to merit, and to make, their Blifs?
Great Legislator t Scarce to Great, as Kind!—
If Men are rational, and love Delight,
Thy gracious Law but flatters human Choice;
In the Transgression lies the Penalty;
And they the most indulge, who most obey.

Or Pleasure, next, the final Cause explore; Its mighty Purpose, its important End:
Not to turn Human brutal, but to build Divine on Human, Pleasure came from Heav'n: In Aid to Reason was the Goddess sent;
To call up all its Strength by such a Charm; Pleasure, first, succours Virtue; in Return, Virtue gives Pleasure an eternal Reign:
What, but the Pleasure of Food, Friendship, Faith, Supports Life Natural, Civil, and Divine?
'Tis from the Pleasure of Repast, we live;
'Tis from the Pleasure of Applause, we please;
'Tis from the Pleasure of Belief, we pray;
(All Pray'r would cease, if unbeliev'd the Prize;)

It

It serves ourselves, our Species, and our God;
And to serve more, is past the Sphere of Man:
Glide, then, for ever, Pleasure's Sacred Stream!
Through Eden as Eupbrates ran, It runs,
And softers ev'ry Growth of Happy Life;
Makes a new Eden where it flows;—but such
As must be lost, Lorenzo! by thy Fall.

" WHAT mean I by thy Fall?" - Thou'lt shortly fee. While Pleasure's Nature is at large display'd: Already fung her Origin, and Ends: Those glorious Ends, by Kind, or by Degree When Pleasure violates, 'tis then a Vice. And Vengeance too; it hastens into Pain: From due Refreshment, Life, Health, Reason, Joy; From wild Excess, Pain, Grief, Distraction, Death; Heav'n's Justice this proclaims, and that her Love: What greater Evil can I wish my Foe, Than his full Draught of Pleasure, from a Cast Unbroach'd by just Authority, ungaug'd By Temperance, by Reason unrefin'd? A thousand Dæmons lurk within the Lee: Heav'n, Others, and Ourselves! Uninjur'd These. Drink deep; the deeper, then, the more Divine; Angels are Angels from Indulgence there; 'Tis Unrepenting Pleasure makes a God.

Dost think thyself a God from other Joys?

A Victim rather! shortly sure to bleed:

The Wrong must mourn; Can Heav'n's Appointments fail?

Can Man outwit Omnipotence? strike out
A Self-wrought Happiness unmeant by Him
Who made Us, and the World we would enjoy?
Who forms an Instrument, ordains from whence
Its Dissonance, or Harmony, shall rife.
Heav'n bid the Soul this mortal Frame inspire;
Bid Virtue's Ray divine inspire the Soul,

With

With unprecarious Flows of vital Joy; And, without Breathing, Man as well might hope For Life, as, without Piety, for Peace.

" Is Virtue, then, and Piety the fame?"-No; Piety is more; 'tis Virtue's Source; Mother of ev'ry Worth, as That of Joy: Men of the World this Doctrine ill digest; They smile at Piety, yet boast aloud Good-Will to Men; nor know, they strive to part What Nature joins; and thus confute Themselves. With Piety begins all Good on Earth; 'Tis the First-born of Rationality. Conscience, her first Law broken, wounded lies; Enfeebled, Lifeless, Impotent to Good: A feign'd Affection bounds her utmost Pow'r: Some we can't love, but for th' Almighty's Sake; A Foe to God was ne'er true Friend to Man; Some finister Intent taints all he does. And, in his Kindest Actions, he's Unkind.

On Piety, Humanity is built; 'And, on Humanity, much Happiness; And yet still more on Piety itself. A Soul in Commerce with her God, is Heav'n: Feels not the Tumults and the Shocks of Life; The Whirls of Passion, and the Strokes of Heart, A Deity believ'd, is Joy begun; A Deity ador'd, is Joy advanc'd: A Deity belov'd, is Joy matur'd: Each Branch of Piety Delight inspires; Faith builds a Bridge from This World to the Next, O'er Death's dark Gulph, and all its Horror hides: Praise, the sweet Exhalation of our Joy. That Joy exalts, and makes it sweeter still: Pray'r ardent opens Heav'n, lets down a Stream Of Glory, on the confecrated Hour Of Man, in Audience with the Deity.

Who

Who worships the Great God, that Instant joins The First in Heav'n, and sets his Foot on Hell.

Lorenzo! when wast Thou at Church before?
Thou think'st the Service Long: But is it Just?
Tho' Just, Unwelcome; thou hadst rather tread
Unhallow'd Ground; the Muse, to win thine Ear,
Must take an Air less Solemn: She complies:
Good-Conscience!—at the Sound the World retires;
Verse disaffects it, and Lorenzo smiles;
Yet has she her Seraglio sull of Charms;
And such as Age shall Heighten, not Impair,
Art thou dejected? Is thy Mind o'ercast?
Amid her Fair Ones, thou the Fairest chuse,
Thy Gloom to chace.—"Go, six some weighty Truth;
"Chain down some Passion; do some gen'rous Good;

" Teach Ignorance to fee; or Grief to smile;

" Correct thy Friend; befriend thy greatest Foe;

" Or, with warm Heart, and Confidence divine,

"Spring up, and lay strong Hold on Him who made

Thy Gloom is scatter'd, sprightly Spirits flow; Tho' wither'd is thy Vine, and Harp unstrung.

Dost call the Bowl, the Viol, and the Dance,
Loud Mirth, mad Laughter? Wretched Comforters!
Physicians! more than Half of thy Disease:
Laughter, tho' never censur'd yet as Sin
(Pardon a Thought that only seems severe),
Is half-immoral: Is it much indulg'd?
By venting Spleen, or dissipating Thought,
It shews a Scorner, or it makes a Fool;
And sins, as hurting Others, or Ourselves:
'Tis Pride, or Emptiness, applies the Straw,
That tickles Little Minds to Mirth effuse;
Of Grief as impotent, portentous Sign!
The House of Laughter makes a House of Woes
A Man triumphant is a Monstrous Sight;

A Man

216 The COMPLAINT:

A Man dejected is a Sight as Mean; & What Cause for Triumph, where such Ills abound? What for Dejection, where presides a Pow'r, Who call'd us into Being to be Blest? So grieve, as conscious Grief may rise to Joy; So joy, as conscious Joy to Grief may fall: Most true, a wise Man never will be sad; But neither will sonorous, bubbling Mirth, A shallow Stream of Happiness betray; Too Happy to be Sportive, He's Serene.

YET wouldst thou laugh (but at thy own Expence), This Counsel strange should I presume to give—
"Retire, and read thy Bible, to be Gay."
There Truths abound of sov'reign Aid to Peace;
Ah! do not prize them less, because Inspir'd,
As Thou, and Thine, are apt, and proud to do:
If not inspir'd, that pregnant Page had stood,
Time's Treasure! and the Wonder of the Wise!
Thou think'st, perhaps, Thy Soul alone at Stake;
Alas!—Should Men mistake thee for a Fool;—
What Man of Taste for Genius, Wisdom, Truth,
Tho' tender of thy Fame, could interpose?
Believe me, Sense, bere, acts a double Part,
And the true Critic is a Christian too.

But These, thou think'st, are gloomy Paths to Joy;—
True Joy in Sunshine ne'er was found at first;
They, first, Themselves offend, who greatly please,
And Travel only gives us sound Repose.
Heav'n Sells all Pleasure; Effort is the Price;
The Joys of Conquest, are the Joys of Man;
And Glory the victorious Laurel spreads,
O'er Pleasure's pure, perpetual, placid Stream.

THERE is a Time, when Toil must be preserred, Or Joy, by mis-tim'd Fondness, is undone.

A Man of Pleasure is a Man of Pains.

Thou wilt not take the Trouble to be Bless.

False Joys, indeed, are born from Want of Thought From Thought's full Bent, and Energy, the True; And that demands a Mind in equal Poize, Remote from gloomy Grief, and glaring Joy; Much Joy not only speaks Small Happiness. But Happiness, that shortly must expire: Can Joy, unbottom'd in Reflection, stand? And, in a Tempest, can Reflection live? Can Joy, like Thine, secure itself an Hour? Can Joy, like Thine, meet Accident unshock'd ! Or ope the Door to honest Poverty? Or talk with threat'ning Death, and not turn pale? In such a World, and such a Nature, These Are needful Fundamentals of Delight: These Fundamentals give Delight indeed; Delight, pure, delicate, and durable; Delight, unshaken, masculine, divine; A constant, and a found, but serious Joy.

Is Joy the Daughter of Severity? It is :- Yet far my Doctrine from Severe : " Rejoice for ever;" It becomes a Man; Exalts, and fets him nearer to the Gods; " Rejoice for ever," Nature cries, " Rejoice;" And drinks to Man, in her nectareous Cup, Mixt up of Delicates for ev'ry Sense; To the great Founder of the bounteous Feast, Drinks Glory, Gratitude, eternal Praise; And he that will not pledge ber, is a Churl. Ill firmly to support, Good fully taste, Is the whole Science of Felicity; Yet Sparing pledge; Her Bowl is not the Best Mankind can boast :- " A rational Repast;

" Exertion, Vigilance, a Mind in Arms,

" A military Discipline of Thought,

" To foil Temptation in the doubtful Field;

" And ever-waking Ardor for the Right"-

'Tis These, sirst, give, then guard, a chearful Heart: Nought that is Right, think Little; well aware, What Reason bids, God bids; by His Command How aggrandiz'd, the Smallest Thing we do? Thus, Nothing is Insipid to the Wise; To Thee, Insipid All, but what is Mad; Joys season'd high, and tasting strong of Guilt.

"Mad? (thou reply'st, with Indignation sir'd)
"Of antient Sages proud to tread the Steps,
"I follow Nature."—Follow Nature still,
But look it be thine own: Is Conscience, then,
No.Part of Nature? Is she not Supreme?
Thou Regicide! O raise her from the Dead!
Then, follow Nature; and resemble God.

When, Spight of Conscience, Pleasure is pursu'd, Man's Nature is unnaturally pleas'd:
And what's Unnatural, is Painful too
At Intervals, and must disgust ev'n Thee!
The Fast thou know'st; but not, perhaps, the Cause:
Virtue's Foundations, with the World's were laid;
Heav'n mixt her with our Make, and twisted close
Her sacred Int'rests with the Strings of Life;
Who breaks Her awful Mandate, shocks Himself,
His Better Self: And is it greater Pain,
Our Soul should murmur, or our Dust repine?
And One, in their eternal War, must bleed.

Ir One must suffer, which should least be spar'd? The Pains of Mind surpass the Pains of Sense; Ask, then, the Gout, What Torment is in Guilt; The Joys of Sense to Mental Joys are mean; Sense on the Present only feeds; the Soul On Past, and Future, forages for Joy; 'Tis Hers, by Retrospect, thro' Time to range; And forward Time's great Sequel to survey. Could human Courts take Vengeance on the Mind, Axes

Axes might rust, and Racks, and Gibbets, fall:
Guard, then, thy Mind, and leave the rest to Fate.

LORENZO! wilt thou never be a Man? The Man is dead, who for the Body lives, Lur'd, by the Beating of his Pulse, to lift With ev'ry Luft, that wars against his Peace : And fets him quite at Variance with Himfelf. Thyfelf, first, Know, then Love: A Self there is Of Virtue fond, that kindles at her Charms: A Self there is, as fond of ev'ry Vice, While ev'ry Virtue wounds it to the Heart; Humility degrades it, Justice robs, Bleft Bounty beggars it, fair Truth betrays, And godlike Magnanimity destroys. This Self, when Rival to the Former, scorn; When not in Competition, kindly treat, Defend it, Feed it :- But when Virtue bids, Tofs it, or to the Fowls, or to the Flames: And why? 'Tis Love of Pleasure bids thee bleed: Comply, or own Self-Love extinct or blind.

For what is Vice? Self-Love in a Mistake;
A poor blind Merchant buying Joys too dear?
And Virtue, what? 'Tis Self-Love in her Wits,
Quite skilful in the Market of Delight:
Self-Love's good Sense is Love of that dread Pow'r,
From whom Herself, and All she can enjoy;
Other Self-Love is but disguis'd Self-Hate;
More mortal than the Malice of our Foes;
A Self-Hate, now, scarce felt; then felt full-sore,
When Being, curst; Extinction, loud-implor'd;
And ev'ry Thing preferr'd to what we are.

YET this Self-Love LORENZO makes his Choice; And in this Choice triumphant, boasts of Joy: How is his Want of Happiness betray'd, By Disaffection to the present Hour? Imagination wanders far afield;

La

The Future pleases: Why? The Present pains:—But that's a Secret—Yes, which all Men know; And know from Thee, discover'd unawares. Thy ceaseless Agitation, restless Roll From Cheat to Cheat, impatient of a Pause; What is it?—'Tis the Cradle of the Soul, From Instinct sent, to rock her in Disease, Which her Physician, Reason, will not cure; A poor Expedient! yet thy Best; and while It mitigates thy Pain, it owns it too.

Such are LORENZO's wretched Remedies! The Weak have Remedies; the Wife have Joys. Superior Wisdom is superior Blis; And what fure Mark diftinguishes the Wise? Confistent Wisdom ever wills the same; Thy fickle Wish is ever on the Wing. Sick of Herfelf, is Folly's Character; As Wisdom's is, a modest Self-Applause; A Change of Evils is thy Good supreme: Nor. but in Motion, canst thou find thy Rest. Man's greatest Strength is shewn in standing still: The first sure Symptom of a Mind in Health, Is Rest of Heart, and Pleasure felt at Home; False Pleasure from Abroad her Joys imports, Rich from within, and Self-sustain'd, the True: The True is fixt, and folid, as a Rock; Slipp'ry the False, and toffing, as the Wave: This, a wild Wanderer on Earth, like Cain; That, like the fabled, Self-enamour'd Boy, Home-Contemplation her supreme Delight; She dreads an Interruption from without, Smit with her own Condition; and the more Intense she gazes, still it charms the more.

No Man is Happy, till he thinks, on Earth There breathes not a more happy than Himself: Then Envy dies, and Leve o'erslows on All; And Love o'erflowing makes an Angel Here;
Such Angels All, intitled to repose
On Him who governs Fate: Tho' Tempest frowns,
Tho' Nature shakes, how Soft to lean on Heav'n?
To lean on Him on whom Arch angels lean?
With inward Eyes, and silent as the Grave,
They stand collecting ev'ry Beam of Thought,
Till their Hearts kindle with divine Delight;
For all their Thoughts, like Angels, seen of old
In Israel's Dream, come from, and go to, Heav'n:
Hence, are they studious of sequestred Scenes,
While Noise, and Dissipation, comfort Thee.

WERE all Men Happy, Revellings would cealed.
That Opiate for Inquietude within.
LORENZO! never Man was truly Bleff,
But it compos'd, and gave him fuch a Caft,
As Folly might mistake for Want of Joy;
A Cast, unlike the Triumph of the Proud;
A modest Aspect, and a Smile at Heart:
O for a Joy from thy Philander's Spring!
A Spring perennial, rising in the Breast,
And Permanent, as Pure! no turbid Stream
Of rapt'rous Exultation swelling high;
Which, like Land sloods, impetuous pour a-while,
Then sink at once, and leave us in the Mire:
What does the Man, who transient Joy prefers?
What, but prefer the Bubbles to the Stream?

VAIN are all sudden Sallies of Delight;
Convulsions of a weak, distemper'd Joy:
Joy's a fixt State; a Tenor, not a Start;
Bliss there is none, but unprecarious Bliss;
That is the Gem; Sell All, and purchase That:
Why go a-begging to Contingencies,
Not gain'd with Ease, nor safely lov'd, if gain'd?
At Good Fortuitous, draw back, and pause;
Suspect it; what thou canst insure, enjoy;

L 3

And nought but what thou giv'st thyself, is Sure: Reason perpetuates Joy that Reason gives, And makes it as Immortal as herself:

To Mortals, nought Immortal, but their Worth.

WORTH, conscious Worth! should absolutely reign; And other Joys ask Leave for their Approach; Nor, unexamin'd, ever Leave obtain.
Thou art all Anarchy; a Mob of Joys Wage War, and perish in intestine Broils; Not the least Promise of internal Peace!
No Bosom-Comfort! or unborrow'd Bliss!
Thy Thoughts are Vagabonds; All Outward-bound,

Mid Sands, and Rocks, and Storms, to cruize for Pleasure;

If gain'd, dear-bought; and better miss'd than gain'd;
Much Pain must expiate, what much Pain procur'd.

Fancy, and Sense, from an infected Shore,
Thy Cargo bring; and Pestilence, the Prize:
Then, Such thy Thirst (insatiable Thirst!
By fond Indulgence, but instam'd the more!)

Fancy still cruizes, when poor Sense is tir'd.

TMAGINATION is the Paphian Shop,
Where feeble Happiness, like Vulcan, Lame,
Bids foul Ideas, in their dark Recess,
And hot as Hell (which kindled the black Fires),
With wanton Art, those fatal Arrows form,
Which murder all thy Time, Health, Wealth, and Fame:

Wouldst thou receive them, Other Thoughts there are, On Angel-Wing, descending from Above, Which These, with Art divine, would counterwork, And form Celestial Armour for thy Peace.

In This is seen Imagination's Guilt;
But who can count her Follies? She betrays thee,
To think in Grandeur there is something Great.
For Works of curious Art, and antient Fame,

Thy

Thy Genius hungers, elegantly pain'd; And foreign Climes must cater for thy Taste. Hence, what Difaster?-Tho' the Price was paid, That perfecuting Prieft, the Turk of Rome, Whose Foot (ye Gods!), tho' cloven, must be kis'd, Detain'd thy Dinner, on the Latian Shore; (Such is the Fate of honest Protestants!) And poor Magnificence is flary'd to Death. Hence, just Resentment, Indignation, Ire!-Be pacify'd; if outward Things are Great, 'Tis Magnanimity Great Things to fcorn; Pompous Expences, and Parades august, And Courts; that infalubrious Soil to Peace. True Happiness ne'er enter'd at an Eye; True Happiness resides in Things unseen: No Smiles of Fortune ever blest the Bad, Nor can her Frowns rob Innocence of Joys; That Jewel wanting, Triple Crowns are poor; So tell his Holinefs, and be Reveng'd.

PLEASURE, we both agree, is Man's chief Good; Our only Contest, What deserves the Name. Give Pleasure's Name to nought, but what has pass'd Th' authentic Seal of Reason, (which, like YORK, Demurrs on what it passes) and defies The Tooth of Time; when pass'd, a Pleasure still; Dearer on Trial, Lovelier for its Age, And doubly to be priz'd, as it promotes Our Future, while it forms our Present, Joy. Some Joys the Future overcast; and some Throw all their Beams that Way, and gild the Tomb: Some Joys endear Eternity; some give Abhorr'd Annihilation dreadful Charms. Are rival Joys contending for thy Choice? Consult thy whole Existence, and be safe; That Oracle will put all Doubt to Flight.

Short

Short is the Lesson, tho' my Lecture long, Be Good—and let Heav'n answer for the rest.

YET, with a Sigh o'er all Mankind, I grant, In this our Day of Proof, our Land of Hope, The Good Man has his Clouds that intervene; Clouds, that obscure his sublunary Day, But never conquer: Ev'n the Best must own, Patience, and Resignation, are the Pillars Of human Peace on Earth. The Pillars, These; But those of Seth not more remote from Thee, Till this Heroick Lesson thou hast learnt; To frown at Pleasure, and to smile in Pain, Fir'd at the Prospect of unclouded Bliss. Heav'n, in Reversion, like the Sun, as yet Beneath th' Horizon, chears us in this World; It sheds, on Souls susceptible of Light, The glorious Dawn of our Eternal Day.

" THIS (fays LORENZO) is a fair Harangue;

But can Harangues blow back strong Nature's "Stream?

" Or stem the Tide Heav'n pushes thro' our Veins,

"Which sweeps away Man's impotent Resolves,

"And lays his Labour level with the World?"

THEMSELVES Men make their Comment on Mankind;

And think nought is, but what they find at Home: Thus, Weakness to Chimæras turns the Wise. Nothing romantic has the Muse prescrib'd.

* Above, Lorenzo saw the Man of Earth,
The Mortal Man; and wretched was the Sight:
To balance That, to comfort, and exalt,
Now see the Man Immortal: Him, I mean,
Who lives as Such; whose Heart, full-bent on Heav'n,
Leans all that Way, his Bias to the Stars:

In a former Night.

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c.

The World's dark Shades, in Contrast set, shall raise.

His Lustre more; tho' Bright, without a Foil:

Observe his awful Portrait, and admire;

Nor stop at Wonder; Imitate, and Live.

Some Angel guide my Pencil, while I draw, What nothing less than Angel can exceed, A Man on Earth devoted to the Skies, Like Ships in Seas, while in, above, the World.

WITH Aspect mild, and elevated Eye,
Behold him seated on a Mount serene,
Above the Fogs of Sense, and Passon's Storm;
All the black Cares, and Tumults, of This Life,
Like harmless Thunders, breaking at his Feet,
Excite his Pity, not impair his Peace:
Earth's genuine Sons, the Sceptred, and the Slave,
A mingled Mob! a wandring Herd! he sees
Bewilder'd in the Vale; in All unlike!
His full Reverse in All! What higher Praise?
What stronger Demonstration of the Right?

The Present all Their Care, the Future, His.
When Public Welfare calls, or Private Want,
They give to Fame; His Bounty He conceals:
Their Virtues varnish Nature; His, exalt:
Mankind's Esteem They court; and He, his Own:
Theirs, the wild Chase of false Felicities;
His, the compos'd Possession of the true:
Alike throughout is His consistent Peace,
All of one Colour, and an even Thread;
While party-colour'd Shreds of Happiness,
With hideous Gaps between, patch up for Them
A Madman's Robe; each Puss of Fortune blows
The Tatters by, and shews their Nakedness.

He sees with other Eyes, than Theirs: Where They Behold a Sun, He spies a Deity; What makes Them only Smile, makes Him Adore? Where They see Mountains, He but Atoms sees;

An Empire, in His Balance, weighs a Grain: They Things Terrestrial worship, as Divine; His Hopes Immortal blow them by, as Duft, That dims his Sight, and shortens his Survey, Which longs, in Infinite, to lose all Bound: Titles and Honours (if they prove his Fate) He lays aside, to find his Dignity; No Dignity They find in ought besides: They triumph in Externals (which conceal Man's real Glory), proud of an Eclipse; Himself too much He prizes, to be Proud, And nothing thinks fo great in Man, as Man: Too dear He holds his Int'rest, to neglect Another's Welfare, or his Right invade; Their Int'rest, like a Lion's, lives on Prey: They kindle at the Shadow of a Wrong; Wrong He sustains with Temper, looks on Heav'n, Nor stoops to think his Injurer, his Foe; Nought, but what wounds his Virtue, wounds his Peace:

A cover'd Heart Their Character defends;
A cover'd Heart denies Him half his Praise:
With Nakedness His Innocence agrees;
While Their broad Foliage testifies their Fall:
Their No-Joys end, where His full Feast begins;
His Joys create, Theirs murder, future Bliss:
To triumph in Existence, His alone;
And His alone, triumphantly to think
His true Existence is not yet begun:
His glorious Course was, Yesterday, complete;
Death, then, was welcome, yet Life still is Sweet.

But nothing charms LORENZO, like the firm,
Undaunted Breast—And whose is that high Praise t
They yield to Pleasure, tho' they Danger brave,
And shew no Fortitude, but in the Field;
If there they shew it, 'tis for Glory shown;

Nor will that Cordial always man Their Hearts:
A Cordial His sustains, that cannot fail:
By Pleasure unsubdu'd, unbroke by Pain,
He shares in that Omnipotence he trusts;
All-bearing, All-attempting, till he falls,
And when he falls, writes VICI on his Shield;
From Magnanimity, all Fear above;
From nobler Recompence, above Applause;
Which owes to Man's short Out-look all its Charms.

BACKWARD to credit what he never felt,
LORENZO cries,—" Where shines this Miracle?
"From what Root rises this Immortal Man?"
A Root that grows not in LORENZO's Ground;
The Root dissect, nor wonder at the Flow'r.

He follows Nature (not like * Thee), and shews us An uninverted System of a Man: His Appetite wears Reason's golden Chain, And finds, in due Restraint, its Luxury; His Passion, like an Eagle well-reclaim'd, Is taught to fly at nought, but Infinite; Patient his Hope, un-anxious is his Care, His Caution fearless, and his Grief (if Grief The Gods ordain) a Stranger to Despair: And why?-Because Affection, more than meet, His Wisdom leaves not disengag'd from Heav'n: Those secondary Goods that smile on Earth, He, loving, in Proportion, loves in Peace; They most the World enjoy, who least admire: His Understanding 'scapes the common Cloud Of Fumes, arising from a boiling Breast; His Head is clear, because his Heart is cool, By worldly Competitions uninflam'd: The mod'rate Movements of his Soul admit-Distinct Ideas, and matur'd Debate,

An Eye impartial, and an even Scale;
Whence Judgment found, and unrepenting Choice:
Thus, in a double Sense, the Good are wise;
On its own Dunghil, wifer than the World;
What, then, the World? It must be doubly weak;
Strange Truth! as soon would they believe the Creed.

YET thus it is; nor otherwise can be; So far from aught Romantic, what I fing: Blis has no Being, Virtue has no Strength. But from the Prospect of immortal Life. Who think Earth All, or (what weighs just the same) Who care no farther, must prize what it yields; Fond of its Fancies, proud of its Parades: Who thinks Earth Nothing, can't its Charms admire; He can't a Foe, tho' most malignant, hate, Because that Hate would prove his Greater Foe: 'Tis hard for Them (yet who so loudly boast Good will to Men?) to love their dearest Friend; For may he not invade their Good Supreme, Where the least Jealoufy turns Love to Gall? All shines to Them, that for a Season shines: Each Act, each Thought, He questions, " What its " Weight;

And what it there appears, he deems it now:
Hence, facred the Recesses of his Soul;
The God like Man has nothing to conceal;
His Virtue, constitutionally deep,
Has Habit's Firmness, and Affection's Flame;
Angels, allied, descend to feed the Fire:
And Death, which others slays, makes Him a God.

AND, now, LORENZO! Bigot of this World!
Wont to diffain poor Bigots caught by Heav'n!
Stand by thy Scorn, and be redue'd to Nought:
For what art Thou?—Thou Boafter! While thy Glare,
Thy gaudy Grandeur, and mere worldly Worth,

Like

Like a broad Mist, at Distance, strikes us most;
And, like a Mist, is Nothing when at hand;
His Merit, like a Mountain, on Approach,
Swells more, and rises nearer to the Skies,
By Promise now, and, by Possession, soon,
(Too soon, too much, it cannot be) his Own.

FROM this thy just Annihilation rise,

LORENZO! rife to Something, by Reply;

The World, thy Client, listens, and expects;

And longs to crown thee with immortal Praise:

Canst thou be filent? No, for Wit is Thine;

And Wit talks most, when least she has to say,

And Reason interrupts not her Career:

She'll say—That Mists above the Mountains rise;

And, with a thousand Pleasantries, amuse;

She'll sparkle, puzzle, slutter, raise a Dust,

And sly Conviction, in the Dust she rais'd.

WIT, how delicious to Man's dainty Tafte?-'Tis precious, as the Vehicle of Sense; But, as its Substitute, a dire Disease: Pernicious Talent! Flatter'd by Mankind, Yet hated too; they think the Talent rare. Wisdom is rare, LORENZO! Wit abounds; Passion can give it; sometimes Wine inspires The lucky Flash; and Madness rarely fails. Whatever Cause the Spirit strongly stirs, Confers the Bays, and rivals thy Renown; For thy Renown, 'twere well, was This the worst; Chance often hits it; and, to pique thee more, See Dulness, blundering on Vivacities, Shakes her Sage Head at the Calamity, Which has expos'd, and let her down to Thee. But Wisdom, awful Wisdom! which inspects, Discerns, compares, weighs, separates, infers, Seizes the Right, and holds it to the last; How Rare? In Senates, Synods, fought in vain;

Whom dull Fools fcorn, and blefs their Want of Wit. How ruinous the Rock I warn thee shun. Where Syrens fit, to fing thee to thy Fate? A Joy, in which our Reason bears no Part, Is but a Sorrow tickling, e'er it stings. Let not the Cooings of the World allure thee = Which of her Lovers ever found her True? Happy! of this bad World who Little know :-And yet, we much must know her, to be Safe : To know the World, not love her, is thy Point : She gives but Little; nor that Little, long: There is, I grant, a Triumph of the Pulse; A Dance of Spirits, a mere Froth of Joy. Our thoughtles Agitation's idle Child. That mantles high, that sparkles, and expires, Leaving the Soul more vapid than before; An animal Ovation! fuch as holds No Commerce with our Reason, but sublists On Juices, thro' the well-ton'd Tubes, well-strain'd's A nice Machine! scarce ever tun'd aright ; And And when it jars—thy Syrens fing no more, Thy Dance is done; the Demi-god is thrown (Short Apotheofis!) beneath the Man; In coward Gloom immers'd, or fell Despair.

ART thou yet Dull enough Despair to dread,
And startle at Destruction? If thou art,
Accept a Buckler, take it to the Field;
(A Field of Battle is this mortal Life!)
When Danger threatens, lay it on thy Heart;
A single Sentence Proof against the World:
"Soul, Body, Fortune! ev'ry Good pertains
"To One of these; but prize not All alike;
"The Goods of Fortune, to thy Body's Health.

" Body to Soul, and Soul submit to God:"
Wouldst thou build lasting Happiness? Do This;

Th' inverted Pyramid can never stand.

Is this Truth doubtful? It outshines the Sun;
Nay, the Sun shines not, but to shew us This,
The single Lesson of Mankind on Earth:
And yet—Yet, what? No News! Mankind is mad;
Such mighty Numbers list against the Right,
(And what can't Numbers, when bewitch'd, atchieve?),
They talk themselves to Something like Belief,
That all Earth's Joys are Theirs: As Atbens' Fool
Grinn'd from the Port, on ev'ry Sail his Own.

THEY grin, but wherefore? And how long the

Half Ignorance, their Mirth; and Half, a Lye;
To cheat the World, and cheat Themselves, they Smile;
Hard either Task! The most Abandon'd own,
That Others, if Abandon'd, are undone;
Then, for Themselves, the Moment Reason wakes
(And Providence denies it long Repose),
O how laborious is their Gaiety?
They scarce can swallow their ebullient Spleen,
Scarce muster Patience to support the Farce,

And

And pump sad Laughter, till the Curtain salls: Scarce, did I say? Some cannot sit it out; Oft their own daring Hands the Curtain draw, And shew us what their Joy, by their Despair.

The clotted Hair! gor'd Breast! blaspheming Eye! Its impious Fury still alive in Death! Shut, shut the shocking Scene.—But Heav'n denies A Cover to such Guilt; and so should Man: Look round, Lorenzo! see the reeking Blade; Th' invenom'd Phial, and the satal Ball; The strangling Cord, and suffocating Stream; The loathsome Rottenness, and soul Decays From raging Riot (slower Suicides!); And Pride in these, more execrable still!—
How horrid All to Thought?—But Horrors, these, That youch the Truth; and aid my feeble Song.

FROM Vice, Sense, Fancy, no Man can be bleft; Blis is too great, to lodge within an Hour; When an Immortal Being aims at Blifs. Duration is effential to the Name: O for a loy from Reason! Joy from That, Which makes Man, Man; and, exercis'd aright, Will make him more : A Bounteous Joy! that gives, And promises; that weaves, with Art divine. The richest Prospect into present Peace: A Joy Ambitious! Joy in common held With Thrones ethereal, and their Greater far: A Joy high-privileg'd from Chance, Time, Death! A Joy, which Death shall double! Judgment, crown! Crown'd higher, and still higher, at each Stage, Thro' bleft Eternity's long Day; yet still, Not more remote from Sorrow, than from Him, Whose lavish Hand, whose Love stupendous, pours So much of Deity on guilty Dust: There, O my Lucia! may I meet thee There, Where not Thy Presence can improve my Blis.

AFFECTS not This the Sages of the World? Can nought affect them, but what fools them too? Eternity, depending on an Hour, Makes ferious Thought Man's Wisdom, Joy, and Praise: Nor need you blush (tho' sometimes your Designs May shun the Light) at your Defigns on Heav'n; Sole Point! where over-bashful is your Blame. Are you not Wife? - You know you are: Yet hear One Truth, amid your num'rous Schemes, mislaid, Or overlook'd, or thrown afide, if Seen; " Our Schemes to plan by This World, or the Next, " Is the fole Diff'rence between Wife, and Fool:" All worthy Men will weigh you in this Scale; What Wonder, then, if They pronounce you light? Is their Esteem alone not worth your Care? Accept my fimple Scheme of Common-Sense; Thus, fave your Fame, and make Two Worlds your Own.

The World replies not;—but the World persists;
And puts the Cause off to the longest Day,
Planning Evasions for the Day of Doom;
So far, at that Re-bearing, from Redress,
They then turn Witnesses against Themselves:
Hear That, Lorenzo! nor be Wise To-morrow:
Haste, Haste! a Man, by Nature, is in Haste;
For who shall answer for another Hour?
'Tis highly prudent, to make One sure Friend;
And that thou canst not do, this Side the Skies.

YE Sons of Earth! (nor willing to be more!)
Since Verse you think from Priestcraft somewhat free,
Thus, in an Age so gay, the Muse plain Truths (Truths, which, at Church, you might have heard in Prose)

Has ventur'd into Light; well-pleas'd the Verse Should be forgot, if you the Truths retain; And crown her with your Welfare, not your Praise:

But

But Praise she need not sear; I see my fate;
And headlong leap, like Curtius, down the Gulph Since many an ample Volume, mighty Tome,
Must die; and die Unwept; O Thou minute,
Devoted Page! go forth among thy Foes;
Go, nobly proud of Martyrdom for Truth,
And die a double Death: Mankind, incens'd,
Denies thee long to live: Nor shalt thou rest,
When thou art Dead; in Stygian Shades arraign'd
By Lucifer, as Traitor to his Throne;
And bold Blasphemer of his Friend,—The World;
The World, whose Legions cost Him slender Pay,
And Volunteers, around his Banner swarm;
Prudent, as Prussia, in her Zeal for Gaul.

"ARE All, then, Fools?" LORENZO cries—Yes, All, But such as hold this Doctrine, (new to Thee)
"The Mother of true Wisdom is the Will;"
The noblest Intellect, a Fool without it;
World Wisdom Much has done, and More may do,
In Arts and Sciences, in Wars, and Peace;
But Art and Science, like thy Wealth, will leave thee,
And make thee Twice a Beggar at thy Death.
This is the most Indulgence can afford,
Thy Wisdom All can do, but—make thee Wise.
Nor think this Censure is severe on Thee;
Thy Master, Satar, I dare call a Dunce.

Then, chears his Heart with what his Fate affords, And chaunts his Sonnet to deceive the Time, Till the due Season calls him to Repose:
Thus I, long travell'd in the Ways of Men, And dancing, with the rest, the giddy Maze, Where Disappointment smiles at Hope's Career, Warn'd by the Languor of Life's Ev'ning Ray, At length, have hous'd me in an humble Shed; Where, suture Wand'ring banish'd from my Thought, And waiting, patient, the sweet Hour of Rest; I chase the Moments with a serious Song:
Song sooths our Pains; and Age has Pains to sooth.

WHEN Age, Care, Crime, and Friends embrac'd at Heart.

Torn from my bleeding Breast, and Death's dark Shade, Which hovers o'er me, quench th' ethereal Fire; Canst thou, O Night! indulge One Labour more? One Labour more indulge: Then sleep, my Strain! Till, haply, wak'd by Raphael's golden Lyre, Where Night, Death, Age, Care, Crime, and Sorrow cease,

To bear a Part in everlasting Lays; Tho' far, far higher set, in Aim, I trust, Symphonious to this humble Prelude bere.

Has not the Muse afferted Pleasures pure,
Like those Above; exploding other Joys?
Weigh what was urg'd, Lorenzo! Fairly weigh;
And tell me, hast thou Cause to triumph still?
I think, thou wilt forbear a Boast so bold:
But if, beneath the Favour of Mistake,
Thy Smile's sincere; not more sincere can be
Lorenzo's Smile, than my Compassion for him.
The Sick in Body call for Aid; the Sick
In Mind are covetous of more Disease;
And, when at worst, they dream themselves quite well:
To know ourselves diseas'd, is Half our Cure.
When

When Nature's Blush by Custom is wip'd off, And conscience, deaden'd by repeated Strokes, Has into Manners nat'raliz'd our Crimes; The Curse of Curses is, our Curse to love; To triumph in the Blackness of our Guilt (As Indians glory in the deepest Jet,) And throw aside our Senses with our Peace.

BUT, grant no Guilt, no Shame, no least Alloy; Grant Joy and Glory, quite unfully'd, shone: Yet, still, it ill deserves Lorenzo's Heart: No Joy, no Glory, glitters in thy Sight, But thro' the thin Partition of an Hour, I see its Sables wove by Destiny, And that in Sorrow bury'd; this, in Shame; While howling Furies ring the doleful Knell; And Conscience, now so soft, thou scarce canst hear Her Whisper, echoes their eternal Peal.

WHERE, the prime Actors of the last Year's Scene; Their Port so proud, their Buskin, and their Plume? How many sleep, who kept the World awake. With Lustre, and with Noise? Has Death proclaim'd A Trus, and hung his sated Lance on high? 'Tis brandish'd still; nor shall the present Year Be more tenacious of her human Leaf, Or spread of feeble Life a thinner Fall.

But, needless, Monuments to wake the Thought;
Life's gayest Scenes speak Man's Mortality;
Tho' in a Style more florid, full as plain,
As Mausoleums, Pyramids, and Tombs.
What are our noblest Ornaments, but Deaths
Turn'd Flatterers of Life, in Paint, or Marble,
The well-stain'd Canvas, or the featur'd Stone?
Our Fathers grace, or rather haunt, the Scene;
Joy peoples her Pavilion from the Dead.

" Profest Diversions! cannot These escape?"Far from it: These present us with a Shroud;

And talk of Death, like Garlands o'er a Grave. 'As some bold Plunderers, for bury'd Wealth, We ransack Tombs for Passime; from the Dust Call up the sleeping Hero; bid him tread The Scene for our Amusement: How like Gods We sit; and, wrapt in Immortality, Shed gen'rous Tears on Wretches born to die; Their Fate deploring, to forget our Own! What, all the Pomps, and Triumphs of our Lives, But Legacies in Blossom? Our lean Soil, Luxuriant grown, and rank in Vanities, From Friends interr'd beneath; a rich Manure! Like other Worms, we banquet on the Dead; Like other Worms, shall we crawl on, nor know Our present Frailties, or approaching Fate?

LORENZO! fuch the Glories of the World! What is the World itself? Thy World?—a Grave! Where is the Dust that has not been alive? The Spade, the Plough, diffurb our Ancestors; From human Mould we reap our daily Bread: The Globe around Earth's hollow Surface shakes. And is the Ceiling of her fleeping Sons O'er Devastation we blind Revels keep; Whole bury'd Towns support the Dancer's Heel: The Moift of human Frame the Sun exhales; Winds scatter, thro' the mighty Void, the Dry; Earth re-possesses Part of what she gave, And the freed Spirit mounts on Wings of Fire; Each Element partakes our scatter'd Spoils; As Nature wide, our Ruins spread: Man's Death Inhabits all Things, but the Thought of Man.

Nor Man alone; his breathing Bust expires;
His Tomb is mortal; Empires die: Where, now,
The Roman? Greek? They stalk an empty Name!
Yet Few regard them in this useful Light;
Tho' Half our Learning is their Epitaph.

When

When down thy Vale, unlock'd by Midnight Thought, That loves to wander in thy Sunless Realms, O Death! I stretch my View; what Visions rise! What Triumphs! Toils imperial! Arts divine! In wither'd Laurels, glide before my Sight? What Lengths of far-fam'd Ages, billow'd-high With human Agitation, roll along In unsubstantial Images of Air? The melancholy Ghosts of dead Renown, Whisp'ring faint Echoes of the World's Applause, With penitential Aspect, as they pass, All point at Earth, and his at human Pride, The Wisdom of the Wise, and Prancings of the Great.

But, O Lorenzo I far the rest above,
Of ghastly Nature, and enormous Size,
One Form assaults my Sight, and chills my Blood,
And shakes my Frame: Of One departed World
I see the mighty Shadow; Oozy Wreath
And dismal Sea weed crown her; o'er her Urn
Reclin'd, she weeps her desolated Realms,
And bloated Sons; and, weeping, prophesies
Another's Dissolution, soon, in Flames;
But, like Cassandra, prophesies in vain;
In vain, to Many; not, I trust, to Thee.

For, know'st thou not, or art thou loth to know, The great Decree, the Counsel of the Skies, Deluge and Conflagration, dreadful Pow'rs! Prime Ministers of Vengeance! Chain'd in Caves Distinct, apart the Giant-Furies roar; Apart; or, such their horrid Rage for Ruin, In mutual Conslict would they rise, and wage Eternal War, till One was quite devour'd: But not for This, ordain'd their boundless Rage; When Heav'n's inferior Instruments of Wrath, War, Famine, Pestilence, are sound too weak To scourge a World for her enormous Crimes:

These are let loose, alternate: Down they rush, Swift and tempestuous, from th' eternal Throne, With irresistible Commission arm'd, The World, in vain corrected, to destroy, And ease Creation of the shocking Scene.

SEEST thou, LORENZO! what depends on Man? The Fate of Nature; as, for Man, her Birth:

Earth's Actors change Earth's transitory Scenes,
And make Creation groan with human Guilt:
How must it groan, in a new Deluge whelm'd;
But not of Waters? At the destin'd Hour,
By the loud Trumpet summon'd to the Charge,
See, all the formidable Sons of Fire,
Eruptions, Earthquakes, Comets, Lightnings, play
Their various Engines; All at once disgorge
Their blazing Magazines; and take, by Storm,
This poor terrestrial Citadel of Man.

AMAZING Period! when each Mountain-Height Out-burns Vesuvius; Rocks eternal pour Their melted Mass, as Rivers once they pour'd: Stars rush; and final Ruin fiercely drives Her Ploughshare o'er Creation !- While aloft, More than Astonishment! if more can be! Far other Firmament than e'er was feen. Than e'er was thought by Man! Far other Stars! Stars animate, that govern these of Fire; Far other Sun! - A Sun, O how unlike The Babe at Betble'm? How unlike the Man That groan'd on Calvary? -- Yet He it is; That Man of Sorrows! O how chang'd? What Pomp? In Grandeur Terrible, All Heav'n descends! And Gods, ambitious, triumph in His Train. As Monarchs grand, on Coronation-Days, Omnipotence affects Omnipotence; Wears all his Glories; marshals all his Pow'rs; Their State imblazes! Deity exalts! A fwift A fwift Archangel, with his golden Wing,
As Blots and Clouds, that darken and difgrace.
The Scene divine, sweeps Stars and Suns aside:
And now, all Dross remov'd, Heav'n's own pure Day,
Full on the Consines of our Æther, slames:
While (dreadful Contrast!) far, how far beneath!
Hell, bursting, belches forth her blazing Seas,
And Storms sulphureous; her voracious Jaws
Expanding wide, and roaring for her Prey.

LORENZO! welcome to this Scene; the Last
In Nature's Course; the First in Wisdom's Thought;
This strikes, if aught can strike thee; This awakes
The most Supine; This snatches Man from Death.
Rouze, rouze, Lorenzo! then, and follow me,
Where Truth, the most momentous Man can hear,
Loud calls my Soul, and Ardor wings her Flight.
I find my Inspiration in my Theme;
The Grandeur of my Subject is my Muse.

AT Midnight, when Mankind is wrapt in Peace, And worldly Fancy feeds on golden Dreams, To give more Dread to Man's most dreadful Hour; At Midnight, 'tis prefum'd, this Pomp will burft From tenfold Da 1206; fudden as the Spark From smitten Steel from nitrous Grain, the Blaze. Man, starting from his Couch, shall sleep no more! The Day is broke, which never more shall close! Above, around, beneath, Amazement All! Terror and Glory join'd in their Extremes! Our GOD in Grandeur, and our World on Fire! All Nature struggling in the Pangs of Death! Doft thou not hear her? Doft thou not deplore Her ftrong Convulsions, and her final Groan? Where are we now? Ah me! The Ground is gone On which we flood, LORENZO! While thou may'ft, Provide more firm Support, or fink for Ever!

Where? How? From whence? Vain Hope! It is too

Where, where, for Shelter, shall the Guilty sly, When Consternation turns the Good Man pale?

GREAT Day! for which all Other Days were made; For which Earth role from Chaos; Man from Earth; And an Eternity, the Date of Gods, Descended on poor Earth-created Man! Great Day of Dread, Decision, and Despair! At Thought of Thee, each fublunary Wish Lets go its eager Grasp, and drops the World; And catches at each Reed of Hope in Heav'n: At Thought of Thee! - And art Thou absent, then? LORENZO! No; 'tis Here; -it is begun; -Already is begun the Grand Affize, In Thee, in All: Deputed Conscience scales The dread Tribunal, and forestalls our Doom; Forestalls; and, by forestalling, proves it Sure. Why on Himself should Man word Judgment pass? Is idle Nature laughing at her Sons? Who Conscience sent, her Sentence will support, And GOD Above affert That God in Man.

Heav'n opens in their Bosoms: But, how rare,
Ah me! that Magnanimity, how rare?
What Hero, like the Man who stands Himself?
Who dares to meet his naked Heart alone?
Who hears, intrepid, the full Charge it brings,
Resolv'd to silence suture Murmurs There?
The Coward slies; and, slying, is undone;
(Art Thou a Coward? No): The Coward slies;
Thinks, but thinks slightly; asks, but sears to know;
Asks, "What is Truth"? with PILATE; and retires;
Dissolves the Court, and mingles with the Throng;
Asylum sad! from Reason, Hope, and Heav'n.

SHALL All, but Man, look out with ardent Eye, For that Great Day, which was ordain'd for Man? O Day of Consummation! Mark supreme (If Men are wise) of human Thought! nor least, Or in the Sight of Angels, or their KING! Angels, whose radiant Circles, Height o'er Height, Order o'er Order, rising, Blaze o'er Blaze, As in a Theatre, surround This Scene, Intent on Man, and anxious for his Fate.

Angels look out for Thee: For Thee, their LORD, To vindicate His Glory, and for Thee, Creation universal calls aloud,
To dis involve the moral World, and give To Nature's Renovation brighter Charms.

SHALL Man alone, whose Fate, whose final Fate, Hangs on That Hour, exclude it from his Thought? I think of nothing else; I see! I feel it! All Nature, like an Earthquake, trembling round! All Deities, like Summer's Swarms, on Wing! All basking in the full Meridian Blaze! I fee the JUDGE inthron'd! The flaming Guard! The Volume open'd! Open'd every Heart! A Sun-Beam pointing out each fecret Thought! No Patron! Intercessor none! Now past The fweet, the clement, Mediatorial Hour! For Guilt no Plea! To Pain, no Pause! no Bound! Inexorable, All! and All, Extreme! Nor Man alone; the Foe of God and Man. From his Dark Den, blaspheming, drags his Chain. And rears his brazen Front, with Thunder fcarr'd; Receives his Sentence, and begins his Hell. All Vengeance past, now, seems abundant Grace! Like Meteors in a stormy Sky, how roll His baleful Eyes? He curses Whom he dreads; And deems it the First Moment of his Fall.

"Tis present to my Thought! - And, yet, where is it? Angels can't tell me; Angels cannot quess The Period; from created Beings lock'd In Darkness: But the Process and the Place Are less obscure; for These may Man inquire. Say. Thou great Close of human Hopes and Fears! Great Key of Hearts! Great Finisher of Fates! Great End! and Great Beginning! Say, Where art Thou?

Art Thou in Time, or in Eternity? Nor in Eternity, nor Time, I find Thee: These, as Two Monarchs, on their Borders meet. (Monarchs of All elaps'd, or un-arriv'd!) As in Debate, how best their Pow'rs ally'd. May swell the Grandeur, or discharge the Wrath, Of HIM, whom both their Monarchies obey.

Time, (this vast Fabric for him built, and doom'd With him to fall) now burfting o'er his Head; His Lamp, the Sun, extinguish'd; from beneath The Frown of hideous Darkness, calls his Sons From their long Slumber; from Earth's heaving Womb To fecond Birth; contemporary Throng! Rouz'd at One Call; upftarting from One Bed; Prest in One Croud; appall'd with One Amaze; He turns them o'er, Eternity! to thee: Then (as a King depos'd disdains to live). He falls on his own Scythe; nor falls alone; His greatest Foe falls with him; Time, and He Who murder'd all Time's Offspring, Death, expire.

TIME was! ETERNITY now reigns alone! Awful Eternity! offended Queen! And her Resentment to Mankind, how just? With kind Intent folliciting Access, How often has the knock'd at human Hearts? Rich to repay their Hospitality, How often call'd? and, with the Voice of GoD?

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c.

Yet bore Repulse, excluded as a Cheat!

A Dream! while foulest Foes found Welcome there?

A Dream, a Cheat, now, all Things, but ber Smile.

For, lo! her twice Ten thousand Gates thrown wide, As thrice from Indus to the frozen Pole. With Banners, streaming as the Comet's Blaze, And Clarions, louder than the Deep in Storms, Sonorous, as immortal Breath can blow, Pour forth their Myriads, Potentates, and Pow'rs, Of Light, of Darkness; in a middle Field. Wide, as Creation! populous, as wide! A neutral Region! there to mark th' Event Of that great Drama, whose preceding Scenes Detain'd them close Spectators, thro' a Length Of Ages, rip'ning to this grand Refult;

Ages, as yet un-number'd, but by GoD; Who now, pronouncing Sentence, vindicates

The Rights of Virtue, and His own Renown.

Eternity, the various Sentence past, Assigns the sever'd Throng distinct Abodes,. Sulphureous, or Ambrofial: What enfues? The Deed predominant! the Deed of Deeds ! That makes a Hell of Hell, a Heav'n of Heav'n. The Goddess, with determin'd Aspect, turns Her adamantine Key's enormous Size Thro' Deftiny's inextricable Wards,. Deep-driving ev'ry Bolt, on Both their Fates; Then, from the Crystal Battlements of Heav'n, Down, down, she hurls it thro' the dark Profound, Ten thousand thousand Fathom; there to rust; And ne'er unlock her Resolution more. The Deep resounds, and Hell, thro' all her Glooms

Returns, in Groans, the melancholy Roar.

O now unlike the Chorus of the Skies? O how unlike those Shouts of Joy, that shake The whole Ethereal? How the Concave rings? M 3.

Nor strange! when Deities their Voice exalt;
And louder far, than when Creation rose,
To see Creation's godlike Aim, and End,
So well accomplish'd! so divinely clos'd!
To see the mighty Dramatist's last Act
(As meet) in Glory rising o'er the rest:
No sancy'd God, a GOD indeed, descends,
To solve all Knots; to strike the Moral home;
To throw sull Day on darkest Scenes of Time;
To clear, commend, exalt, and crown, the Whole:
Hence, in one Peal of loud, eternal Praise,
The charm'd Spectators thunder their Applause,
And the vast Void beyond, Applause resounds.

WHAT THEN AM I?

Amidst applauding Worlds, And Worlds celestial, is there found on Earth, A peevish, dissonant, rebellious String, Which jars in the grand Chorus, and Complains? Censure on Thee, LORENZO! I suspend, And turn it on Myself; how greatly due? All, All is Right, by God ordain'd, or done; And who, but God, resum'd the Friends He gave? And have I been Complaining, then, fo long? Complaining of His Favours; Pain, and Death? Who, without Pain's Advice, would e'er be Good? Who, without Death, but would be Good in vain? Pain is to fave from Pain! All Punishment. To make for Peace! and Death to fave from Death; And Second Death, to guard immortal Life; To rouze the Careless, the Presumptuous awe, And turn the Tide of Souls another Way; By the same Tenderness Divine ordain'd, That planted Eden, and high-bloom'd for Man, A fairer Eden, endless in the Skies.

HEAV'N gives us Friends to bless the present Scene; Resumes them, to prepare us for the next:

All Evils Natural are Moral Goods; All Discipline, Indulgence, on the Whole. None are unhappy; All have Cause to smile, But fuch as to Themselves That Cause deny: Our Faults are at the Bottom of our Pains; Error, in A&, or Judgment, is the Source Of endless Sighs: We fin, or we mistake, And Nature tax, when falle Opinion flings. Let impious Grief be banish'd, Joy indulg'd. But chiefly then, when Grief puts in her Claim: Joy from the Joyous, frequently betrays, Oft lives in Vanity, and dies in Woe: Joy, amidst Ills, corroborates, exalts; 'Tis Joy, and Conquest; Joy, and Virtue too: A noble Fortitude in Ills, delights Heav'n, Earth, Ourselves; 'tis Duty, Glory, Peace. Affiction is the Good Man's shining Scene; Prosperity conceals his brightest Ray; As Night to Stars, Woe Luftre gives to Man: Heroes in Battle, Pilots in the Storm, And Virtue in Calamities, admire. The Crown of Manhood is a Winter-Joy; An Evergreen, that stands the Northern Blast, And bloffoms in the Rigour of our Fate.

'Tis a prime Part of Happiness, to know
How much Unhappiness must prove our Lot;
A Part which sew possess! I'll pay Life's Tax,
Without one rebel Murmur, from this Hour,
Nor think it Misery to be a Man;
Who thinks it is, shall never be a God.
Some Ills we wish for, when we wish to live.

WHAT spoke proud Passion? _ " Wish my Being " lost!"

Presumptuous! Blasphemous! Absurd! and False!

The Triumph of my Soul is, That I am; And therefore that I may be-What? LORENZOF Look Inward, and look Deep; and deeper still; Unfathomably deep our Treasure runs In golden Veins, thro' all Eternity! Ages, and Ages, and succeeding still New Ages, where this Phantom of an Hour, Which courts, each Night, dull Slumber for Repair, Shall wake, and wonder, and exult, and praise, And fly thro' Infinite, and All unlock : And (if deserv'd) by Heav'n's redundant Love, Made half-adorable itself, adore, And find, in Adoration, endless Joy! Where Thou, not Master of a Moment bere, Frail as the Flow'r, and fleeting as the Gale, May'ft boaft a whole Eternity, inrich'd With All a kind Omnipotence can pour : Since ADAM fell, no Mortal, un-inspir'd, Has ever yet conceiv'd, or ever shall, How Kind is GOD, how Great (if Good) is MAN. No Man too largely from His Love can hope, If what is bop'd he labours to secure.

ILLS?—There are none: All-Gracious! none from.
Thee;

From Man full Many t Num'rous is the Race.

Of blackest Ills, and those Immortal too,
Begot by Madness on fair Liberty;
Heav'n's Daughter, Hell-debauch'd! Her Hand alone
Unlocks Destruction to the Sons of Men,
Fast barr'd by Thine; high-wall'd with Adamant,
Guarded with Terrors reaching to this World,
And cover'd with the Thunders of Thy Law;
Whose Threats are Mercies, whose Injunctions, Guides,
Assisting, not restraining, Reason's Choice;
Whose Sanctions, unavoidable Results
From Nature's Course, indulgently reveal'd;

IF

If unreveal'd, more Dang'rous, nor less Sure.

Thus, an indulgent Father warns his Son,

"Do This; Fly That"—nor always tells the Cause;

Pleas'd to reward, as Duty to his Will,

A Conduct needful to their own Repose.

GREAT GOD of Wonders! (if, Thy Love furvey'd. Aught else the Name of Wonderful retains) What Rocks are Thefe, on which to build our Truft? Thy Ways admit no Blemish; none I find; Of This alone - "That none is to be found." Not One, to fosten Censure's hardy Crime; Not One, to palliate peevish Grief's COMPLAINT. Who, like a Damon, murm'ring from the Duft, Dares into Judgment call her Judge. - SUPREME! For All I bless Thee; Most, for the Sewere; Her Death *- my own at Hand-the fiery Gulph, That flaming Bound of Wrath Omnipotent! It thunders ;- but it thunders to preserve; It strengthens what it strikes; its wholesome Dread Averts the dreaded Pain! Its hideous Groans Join Heav'n's fweet Halleluiahs in Thy Praife. Great Source of Good alone! How Kind in All? In Vengeance, Kind! Pain, Death, Gebenna, SAVE,

Thus, in thy World material, Mighty Mind!

Not That alone which folaces, and shines,
The Rough and Gloomy, challenges our Praise;
The Winter is as needful as the Spring;
The Thunder, as the Sun; a stagnate Mass
Of Vapours breeds a pestilential Air;
Nor more propitious the Favonian Breeze.
To Nature's Health, than purifying Storms;
The dread Volcano ministers to Good,
Its smother'd Flames might undermine the World;
Loud Ætnas sulminate in Love to Man;

Comets good Omens are, when duly scann'd; And, in their Use, Eclipses learn to shine.

MAN is responsible for Ills receiv'd; Those we call wretched are a chosen Band. Compell'd to refuge in the Right, for Peace. Amid my Lift of Bleffings infinite, Stand This the foremost, " That my Heart has bled:" 'Tis Heav'n's last Effort of Good-will to Man; When Pain can't bless, Heav'n quits us in Despair. Who fails to grieve, when just Occasion calls, Or grieves too much, deserves not to be blest, Inhuman, or Effeminate, his Heart; Reason absolves the Grief which Reason ends. May Heav'n ne'er trust my Friend with Happiness, Till it has taught him how to bear it well, By previous Pain; and made it safe to smile: Such Smiles are mine, and such may they remain; Nor hazard their Extinction, from Excess. My Change of Heart a Change of Style demands; The Consolation cancels the Complaint, And makes a Convert of my guilty Song.

As when o'er-labour'd, and inclin'd to breathe,
A panting Traveller, fome rifing Ground,
Some small Ascent, has gain'd, he turns him round,
And measures with his Eye the various Vale,
The Fields, Woods, Meads, and Rivers he has past;
And, satiate of his Journey, thinks of Home,
Endear'd by Distance; nor affects more Toil:
Thus I, though small, indeed, is that Ascent
The Muse has gain'd, review the Paths she trod;
Various, extensive, beaten but by Few;
And, conscious of her Prudence in Repose,
Pause; and with Pleasure meditate an End,
Though still remote; so fruitful is my Theme.
Thro' many a Field of Moral, and Divine,
The Muse has stray'd; and much of Sorrow seen,

In human Ways; and much of False and Vain; Which none, who travel this bad Road, can miss: O'er Friends deceas'd full heartily she wept; Of Love Divine the Wonders she display'd; Prov'd Man immortal; shew'd the Source of Joy; The grand Tribunal rais'd; assign'd the Bounds Of buman Grief: In few, to close the Whole, The moral Muse has shadow'd out a Sketch, Though not in Form, nor with a Raphael-Stroke, Of Most our Weakness needs believe, or do, In this our Land of Travel, and of Hope, For Peace on Earth, or Prospect of the Skies.

What then remains?—Much! much! a mighty
Debt

To be discharg'd: These Thoughts, O NIGHT! are Thine;

From Thee they came, like Lovers secret Sighs, While Others slept: So, CYNTHIA (Poets seign) In Shadows veil'd, soft-sliding from her Sphere, Her Shepherd chear'd; of Her enamour'd less, Than I of Thee.—And art Thou still unsung, Beneath whose Brow, and by whose Aid, I sing? Immortal Silence!—Where shall I begin? Where end? Or how steal Musick from the Spheres, To sooth their Goddes?

O majestick NIGHT!

Nature's great Ancestor! Day's Elder-born!

And fated to survive the transient Sun!

By Mortals, and Immortals, seen with Awe!

A starry Crown thy Raven-Brow adorns,

An azure Zone, thy Waist; Clouds, in Heav'n's Loom

Wrought thro' Varieties of Shape and Shade,

In ample Folds of Drapery divine,

Thy slowing Mantle form, and, Heav'n throughout,

Voluminously pour thy pompous Train:

Thy gloomy Grandeurs (Nature's most august,

Inspiring

Inspiring Aspect !) claim a grateful Verse; And, like a sable Curtain starr'd with Gold, Drawn o'er my Labours past, shall close the Scene.

And what, O Man! so worthy to be sung?

What more prepares us for the Songs of Heav'n?

Creation of Archangels is the Theme!

What, to be sung, so needful? What so well

Celestial Joys prepares us to sustain?

The Soul of Man, HIS Face design'd to see,

Who gave these Wonders to be seen by Man,

Has bere a previous Scene of Objects great.

On which to dwell; to stretch to that Expanse.

Of Thought; to rise to that exalted Height

Of Admiration; to contract that Awe,

And give her whole Capacities that Strength,

Which best may qualify for final Joy:

The more our Spirits are inlarg'd on Earth,

The deeper Draught shall they receive of Heav'n.

Heav'n's KING! whose Face unveil'd consummates Bliss;

(Redundant Bliss!) which fills that mighty Void,
The whole Creation leaves in human Hearts!
THOU, who didft touch the Lip of Jesse's Son,
Wrapt in sweet Contemplation of these Fires,
And set his Harp in Concert with the Spheres!
While of Thy Works Material the Supreme
I dare attempt, affist my daring Song;
Loose me from Earth's Inclosure, from the Sun's Contracted Circle set my Heart at large;
Eliminate my Spirit, give it Range
Through Provinces of Thought yet unexplor'd;
Teach me, by this stupendous Scaffolding,
Creation's golden Steps, to climb to THEE:
Teach me with Art great Nature to controul,
And spread a Lustre o'er the Shades of Night.

Reel I Thy kind Affent? And shall the Sun Be seen at Midnight, rising in my Song?

LORENZO! come, and warm thee: Thou, whose Heart,

Whose little Heart, is moor'd within a Nook. Of this obscure Terrestrial, Anchor weigh :: Another Ocean calls; a nobler Port; I am thy Pilot, I thy prosp'rous Gale :: Gainful thy Voyage through you azure Main; Main, without Tempest, Pirate, Rock, or Shore ;: And whence thou may'ft import eternal Wealth; And leave to beggar'd Minds the Pearl and Gold. Thy Travels dost thou boast o'er foreign Realms ? Thou Stranger to the World! thy Tour begin; Thy Tour through Nature's universal Orb: Nature delineates her whole Chart at large, On foaring Souls, that fail among the Spheres; And Man how purblind, if unknown the Whole? Who circles spacious Earth, Then travels bere, Shall own, He never was from Home before! Come, my * PROMETHEUS, from thy pointed Rock Of false Ambition, if unchain'd, we'll mount; We'll, innocently, steal celestial Fire, And kindle our Devotion at the Stars; A Theft, that shall not chain, but set thee free.

ABOVE our Atmosphere's intestine Wars,
Rain's Fountain Head, the Magazine of Hail,
Above the Northern Nests of feather'd Snows,
The Brew of Thunders, and the slaming Forge
That forms the crooked Lightning; 'bove the Caves
Where infant Tempests wait their growing Wings,
And tune their tender Voices to That Roar,
Which soon, perhaps, shall shake a Guilty World;
Above misconstru'd Omens of the Sky,

Far-travell'd Comets calculated Blaze. Elance thy Thought, and think of more than Man: Thy Soul, till now, contracted, wither'd, shrunk, Blighted by Blafts of Earth's unwholesome Air, Will bloffom bere; spread all her Faculties To these bright Ardors; ev'ry Pow'r unfold. And rife into Sublimities of Thought; Stars teach, as well as fine: At Nature's Birth, Thus, their Commission ran-" Be kind to Man." Where art thou, poor benighted Traveller! The Stars will light thee; tho' the Moon should fail: Where art Thou, more benighted! more aftray! In Ways immoral? The Stars call thee back; And, if obey'd their Counsel, set thee right : Where art thou, Virtue-Militant! The Stars Are thine Allies, all lifted on thy Side: By Thousands, and Ten thousands, they advance Their bright Battalions, in fair Virtue's Cause; And keep strict Watch, and nightly light their Fires, Fires of Alarm, to warn thee of the Foe; The Foe, that claims these Regions as his own; Ufurper bold! High-stil'd, The Prince of Air! Beneath Night's awful Banner, let us draw Sidereal Wildom's formidable Sword, And fend him headlong to far other Flames. MICHAEL's alone, the Sword his mighty Arm 'Pluck'd from the golden Column in the Mount, The Mount Celestial, where the Sons of God Hang up Heav'n's Vengeance, far above the Stars, Above the Sagittary's humble Bow; Could give the swarthy Damon deeper Wound.

AND was there need of ampler Field than This, When Giant-Angels Giant-Angels met, In fiery Conflict, and outrageous Storm, To controvert the Sceptre of the Skies? This Prospect vast, what is it?—Weigh'd aright,

'Tis Nature's System of Divinity,
And ev'ry Student of the Night inspires:
'Tis elder Scripture, writ by GOD's own Hand;
Scripture authentic! uncorrupt by Man:
LORENZO! with my Radius (the rich Gift
Of Thought nocturnal!) I'll point out to thee
Its various Lessons; some that may surprize
An Un-adept in Mysteries of Night;
Little, perhaps, expected in her School,
Nor thought to grow on Planet, or on Star:
Bulls, Lions, Scorpions, Monsters here we feign;
Ourselves more monstrous, not to see what here
Exists indeed;—a Lecture to Mankind.

What read we bere? - Th' Existence of a GOD? -Yes; and of other Beings, Man above; Natives of Æther! Sons of higher Climes! Immortal Lights! that govern these of Fire! And, what may move LORENZO's Wonder more, ETERNITY is written in the Skies: And whose Eternity - LORENZO! Thine; Mankind's Eternity: Nor FAITH alone, VIRTUE grows here; bere springs the fov'reign Cure Of almost ev'ry Vice; but, chiefly Thine; Wrath, Pride, Ambition, and impure Defire: Dost ask-" Why call I thee at this late Hour, " Which all-wife Nature destin'd to Repose?"-Yes, and to fit us for Repose more sweet Than Down can yield, or Man on Earth enjoy: . Own all-wife Nature wifer still in This. LORENZO! Thou canst wake at Midnight too, Tho' not on Morals bent: Ambition, Pleasure! Those Tyrants I for Thee so * lately fought, Afford their harrass'd Slaves but slender Reft. Thou, to whom Midnight is immoral Noon,

Why from yon Arch, that Infinite of Space,,
With Infinite of lucid Orbs replete,
Which fet the living Firmament on Fire,
At the first Glance, in such an Overwhelm
Of Wonderful, on Man's astonish'd Sight,
Rushes Omnipotence?—To curb our Pride;
Our Reason rouze, and lead it to That Pow'r,
Whose Love lets down these Silver Chains of Light,
To draw up Man's Ambition to Himself,
And bind our chaste Affections to His Throne:
Thus the Three Virtues, least alive on Earth,
And welcom'd on Heav'n's Coast with most Applause,
An Humble, Pure, and Heav'nly minded Heart,
Are bere inspir'd:—And canst thou gaze too long?

Nor stands thy Wrath depriv'd of its Reproof.

Or un upbraided by this radiant Choir:
The Planets of each System represent
Kind Neighbours; mutual Amity prevails;
Sweet Interchange of Rays, receiv'd, return'd;
Enlight'ning, and enlighten'd! All, at once,
Attracting, and attracted! Patriot-like,
None sins against the Welfare of the Whole;
But, their reciprocal, unselfish Aid,
Affords an Emblem of Millennial Love.
Nothing in Nature, much less conscious Being,
Was e'er created solely for Itself:

Thus

Thus Man his fow reign Duty learns in this Material Picture of Benevolence.

And know, of all our supercisious Race,
Thou most inflammable! Thou Wasp of Men I'
Man's angry Heart, inspected, would be found.
As rightly set, as are the starry Spheres;
And Nature's Structure, broke by stubborn Will,
Breeds all that un celestial Discord there.
Wilt thou not feel the Bias Nature gave?
Canst thou descend from Converse with the Skies,
And seize thy Brother's Throat?—For what?—A Clod,
An Inch of Earth? The Planets cry "Forbear."
They chase our double Darkness; Nature's Gloom,
And, kinder still! our intellessual Night.

And see, Day's amiable Sister sends

Her Invitation, in the softest Rays

Of mitigated Lustre; courts thy Sight,

Which suffers from her Tyrant-Brother's Blaze:

Night grants thee the sull Freedom of the Skies,

Nor rudely reprimands thy listed Eye;

With Gain, and Joy, she bribes thee to be wise:

Night opes the noblest Scenes, and sheds an Awe,

Which gives those venerable Scenes sull Weight,

And deep Reception, in th' intender'd Heart;

While Light peeps thro the Darkness, like a Spy;

And Darkness shews its Grandenr by the Light:

Nor is the Profit greater than the Joy,

If human Hearts at glorious Objects glow,

And Admiration can inspire Delight.

What speak I more, than I, This Moment, seel is With pleasing Stupor first the Soul is struck (Stupor ordain'd to make her truly Wise!)
Then into Transport starting from her Trance, With Love, and Admiration, how she glows!
This gorgeous Apparatus! This Display!
This Oftentation of creative Pow'r!

260 The COMPLAINT:

Who dare pronounce it Madness, to believe? Why has the Mighty BUILDER thrown afide All Measure in His Work; Rretch'd out His Line So far, and spread Amazement o'er the Whole? Then (as He took Delight in wide Extremes), Deep in the Bosom of His Universe, Dropt down that reasoning Mite, that Insect, Man. To crawl, and gaze, and wonder at the Scene? -That Man might ne'er presume to plead Amazement For Disbelief of Wonders in Himfelf; Shall God be less miraculous, than what His Hand has form'd? Shall Mysteries descend From Un-mysterious? Things more Elevate. Be more Familiar ? Uncreated lie More obvious than Created, to the Grasp Of human Thought? The more of Wonderful Is heard in Him, the more we should affent: Could we conceive Him, GOD He could not be: Or He not GOD, or we could not be Men : A GOD alone can comprehend a GOD; Man's Distance how immense? On such a Theme, Know This, LORENZO! (feem it ne'er fo strange,) Nothing can fatisfy, but what confounds; Nothing, but what aftonifies, is true. The Scene thou feeft attefts the Truth I fing. And ev'ry Star sheds Light upon thy Creed: These Stars, this Furniture, this Cost, of Heav'n, If but reported, thou hadft ne'er believ'd; But thine Eye tells thee, the Romance is true: The Grand of Nature is th' Almighty's Oath, In Reason's Court, to filence Unbelief.

How my Mind, op'ning at this Scene, imbibes
The moral Emanations of the Skies,
While nought, perhaps, Lorenzo less admires?
Has the Great Sov'reign sent Ten thousand Worlds
To tell us, He resides above them All,

In

In Glory's unapproachable Receis? And dare Earth's bold Inhabitants deny The fumptuous, the magnific Embaffy A Moment's Audience? Turn wel? nor will hear From whom they come, or what they would impart For Man's Emolument; fole Cause that stoops Their Grandeur to Man's Eye? LORENZO! rouzes Let Thought, awaken'd, take the Lightning's Wing. And glance from East to West, from Pole to Pole: Who fees, but is confounded, or convinc'd. Renounces Reason, or a GOD adores? Mankind was fent into the World to fee: Sight gives the Science needful to their Peace; That obvious Science asks fmall Learning's Aid: Wouldst thou on Metaphysic Pinions foar? Or wound thy Patience amid Logic Thorns? Or travel History's enormous Round? Nature no such hard Talk injoins : She gave A Make to Man directive of his Thought; A Make fet upright, pointing to the Stars, As who should fay, " Read thy chief Lesson there." Too late to read this Manuscript of Heav'n, When, like a Parchment-Scroll, shrunk up by Flames It folds LORENZO's Lesson from his Sight.

Lesson how various! Not the God alone,
I see His Ministers; I see, diffus'd
In radiant Orders, Essences sublime,
Of various Offices, of various Plume,
In heav'nly Liveries, distinctly, clad,
Azure, Green, Purple, Pearl, or downy Gold,
Or all commix'd; they stand, with Wings outspread,
List'ning to catch the Master's least Command,
And sly thro' Nature, e'er the Moment ends;
Numbers innumerable!—Well conceiv'd
By Pagan, and by Christian! O'er each Sphere
Presides an Angel, to direct its Course,
And

And feed, or fan, its Flames; or to discharge Other high Trust unknown; For who can fee Such Pomp of Matter, and imagine, Mind, For which alone Inanimate was made. More sparingly dispens'd? That nobler Son. Far liker the great SIRE !—'Tis thus the Skies Inform us of Superiors numberless, As much, in Excellence, above Mankind. As above Earth, in Magnitude, the Spheres: These, as a Cloud of Witnesses, hang o'er us; In a throng'd Theatre are all our Deeds; Perhaps, a Thousand Demi-gods descend On ev'ry Beam we fee, to walk with Men; Awful Reflection! Strong Restraint from Ill! Yet, bere, our Virtue finds still stronger Aid From these ethereal Glories Sense surveys; Something, like Magick, strikes from this blue Vault; With just Attention is it view'd? We feel A fudden Succour, un-implor'd, un-thought; Nature herself does Half the Work of Man: Seas, Rivers, Mountains, Forests, Desarts, Rocks, The Promontory's Height, the Depth profound Of Subterranean, excavated Grots, Black-brow'd, and vaulted-high, and yawning wide From Nature's Structure, or the Scoop of Time; If ample of Dimension, vast of Size, Even These an aggrandizing Impulse give; Of folemn Thoughts enthusiastic Heights Even Thefe infuse .- But what of Vast in Thefe? Nothing; - (or we must own the Skies forgot): Much less in Art .- Vain Art! Thou Pigmy Pow'r! How dost thou swell, and strut, with human Pride, To shew thy Littleness? What childish Toys, Thy watry Columns squirted to the Clouds? Thy bason'd Rivers, and imprison'd Seas? Thy Mountains molded into Forms of Men?

Thy Hundred-Gated Capitals? or Those Where Three Days Travel left us much to ride Gazing on Miracles by Mortals wrought, Arches triumphal, Theatres immense, Or nodding Gardens pendent in Mid Air? Or Temples proud to meet their Gods Half-way? Yet Those affect us in no common Kind; What then the Force of such superior Scenes? Enter a Temple, it will strike an Awe; What Awe from This the DEITY has built? A Good Man feen, tho' filent, Counsel gives; The touch'd Spectator wishes to be Wise: In a bright Mirror His own Hands have made, Here we see Something like the Face of GOD: Seems it not then enough, to fay, LORENZO! To Man abandon'd, " Hast thou seen the Skies?"

And yet, so thwarted Nature's kind Design, By daring Man, he makes her facred Awe, That Guard from Ill, his Shelter, his Temptation To more than common Guilt, and quite inverts Celeffial Art's Intent: The trembling Stars See Crimes gigantic, stalking thro' the Gloom With Front erect, that hide their Head by Day. And making Night still darker by their Deeds: Slumb'ring in Covert, till the Shades descend, Rapine, and Murder, link'd, now prowl for Prey: The Miser earths his Treasure; and the Thief, Watching the Mole, half-beggars him e'er Morn; Now Plots, and foul Conspiracies, awake; And, muffling up their Horrors from the Moon, Havock, and Devastation, they prepare, And Kingdoms tott'ring in the Field of Blood; Now Sons of Riot in Mid-Revel rage: What shall I do? - suppress it? or proclaim? -Why fleeps the Thunder? Now, LORENZO! now, His best Friend's Couch the rank Adulterer

Ascends secure; and laughs at Gods, and Men:
Prepost'rous Madmen, void of Fear or Shame,
Lay their Crimes bare to these chaste Eyes of Heav'n;
Yet shrink, and shudder, at a Mortal's Sight.
Were Moon, and Stars, for Villains only made?
To guide, yet screen them, with tenebrious Light?
No; they were made to fashion the Sublime
Of human Hearts, and swifer make the Wife.

THOSE Ends were answer'd once; when Mortals livid Of Stronger Wing, of Aquiline Afcent: In Theory Sublime : O how unlike Those Vermin of the Night, (this Moment fung) Who crawl on Earth, and on her Venom feed? Those ancient Sages, Human Stars! They met Their Brothers of the Skies, at Midnight-Hour; Their Counsel ask'd; and, what they ask'd, obey'd. The Staggrite; and Plato; He who drank The poison'd Bowl; and He of Tusculum; With him of Corduba (immortal Names!); In these Unbounded, and Elysian, Walks. An Area fit for Gods, and Godlike Men. They took their nightly Round, thro' radiant Path By Seraphs trod; instructed, chiefly, thus, To tread in Their bright Footsteps here Below; To walk in Worth still brighter than the Skies: There they contracted their Contempt of Earth; Of Hopes eternal kindled, There, the Fire; There, as in near Approach, they glow'd, and grew (Great Vifitants!) more intimate with GOD. More worth to Men, more joyous to Themselves: Thro' various Virtues, they, with Ardor, ran The Zodiac of their learn'd, illustrious Lives. In Christian Hearts, O for a Pagan Zeal! A needful; but opprobrious Pray'r! As much Our Ardor Less, as Greater is our Light: How monstrous This in Morals? Scarce more strange Would aben AA

Would this Phanomenon in Nature strike, A Sun, that froze us, or a Star, that warm'd.

WHAT taught these Heroes of the Moral World? To These thou giv'st thy Praise, give Credit too; These Doctors ne'er were pension'd to deceive thee; And Pagan Tutors are thy Taste.-They taught, That, Narrow Views betray to Misery; That, Wife it is to comprehend the Whole; That. Virtue rose from Nature, ponder'd well; The fingle Base of Virtue built to Heav'n; That GOD, and Nature, our Attention claim; That, Nature is the Glass reflecting GOD. As, by the Sea, reflected is the Sun, Too glorious to be gaz'd on in his Sphere; That, Mind, immortal, loves immortal Aims; That, boundless Mind affects a boundless Space; That, Vast Surveys, and the Sublime of Things, The Soul affimilate, and make her Great; That, therefore, Heav'n her Glories, as a Fund Of Inspiration, thus spreads out to Man. Such are their Doctrines; Such the Night inspir'd.

And what more True? What Truth of greater Weight?

The Soul of Man was made to walk the Skies; Delightful Outlet of her Prison Here!

There, disincumber'd from her Chains, the Ties Of Toys terrestrial, she can rove at large;

There, freely can respire, dilate, extend,

In sull Proportion let loose all her Pow'rs;

And, undeluded, grasp at something Great:

Nor, as a Stranger, does she wander There;

But, wonderful Herself, thro' Wonders strays;

Contemplating their Grandeur, sinds her own;

Dives deep in their Oeconomy divine,

Sits high in Judgment on their various Laws,

And, like a Master, judges not amiss:

N

Hence,

Hence, greatly pleas'd, and justly proud, the Soul Grows conscious of her Birth celestial; breathes More Life, more Vigour, in her native Air; And feels herfelf at home among the Stars; And, feeling, emulates her Country's Praise.

WHAT call we, then, the Firmament, LORENZO!-As Earth the Body, fince, the Skies fustain The Soul with Food, that gives immortal Life, Call it, The noble Pasture of the Mind, Which there expatiates, ftrengthens, and exults, And riots thro' the Luxuries of Thought: Call it, The Garden of the DEITY, Blossom'd with Stars, redundant in the Growth Of Fruit ambrofial; moral Fruit to Man: Call it, The Breast-plate of the true High-Priest, Ardent with Gems oracular, that give, In Points of highest Moment, right Response; And ill-neglected, if we prize our Peace.

Thus, have we found a true Aitrology; Thus have we found a new, and noble, Sense, In which alone Stars govern human Fates: O that the Stars (as some have seign'd) let fall Bloodshed, and Havock, on embattled Realms, And rescu'd Monarchs from so black a Guilt! BOURBON! this Wish how gen'rous in a Foe? Wouldst thou be Great, wouldst thou become a God, And flick thy deathless Name among the Stars, For mighty Conquests on a Needle's Point? Instead of Forging Chains for Foreigners, Baffile thy Tutor : Grandeur All thy Aim ? As yet thou know'st not what it is: How Great, How Glorious, then, appears the Mind of Man, When in it All the Stars, and Planets, roll? And what it feems, it is: Great Objects make Great Minds, enlarging as their Views enlarge; Those still more Godlike, as These more Divine.

AND

AND more divine than These, thou canst not see:
Dazzled, o'erpower'd, with the delicious Draught
Of miscellaneous Splendors, how I reel
From Thought to Thought, inebriate, without End?
An Eden, This! a PARADISE un-lost!
I meet the DEITY in ev'ry View,
And tremble at my Nakedness before Him!
O that I could but reach the Tree of Life!
For Here it grows, unguarded from our Taste;
No Flaming-Sword denies our Entrance Here;
Would Man but gather, he might live for ever.

LORENZO! much of Moral hast thou seen: Of curious Arts art thou more fond? Then mark The Mathematic Glories of the Skies: In Number, Weight, and Measure, All ordain'd; LORENZO's boasted Builders, Chance, and Fate, Are left to finish his aerial Tow'rs; Wisdom, and Choice, their well-known Characters Here deep impress; and claim it for their Own: Tho' fplendid All, no Splendor void of Use; Use rivals Beauty; Art contends with Pow'r; No wanton Waste, amid effuse Expence: The Great OECONOMIST adjusting All To prudent Pomp, magnificently Wife: How rich the Prospect! and for ever New! And newest to the Man that views it most; For Newer still in Infinite succeeds: Then, These aerial Racers, O how Swift? How the Shaft loiters from the strongest String! Spirit Alone can distance the Career. Orb above Orb afcending without End! Circle in Circle, without End, inclos'd! Wheel within Wheel, EZEKIEL! like to Thine! Like Thine, it feems a Vision, or a Dream; Tho' feen, we labour to believe it true! What Involution! What Extent! What Swarms

Of Worlds, that laugh at Earth, immensely Great! Immensely distant from each other's Spheres! What, then, the wond'rous Space thro' which they roll? At once it quite ingulphs all human Thought; 'Tis Comprehension's absolute Defeat.

Non think thou feeft a wild Diforder here: Thro' this illustrious Chaos, to the Sight, Arrangement neat, and chaftest Order, reign. The Path prescrib'd, inviolably kept, Upbraids the lawless Sallies of Mankind: Worlds, ever thwarting, never interfere; What Knots are ty'd? How foon are they disfolv'd. And fet the feeming marry'd Planets free? They rove for ever, without Error rove: Confusion unconfus'd! Nor less admire This Tumult untumultuous: All on Wing. In Motion, All! yet what profound Repose? What fervid Action, yet no Noise! as aw'd To Silence, by the Presence of their LORD; Or hush'd, by His Command, in Love to Man, And bid let fall foft Beams on human Reft. Reftless themselves. On you cærulean Plain. In Exultation to Their GOD, and Thine. They dance, they fing eternal Jubilee, Eternal Celebration of His Praise: But, fince their Song arrives not at our Ear, Their Dance perplex'd exhibits to the Sight Fair Hieroglyphic of His peerless Power: Mark, how the Labyrinthian Turns they take, The Circles intricate, and mystic Maze, Weave the grand Cypher of Omnipotence; To Gods, how Great? how Legible to Man?

LEAVES fo much Wonder greater Wonder still?
Where are the Pillars that support the Skies?
What More than Atlantean Shoulder props
Th' incumbent Load? What Magick, what strange Art,

In fluid Air thefe pond rous Orbs fustains? Who would not think them hung in golden Chains?-And so they are; in the high Will of Heav'n. Which fixes All; makes Adamant of Air, Or Air of Adamant; makes All of Nought, Or Nought of All; if fuch the dread Decree.

IMAGINE from their deep Foundations torn The most gigantic Sons of Earth, the broad And tow'ring Alps, all toft into the Sea; And, light as Down, or volatile as Air. Their Bulks enormous dancing on the Waves. In Time, and Measure, exquisite; while all The Winds, in Emulation of the Spheres, Tune their fonorous Instruments aloft: The Concert swell, and animate the Ball: Would this appear amazing? What, then, Worlds In a far thinner Element sustain'd, And acting the same Part, with greater Skill, More rapid Movement, and for noblest Ends? More obvious Ends to pass, are not these Stars The Seats majeftic, proud imperial Thrones, On which angelic Delegates of Heav'n, At certain Periods, as the Sovereign nods, Discharge high Trusts of Vengeance, or of Love, To cloath, in outward Grandeur, Grand Defign, And Acts most Solemn, still more solemnize ?

YE Citizens of Air! what ardent Thanks, What full Effusion of the grateful Heart, Is due from Man, indulg'd in fuch a Sight? A Sight fo Noble! and a Sight fo Kind! It drops new Truths at ev'ry new Survey! Feels not LORENZO Something ftir within, That fweeps away all Period? As These Spheres Measure Duration, they no less inspire The Godlike Hope of Ages without End: The boundless Space, thro' which these Rovers take Their

270 The COMPLAINT:

Their restless Roam, suggests the Sister-Thought
Of boundless Time. Thus, by kind Nature's Skill,
To Man un-labour'd, that important Guest
ETERNITY, finds Entrance at the Sight:
And an Eternity, for Man-ordain'd,
Or These his destin'd Midnight Counsellors,
The Stars, had never whisper'd it to Man:
NATURE informs, but ne'er insults, her Sons:
Could she then kindle the most ardent Wish
To disappoint it?—That is Blasphemy.
Thus, of thy Creed a Second Article,
Momentous, as th' Existence of a GOD,
Is found (as I conceive) where rarely sought;
And thou may'st read thy Soul immortal, Here.

HERE, then, LORENZO! on these Glories dwell, Nor want the gilt, illuminated, Roof, That calls the wretched Gay to dark Delights: Assemblées?-This is one divinely bright; Here, un endanger'd in Health, Wealth, or Fame; Range thro' the fairest, and the SULTAN scorn : He, wife as Thou, no Crefcent holds fo fair, As That, which on his Turbant awes a World: And thinks the Moon is proud to copy Him: Look on her, and gain more than Worlds can give, A Mind superior to the Charms of Power. Thou muffled in Delufions of this Life! Can yonder Moon turn Ocean in his Bed, From Side to Side, in constant Ebb, and Flow, And purify from Stench his watry Realms? And fails her moral Influence? Wants she Power To turn LORENZO's stubborn Tide of Thought From flagnating on Earth's infected Shore, And purge from Nuisance his corrupted Heart? Fails her Attraction when it draws to Heaven? Nay, and to what thou valuest more, Earth's Joy? Minds elevate, and, panting for Unfeen, And And defecate from Sense, alone obtain Full Relish of Existence un-deflower'd,
The Life of Life, the Zest of worldly Bliss.
All else on Earth amounts—to what? To This,
BAD to be Suffer'd; BLESSINGS to be Left:"
Earth's richest Inventory boasts no more.

Or higher Scenes be, then, the Call obey'd : O let me gaze !- Of Gazing there's no End: O let me think ! - Thought too is wilder'd bere ; In Mid-way Flight Imagination tires: Yet foon re-prunes her Wing to foar anew, Her Point unable to forbear, or gain; So great the Pleasure, so profound the Plan! A Banquet, This, where Men, and Angels, meet, Eat the same Manna, mingle Earth, and Heaven: How distant some of these nocturnal Suns? So distant (fays the Sage) 'twere not absurd To doubt, if Beams, fet out at Nature's Birth, Are yet arriv'd at this fo foreign World; Tho' nothing half so rapid as their Flight: An Eye of Awe and Wonder let me roll, And roll for ever: Who can fatiate Sight In fuch a Scene! in fuch an Ocean wide Of deep Aftonishment! Where Depth, Height, Breadth, Are loft in their Extremes; and where to count The thick-fown Glories in this Field of Fire. Perhaps a Seraph's Computation fails. Now, go, Ambition! boaft thy boundless Might In Conquest, o'er the Tenth Part of a Grain.

AND yet LORENZO calls for Miracles, To give his tott'ring Faith a folid Base: Why call for Less than is already thine? Thou art no Novice in Theology: What is a Miracle?—'Tis a Reproach, 'Tis an implicit Satire, on Mankind; And while it satisfies, it censures too:

To Common-Sense, Great Nature's Course proclaims A DEITY: When Mankind falls afleep, A Miracle is fent, as an Alarm. To wake the World, and prove Him o'er again. By recent Argument, but not more strong. Say, Which imports more Plenitude of Power, Or Nature's Laws to fix, or to repeal? To make a Sun, or flop his Mid-Career? To countermand his Orders, and fend back The flaming Courier to the frighted Eaft, Warm'd, and aftonish'd, at his Evening Ray; Or bid the Moon, as with her Journey tir'd, In Ajalon's foft, flow'ry, Vale repose? Great Things are These; still Greater, to create. From ADAM's Bow'r look down thro' the whole Train Of Miracles ;- Refiftless is their Power? They do not, can not, more amaze the Mind, Than This, call'd un-miraculous Survey, If duly weigh'd, if rationally feen, If feen with buman Eyes: The Brute, indeed, Sees nought but Spangles here; the Fool, no more. Sayst thou, " The Course of Nature governs All?" The Course of Nature is the Art of GOD: The Miracles thou call'ft for, This atteft; For, fay, Could Nature Nature's Course controul? Bur, Miracles apart, who fees HIM not, Nature's CONTROULER, AUTHOR, GUIDE, and END? Who turns his Eye on Nature's Midnight Face, But must inquire-" What Hand behind the Scene,

" What Arm Almighty, put these wheeling Globes

" In Motion, and wound up the vast Machine? " Who rounded in his Palm these spacious Orbs?

" Who bowl'd them flaming thro' the dark Profound,

" Num'rous as glittering Gems of Morning-Dew,

" Or Sparks from populous Cities in a Blaze,

a And

" And fet the Bosom of Old Night on Fire ? " Peopled her Defart, and made Horror fmile?" Or, if the Military Stile delights thee,

(For Stars have fought their Battles, leagu'd with Man) " Who marshals this bright Host? Enrolls their Names?

" Appoints their Posts, their Marches, and Returns,

" Punctual at stated Periods ? Who disbands

" These Veteran Troops, their final Duty done.

" If e'er disbanded ?"- HE, whose potent Word, Like the loud Trumpet, levy'd first their Powers In Night's inglorious Empire, where they slept In Beds of Darkness; arm'd them with fierce Flames, Arrang'd, and disciplin'd, and cloath'd in Gold ; And call'd them out of Chaos to the Field, Where now they war with Vice and Unbelief : O let us join This Army ! Joining Thefe, Will give us Hearts intrepid, at That Hour, When brighter Flames shall cut a darker Night; When These strong Demonstrations of a GOD. Shall hide their Heads, or tumble from their Spheres; And One eternal Curtain cover All!

STRUCK at that Thought, as new-awak'd, I life A more enlighten'd Eye, and read the Stars To man still more propitious; and their Aid. (Tho' guiltless of Idolatry) implore; Nor longer rob them of their noblest Name : O ye Dividers of my Time! Ye bright Accomptants of my Days, and Months, and Years, In your fair Kalendar distinctly mark'd! Since that authentic, radiant Register, Tho' Man inspects it not, stands good against him ; Since You, and Years, roll on, tho' Man stands still ; Teach me my Days to number, and apply My trembling Heart to Wisdom; now beyond. All Shadows of Excuse for fooling on: Age smooths our Path to Prudence; sweeps alide

274 The COMPLAINT:

The Snares, keen Appetite, and Passion, spread To catch stray Souls; and, Woe to That grey Head, Whose Folly would undo, what Age has done! Aid, then, aid, All ye Stars !- Much rather THOU, Great ARTIST! Thou, whose Finger set aright This exquisite Machine, with all its Wheels. Tho' intervolv'd, exact; and pointing out Life's rapid, and irrevocable, Flight, With fuch an Index fair, as none can miss, Who lifts an Eye, nor fleeps till it is clos'd. Open mine Eye, Dread DEITY! to read The tacit Doctrine of Thy Works; to fee Things as they are, un alter'd thro' the Glass Of worldly Wishes: Time! Eternity! ('Tis These, mis measur'd, ruin all Mankind) Set them before me; let me lay them Both In equal Scale, and learn their various Weight: Let Time appear a Moment, as it is; And let Eternity's full Orb, at once. Turn on my Soul, and strike it into Heaven: When shall I see far more than charms me Now? Gaze on Creation's Model in Thy Breaft Unveil'd, nor wonder at the Transcript more? When This vile, foreign, Dust, which smothers All That travel Earth's deep Vale, shall I shake off? When shall my Soul her Incarnation quit, And, re-adopted to Thy bleft Embrace, Obtain her Apotheosis in THEE?

Dost think LORENZO! this is wandering wide?
No, 'tis directly striking at the Mark;
To wake thy dead Devotion * was my Point;
And how I bless Night's consecrating Shades,
Which to a Temple turn an Universe;
Fill us with great Ideas, full of Heaven,

* Page 253.

And antidote the pestilential Earth?

In every Storm, that either frowns, or falls,
What an Asylum has the Soul in Prayer;
And what a Fane is This, in which to pray?
And what a GOD must dwell in such a Fane?
O what a Genius must inform the Skies?
And is Lorenzo's Salamander Heart
Cold, and untouch'd, amid these sacred Fires?
O ye nocturnal Sparks! Ye glowing Embers,
On Heaven's broad Hearth! Who burn, or burn no more;

Who blaze, or die, as Great JEHOVAH's Breath Or blows you, or forbears! affift my Song; Pour your whole Influence; exorcize his Heart, So long posses'd; and bring him back to Man.

And is Lorenzo a Demurrer fill? Pride in thy Parts provokes thee to contest Truths, which, contested, put thy Parts to Shame: Nor shame they more LORENZO's Head, than Heart; A faitbles Heart, how despicably Small ? Too Streight, aught Great, or Generous, to receive! Fill'd with an Atom! fill'd, and foul'd, with Self! And Self mistaken! Self, that lasts an Hour! Instincts and Passions, of the nobler Kind, Lie suffocated There; or They alone, Reason apart, would wake High Hope; and open, To ravish'd Thought, that Intellectual Sphere, Where Order, Wisdom, Goodness, Providence, . Their endless Miracles of Love display, And promise All the truly Great defire. The Mind that would be bappy, must be great; Great, in its Wishes; Great, in its Surveys: Extended Views a narrow Mind extend; Pash out its corrugate, expansive, Make, Which, e'er-long, more than Planets shall embrace; A Man

276 The COMPLAINT:

A Man of Compass makes a man of Worth: Divine contemplate, and become Divine.

As Man was made for Glory, and for Bliss, All Littleness is an Approach to Woe; Open thy Bosom, set thy Wishes wide, And let in Manhood; let in Happiness; Admit the boundless Theatre of thought From Nothing, up to GOD; which makes a Man: Take GOD from Nature, nothing Great is left; Man's Mind is in a Pit, and nothing fees; Man's Heart is in a Jakes, and loves the Mire: Emerge from thy Profound; erect thine Eye; See thy Diffres! How close art thou befieg'd! Befieg'd by Nature, the proud Sceptic's Foe! Inclos'd by these innumerable Worlds, Sparkling Conviction on the darkest Mind, As in a golden Net of PROVIDENCE, How art thou caught? Sure Captive of Belief! From this thy bleft Captivity, what Art, What Blasphemy to Reason, sets thee free? This Scene is Heaven's indulgent Violence, Canft thou bear up against this Tide of Glory? What is Earth bosom'd in these ambient Orbs, But, Faith in GOD impos'd, and press'd on Man? Dar'ft thou still litigate thy desperate Cause, Spite of these numerous, awful, Witnesses, And doubt the Depasition of the Skies? That bright Connection between Hearts, and Heaven! O how laborious is thy Way to Ruin?

LABORIOUS? 'Tis impracticable quite;
To fink beyond a Doubt, in this Debate,
With all his Weight of Wisdom, and of Will,
And Crime flagitious, I defy a Fool:
Some wish they did, but no Man dishelieves.
GOD is a Spirit; Spirit cannot strike
These gross, material, Organs; GOD by Man

As much is seen, as Man a GOD can see,
In these astonishing Exploits of Power:
What Order, Beauty, Motion, Distance, Size!
Concertion of Design, how exquisite!
How complicate! in their divine Police!
Apt Means! Great Ends! Consent to general Good!—
Each Attribute of these material Gods,
So long (and that with specious Pleas) ador'd,
A separate Conquest gains o'er Rebel Thought;
And leads in Triumph the whole Mind of Man.

LORENZO! This may feem Harangue to Thee;
Such All is apt to feem, that thwarts our Will:
And dost thou, then, demand a fingle Proof
Of this great Master-Moral of the Skies,
Unskill'd, or dif inclin'd, to read it there?
Since 'tis the Basis, and All drops without it,
Take it, in one compact, unbroken Chain:
Such Proof insists on an attentive Ear;
'Twill not make One amid a Mob of Thoughts,
And, for thy Notice, struggle with the World:
Retire;---The World shut out; --Thy Thoughts call Home;---

Imagination's airy Wing repress;—

Lock up thy Senses;—Let no Passion stir;—

Wake all to Reason; Let ber reign alone;—

Then, in thy Soul's deep Silence, and the Depth

Of Nature's Silence, Midnight, thus inquire,

As I have done; and shall enquire no more.

In Nature's Chanel, thus the Questions run.

- " What am I? and from Whence? I nothing know,
- " But that I am; and, fince I am, conclude
- " Something Eternal; Had there e'er been Nought,
- " Nought still had been: Eternal there must be-
- " But What Eternal ?- Why not Human Race;
- " And ADAM's Ancestors without an End? -
- "That's hard to be conceiv'd; fince every Link

278 The COMPLAINT:

- . Of that long-chain'd Succession is so frail;
- " Can every Part depend, and not the Whole?"
- " Yet grant it True; new Difficulties rife;
- " I'm still quite out at Sea; nor fee the Shore.
- Whence Earth, and these bright Orbs? Eternal!
- " Grant Matter was Eternal; still these Orbs
- " Would want some Other Father: Much Defign
- " Is feen in all their Motions, all their Makes:
- Design implies Intelligence, and Art;
- " That can't be from Themselves or Man: That Att:
- Man scarce can comprehend, could Man bestow?
- "And nothing greater, yet allow'd, than Man .-
- " Who Motion, foreign to the smallest Grain,
- " Shot thro' vast Masses of enormous Weight?"
- " Who bid brute Matter's reftive Lump affume
- " Such various Forms, and gave it Wings to fly?"
- " Has Matter innate Motion? Then each Atom,
- " Afferting its indisputable Right
- " To dance, would form an Universe of Dust:
- " Has Matter none? Then whence these glorious Forms,
- " And boundless Flights, from Shapeless, and Repos'd?
- " Has Matter more than Motion? Has it Thought,
- " Judgment, and Genius? Is it deeply learn'd
- " In Mathematics? Has it fram'd fuch Laws,
- "Which, but to guess, a NEWTON made Immortal?
- " If fo, how each fage Atom laughs at me,
- " Who think a Clod inferior to a Man?
- " If Art, to form; and Counfel, to conduct;
- " And That with greater far, than Human Skill;
- " Refides not in each Block; a GODHEAD reigns .--
- " Grant, then, Invisible, Eternal, MIND;
- " That granted, All is folv'd. But, granting That,
- " Draw I not o'er me a still darker Cloud?
- " Grant I not that which I can ne'er conceive?
- " A Being without Origin, or End !-

" Hail, Human Liberty! There is no GOD-

" Yet, Why? On either Scheme that Knot subfists;

" Subfift it muft, in GOD, or Human Race;

" If in the Last, how many Knots beside,

" Indistoluble All ?- Why chuse it There,

" Where, chosen, still subsist Ten thousand more?"

" Reject it ; where That chosen, all the Rest

" Dispers'd, leave Reason's whole Horizon clear?

" This is not Reason's Dictate; Reason says,

" Close with the Side where One Grain turns the Scale;

" What vast Preponderance is Here? Can Reason

" With louder Voice exclaim - Believe a GOD?

" And Reason heard, is the sole Mark of Man.

" What Things Impossible must Man think True,

" On any other System? And how strange

"To Disbelieve through mere Credulity?"

IF, in this Chain, LORENZO finds no Flaw,

Let it for ever bind him to Belief;

And where the Link, in which a Flaw he finds?—
And, if a GOD there is, that GOD how Great?
How Great that Power, whose Providential Care
Thro' these bright Orbs dark Centers darts a Ray?
Of Nature universal, threads the Whole?
And hangs Creation, like a precious Gem,
Tho' Little, on the Footstool of His Throne?

THAT Little Gem, how Large? A Weight let fall From a fixt Star; in Ages can it reach This distant Earth? Say, then, LORENZO! where, Where, ends this mighty Building? Where, begin The Suburbs of Creation? Where, the Wall Whose Battlements look o'er into the Vale Of Non-Existence? Nothing's strange Abode! Dread, bottomless, Amazement! how it yawns? How shuddering Fancy sickens, and recoils? And is it there LORENZO hopes to dwell? Say, at what Point of Space JEHOVAH dropp'd

His

His slacken'd Line, and laid His Ballance by; Weigh'd Worlds, and measur'd Infinite, no more & Where, rears His terminating Pillar high Its extra-mundane Head? and says, to Gods, In Characters illustrious as the Sun,

- " I stand, the Plan's proud Period; I pronounce
- " The Work accomplish'd; the Creation clos'd:
- " Shout, all ye Gods! nor shout, ye Gods alone &
- " Of all that lives, or, if devoid of Life,
- "That rests, or rolls, ye Heights, and Depths, resound !
- "Resound! resound! ye Depths, and Heights, resound!"

  Hard are those Questions?—Answer, barder still.

Is This the Sole Exploit, the Single Birth. The Solitary Son, of Power divine? Or, has th' almighty FATHER, with a Breath, Impregnated the Womb of diffant Space? Has He not bid, in various Provinces, Brother-Creations the dark Bowels burft Of Night primæval; barren, now, no more? And He the central Sun, transpiercing all Those Giant-Generations, which disport, And dance, as Motes, in His Meridian Ray; That Ray withdrawn, Benighted, or Absorb'd, In that Abys of Horror, whence they sprung While Chaos triumphs, repossest of All Rival Creation ravish'd from His Throne? CHAOS! of Nature both the Womb, and Grave! THINKS'T thou, my Scheme, LORENZO! Spreads too wide?

Is This extrawagant?—No; This is just;
Just, in Conjecture, the 'twere false in Fact:
If 'tis an Error, 'tis an Error sprung
From noble Root, High Thought of the MOST-HIGH.
But wherefore Error? Who can prove it Such?—
He that can set Omnipotence a Bound:
Can Man conceive beyond what God can do?

Nothing,

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c.

Nothing, but Quite-impossible, is Hard;
He summons into Being, with like Ease,
A Whole Creation, and a Single Grain.
Speaks He the Word? a Thousand Worlds are born!—
A Thousand Worlds? There's Space for Millions more;
And in what Space can his great Fiat fail?
Condemn me not, cold Critic! but indulge
The warm Imagination: Why condemn?
Why not indulge Such Thoughts, as swell our Hearts
With fuller Admiration of That Power,
Who gives our Hearts with such high Thoughts to swell?
Why not indulge in His augmented Praise?
Darts not His glory a still brighter Ray,
The less is lest to Chaos, and the Realms
Of hideous Night, where Fancy strays aghast;

And, tho' most talkative, makes no Report?

Still seems my Thought enormous? Think again;

Experience-Self shall aid thy lame Belies:

Glasses, (that Revelation to the Sight!)

Have they not led us deep in the Disclose

Of sine-spun Nature, exquisitely Small;

And, tho' demonstrated, still ill conceiv'd?

If, then, on the Reverse, the Mind would mount

In Magnitude, what Mind can mount too far,

To keep the Ballance, and Creation poize?

Desect alone can err on such a Theme:

What is too Great, if we the Cause survey?

Stupendous ARCHITECT! Thou, Thou art All!
My Soul flies up and down in Thoughts of THEE,
And finds herfelf but at the Centre still!

I AM, Thy Name! Existence, all Thine own! Creation's Nothing; flatter'd much, if styl'd

" The thin, the fleeting Atmosphere of GOD."

OFOR the Voice-of What? of Whom?--What Voice Can answer to my Wants, in such Ascent, As dares to deem One Universe too small?

Tell me, LORENZO! (for now Fancy glows, Fir'd in the Vortex of Almighty Power) Is not this Home Creation, in the Map-Of universal Nature, as a Speck, Like fair BRITANNIA in our little Ball, Exceeding fair, and glorious, for its Size, But, elsewhere, far out-measur'd, far outshone? In Fancy (for the Fast beyond us lies) Canst thou not figure it, an Isle, almost Too small for Notice, in the Vast of Being ;. Sever'd by mighty Seas of un built Space, From other Realms; from ample Continents Of higher Life, where nobler Natives dwell; Less Northern, less remote from DEITY, Glowing beneath the Line of the SUPREME, Where Souls in Excellence make Hafte, put forth Luxuriant Growths; nor the late Autumn wait Of Human Worth, but ripen foon to Gods?

YET why drown Fancy in such Depths as these? Return, prefumptuous Rover! and confess The Bounds of Man; nor blame them, as too small: Enjoy we not full Scope in what is feen? Full ample the Dominions of the Sun! Full glorious to behold! How far, how wide, The matchless Monarch, from his flaming Throne, Lavish of Lustre, throws his Beams about him, Farther, and faster, than a Thought can fly, And feeds his Planets with eternal Fires? This Heliopolis, by Greater far, Than the proud Tyrant of the Nile, was built; And He alone, who built it, can destroy. Beyond this City, why firays human Thought? One Wonderful, enough for Man to know! One Infinite, enough for Man to range! One Firmament, enough for Man to read! What Voluminous Instruction Here?

What Page of Wisdom is deny'd him? None; If learning his chief Lesson makes him wise.

Nor is Instruction, Here, our only Gain;
There dwells a noble Pathos in the Skies,
Which warms our Passions, proselytes our Hearts:
How eloquently shines the glowing Pole?
With what Authority it gives its Charge,
Remonstrating great Truths in Style sublime,
Tho' Silent, Loud! heard Earth around; above.
The Planets heard; and not unheard in Hell:
Hell has her Wonder, tho' too proud to praise:
Is Earth, then, more Instruct?

Lorenzo's Admiration, pre-ingag'd, Ne'er ask'd the Moon One question; never held Least Correspondence with a fingle Star: Ne'er rear'd an Altar to the Queen of Heav'n, Walking in Brightness; or her Train ador'd: Their fublunary Rivals have long fince and modeling Engross'd his whole Devotion; Stars malign, Which make their fond Aftronomer run mad: Darken his Intellest, corrupt his Heart; Cause him to sacrifice his Fame, and Peace; Idolater, more gross than ever kiss'd CHILD LAID T The lifted Hand to Luna, or pour'd out The Blood to love! - O THOU, to whom belongs All Sacrifice ! O Thou Great Jove Unfeign'd! DIVINE INSTRUCTOR! Thy first Volume, This, For Man's Perusal; All in CAPITALS! In Moon, and Stars, (Heaven's golden Alphabet!) Emblaz'd to feize the Sight; who runs, may read; Who reads, can understand: 'Tis Unconfin'd To Christian Land, or Jewry's; fairly writ In Language universal, to MANKIND: A Language, Lofty to the Learn'd; yet Plain, To Those that feed the Flock, or guide the Plough,

284 The COMPLAINT:

Or, from its Husk, strike out the bounding Grain's A Language, worthy the GREAT MIND, that speaks! Preface, and Comment, to the Sacred Page! Which oft refers its Reader to the Skies, As pre-supposing his First Lesson there, And Scripture-self a Fragment, That unread. Stupendous Book of Wisdom, to the Wise! Stupendous Book! and open'd, NIGHT! by Thee.

By Thee much open'd, I confess, O Night! Yet more I wish; but bow shall I prevail? Say, gentle Night! whose modest, maiden Beams Give us a new Creation, and present The World's great Picture, foften'd to the Sight ; Nay, Kinder far, far more Indulgent still, Say, Thou, whose mild Dominion's Silver Key Unlocks our Hemisphere, and sets to View Worlds beyond Number; Worlds conceal'd by Day Behind the proud, and envious, Star of Noon! Canft thou not draw a deeper Scene?-And shew The mighty POTENTATE, to whom belong These rich Regalia, pompously display'd To kindle that High Hope? Like Him of Uz, I gaze around; I fearch on every Side -O for a Glimple of HIM my Soul adores! As the chas'd Hart, amid the defart Waste, Pants for the living Stream; for HIM who made her, So pants the thirsty Soul, amid the Blank Of fublunary Joys: Say, Goddess! Where? Where, blazes His bright Court ? Where, burns His Throne?

Thou know'st; for Thou art near Him; by Thee, round.
His grand Pavilion, facred Fame reports
The fable Curtains drawn: If not, can none
Of thy fair Daughter-Train, so swift of Wing,
Who travel far, discover where He dwells?

A Star His Dwelling pointed out below:

Ye Pleiades! Arcturus! Mazaroth!

And thou, Orion! of still keener Eye!

Say, ye, who guide the Wilder'd in the Waves,

And bring them out of Tempest into Port!

On which Hand must I bend my Course to find Him?—

These Courtiers keep the Secret of their KING;

I wake whole Nights, in vain, to steal it from them.

I WAKE; and, waking, climb Night's radiant Scale, From Sphere to Sphere; the Steps by Nature set For Man's Ascent; at once to tempt, and aid; To tempt his Eye, and aid his towering Thought; Till it arrives at the great Goal of all.

In ardent Contemplation's rapid Car, From Earth, as from my Barrier, I fet out: How swift I mount? Diminish'd Earth recedes; I pass the Moon; and from her further Side, Pierce Heaven's blue Curtain; strike into Remote, Where, with his lifted Tube, the fubtil Sage His artificial, airy Journey takes, And to Celefial lengthens Human Sight: I pause at every Planet on my Road, And ask for HIM, who gives their Orbs to roll, Their Foreheads fair to shine: From SATURN's Ring, In which, of Earths an Army might be loft, With the bold Comet, take my bolder Flight, Amid those fowereign Glories of the Skies, Of independent, native Lustre, proud, The Souls of Systems! and the Lords of Life, Thro' their wide Empires ! - What behold I now? A Wilderness of Wonders burning round; Where larger Suns inhabit bigber Spheres; Perhaps the Villas of descending Gods! Nor halt I here; my Toil is but begun; 'Tis but the Threshold of the DEITY; Or, far beneath it, I am groveling still: Groveling in Elevation few can reach!

Nor is it strange; I built on a Mistake;
The Grandeur of His Works, whence Folly sought
For Aid, to Reason sets His Glory higher;
Who built thus high for Worms (mere Worms to Him;)
O where, LORENZO! must the BUILDER dwell?

PAUSE, then; and, for a Moment, here respire.—
If human Thought can keep its Station Here:
Where am I?--Where is Earth?--Nay, where art Thou,
O Sun?—Is the Sun turn'd Recluse?—And are
His boasted Expeditions short to Mine?—
To mine, how short? On Nature's Alps I stand,
And see a thousand Firmaments beneath!
A Thousand Systems! as a Thousand Grains!—
So much a Stranger, and so late arriv'd,
How can Man's curious Spirit not inquire,
What are the Natives of this World sublime,
Of this so foreign, un-terrestrial Sphere,
Where Mortal, untranslated, never stray'd?
"O YE, as distant from my little Home,

- " As fwiftest Sun beams in an Age can fly!
- " Far from my native Element I roam,
- " In Quest of New, and Wonderful, to Man:
- " What Province This, of His immense Domain,
- "Whom all obeys? Or Mortals here, or Gods?
- " Ye Borderers on the Coasts of Bliss! What are you?
- " A Colony from Heaven? Or, only rais'd,
- " By frequent Vifit from Heaven's neighbouring Realms,
- " To fecondary Gods, and half divine?
- " Whate'er your nature, This is past Dispute,
- " Far other Life you live, far other Tongue
- "You talk, far other Thought, perhaps, you think,
- " Than Man: How various are the Works of God?
- " But fay, What Thought? Is Reason here inthron'd,
- " And absolute? Or Sense in Arms against her?
- " Have you Two Lights? Or need you no reveal'd?
- " Enjoy your happy Realms their golden Age?

And had Your EDBN an abstemious Eve?

" Our Eve's fair Daughters prove their Pedigree,

" And ask their ADAMS - Who awould not be Wife?

" Or, if your Mother fell, are you Redeem'd?

" And if redeem'd - is your Redeemer fcorn'd?

" Is this your final Residence? If not,

" Change you your Scene, Translated? Or, by Death?

" And if by Death; What Death? -- Know you Disease?

" Or horrid War? - With War, This fatal Hour,

" EUROPA greans; (so call we a small Field,

"Where Kings run mad). In Our World, DEATH deputes

" Intemperance to do the Work of Age;

" And, hanging up the Quiver Nature gave him,

" As flow of Execution, for Dispatch

" Sends forth Imperial Butchers; bids them flay

" Their Sheep, (the filly Sheep they fleec'd before)

" And toss him twice Ten thousand at a Meal.

" Sit all your Executioners on Thrones?

" With you, can Rage for Plunder make a Gon?

" And Bloodshed wash out every other Stain? ----

" But you, perhaps, can't bleed: From Matter gross

" Your Spirits clean, are delicately clad

" In fine spun Æther; Privileg'd to soar,

" Unloaded, uninfected: How unlike

" The Lot of Man? How Few of human Race

" By their own Mud unmurther'd? How we wage

" Self-War eternal ?- Is your painful Day

" Of hardy Conflict o'er? Or, are you still

" Raw Candidates at School? And have you Those

" Who disaffect Reversions, as with Us? -

" But what are We? You never heard of Man,

" Or Earth; the Bedlam of the Universe!

"Where Reason, undiseas'd with You, runs mad,

" And nurses Folly's Children as ber own;

" Fond of the Foulest: In the facred Mount

288 The COMPLAINT:

- " Of Holinefs, where Reason is pronounc'd
- " Infallible; and thunders, like a God;
- " Even there, by Saints, the Dæmons are outdone;
- " What Thefe thought Wrong, our Saints refine to Right;
- " And kindly teach dull Hell her own black Arts;
- " SATAN, instructed, o'er their Morals smiles .-
- But This, how strange to You, who know not Man?
- " Has the least Rumour of our Race arriv'd?
- " Call'd here ELIJAH, in his flaming Car?
- " Past by you the good Enoch, on his Road
- To Those fair Fields, whence Lucifer was hurl'd;
- Who brush'd, perhaps, your Sphere, in his Descent,
- " Stain'd your pure Cryftal Æther, or let fall
- " A short Eclipse from his portentous Shade?
- "O! that the Fiend had lodg'd on some broad Orb
- " Athwart his Way; nor reach'd his present Home;
- "Then blacken'd Earth with Footsteps foul'd in Hell,
- " Nor wash'd in Ocean, as from Rome he past
- "To BRITAIN's Isle; too, too, conspicuous There!"
  But This is all Digression: Where is HE,

That o'er Heaven's Battlements the Felon hurl'd

To Groans, and Chains, and Darkness? Where is HE,

Who fees Creation's Summit in a Vale?

HE, Whom, while Man is Man, he can't but feek;

And if he finds, commences more than Man?

O for a Telescope His Throne to reach!

Tell me, ye Learn'd on Earth! or Bleft Above!

Ye fearching, ye Newtonian Angels! tell,

Where, your Great MASTER's Orb? His Planets, where?

Those conscious Satellites, those Morning-Stars,

First-born of DEITY! from Central Love,

By Veneration most profound, thrown off;

By fweet Attraction, no less strongly drawn;

Aw'd, and yet raptur'd; raptur'd, yet serene;

Past Thought, illustrious; but with borrow'd Beams;

In still approaching Circles, still remote,
Revolving round the Sun's eternal SIRE?
Or sent, in Lines direct, on Embassies
To Nations—in what Latitude?—Beyond
Terrestrial Thought's Horizon?—And on what
High Errands sent?—Here buman Effort ends;
And leaves me still a Stranger to His Throne.

FULL well it might ! I quite mistook my Road Born in an Age more Curious, than Devout; More fond to fix the Place of Heaven or Hell. Than studious this to shun, or that secure. 'Tis not the curious, but the pious Path, That leads me to my Point: LORENZO! know, Without or Star, or Angel, for their Guide, Who worthip GOD, shall find Him: Humble Love, And not proud Reason, keeps the Door of Heaven; Love finds Admission, where proud Science fails. Man's Science is the Culture of his Heart; And not to lose his Plummet in the Depths Of Nature, or the more Profound of GOD: Either to know, is an Attempt that fets The Wifest on a Level with the Fool; To fathom Nature (ill-attempted Here!) Paft Doubt, is deep Philosophy Above; Higher Degrees in Blis Archangels take, As deeper learn'd; the Deepest, learning still: For, what a Thunder of Omnipotence (So might I dare to speak) is feen in All? In Man? In Earth? In more amazing Skies? Teaching This Lesson, Pride is loth to learn Not deeply to Difeern, not much to Know, " Mankind was born to WONDER and ADORE." And is there Cause for higher Wonder still,

Than that which ftruck us from our past Surveys?

From my late airy Travel unconfin'd, Have I learn'd nothing ?-Yes, LORENZO! This Each of these Stars is a Religious House; I faw their Altars smoke, their Incense rife. And heard Hofannas ring through every Sphere; A Seminary, fraught with future Gods: Nature all o'er is confecrated Ground. Teeming with Growths Immortal, and Divine: The Great PROPRIETOR's all bounteous Hand Leaves nothing waste; but sows these flery Fields With Seeds of Reason, which to Virtues rife, Beneath His genial Ray; and, if escap'd The pestilential Blasts of stubborn Will, When grown mature, are gather'd for the Skies. And is Devotion thought too much on Earth, When Beings, so Superior, Homage boaft, And triumph in Proftrations to THE THRONE?

But wherefore more of Planets, or of Stars?

Æthereal Journies? and, discover'd there,

Ten thousand Worlds, Ten thousand Ways devout?

All Nature sending Incense to The Throne,

Except the bold Lorenzos of our Sphere?

Opening the solemn Sources of my Soul,

Since I have pour'd, like feign'd Eridanus,

My flowing Numbers o'er the flaming Skies,

Nor see, of Fancy, or of Fast, what more

Invites the Muse Here turn we, and review

Our past Nocturnal Landschape wide:—Then, say,

Say, then, Lorenzo! with what Burst of Heart,

The Whole, at once, revolving in his Thought,

Must Man exclaim, adoring, and aghast?

- " O what a Root! O what a Branch is Here?
- " O what a Father! What a Family!
- " Worlds! Systems! and Creations!-And Creations,
- " In One agglomerated Clufter, hung,

" Of MAJESTY DIVINE! The blazing Seal,

Of feeble Mortals ? Nor of Them alone!

The Fullness of the DEITY breaks forth

In Inconceivables to Men, and Gods:

Think, then, O think; nor ever drop the Thought;

How low must Man descend, when Gods adore?

Have I not, then, accomplish'd my proud Boast?

Did I not tell thee, " + We would mount, Losenzo!

" And kindle our Devotion at the Stars?" Vil .......

And art All Adamant? And dost confute with All urg'd, with One irrefragable Smile?

LORENZO! Mirth how miserable Here? Swear by the Stars, by HIM who made them, fwear, Thy Heart, henceforth, shall be as pure as They: Then Thou, like Them, shalt fine ; like Them, shalt rife From Low to Lofty; from Obscure to Bright; By due Gradation; Nature's sacred Law. The Stars, from whence ?-Alk Chaos-He can tell. These bright Temptations to Idolatry, From Darkness, and Confusion, took their Birth; Sons of Deformity! From fluid Dregs Tartarean, first they rose to Masses rude; And then, to Spheres opaque; Then dimly shone: Then brighten'd; Then blaz'd out in perfett Day. Nature delights in Progress; in Advance From Worse to Better: But, when Minds ascend. Progress, in Part, depends upon Themselves. Heaven aids Exertion; Greater makes the Great: The voluntary Little lessens more: O be a Man! and thou shalt be a God! And Half Self made! Ambition how Divine! O THOU, ambitious of Disgrace alone!

Still Undevout? Unkindled?—Tho', high taught, School'd by the Skies; and Pupil of the Stars.

Rank Coward to the Fashionable World!

Art Thou asham'd to bend thy Knee to Heaven?

Curst Fume of Pride, exhal'd from deepest Hell!

Pride in Religion is Man's highest Praise.

Bent on Destruction! and in Love with Death!

Not All these Luminaries, quench'd at once,

Were Half so sad, as One benighted Mind,

Which gropes for Happiness, and meets Despair.

How, like a Widow in her Weeds, the Night,

Amid her glimmering Tapers, silent sits?

How forrowful, how desolate, she weeps

Perpetual Dews, and saddens Nature's Scene?

See and the state of the area

A Scene

A Scene more fad Sin makes the darken'd Soul; All Comfort kills, nor leaves one Spark alive.

Tho' blind of Heart, still open is thine Eye; Why such Magniscence in All thou sees? Of Matter's Grandeur, know, One End is This, To tell the Rational, who gazes on it—

" Tho' That immensely Great, still Greater He,

"Whose Breast, capacious, can embrace, and lodge;

" Unburthen'd, Nature's Universal Scheme;

" Can grasp Creation with a fingle Thought;

"Creation grasp; and not exclude its SIR"—
To tell him farther— "It behoves him much

" To guard th' important, yet-depending, Fate

" Of Being, brighter than a Thousand Suns;

"One fingle Ray of Thought outshines them all."—And if Man hears obedient, soon he'll soar Superior Heights, and on his purple Wing, His purple Wing, bedrop'd with Eyes of Gold, Rising, where Thought is now deny'd to rise, Look'down triumphant on these dazling Spheres.

Why then perfift? No Mortal ever liv'd. But, dying, he pronounc'd (when Words are true). The Whole that charms thee, absolutely Vain; Vain, and far worse !- Think Thou, with dying Men; O condescend to think as Angels think! O tolerate a Chance for Happiness ! Our Nature fuch, Ill Choice enfures Ill Fate; And Hell had been, tho' there had been no God. Dost Thou not know, my new Astronomer! Earth, turning from the Sun, brings Night to Man ? Man, turning from his God, brings endless Night; Where Thou canst read no Morals, find no Friend, Amend no Manners, and expect no Peace. How deep the Darkness? and the Groan, how loud? And far, how far, from lambent are the Flames? Such is LORENZO's Purchace! Such his Praise!

The Proud, the Politic, LORENZO's Praise; Tho', in his Ear, and level'd at his Heart, I've half read o'er the Volume of the Skies.

For think not Thou hast heard all This from me; My Song but echoes what Great Nature speaks; What has she spoken? Thus the Goddess spoke, Thus speaks for ever:— "Place, at Nature's Head,

- " A Sovereign, which o'er all Things rolls His Eye,
- Extends His Wing, promulgates His Commands,
- " But, above all, diffuses endless Good;
- " To Whom, for fure Redress, the Wrong'd may fly;
- " The Vile, for Mercy; and the Pain'd, for Peace;
- " By Whom, the various Tenants of these Spheres,
- "Diversify'd in Fortunes, Place, and Pow'rs,
- " Rais'd in Enjoyment, as in Worth they rife,
- " Arrive at length (if worthy fuch Approach)
- " At that bleft Fountain-Head, from which they stream;
- " Where Conflict past redoubles present Joy;
- " And present Joy looks forward on Increase;
- " And That, on more; no Period! every Step
- "A double Boon! a Promise, and a Bliss."
  How easy fits this Scheme on Human Hearts?
  It suits their Make; it sooths their vast Defires;
  Passion is pleas'd; and Reason asks no more;
  "Tis Rational! "Tis Great!—But what is Thine?"
  It darkens! shocks! excruciates! and consounds!
  Leaves us quite maked, both of Help, and Hope,
  Sinking from Bad to Worse; sew Years, the Sport

Of Fortune; then, the Morfel of Defpair.

DIT!

SAY, then, LORENZO! (for Thou know'st it well)
What's Vice?—Mere Want of Compass in our Thought.
Religion, what?—The Proof of Common-Sense;
How art thou hooted, where the Least prevails?
Is it my Fault, if these Truths call thee Fool?
And thou shalt never be miscall'd by me.
Can neither Shame, nor Terror, stand thy Friend?

And

And art Thou fill an Infect in the Mire? How, like thy Guardian Angel, have I flown, Snatch'd thee from Earth; escorted thee thro' all Th' Ethereal Armies; walkt thee, like a God, Thro' Splendors of first Magnitude, arrang'd On either Hand; Clouds thrown beneath thy Feet; Close-cruis'd on the bright Paradise of GoD; And almost introduc'd thee to THE THRONE? And art Thou still carousing, for Delight, Rank Poilon; first, fermenting to mere Froth; And then subfiding into final Gall? To Beings of fablime, immortal Make, How shocking is All Joy, whose End is fare? Such Joy more shocking still, the more it charms! And doft Thou chuse what ends, ere well-begun? And Infamous, as Short? And doft Thou chuse (Thou, to whose Palate Glory is so sweet) To wade into Perdition, thro' Contempt? Nor of poor Bigots only, but thy own; For I have peep'd into thy cover'd Heart, And feen it blush beneath a boastful Brow; For by strong Guilt's most violent Asfault, Conscience is but disabled, not destroy'd.

O Thou most Awsul Being! and most Vain!
Thy Will, how frail? how glorious is thy Power?
Tho' dread ETERNITY has sown her Seeds
Of Bliss, and Woe, in thy despotic Breast;
Tho' Heaven, and Hell, depend upon thy Thought,
A Buttersly comes 'cross, and Both are sted.
Is This the Picture of a Rational?
This Horrid Image, shall it be most Just?
LORENZO! No: It cannot,—shall not be,
If there is Force in Reason; or, in Sounds
Chaunted beneath the Glimpses of the Moon,
A Magic, at this planetary Hour;
When Slumber locks the general Lip, and Dreams

Thro' senseless Mazes hunt Souls un inspir'd.

Attend—The sacred Mysteries begin—

My solemn Night born Adjuration hear;

Hear, and I'll raise thy Spirit from the Dust;

While the Stars gaze on this Enchantment new;

Enchantment, not Insernal, but Divine!

The Song of Angels, all the Melodies

Of Choral Gods, are wafted in the Sound;

Heal, and exhilarate, the broken Heart,

Tho' plung'd, before, in Horrors dark as Night;

Rich Prelibation of consummate Joy 1.

Nor wait we Dissolution to be blest.

This final Effort of the moral Muse,

How justly Titled? Nor for me alone;

For all that read: What Spirit of Support,

What Heights of Consolation crown my Song?

Then, farewel NIGHT! Of Darkness, now, no more:

Joy breaks, shines, triumphs; 'tis eternal Day. Shall that which rifes out of Nought complain Of a few Evils, pay'd with endless Joys? My Soul! henceforth, in fweetest Union join The Two Supports of Human Happiness, Which some, erroneous, think can never meet; True Tafte of Life, and constant Thought of Death :: The Thought of Death, fole Victor of its Dread! Hope be thy Joy; and Probity thy Skill; Thy Patron, HE, whose Diadem has drop'd Yon Gems of Heaven; Eternity, thy Prize. And leave the Racers of the World their Own. Their Feather, and their Froth, for endless Toils ; They part with All for That which is not Bread: They mortify, they flarve, on Wealth, Fame, Power And laugh to Scorn the Fools that aim at more. How must a Spirit, late escap'd from Earth. Suppose Philander's, Lucia's, or Narcissa's, The Truth of Things new-blazing in its Eye, Look back, aftonish'd, on the Ways of Men, Whose Lives whole Drift is to forget their Graves? And when Our present Privilege is past, To scourge us with due Sense of its Abuse, The Same Aftonishment will seize us All.

What then must pain us, would preserve us now:
LORENZO! 'tis not yet too late: LORENZO!
Seize Wisdom, ere 'tis Torment to be Wise;
That is, Seize Wisdom, ere she seizes Thee.
For, what, my small Philosopher! is Hell?
'Tis nothing, but full Knowledge of the Truth,
When Truth, resisted long, is sworn our Foe;
And calls ETERNITY to do her Right.

THUS, Darkness aiding Intellectual Light, And Sacred Silence whispering Truths Divine, And Truths Divine converting Pain to Peace, My Song the Midnight Raven has outwing'd, And shot, ambitious of unbounded Scenes, Beyond the flaming Limits of the World, Her gloomy Flight. But what avails the Flight Of Fancy, when our Hearts remain below? Virtue abounds in Flatterers, and Foes; 'Tis Pride, to praise her; Penance to perform: To more than Words, to more than Worth of Tongue LORENZO! rife, at this auspicious Hour; An Hour, when Heaven's most intimate with Man; When, like a falling Star, the Ray Divine Glides swift into the Bosom of the Just; And Just are All, determin'd to reclaim; Which fets that Title high, within thy Reach. Awake, then: Thy PHILANDER calls: Awake! Thou, who shalt wake, when the Creation sleeps; When, like a Taper, all these Suns expire; When TIME, like Him of Gaza in his Wrath, Plucking the Pillars that support the World, In NATURE's ample Ruins lies entomb'd; And MIDNIGHT, Universal Midnight! reigns.

Some THOUGHTS, Occasioned by the PRESENT JUNCTURE:

HUMBLY INSCRIBED

To His GRACE the DUKE of NEWCASTLE, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

HOLLES! Immortal in far more than Fame!

Be thou Illustrious in far more than Power.

Great Things are small, when Greater rise to View.

Tho' station'd high, and press'd with public Cares,

Disdain not to peruse my serious Song;

Which, peradventure, may push by the World;

Of a few Moments rob Britannia's Weal;

And leave Europa's Councils less mature:

For thou art Noble, and the Theme is Great.

NOR shall, or Europe, or Britannia, blame Thine absent Ear, but gain by the Delay. Long-vers'd in Senates, and in Cabinets, State's intricate Demands, and high Debates! As Thou of Use to Those, fo This to Thee. And in a Point, that Empire far outweighs, That far outweighs all Europe's Thrones in One. Let Greatness prove its Title to be Great. 'Tis Power's supreme Prerogative, to stamp On others Minds, an Image of its own. Bend the strong Influence of High-Place, to stem The Stream, that fweeps away thy Country's Weal; The Stygian Stream, the Torrent, of our Guilt. Far, as Thou may'ft, give Life to Virtue's Cause; Let not the Ties of Personal Regard Betray the Nation's Trusts to feeble Hands. Let not fomented Flames of private Pique Prey on the Vitals of the Public Good. Let not our Streets with Blafphemy refound;

Nor Lewdness whisper, where the Laws can reach. Let not best Laws, the Wisdom of our Sires, Turn Satires on their sunk, degenerate Sons, The Bastards of their Blood! and serve no Point, But, with more Emphasis, to call them Fools. Let not our rank Enormities unhinge Britannia's Welfare from DIVINE Support.

SUCH Deeds the Minister, the Prince, adorn: No Power is shewn, but in such Deeds as These; All, All, is Impotence, but acting Right; And where's the Statesman, but would shew his Power? To Prince, and People, Thou, of equal Zeal! Be it, henceforward, but thy Second Care To grace thy Country, and support the Throne; Tho' This supported, That adorn'd, so well. A Throne Superior our first Homage claims; To Calar's Cafar our first Tribute's, due. A Tribute, which, unpay'd, makes Specious Wrong, And Splendid Sacrilege, of All befide; Illustrious follows! we must, first, be Just; And what fo Just, as awe for the SUPREME? Less fear we ragged Ruffians of the North, Than Virtue's well-clad Rebels, nearer Home; Less, Loyola's disguis'd, all apeing Sons, Than Traitors lurking in our Appetites; Less, all the Legions Seine, and Tagus, send, Than unrein'd Passions rushing on our Peace: Yon favage Mount aineers are tame, to Thefe. Against These Rioters, send forth the Laws, And break to Reason's Yoke their wild Careers.

PRUDENCE, for all Things, points the proper Hour,
Tho' Some feem more Importunate, and Great,
Tho' Britain's generous Views, and Interests, spread
Beyond the narrow Circle of her Shores,
And their Grand Entries make on distant Lands;
Tho' BRITAIN's Genius the wide Waves bestrides,

And,

And, like a vast Colossus, tow'ring stands With one Foot planted on the Continent; Yet be not wholly wrap'd in Public Cares. Tho fuch High Cares should call, as call'd of-late, The Cause of Kings, and Emperors, adjourn; And EUROPE's little Balance drop awhile; For Greater, drop it; Ponder, and adjust, The rival Interests, and contending Claims, Of Life and Death; of Now, and of For-ever : Sublimest Theme! and Needful, as Sublime. Thus great ELIZA's Oracles renown'd, Thus WALSINGHAM, and RALEIGH (BRITAIN's Boafts!) Thus every Statesman, thought, that ever-Dy'd: There's Inspiration in a fable Hour; And Death's Approach makes Politicians Wife.

WHEN, Thunderstruck, that Eagle, Woolsey fell; When Royal Favour, as an ebbing Sea, Like a Leviathan, his Grandeur left, His gasping Grandeur! naked on the Strand; Naked of Human, doubtful of Divine, Affistance; no more wallowing in his Wealth; Spouting proud Foams of Infolence no more; On What, Then, smote his Heart, un-Cardinal'd; And funk beneath the Level of a Man? On the Grand Article, the Sum of Things! The Point of the First Magnitude! That Point, Tubes, mounted in a Court, but rarely reach, Some painted Cloud still intercepts their Sight; First, right to judge; then chuse; then perfevere, Stedfast, as if a Crown, or Mistress, call'd; -These, these, are Politics will stand the Test; When finer Politics their Master sting; And Statesmen fain would shrink to common Men. These, These, are Politics will answer, now, (When common Men would fain to Statesmen swell) Beyond a Machiavel's, or Tencin's, Scheme.

All Sasety rests on bonest Counsels; These Immortalize the Statesman, bless the State, Make the Prince triumph, and the People smile; In Peace, rever'd; or terrible, in Arms, Close leagu'd with an Invincible Ally; Which bonest Counsels never fail to fix In Favour of an Unabandon'd Land; A Land--that starts at such a Land as This. A Parliament, so principled, will sink All ancient Schools of Empire in Disgrace; And Britain's Glory, rising from the Dead, Will fill the World, Joud Fame's superior Song.

BRITAIN?-That Word pronounc'd, is an Alarm: It warms the Blood, tho' frozen in our Veins; Awakes the Soul, and fends her to the field, Enamour'd of the glorious Face of Death. Britain? - There's noble Magic in the Sound. O what illustrious Images arise? Embattled, round me, blaze the Pomps of War. By Sea, by Land, at Home, in Foreign Climes, What full-blown Laurels, on our Fathers Brows? Ye radiant Trophies! and Imperial Spoils! Ye Scenes! - Aftonishing to modern Sight 1 Let me, at least, enjoy you in a Dream; Why vanish? Stay, ye Godlike Strangers! stay. Strangers !- I wrong my Countrymen. They wake High beats the Pulse; the noble Pulse of War Beats to that ancient Measure, that Grand March, Which, then, prevail'd, when Britain highest foar'd; And every Battle pay'd for Heroes flain. No more our great Forefathers stain our Cheeks With Blushes; Their Renown, our Shame, no more. In military Garb, and fudden Arms, Up starts OLD Britain; Grofiers are laid by; Trade wields the Sword; and Agriculture leaves Her half-turn'd Furrow: Other Harvests fire A noble

A noble Avarice; Avarice of Renown!

And Laurels are the Growth of every Field.

In distant Courts is our Commotion felt;

And, less like Gods, sit Monarchs on their Thrones.

What Arm can want, or Sinews, or Success,

Which, listed from an honest Heart, descends,

With all the Weight of British Wrath, to cleave

The Papal Mitre, or the Gallic Chain,

At every Stroke; and save a finking Land?

OR Death, or Victory, must be resolv'd; To dream of Mercy, O how Tame! how Mad! Where, o'er black Deeds, the Crucifix display'd, Fools think Heaven purchas'd by the Blood they shed; By giving, not supporting, Pains and Death? Nor fimple Death! Where They, the greatest Saints, Who most subdue all Tenderness of Heart: Students in Torture! Where, in Zeal to Him, Whose darling Title is The Prince of Peace, The Best turn ruthless Butchers, for our Sakes; To fave us in a World, they Recommend, And yet Forbear; Themselves with Earth content; What Modesty ?- Such Virtues Rome adorn ! And chiefly Those, who Rome's first Honours wear, Whose Name, from Jesus; and whose Arts, from Hell. And shall a Pope-bred Princeling crawl ashore. Replete with venom, Guiltless of a Sting, And whiftle Cut-throats, with those Swords, that scrap'd Their barren Rocks, for wretched Sustenance, To cut his Passage to the British Throne? One, that has fuck'd in Malice with his Milk, Malice to Britain, Liberty and Truth? Less savage was his Brother-Robber's Nurse, The howling Nurse of plundering Romulus Ere yet, far worse than Pagan harbour'd there.

HAIL to the Brave. Be Britain, BRITAIN still. Britain! High-favour'd of indulgent Heaven!

Nature's

Nature's Anointed Empress of the Deep! The Nurse of Merchants, who can purchase Crowns! Supreme in Commerce ! that exuberant Source Of Wealth, the Nerve of War; of Wealth, the Blood. The cirching Current in a Nation's Veins, To fet high Bloom on the fair Face of Peace! This, once, so celebrated Seat of Power, From which escap'd, the mighty Casar triumph'd! Of Gallic Lilies, this eternal Blaft! This Terror of Armadas! This true Bolt Ethereal-temper'd, to repress the vain, Salmonean Thunders from the Papal Chair! This small Isle, wide-realm'd Monarchs eye with Awe! Which fays, to their Ambition's foaming Waves, " Thus far, nor farther"-Let her hold in Life Nought dear, disjoin'd from Freedom, and Renown; Renown, our Ancestors great Legacy, To be transmitted to their latest Sons. By Thoughts inglorious, and Un-British Deeds, Their cancell'd Will is, impiously, prophan'd; Inhumanly, diffurb'd their facred Duft.

THEIR facred Dust with recent Laurels crown,
By your own Valour won. This facred Isle,
Cut from the Continent, that World of Slaves;
This Temple, built by Heaven's peculiar Care,
In a Recess from the contagious World,
With Ocean pour'd around it for its Guard,
And dedicated, long, to Liberty,
That Health, that Strength, that Bloom, of Civil Life!
This Temple of still more Divine; of Faith
Sisted from Errors; purify'd by Flames,
Like Gold, to take anew Truth's Heavenly Stamp;
And, (rising both in Lustre, and in Weight)
With her bless'd Master's unmaim'd Image, shine;
Why should she longer droop? Why longer act
As an Accomplice with the Plots of Rome?

meridian and in a hancal Power:

Why longer lend an Edge to Bourbon's Sword;
And give him Leave, among his dastard Troops,
To muster that strong Succour, Albion's Crimes:
Send his self-impotent Ambition Aid,
And crown the Conquests of her seroest Foes?
Where are her Foes most fatal? Blushing Truth!
"In her Friends vices"—with a Sigh replies.
Empire, on Virtue's Rock, unshaken, stands;
Flux, as the Billows, when in Vice dissolv'd.
If Heav'n reclaims us by the Scourge of War,
What Thanks are due to Paris, and Madrid?
Would they a Revolution?—Aid their Aim;
But be the Revolution—in our Hearts!

WOULDST Thou (whose Hand is at the Helm) the Bark.

The haken Bark of Britain, should out-ride The present Blaft? and ev'ry future Storm? Give it That Ballast, which alone has Weight With HIM, whom Wind, and Waves, and War, obey. Persift: Are Others subtil? Thou be wife: Above the Florentine's, Court-Science raife : Stand forth a Patriot of the Moral World: The Pattern, and the Patron, of the Just. Thus, strengthen Britain's military Strength; Give its own Terror to the Sword she draws. Ask you "What mean I?" -- The most obvious Truth: Armies, and Fleets alone ne'er won the Day. When our proud Arms are once difarm'd; difarm'd Of Aid from HIM, by whom the Mighty fall; Of Aid from HIM, by whom the Feeble fland; Who takes away the keenest Edge of Battle, Or gives the Sword Commission to destroy; Who blafts, or bids the martial Laurel bloom; Emasculated, then, most manly Might; Or, tho' the Might remains, it nought avails: Then, wither'd Weakness foils the sinewy Arm Of Man's meridian, and high-hearted, Power: Out Our naval thunders, and our tented Fields,
With travell'd Banners fanning Southern Climes,
What do they? This, and more, What can it do?
When heap'd the Measure of a Kingdom's Crimes,
The Prince most dauntless, the First Plume of War,
By such bold Inroads into foreign Lands,
Such Elongation of our Armaments,
But stretches out the guilty Nation's Neck,
While Heaven commands her Executioner,
Some less abandon'd Nation, to discharge
Her sull-ripe Vengeance in a final Blow;
And tell the World, Not strong is buman Strength;
"And that the proudest Empire holds of Heav'n."

O BRITAIN! often rescu'd, often crown'd, Beyond thy Merit, or most sanguine Hopes, With all that's Great in War, or Sweet in Peace! Know from what Source thy signal Blessings slow. Tho' bless'd with Spirits ardent in the Field, Tho' cover'd various Oceans with thy Fleets, Tho' fenc'd with Rocks, and moated by the Main, Thy Trust repose in a far stronger Guard; In HIM, who Thee, tho' naked, could defend; Tho' weak, could strengthen; ruin'd, could restore.

HOW oft, to tell what Arm defends thine Isle, To guard her Welfare, and yet check her Pride, Have the Winds snatch'd the Victory from War? Or, rather, won the Day, when War despair'd? How oft has Providential Succour aw'd, Aw'd, while it bless'd us, conscious of our Guilt? Struck dead all Considence in buman Aid, And, while we triumph'd, made us tremble too?

WELL may we tremble now! What Manners reign?
But wherefore ask we? when a true Reply
Would shock too much! Kind Heav'n avert Events,
Whose fatal Nature might reply too plain!
Heav'n's half-bar'd Arm of Vengeance has been wav'd
P

In Northern Skies; and pointed to the South.

Vengeance, delay'd, but gathers, and ferments;

More formidably blackens in the Wind;

Brews deeper Draughts of unrelenting Wrath,

And higher charges the suspended Storm.

"THAT Public Vice portends a Public Fall"—
Is This Conjecture of advent'rous Thought?
Or pious Cowards' Pulpit-cushion'd Dream?
Far from it: This, is certain; This, is Fate.
What says Experience, in her awful Chair
Of Ages, her authentic Annals spread
Around her? What says Reason Eagle ey'd?
Nay, what says Common-Sense, with common Care
Weighing Events, and Causes, in her Scale?
All give One Verdict; One Decision sign;
And This the Sentence, Delphas could not mend;

"Whatever fecondary Props may rife

" From Politics, to build the public Peace,

" The Basis is, The Manners of the Land:

"When rotten These, the Politician's Wiles

But struggle with Destruction; as a Child

With Giants huge; or Giants with a JovE.

" The Statesman's Arts to conjure up a Peace,

" Or military Phantoms, void of Force,

" But scare away the Vulturs for an Hour;

" The Scent cadaverous (for Oh! how rank

" The Stench of Profligates?) foon lures them back;

on the proud Flutter of a Gallic Wing

" Soon they return ; foon make their full Descent ;

" Soon glut their Rage, and riot in our Ruin;

"Their Idols grac'd, and gorgeous with our Spoils;

se Of universal Empire sure Presage;

"Till, now, repell'd, by Seas of British Blood."
AND whence, The Manners of the Multitude?
The Colour of their Manners, black, or fair,

Falls

Falls from above; from the Complexion falls,
Of State Othellos, or White-Men, in Power:
And from the greater Height Example falls
Greater the Weight, and desper its Impress
In Ranks inferior, passive to the Stroke.
From the Court-Mint, of Hearts the current Coin,
The Pulpit presses, but the Pattern drives.
What Bonds, then, Bonds how manifold, and strong,
To Duty, double Duty, tie the Great?
And are there Sampsons that can burst them All?
Yes; and Great Minds that stand in need of none;
Whose Pulse beats Virtue, and whose generous Blood
Aids mental Motives, to push on Renown,
In Emulation of their glorious Sires,
From whom rolls down the consecrated Stream.

Some fow good Seed in the glad People's Hearts; Some curfed Tares, like Satan in the Text: This makes a Foe most fatal to the State: A Foe, who (like a Wizard in his Cell). In his dark Cabinet of crooked Schemes. Resembling Cuma's gloomy Grot, the Forge Of boafted Oracles, and real Lies, (Aided, perhaps, by fecond-fighted Scots, French Magi, Reliques riding Post from Rome, A Gothic Hero * rifing from the Dead, And changing for spruce Plad his dirty Shroud, With Succour, fuitable, from Lower ftill;) A Foe, who, Thefe concurring to the Charm, Excites those Storms that shall o'erturn the State; Rend up her ancient Honours by the Root, And lay the Boaft of Ages, the Rever'd Of Nations, the Dear-bought, with sumless Wealth, And Blood illustrious, Spite of her La Hogues, Her Cressis, and her Blenbeims) in the Duft.

How

How must This strike a Horror thro' the Breast, Thro' every generous Breast, where Honour reigns? Thro' every Breast, where Honour claims a Share? Yes, and thro' every Breast of Honour void? This Thought might animate the Dregs of Men; Ferment them into Spirit; give them Fire To fight the Cause, the black, opprobrious, Cause, Foul Core of all! Corruption at our Hearts. What Wrecks of Empire has the Stream of Time Swept, with their Vices, from the Mountain-Height Of Grandeur deify'd by half Mankind, To dark Oblivion's melancholy Lake, Or flagrant Infamy's eternal Brand? Those Names, at which surrounding Nations shook, Those Names ador'd, a Nuisance! or, forgot! Nor This the Caprice of a doubtful Dye; But Nature's Course; no fingle Chance against it. For know, my Lord! 'Tis writ in Adamant: "Tis fix'd, as is the Basis of the World, Whose Kingdoms stand, or fall, by the Decree. What faw these Eyes, surpriz'd ? - Yet why furpriz'd?-

For Aid Divine the Crifis feem'd to call; And how Divine was the Monition given? As, late, I walk'd the Night in troubled Thought, My Peace disturb'd by Rumours from the North; While Thunder, o'er my Head, portentous, roll'd; As giving Signal of some strange Event; And Ocean groan'd, beneath, for Her he lov'd, ALBION the Fair ! fo long his Empire's Queen, Whose Reign is, now, contested by her Foes; On her white Cliffs (a Tablet broad, and bright, Strongly reflecting the pale Lunar Ray;) By Fate's own iron Pen, I faw it writ, And thus the Title ran:

The STATESMAN'S CREED.

- "Ye States! and Empires! nor of Empires Leaft,
  "The' leaft in Size, hear, BRITAIN! Thou whose
  "Lot.
- " Whose final Lot is in the Balance laid!
- " Irrefolutely play the doubtful Scales,
- " Nor know'ft thou Which will win.—Know, then, " from Me.
- " As govern'd well, or ill, States fink, or rife:
- " State-Ministers, as upright, or corrupt,
- " Are Balm, or Poison, in a Nation's Veins;
- " Health, or Diftemper; hasten, or retard,
- " The Period of her Pride, her Day of Doom :
- " And tho', for Reasons obvious to the Wife,
- " Just PROVIDENCE deals, otherwise, with Men,
- " Yet, believe, BRITONS! nor too late believe,
- " 'Tis fix'd! by Fate, irrevocably, fix'd!
- " Virtue, and Vice, are Empire's Life and Death.

Thus it is written. — Heard you not a Groan!
Is BRITAIN on her Death-bed? — No; that Groan

Was utter'd by her Foes. -- But soon the Scale,

If this Divine Monition is despis'd,

May turn against us. Read it, Ye who rule!

With Reverence, read; with Stedfastness, believe;

With Courage, act, as such Belief inspires:

Then, shall your Glory stand like Fate's Decree ;

Then, shall your Names in Adamant be writ,

In Records, that defy the Tooth of Time;

By Nations fav'd, resounding your Applause.

WHILE deep beneath your Monument's proud Base, In black Oblivion's Kennel, shall be trod, Their execrable Names, who, high in Power, And deep in Guilt, most ominously shine, (The Meteors of the State!) give Vice her Head, To Licence lewd let loose the publick Rein; Quench every Spark of Conscience in the Land,

P 3

And triumph in the Profligates Applause. Or, Who to the first Bidder sell their Souls; Their Country fell; fell All their Fathers boughts With Funds exhausted, and exhausted Veins, To Damons, by his Holiness ORDAEN'D To propagate the Gospel - penn'd at ROME; Hawk'd, thro' the World, by consecrated Bulls; And how illustrated? - By SMITHFIELD Flames: Who plunge (but not like CURTIUS) down the Gulph, Down narrow-minded Self's voracious Gulph, Which gapes, and swallows All they swore to save; Hate All, that lifted Heroes into Gods. And bug the Horrors of a Victor's Chain. Of Bodies politic that destin'd Hell, Inflicted here; fince, here, Their Beings end: That Vengeance, foon, or late, ordain'd to fall, And fall from Foes, detefted, and despis'd, On Difbelievers - of the STATESMAN's Creed.

Note, here, my Lord! (un-noted yet it lies
By Most, or All) these Truths political Serve more than publick Ends: This Creed of States
Seconds, and, irresistibly, supports,
The Christian Creed. Are you surprized?——
Attend:

And on the Statesman's build a nobler Name.

This punctual Justice exercis'd on States,
With which authentic Chronicle abounds,
As all Men know, and therefore must believe;
This Vengeance pour'd on Nations ripe in Guilt,
Pour'd on them here, where only They exist;
What is it, but an Argument of Sense,
Or, rather, Demonstration, to support
Our feeble Faith — "That They, who States compose,
"That Men, who stand not bounded by the Grave,
"Shall meet like Measure at their proper Hour?"
For GOD is equal; similarly deals

With States, and Persons; or He were not GOD;
Which means, A Rectitude immutable,
A Patron sure of universal Right.
What, then, shall rescue an abandon'd Man?
Nothing; it is reply'd: Reply'd, by whom?
Reply'd by Politicians, well as Priests;
Writ sacred set aside, Mankind's own Writ,
The whole World's Annals! These pronounce his Doom.

Thus (what might seem a daring Paradox)

Ev'n Polities advance Divinity:

True Masters there, are better Scholars here.

Who travel History, in Quest of Schemes

To govern Nations, or (perhaps) oppress,

May, there, start Truths that other Aims inspire;

And, like Candace's Eunuch, as they read,

By Providence, turn Christian on their Road:

Digging for Silver, they may strike on Gold;

May be surprized with Better than they sought,

And entertain an Angel unawares.

Non is Divinity ungrateful found. As Politics advance Divinity; Thus, in Return, Divinity promotes True Politics, and crowns the Statesman's Praise. All Wisdoms are but Branches of the Chief, And Statesmen found but Shoots of boneft Men. Are This World's Witchcrafts pleaded, in Excuse For Deviations from our moral Line ! This, and the next World, view'd with fuch an Eye, As fuits a Statesman, such as keeps in View His own exalted Science, Both conspire To recommend, and fix us in, the Right. If we regard the Politics of Heaven, The grand Administration of the Whole, What's the next World? A Supplement of This; Without it, Justice is defective Here; Juft, Just, as to States; desective, as to Men:

If so, What is this World? (As sure as Right Sits in Heav'n's Throne) a Prophet of the next:

Prize you the Prophet? Then, believe him too;

His Prophecy more precious, than his Smile.

How comes it, then, to pass, with most on Earth,
That This should charm us, That should discompose?

Long as the Statesman finds This Case his own,
So long, his Politics are un-complete:

In Danger, He; nor is the Nation safe;
But, soon, must rue his inauspicious Power.

WHAT hence results? A Truth, that should re-

For ever awful in BRITANNIA's Ear:

" Religion crowns the Statesman, and the Man;

" Sole Source of public, and of private, Peace."

This Truth all Men must own; and, therefore, will; And praise, and preach it, too:—And, when That's done.

Their Compliment is paid, and 'tis forgot.'

What Highland Pole-ax half so deep can wound?

But how dare I, so mean, presume so far?

Assume my Seat in the Dictator's Chair?

Pronounce, predict, (as if, indeed, inspir'd)

Promulge my Censures, lay out all my Throat,

Till hoarse, in Clamour on enormous Crimes?

Two mighty Columns rise in my Support;

In their more awful and authentic Voice,

Record Prophane, and Sacred, drown the Muse,

Tho' loud; and far out-threat her threat'ning Song,

Still farther, Holles! suffer me to plead,

That I speak freely, as I speak to Thee.

Guilt only startles at the Name of Guilt;
And Truth, plain Truth, is welcome to the Wise.

Thus, what seem'd my Presumption, is thy Praise.

PRAISE,

Or, NIGHT-THOUGHTS, &c. 3

PRAISE, and immortal Praise, is Virtue's Claim;
And Virtue's Sphere is Action: Yet we grant
Some Merit to the Trumpet's loud Alarm,
Whose Clangor kindles Cowards into Men.
Nor shall the Verse (perhaps) be quite forgot,
Which talks of Immortality; and bids,
In every British Breast, true Glory rise,
As, now, the warbling Lark awakes the Morn.
To close, my Lord! with That which All should close.

And All begin, and strike us every Hour,
Tho' no War wak'd us, no black Tempest frown'd:—
THE Morning rises gay; yet gayest Morn
Less glorious, after Night's incumbent Shades;
Less glorious far, bright Nature, rich array'd
With golden Robes, in all the Pomp of Noon,
Than the first feeble Dawn of Moral Day:
Sole Day (let Those, whom Statesmen serve, attend:)
Tho' the Sun ripens Diamonds for their Crowns,
Sole Day, worth His Regard, whom Heav'n ordains,
Undarken'd, to behold Noon dark; and date,
From the Sun's Death, and every Planet's Fall,
His All-illustrious, and Eternal, Year;
Where Statesmen, and their Monarchs, (Names of Awe.

And Distance, Here!) shall rank with Common Men.
